McCracken Slightly Hurt On Flight to Welcome Graf

Special to The New York Times.

BRIDGETON, N. J., Aug. 28.—William P. McCracken Jr., Assistant Secretary of Commerce for Aviation, was slightly injured tonight when the airplane in which he was flying from Cleveland to welcome the Graf Zeppelin at Lakehurst crashed to the railroad tracks near here.

The plane, with C. H. Charles at the controls, struck some telegraph wires, overturned and landed upside down.

Mr. McCracken suffered cuts on the knee, but the pilot was unhurt. The Assistant Secretary, before continuing his journey to Lakehurst by automobile, said the accident had been caused when fuel ran short, making a forced landing necessary.

Zeppelin Is Sighted Crossing Pennsylvania

By The Associated Press.

PITTSBURGH, Thursday, Aug. 29.—At 1:57 A. M., Eastern Standard Time (2:57 Daylight Saving Time), the Pennsylvania Railroad operator at Brookville reported the Graf Zeppelin had passed over that town. Brookville is about fifty-nine miles slightly to the northeast of Newcastle, where the big ship was reported at 12:56 A. M., Eastern Standard Time.

PITTSBURGH, Thursday, Aug. 29 (AP).—The Pennsylvania Railroad offices here said an operator reported the Graf Zeppelin had passed over Berlin Centre, about ten miles southwest of Youngstown, Ohio, at 12:50 A. M. Eastern Standard Time (1:50 A. M. Daylight Saving Time).

AKRON, Ohio, Aug. 28 (AP).—The Graf Zeppelin appeared over the municipal airport here at 11:57 P. M. (12:57 Daylight Saving Time) and circled low over field, flying slowly.

Special to The New York Times.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, Aug. 28.—The Graf Zeppelin swung over the Cleveland airport tonight at 11:20 o'clock, Eastern Standard Time (12:20, Daylight Saving Time). Thirty thousand persons who had waited since sunset for a glimpse of the German airship on the last leg of the world cruise cheered wildly as she came in from the lake shore.

Flying at about 3,000 feet, she passed directly over the Los Angeles lying at her stub mast. The navy dirigible is here attending the national air races. Searchlights played on the silver sides of the Graf Zeppelin and army flares added to the brightness.

The great ship was flying fast, carried apparently on a favorable wind. She disappeared in the direction of Akron.

The big airship made the trip across a corner of Lake Erie from Detroit almost on airplane schedule. At the rate she was flying naval officers who watched her from the ground beside the Los Angeles figured that she would reach Lakehurst at about 5 o'clock in the morning.

Soars Over Detroit.

By The Associated Press.

DETROIT, Aug. 28.—The world-circling Graf Zeppelin was a visitor over Detroit tonight, reaching the centre of the business district at 9:40 P. M. (Eastern Standard Time) (10:40 Daylight Saving Time).

The trip from Chicago to Detroit, 250 miles, was made in about four hours, or a speed of about sixty miles an hour.

Giant searchlights caught the aerial visitor as soon as she reached the outskirts of the city and played upon her silver sides until after she had passed over Windsor, Ont., and had headed southeast toward Cleveland. She crossed the river at 9:50 o'clock.

Over the business district the Zeppelin reduced her speed and circled over the city slowly. Crowds lined the streets and perched on tops of buildings. The city had the appearance of a New Year Eve's celebration. Only about ten minutes was consumed in the circle about the city.

From Chicago to Detroit most of her path lay along the "Old Sauk Trail," now Highway U. S. 112, through Southern Michigan—along which the United States mail stage coaches 100 years ago plodded between frontier settlements. Across Michigan came the Zeppelin, with the entire populations of villages and hamlets along the route turning out for one fleeting glimpse of the big ship.

WHALEN TURNS BACK THE SPEAKEASY TASK TO FEDERAL DRY CHIEF

He Tells Campbell That Local Enforcement Would Cost City $15,000,000 a Year.

RETURNS 300 COMPLAINTS

CALLS STEP 'BUCK PASSING'

Declares Administrator Himself Has Full Power to Act Under State Nuisance Law.

Police Commissioner Whalen in a communication last night to Maurice Campbell, Federal Prohibition Administrator for New York, flatly refused to take the responsibility for local dry enforcement by ordering the police to proceed against speakeasies under the State nuisance law.

Mr. Whalen's action followed a three-hour conference at the Lawyers' Club, 115 Broadway, with prosecutors from four of the five counties of the city, Magistrate Joseph E. Corrigan representing Chief Magistrate William McAdoo on behalf of the magistrates of the five boroughs, and Chief Inspector John O'Brien, as head of the city's uniformed police force, and Deputy Chief Inspector Edward P. Mulrooney, head of the Detective Division.

The Police Commissioner said that the opinion of those at the conference was unanimous that the Federal prohibition enforcement authorities in this city had the same right as the police or any citizens to go into the magistrates' courts with complaints and start proceedings under the State nuisance act. He added that all the prosecutors of the city, including Albert C. Fach, district attorney of Richmond County, who did not attend the conference, had offered to cooperate in the magistrates' courts with the prohibition authorities in presenting evidence on which cases could be held for trial in Special Sessions.

Sends Back Complaints.

The commissioner with his letter sent back about 300 photostatic copies of complaints received by Federal prohibition authorities which Mr. Campbell had requested him to act upon.

When Mr. Campbell was informed last night of the contents of Mr. Whalen's communication, he said:

"I shall not have anything to say on the matter until I receive the letter. I shall probably have something to say then, but not before that."

"Have you facilities for proceeding in the magistrate's courts against speakeasies under the State law against public nuisances?" Mr. Campbell was asked.

"I don't care to have anything to say about that at this time," he replied.

Mr. Whalen in his communication challenged the contention of the prohibition administrator that the local police should deal solely with retail speakeasies and accused Mr. Campbell of trying "to pass the buck." He asserted that for the police to undertake this form of enforcement would necessitate adding 5,000 men to the force, with an additional annual expenditure of at least $15,000,000.

"If you are unwilling to discharge your sworn obligations to the Federal Government," Mr. Whalen asserted, "or wish to make a confession of your inability to effectively direct the activities of your department, for which a large proportion of a $36,000,000 appropriation is allotted, the admission should be

LINDBERGH IN NEW STUNTS

By LAUREN D. LYMAN,
Staff Correspondent of The New York Times.

MUNICIPAL AIRPORT, CLEVELAND, Ohio, Aug. 28.—For the first time in the history of human flight, a passenger left an airship in the air and went aboard a plane. The stunt was accomplished over the Cleveland Airport while 100,000 persons watched. Air speed contests lost their importance completely as a feature of the 1929 air races and their absence was not particularly missed.

Save for a fifty-mile event for planes with OX motors, and the finish of the Philadelphia and Cleveland derbies, there were no speed events. Those who attended, however, saw enough aerial fireworks to please them. They saw Lindbergh fly again with his two "high hat" navy comrades, Lieutenants F. Kivette and F. O'Beirne. They witnessed eighteen army pursuit planes carry out a brilliant air attack on seven bombers from Langley Field, and they saw Amelia Earhart come toward the ground in a spinning glider from 500 feet, and, by skillful manipulation of the controls, within two feet of the ground, avert a crash.

Professor Juan de la Cievra in his own auto giro, the famous "windmill" safety plane, added further variety to the day by landing it exactly on a twenty-foot circle in the centre of the field.

Plane Hooks On to Los Angeles.

However, it was navy day and the evolution of the Los Angeles on its second trip to Cleveland made it so. Lieutenant A. W. Gorton of the naval aircraft factory in Philadelphia contributed to the success of the big navy airship. Gorton flew a tiny Vought biplane up beneath the dirigible as the airship soared across the field flanked and followed by a convoy of non-rigid blimps from Akron and swarms of insect-like planes. Union League Clubhouse to Cost $1,000,000; Plans Filed for 8-Story Building in Park Av.

Plans for the new home of the Union League Club, to be erected on the southwest corner of Park Avenue and Thirty-seventh Street, were filed yesterday with the Manhattan Bureau of Buildings. The structure will be eight stories and will cost about $1,000,000, according to an estimate by the architect, Benjamin W. Morris.

The clubhouse will occupy 130 feet on Thirty-seventh Street and 90 feet on Park Avenue, with the front on the street side. Tentative plans call for a large art gallery, a ladies' lounge and administration rooms on the ground floor. A circular stairway will lead to the first floor, where the club lounge, grill, billiard and card rooms will be located.

The second floor has been set aside for the club hall, two stories in height and designed for dinners and large meetings; a library, also two stories in height, and a technical library. The second mezzanine will include executive office space.

The main dining room, two stories high, and the kitchen and private dining rooms will be located on the third floor. More private dining rooms, rest rooms and dressing rooms are planned on the third mezzanine. Three squash racquet courts, a gymnasium, banquet hall, ladies' private dining and smoking rooms will occupy the fourth floor. The upper floors will be given over to residence rooms, numbering about sixty-four. The design of the exterior has not yet been decided on, and the layout of rooms is subject to final revision.

A long lease on the Park Avenue site was taken recently from the J. P. Morgan interests. The old Winthrop house, formerly the home of John Crosby Gage, occupies the street frontage, and the home of Miss Annie Burr Jennings is on the other part of the site, at 48 Park Avenue. The club has been located at the northeast corner of Fifth Avenue and Thirty-ninth Street since 1881. Alfred E. Marling, president, is negotiating for the sale of the leasehold there, which has nine years to run and carries a renewal clause for twenty-three years more. The prospective purchaser is reported as being Fred T. Ley & Co. Definite announcement of the sale is expected this week.

When the club voted last February to move it was announced that removal would be accomplished within two years.

Murray Hill Residents Fight New Skyscraper; Suit Says Zoning Law Bars 50-Story Building

Property owners in the exclusive Murray Hill district started suit in the Supreme Court yesterday to prevent erection of a fifty-story business building at the northeast corner of Park Avenue and Thirty-ninth Street. Justice Frankenthaler signed an order directing the Board of Standards and Appeals to file in court within twenty days all the proceedings by which they granted an application by the Park Avenue-Thirty-ninth Street Corporation for a variation of the zoning law to permit the erection of the skyscraper in a residence district.

The suit was brought by the Murray Hill Association, composed of 125 property owners and residents in that district, and by individual owners, including Arthur Curtiss James, Gherardi Davis and Charles L. Riker. The property owners contend that the order of the Board of Standards and Appeals violates the zoning law and exceeds the authority conferred by the recent action of the Board of Estimate in establishing a retail district in part of the Murray Hill section, which includes the bulk of the property owned by the Park Avenue-Thirty-ninth Street Corporation.

The corporation filed plans on May 24 last for a fifty-story business building, with stores on the first floor and offices on the upper floors, to be 600 feet high, fronting 123 feet on Park Avenue and 155 feet on East Thirty-ninth Street. The Buildings Superintendent rejected the plans on the ground of violation of the zoning law, and an appeal was then taken to the Board of Standards and Appeals, which on July 23 last granted a variation.

The petition says that when the Board of Estimate was considering the creation of a retail district in that section of the city a representative of the corporation appeared and asked that the block on the east side of Park Avenue between Thirty-ninth and Fortieth Streets be included to a depth of 100 feet east of Park Avenue. It is alleged that the corporation failed to comply with the requirements in making this application, but the Board of Estimate on April 18 included this block in the new retail district after which the corporation filed its plans for the fifty-story building.

The Murray Hill property owners allege that the proposed building extends fifty-five feet beyond the boundary of the new retail district and also that the plans show that the street walls are to be 200 or more feet high along the major part of the frontage, whereas by law the height is limited to 150 or 90 feet according to the location. They assert that it is beyond the power of the Board of Standards and Appeals to permit any variation of the height regulation and they also contend that the establishment of the new retail zone by the Board of Estimate was unauthorized.

SENATE BILL HINTS NEW TARIFF BOARD

PARTISAN PLAN DROPPED

House Decision Is Stricken Out in Revision of the Administrative Sections.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—Changes of importance to importers and to those who export to the United States from foreign countries are contained in the concluding sections of the tariff revision bill, the texts of which were given to the press today by Senator Reed Smoot, chairman of the Committee on Finance.

The provisions embrace the administration of the tariff act which Congress is now considering as a partial substitute for the present law, enacted in 1922. Among them is the proposed new system of assessing duties on the basis of their wholesale price here instead of on the cost of production abroad. The new method is known as United States value, in distinction to the method termed American valuation.

The Finance Committee's draft is like that of the House in establishing a new formula for ascertaining the necessity for a change under the flexible provisions. But the committee rejected the House proposals to invest the President with greater authority, and to enable him to appoint a tariff commission entirely from his own party instead of one of bi-partisan personnel as at present.

Democrats Have Not Acted.

The draft of the bill upon which the Republican members of the Senate committee have been engaged ever since Congress took a recess on June 19 is now complete.

The Democratic members of the committee, however, have not passed upon it. On Aug. 19 the Republican committeemen handed to them the text of the new rates of duty. With the revision by the committee's majority now complete, the Democratic committeemen will meet tomorrow to lay out a plan of campaign attacking the measure.

Chairman Smoot had intended to report the completed bill to the Senate today, but copies of it were not ready when the Senate assembled at noon for a session that lasted only one minute. An adjournment was taken until Saturday, when the bill will be formally reported.

A meeting of the full membership of the Finance Committee will be held next Wednesday to go through the cut and dried procedure of adopting the Republican revision by a majority vote, and after a brief period has been allotted to the Democratic committeemen to write a minority report, the bill will be taken up in the Senate, probably in the week beginning Sept. 9.

Outstanding Parts of the Draft.

The two outstanding parts of the Senate Committee's draft of the administrative provisions and special sections concern the functions and authority of the Tariff Commission and the President in raising and lowering rates of duty and the new system of United States valuation of dutiable products.

The flexible provision of the present law directs the Tariff Commission to ascertain "differences in cost of production" at home and abroad to determine whether there should be a change in a rate of duty, with authority to the President to raise or lower a rate within the limits of 50 per cent, either way.

The House bill provided that the commission should ascertain "differ-

ADVISES NATIONAL ZONES

Special to The New York Times.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Aug. 28.—Discussing farm problems tonight at the agricultural dinner given annually by Jerome D Barnum, Governor Roosevelt urged establishment of zones throughout the nation for the production and consumption of whatever the soil within the zones is best fitted to raise and whatever the local demands require.

"The next practical step for us to take is to devise means by which the vegetable supply of the cities of New York State will be placed on a State-wide basis," said the Governor. "This can be done only by cooperation between the city-dwelling public and the vegetable-growing farmers."

Among the other speakers were Arthur M. Hyde, Secretary of Agriculture, and Charles Wilson of the Federal Reserve Board.

Mr. Hyde said that the farmers have a right to demand a shift of the tax burdens. That agriculture has an equity which it has paid for in every community in America.

"I heartily indorse the statement," said Mr. Hyde, "that no more land, East or West, be reclaimed until such a time when reclamation will not add to the economic burdens of the present. The agricultural plant should be decreased instead of increased for increasing the plant means placing more land under production."

The Governor's Speech.

The Governor's speech follows:

At the opening of the new bridge across Lake Champlain on Monday, one of the Vermont floats in the parade depicted on one end a prosperous Western farm family, the centre of public attention and solicitude, and on the other end a Vermont farm group hard at work amid rocks and stones, forgotten by public opinion.

The easy lot of the Western farmer was certainly exaggerated, but it is undoubtedly true that the lot of the farmers of the East would be vastly better today if their problems had received one-half of the public attention which has been given to their co-workers in the Western States.

I am happy to say that without much doubt the State of New York is taking the lead in the East in studying the needs of agriculture and the improvement of the conditions of life which surround the several millions of our citizens who live in the farming counties of the State.

Many people, especially in our cities, have an idea that the farming problem is confined to the Wheat Belt of the West or the Cotton Belt of the South. This of course, is not true as any automobile trip through any of our Eastern States will prove to the most casual observer.

Tells of Farms Abandoned.

Every year that passes, farms continue to be abandoned in this and other Eastern States. In my trips through the State this Summer, traveling almost 6,000 miles and visiting almost every one of the fifty-seven counties outside of Greater New York, I have been

CHANGE IN VIEW ADMITTED

British Spokesman Retorts That Ideas Voiced When Not in Power Differ From Those at Present.

By EDWIN L. JAMES.
Special Cable to The New York Times.

THE HAGUE, Thursday, Aug. 29. Germany balked yesterday at approving the early morning settlement with Great Britain without receiving Rhineland evacuation concessions, and at 2 o'clock this morning, after a meeting which had lasted three hours, it was announced that no agreement had been reached between the delegates of the five powers and Germany.

Dr. Joseph K. Wirth, German Minister for Occupied Regions, asserted that no agreement could be reached except at the expense of Germany.

"If Mr. Snowden received nearly 100 per cent of what he was asking there is no reason why Germany should not get what she deserves," he said.

Each Studies Effect.

The Hague conference yesterday resembled very much the aftermath of an all-night poker game when the players count up their losses and various checks are distributed which often are accepted with some distrust. Just as there never is full agreement on who lost and who won, so now each delegation is counting up what it paid or received in the complicated midnight combination, on the value of which neither the British nor the French are in accord.

The "sacrificing powers" find they gave Philip Snowden, British spokesman, 36,000,000 marks (about $8,640,000) yearly additional out of reparations, while the British figure they got 40,000,000 marks (about $9,600,000). Due to the involved nature of the deal, it is almost safe to say neither is right, which means both are wrong.

What is important is that Mr. Snowden is satisfied and agrees that negotiations may go on for putting the Young plan into effect. Whether he got 78 per cent or 80 per cent of his demands is of less moment than that he is satisfied. He is satisfied he has won something, and that is the main idea. He wants to win more, but it is not believed he will bet such high stakes in future sessions.

Sharp Dispute Is Resumed.

This unlovely conference, which was lifted by the fear of the consequences of failure into a settlement in principle of the financial demands of the English, quickly sank back yesterday into the poisonous atmosphere in which it has haggled since Mr. Snowden set the style of play three weeks ago. The bargain made Tuesday night will stand, because Europe cannot afford to wreck the Young plan. But the great meeting called to liquidate the war in which millions died continued as a scramble for national, political and monetary advantages.

Yesterday was Germany's day. After Mr. Snowden's performance in the past three weeks, who would deny Herr Stresemann a brief moment in the spotlight? It will be recalled that Tuesday night's bargain hinged on Germany agreeing to certain points. This morning the Germans made it plain they were willing to agree in principle, but inasmuch

Two French Bandits, in True Wild West Style, Hold Up Express and Escape With Much Loot

Special Cable to The New York Times.

PARIS, Aug. 28.—The French police today were attempting to track two young bandits of a type rarely encountered in Europe, who in true Far Western style, early today, held up the Vintimille express bound for Paris from the Italian order, and escaped with a large sum in cash and a quantity of registered mail.

The bandits evidently boarded the train at the Macon station in Burgundy and shortly afterward appeared in the mail coach, where the conductor, who was engaged in checking his accounts, soon looked into the muzzles of two automatic pistols. He was bound hand and foot, and the two bandits were calmly engaged in opening and removing checks and funds from registered letters, after forcing the conductor's strong box, when the train halted, bringing an unexpected climax to the episode.

The engineer had found something wrong with the locomotive, and called out to the conductor that it would be necessary to send back to Macon for a relief engine. One of the bandits, donning the conductor's hat, poked his head out of the mail car and told the engineer to proceed to the next station if possible, but when the engineer shouted that the train had broken down the two bandits, hastily gathering their loot, jumped from the side of the train and escaped.

The engineer and fireman, after a few minutes of waiting, jumped down and released the conductor, and after a brief delay the train proceeded to Paris with a relief engine.

The passengers, including many Americans who were returning from Italy, were unaware of the events that had been going on. The express reached Paris more than an hour late, and in the meantime the police were scouring the Burgundy vineyard country for the first train robbers who have been seen in France in a long time.

MOSLEMS IN OPEN REVOLT; OFFICES OF GOVERNMENT IN TWO TOWNS ATTACKED

Paris Bars Films of Snowden, Fearing Resentment by Public

Special Cable to The New York Times.

PARIS, Aug. 28.—Fears that the showing of news reels in which Philip Snowden, British Chancellor of the Exchequer, appeared might provoke embarrassing hostile incidents prompted the French Ministry of the Interior to order all theatres last night to refrain from showing any motion pictures of him.

The censorship was issued in dramatic fashion just a few moments before the reels were about to be projected along the Paris boulevards. Policemen on bicycles were rushed to the theatres to suppress the films.

The order was issued in the belief that the conference had collapsed and that the public might give vent to its resentment toward any one whom the French charged with bringing about the defeat of the negotiations. There is speculation now as to whether the Ministry of the Interior will view the sudden solution at The Hague as sufficient reason to release the films to the public.

Anti-British Raids Made.

By JOSEPH M. LEVY,
Special Cable to The New York Times.

JERUSALEM, Aug. 28.—Attempted raids on government offices in Tulkare and Nablus, both purely Arabian towns, indicate that the aspect of the uprisings here has changed from anti-Jewish raids to an anti-government revolt.

British troops have been stationed at both places, while the chieftains of the different villages around Nablus have been taken into custody.

Possible uprisings are now feared in Transjordania. A large number of troops have been placed on the Allenby Bridge crossing the border of Palestine and Transjordania. Three guns have been sent with them.

The troops were sent most to Acre, another Arab town, where an attempt was made to attack a small Jewish community there. The Jews were rescued and now are being sheltered in the famous Acre fortress.

There is an unconfirmed report that the Arabs at Nablus had hoisted a Turkish flag and declared their independence.

Ekron Is Set Ablaze.

The colony at Ekron, near Jaffa, which was hurriedly evacuated yesterday, is now reported in flames.

Reinforcements are continuing to arrive in Palestine. Three aircraft carriers anchored at Jaffa Harbor today and brought seven airplanes, which immediately flew over the country, reporting everything as generally quiet.

Eleven more armored cars also arrived from Egypt, seven of which are stationed in Jerusalem.

An Arab meeting was held in the Mosque of Omar yesterday as a result of which a delegation proceeded to Acting High Commissioner Luke to protest against the Jews being given arms.

The commissioner informed them that only Jewish ex-service men had received arms, and that because they were forming a company for the purpose of self-defense under a former army officer.

Beirut Consul Is Ordered to Jerusalem—Hope for End of Palestine Riots Voiced.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—That every effort is being made to restore law and order in Palestine and to safeguard the lives and properties of American citizens was the assurance given to Ambassador Dawes by the British Foreign Office on Monday.

After receiving cabled instructions from the State Department, Ambassador Dawes called at the Foreign Office and expressed the earnest hope of Secretary of State Stimson that "immediate and comprehensive steps would be taken for the restoration of order and the protection of the lives and property of American citizens in Palestine."

The response of the British Government was immediate and a State Department bulletin issued this afternoon said that "the Foreign Office assured him (Ambassador Dawes) that every effort is being made, and will be made" to protect all American citizens in the Holy Land.

No New Protests Received.

The feeling in State Department circles today seemed to be more optimistic than at any time since the beginning of the Arab-Jewish clashes last week. No additional protests against the situation in Palestine were lodged with the department and this was interpreted as an indication that the government, as well as civilian organizations concerned in the Near Eastern situation, were more hopeful than at any time since the trouble began, that the British now have the situation fairly well in hand.

In the meantime British reinforcements continue to arrive at Jerusalem and other danger spots in Palestine.

Running parallel with the main thoroughfare is a road on which the Hadassah and Bicurcholim Hospitals are situated. At a distance of hundreds of yards from the buildings one already hears the cries and moans of the throngs assembled outside watching the latest bulletins and reports of wounded and dead. Airplanes fly overhead, armored cars rush back and forth during the day and then night falls and with the curfew a deathlike stillness overtakes the city.

Although details are not available, it appears that the Palestine uprisings have spread to Syria, according to late reports received here. Riots began yesterday afternoon in Damascus, taking the form of a demonstration against the government.

$50,000 Aids Refugees.

The population is expressing the deepest of appreciation for the Nathan Straus gift of $25,000 supplemented by that of an equal amount given by Julius Rosenwald of Chicago for the relief of refugees, of which there are more than 3,000 concentrated in the principal cities where they were forced to flee from the outlying districts.

Jerusalem has 450 from Hebron and 1,000 from the suburbs. Tel Aviv has 1,000, while Haifa is sheltering 700.

The Hadassah medical organization has organized a committee to administer relief and to provide shelter, food and medical aid. The spirit of cooperation and help shown by many visitors to the country is most gratifying.

Girl Orphans Threatened.

The greatest fear today is expressed for the safety of Maier Shfeyah, the Jewish orphan village, which is supported by the American Junior Hadassah.

Mrs. Frances Lesser, president of the Junior Hadassah, and Mrs. A. H. Vixman of the National Senior Hadassah, both of whom are now in Jerusalem, yesterday sent the following telegram to the headquarters of the British troops in Haifa:

"On behalf of 50,000 American women, members of Hadassah, who support Maier Shfeyah children's village in the district of Zichron Jacob, we beg immediate protection tonight for 130 young orphan girls who could not be evacuated, as they lacked escort protection to the station. We count on British protection."

Arab friends in the vicinity of this village had warned them to leave, since the situation was critical. The officer in charge of the British troops at Haifa advised their evacuation, but it was finally decided to place the children under the closest police protection, since if they left the village it would be plundered by the Arabs. Two armed cars were dispatched there from Haifa. The night, as a result, passed quietly.

The report has been verified that Huldes and Beertuvia, Jewish colonies in the Judean district, were burned and destroyed. Five Jews were killed, including the village doctor. For more than thirty-two hours six policemen tried to defend the colony, but finally were forced to retreat.

Jewish colonies in the Jordan Valley are becoming panic stricken due to the proximity to Transjordania, whence invasions are threatened.

The wheat crops of the colonies in Manhamiah Porias, in that district, were burned. An attempt to attack Masthah, another colony near by, was repulsed.

Arabs living in neighboring villages, who always were on the friendliest terms with the Jews, have suddenly left their villages, announcing that they no longer desire to have dealings with Jews.

The railway line to Haifa and Semakh, the northermost border stations, is declared unsafe. There are reports that in certain places the rails have already been destroyed and that Arabs are threatening to attack the stations along the road.

A carload of police was sent this morning from Haifa to Zichron Jacob, where two lumber yards were burned last night.

Kfarattah, a settlement in the same vicinity, also was set afire as well as the Girls' Agricultural Farm, which is three miles from Haifa. No casualties were reported.

Inhabitants in Bath Galim, a suburb of Haifa, miraculously escaped when attacked. They fled from their homes, which were plundered.

The Hebrew Secondary School at Haifa is sheltering 500 refugees and 200 more are quartered in a large private house.

Martial law is now in full force in Jerusalem, which has been taken over completely by the military forces.

Yesterday and today passed quietly and it is believed the riots here are practically ended, thanks to the presence of the British military forces.

Eyewitness Tells of Massacre.

Five more deaths took place today as a result of the tragic Hebron massacre. Nearly 300 refugees from the college city have been brought to Jerusalem and are being quartered in the Nathan Straus Health Centre.

The heart-breaking cries of hysterical men, women and children bemoaning the losses of their dear ones and friends struck on the ears of your correspondent as he entered the Straus building to obtain further details of the riots on Friday and Saturday.

Moses Mordecai Epstein, Dean of Slobodka Rabbinical College at Hebron, who miraculously escaped death in the massacre at that institution on Saturday, it was learned, still was in Hebron, having refused to leave until the last Jew was evacuated. The American students who are still alive have faithfully remained with him, also refusing to leave.

The dean's son is in charge of the refugees in Jerusalem, and he tells the following story:

"On Friday afternoon, about 5 o'clock, a Jewish boy was passing on a street and he was attacked. An Arab mob gathered and a Yeshiva student, who also happened to pass, was stabbed in the presence of an Arab policeman, who made no attempt to disperse the mob, which continued shouting and marching until it reached Yeshiva College.

"A student, hearing the noise, went out to see what was happening, and he was killed on the spot.

"The Jews, realizing their dangerous position, decided to concentrate in private houses, which they did, but to little avail, as it was proved later.

Rabbi Beaten in Street.

"Even as early as Friday morning, when the Arab mobs first began gathering, Rabbi Slonim Nehlef, rabbi of Hebron, accompanied by his youngest son, was en route to interview Governor Neity. He was beaten in the street in the presence of the Chief of Police. When a Jewish girl who had witnessed the incident asked later why he did not protect the rabbi he answered: 'Mind your own business. You Jews are the cause of everything.'

"At midnight the Governor summoned Rabbi Nhief, telling him not to allow any Jews to leave their homes and that nothing would happen. 'I am,' he said, 'responsible to the Arab Government.'

"On the following morning a huge mob demonstrated in the streets with cries of 'we must kill the Jews!' Hundreds of them then began rushing into private houses and the massacre, butchery, robbery and pilferage began.

"As one house was broken into, two youths, attempting to guard the door, were killed. In another house, where nearly fifty had sought shelter, eighteen men and women were killed. A man and his wife escaped being butchered by rolling themselves in the blood of the other victims and then lying on the floor pretending death.

"One girl was stabbed in the hand. A vein was cut and she fell to the ground. An Arab, about to leave, noticed that she was still alive and he stabbed her to death.

"One mother, her child seized by an Arab, threw herself before the barbarian pleading that he kill her instead of the child, which he did. Afterward he killed the child.

"One Jew had his life saved only by pushing into the hand of an Arab $1,000, his life's savings.

"In Yeshiva College the same methods of butchery were employed. Rooms later were found strewn with parts of human bodies.

Says Police Did Not Aid.

"On the Wednesday before the attacks began, Arabs circulated rumors throughout Hebron that a sheikh had been killed by Jews in Jerusalem. On Thursday new rumors were purposely spread that a meeting was being held in Yeshiva College to plan an attack on the Arabs. The City Governor even sent a policeman there to investigate whether this was true. The policeman reported that he found the students studying and praying as usual.

"I knew, as a fact, that during the time of the actual massacring, which lasted about two hours, the police were disarmed and then the arms were returned to them after it all was over. They began firing in the air, dispersing the mobs.

"Many of the Arabs who were taken prisoner were caught with hundreds of pounds in their possession. One Arab was found with phylacteries in his pocket, which is the best possible evidence of participation in the slaughter. Subsequently he was released by the police.

"When I, myself, brought the holy scrolls to police headquarters for protection, the chief of police laughed ironically, pushing them aside."

Your correspondent heard scores of other tragic and stirring tales of these Hebron atrocities.

Troops Follow Irregulars.

By The Associated Press.

JERUSALEM, Aug. 28. — The strong hand of the British military today maintained order in Jerusalem and, to a large extent, in Southern Palestine. While there was no serious renewal of the conflict between the Arabs and Jews anywhere in the country, conditions in the North were more unsettled.

The British soldiers and marines who were rushed here when the situation became grave have been distributed to most of the centres of population where to promote peace they are disarming both Arabs and Jews.

Their chief task now is running down bands of irregulars in the country districts.

The correspondent of the Jewish Telegraphic Agency here reported today that the order to disarm the Jewish self-defense body was being carried out by British officials over the protests of Jewish leaders and that the special Jewish constables enrolled at the height of the riots were now ordered to disarm.

Carrying out these instructions was said to have led to the killing of a young Jew early today in front of the headquarters of the Jewish Communal Board of Jerusalem. British police ordered him in English to give up his arms. It was alleged that he did not understand the order and so was shot.

The guard of the Hebrew University on Mount Scopus, which has held arms under a permit antedating the disturbances, was ordered to surrender all arms.

Notwithstanding the presence of British soldiers in Jerusalem, much fighting went on last night in the old city and assumed a more dangerous character in other parts of the town. The synagogue of the Georgian Jewish quarter, near the Damascus Gate, was destroyed by fire.

Representatives of the Zionist executive in Jerusalem protested to Acting High Commissioner M. C. Luke that discrimination in the disarmament was being made between British Jews and non-British Jews. The Commissioner was reported to have declared that the order was final.

British troops were everywhere said to be taking strong measures against Arabs who proved unruly.

Airplanes were used to fight off an Arab attack on the Jewish colony of Bethgalim, where many Arabs were killed. Desultory fighting continued in Haifa.

Misgivings Expressed.

By The Canadian Press.

JERUSALEM, Aug. 28.—The situation in Palestine remains one of extreme tension. Despite official assurances that the situation is under control, misgivings are being expressed by correspondents on the spot regarding the future for two reasons, first, because isolated Jewish colonies, hitherto unmolested, are now being attacked, and, second, because there are signs of unrest in Transjordania, Syria and Ibn Suad's desert territory.

THE MIDDLE EAST, WHERE MOSLEM UNREST BORDERS ON REVOLUTION.

Palestine and the surrounding Moslem countries, where unrest and, in some cases, outbreaks of Moslems have been reported. In Transjordania Arabs were assembled at one time for a march on Jerusalem, but prompt measures by the British along the border have apparently ended this menace.

TRANSJORDAN RISING REPORTED WIDESPREAD

By The Associated Press.

BERLIN, Aug. 28—The Tageblatt published today a brief Jerusalem dispatch stating that disorders had broken out widely in Transjordania, the Arab State lying due east of Palestine and under British mandate.

The Tageblatt's dispatch was accepted in Berlin with a certain reserve. The Foreign Office said that no fears were entertained for the safety of German citizens in Syria or Palestine. No attacks on Germans had been reported.

By The Associated Press.

PARIS, Aug. 28.—L'Oeuvre, French daily, said today that Arab leaders in Palestine had lost control of their partisans, who did not heed their appeals to reason. The paper said this appeared to be due to the fact the Arabs were provoked by young Israelites belonging to a sect known as "Jewish Fascists."

BROOKLYN BOYS SAFE.

Word Received That Three Students in Palestine Are Alive.

The safety of three Brooklyn boys, students at the Hebron Rabbinical School in Palestine, was assured yesterday afternoon when the Yeshivath Torah Vodaath, 206 Wilson Street, Brooklyn, received the following cablegram from Rabbi Cook, head of the rabbinate in Palestine:

"Snow well, Sanders lives. Younger Berman well."

The cablegram was in reply to an inquiry which the Yeshivath sent to Chief Rabbi Cook on Monday about the safety of five of its graduates, studying at the Hebron Rabbinical School. Executive Director Joseph Gabriel said yesterday.

The five boys at Hebron are: Morris Z. Berman, 19 years old, of Philadelphia; William Berman, 24, of Philadelphia; Saul Kushner, 16, of 27 Allen Street; Samuel M. Sanders, 19, of 169 Hart Street, Brooklyn, and Israel Snow, 16, of 33 Moore Street, Brooklyn.

No word has been received regarding the elder Berman and of Saul Kushner, and little hope is held out for them. Sanders was reported as wounded on Monday.

Mrs. Rose Snow also received a cablegram from her son, Israel Snow, with the one word: "Well."

ARABS HERE ASSAIL JEWISH RIOT VIEWS

Messages Are Sent to League of Nations, Hoover, MacDonald, the Pope and Many Others.

A group of Arabian citizens and sympathizers living in and near New York met yesterday afternoon to protest against "the unfairness of the Jewish press in dealing with the present Palestine rioting." They voted to send messages to several clerical and secular leaders denying the allegation that the attacks of the Arabs on the Jews were motivated by religion.

The messages, released from the offices of Selim Totah, attorney, in the Woolworth Building, were signed by Fuad Shatara, president of the Palestine National League; Abbas M. Abushakra, general secretary of the New Syria party, and Abd M. Kateeb, secretary of the Young Men's Moslem Society of America.

After the meeting, which was held at 1,170 Broadway, Mr. Abushakra said that rather than being of religious origin, the present trouble was political and economic. In 1915, he said, Great Britain told the Arabs it would give them representative government; in 1917 it told the Jews that it would cooperate in their homeland plans.

"A minority race," he said, "has been given a permanent home at the expense of the majority."

Among the messages was a cablegram forwarded to the Permanent Mandate Commission of the League of Nations at Geneva. It said:

"Present deplorable events in Palestine are the outcome of Balfour declaration. The Wailing Wall is merely an incident. We appeal for justice to the supreme source of authority on mandates."

A message to President Hoover, Senator Borah and Secretary of State Stimson read:

"We regret present situation in Palestine. Zionism is responsible for these conditions. Application of Balfour declaration under British mandate deprives Arabs of all their rights. Abrogation of declaration is only means to insure permanent peace. Arabs world over look to American sense of freedom and justice to uphold Arabs in their struggle for national independence."

A cablegram to Pope Pius XI said:

"Present form of government deprives Arabs of all their political and national rights. Abrogation of Balfour declaration is only solution to insure permanent peace. Arabs world over look to your Holiness and Catholic world for sympathy and support in their cause."

A similarly worded message was sent to Cardinal Hayes. To Premier MacDonald went the following:

"Permanent peace in Palestine cannot be established under present British policy, which deprives Arabs of all their rights and imposes upon them an autocratic form of government contrary to British traditions and sense of justice. Zionism is responsible for present uprising. Establishment of national home for Jews in Palestine can only be accomplished by putting Arabs out of their homes. Humanity and world peace movements are looking to your wisdom and leadership for a just and permanent solution in accordance with the wishes of majority of people of Palestine."

To King Feisal of Iraq; Imam Yahya, King of Yemen; King Riza Khan of Persia and King Abdul Aziz ibn Saud of the Hejaz, the following was sent:

"Palestine Arabs forced to fight for their rights. Situation dangerous and calling for help. British policy responsible for present conditions. Sacred rights of Arabs as a nation deserving independence and principles you are promulgating in Arabia are menaced by Jewish aggression."

BRITAIN TO PROTECT AMERICAN CITIZENS

swamped with work in his unceasing efforts to keep track of American citizens in that city and other parts of Palestine, and at the same time afford them what protection he can give, was indicated in a cablegram from Mr. Knabenshue requesting that a Consul be ordered temporarily to Palestine for "urgent duty at Tel Aviv to assist in work connected with the protection of a large number of American citizens residing there."

Beirut Consul to Give Aid.

The State Department ordered Harry L. Troutman, the American Consul at Beirut, to proceed at once to Tel Aviv to represent the United States there until further orders. Mr. Troutman is understood to be already on the way to Tel Aviv.

All surviving American citizens in Hebron at the time of the outbreaks there have been evacuated and are now safe in Jerusalem, Consul General Knabenshue cabled the department.

Senator Borah accepted this afternoon the invitation of the American Jewish Congress and other leading Jewish organizations to speak at a mass meeting in Madison Square Garden in New York tomorrow night. His speech will deal entirely with the situation Palestine.

Herman Bernstein Sees Hoover.

By the Jewish Telegraphic Agency.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 28.—President Hoover received Herman Bernstein this morning in conference at the White House regarding the situation in Palestine.

Mr. Bernstein presented to the President further information concerning Arab atrocities in Palestine and familiarized him with the background of Arab anti-Jewish and anti-British propaganda from first-hand information gained as a result of his visits to Palestine and interviews with Arab leaders, particularly regarding the Wailing Wall controversy.

Upon leaving the White House Mr. Bernstein said the President was deeply moved by the tragic events and the gravity of the situation in Palestine and that the impression he received from the President was that the American Government was fully alive to the situation and was doing all within its power in the matter.

Representative Hartley Gives Aid.

By The Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—At the request of Jewish organizations in New Jersey, Representative Fred A. Hartley of Kearny conferred today with G. Howland Shaw, Chief of the Division of Near Eastern Affairs of the State Department, concerning the riots in Palestine.

Mr. Hartley said he would leave Washington tomorrow for Bayonne to address a mass meeting of Jews called in protest against the recent atrocities in Palestine.

"I am convinced the State Department is taking every precaution possible at this time to protect American citizens in Palestine," he said. "I am particularly touched by the appeals from the Jews in New Jersey, many of whom have relatives in Jerusalem, and I will undertake any step possible to make certain that the State Department does all in its power to protect American lives."

Representative Hartley said he would also attend a mass meeting in Newark on Sept. 1 called by Jules E. Tepper, head of the Republican organization in Newark, to protest against the Moslem-Jewish rioting.

LONDON SEES PEACE AS TROOPS ATTACK

BRITAIN PROMISES ACTION

LONDON, Aug. 28.—Order is well on the way to being restored in that area of Palestine where disturbances broke out over the week-end, but repercussions are still being felt in outlying districts, according to reports here. The danger of a general Arab uprising, it is believed here, has now passed, but weeks will elapse before the country can be said to be completely under control.

British troops in Jerusalem were reinforced today by the arrival of 500 Lancers from Cairo and a detachment of tanks from Malta is expected to arrive tomorrow.

Telegraphing from Beirut in French Syria, the correspondent of The Daily News says that the French battleship La Motte Piquet is on the way there to join the squadron under Rear Admiral Laurent, which has already been reinforced by two French destroyers.

Renewed demonstrations were held in Damascus Tuesday night and a number of Arabs were wounded in a conflict with the police. The inhabitants of Beirut were holding peaceful meetings, manifesting sympathy with the Palestine Arabs. The bazaars were closed and Jewish quarters heavily guarded. There is much anxiety here regarding the situation in Damascus, though there is an absence of direct messages after day-long rumors of big Arab concentrations in the neighborhood.

British Troops Attack.

British troops under the direction of Brig. Gen. W. G. S. Dobbie have taken the offensive against the disaffected Arabs, and are now conducting operations with all the precision of a thoroughly organized military campaign. The first attacks have been directed against the strongholds south of Jerusalem, where all the arms available under General Dobbie's command have cooperated in well-organized onslaughts.

No details as to the extent of the resistance offered, or whether the British troops have suffered casualties are known in London, but from accounts reaching here there has been some lively machine gun work both from aircraft and ground squads, and it is evident that a predetermined plan is being pushed through with relentless determination.

The measures being taken in other districts northward of Jerusalem have also passed beyond the "police" stage, and with the arrival from Cairo of a special signal corps with field wireless equipment, operations that hitherto were conducted by scattered British detachments between such widely separated points as Jaffa, Anavim, Hebron and Haifa are being coordinated.

That the general command considers the situation dangerous is apparent from the fact that a number of 18-pound field guns, corresponding to the famous French 75s have been rushed from Egypt, and several of these are now posted at strategic points at bottlenecks of the River Jordan, connecting Palestine with Transjordania.

Arab prisoners captured at various points along the Transjordania "front" have been brought to Jerusalem headquarters for interrogation, but officials preserve silence as to whether the information received is serious or otherwise.

Weizmann Predicts Changes.

After an interview with Lord Passfield, Colonial Secretary, tonight, Dr. Chaim Weizmann, president of the Zionist Organization, expressed the opinion that there would be considerable changes in the present administration of Palestine before long.

"I believe that the British Government will stand fully by the Balfour declaration to establish a national home for the Jews in Palestine with greater vigor than before. Lord Passfield also recognizes in principle the justice of the Zionists' request for compensation for Jewish life and property lost in Palestine."

Dr. Weizmann added that the Cabinet will shortly consider the whole situation as it affects the Jewish claim, and considers that it will share the views and sentiments of the Colonial Minister.

A mass meeting of Jewish leaders has been arranged for Albert Hall on Sunday under the presidency of Lord Melchett. Among the speakers will be Dr. Weizmann, Colonel Josiah Wedgewood and General Sir Wyndham Deedes, who has wide experience in the administration of Palestine. The Archbishop of York and General Jan Smuts, former Prime Minister of the Union of South Africa, have been invited.

The Anglo-Indian air mail service has thus far been uninterrupted, though the outward mail which left Alexandria today for Gaza and Bagdad was diverted via Kantara Amman.

Aircraft Employed in Attack.

"Aircraft has been employed in reconnoitring the disturbed areas," an official statements reads, "and fire from the air has been opened on parties of Arabs in the neighborhood of Haifa, Ramles and the hills around Jerusalem.

"A strong Arab concentration was reported southeast of Gaza, but aircraft has been unable to locate any parties of Arabs in the neighborhood and no attack thus far has materialized.

"Last night continuous attacks on Beit Alpha, four miles west of Beisan, were successfully repulsed by a detachment of the Transjordan Frontier Force.

"Telephone lines from Jerusalem to Nazareth, Haifa and Tiberias are reported out of order.

"The situation in Transjordan is reported as normal.

"No further reinforcements have been dispatched to Palestine."

Premier MacDonald and other members of the Cabinet received vigorous protests on behalf of the Palestine Arabs against the British policy in Palestine. Many cablegrams stated that the bloodshed was the result of the Balfour declaration "involving the spoliation of Arab rights."

An Arabic from Jerusalem added: "After the great war the Arabs lost all the political rights they enjoyed under Turkey and witnessed the Jews being introduced to build up a non-existant nationality over the ruins of Arabia."

The complete abolition of the Balfour declaration and the establishment of a democratic administration in Palestine are urged.

Lipsky Outlines Demands.

By The Associated Press.

LONDON, Aug. 28.—Louis Lipsky, president of the American section and a member of the executive council of the World Zionist Organization, outlined the demands of the Jews from Palestine after a session today of the world executive. This session has heard the report by Dr. Chaim Weizmann of his conference with Lord Passfield, Secretary of the Dominions.

"Being under the impressions of that important meeting and having the full picture of Palestine in view," Mr. Lipsky said, "I can say that the Jews of the world, and especially the American Jews, will not be easy until the British Government has satisfied the following requirements:

"These are, effective restoration of law and order, punishment of direct and indirect offenders and instigators of the riots, removal of all incompetent officials and those not in sympathy with the Jewish national home in Palestine, reorganization of the police with a percentage of Jews and organization of adequate military forces, adequate compensation for loss of life and property, renewed and increased immigration of Jews to Palestine and just settlement of the Wailing Wall problem through government expropriation of the property after adequate compensation.

"Last, but most important, there must be a full restatement of government policy, clearly and indubitably announcing its intentions to carry into effect the Balfour Declaration and the mandate."

Arabs Protest to London.

Protests against the British policy in Jerusalem by Kasim Husseini, president of the Arab executive in Jerusalem, were presented to Premier MacDonald and other members of the Cabinet today.

The message, which was sent to the National League in London, declared:

"Bloodshed in Palestine clearly expresses that the policy applied here for ten years is dangerous to all concerned. The Arabs, after the Great War, lost all political rights and witnessed Jewish rifraffs being introduced from all parts to their country to build a non-existent nationality over the ruins of their own through the Balfour Declaration.

"The government may keep order by the introduction of naval and military forces, but the Arab executive believes that everlasting order and peace will be impossible until the just national demands of the Arabs for establishment of a democratic administration and the abolition of the Balfour Declaration are positively considered."

Garrison Is Expected.

In military circles it was expected, although unconfirmed officially, a permanent military garrison would be established in Palestine with a strength of two infantry regiments and one cavalry regiment.

Meanwhile, repercussions of the disturbances were heard on every hand, with most of the press seeing danger in them to a large section of the empire. The London Times broke its editorial silence on the matter to characterize the fighting as "the outcome of a premeditated and organized movement."

"Our plain duties in Palestine are firmness and decision," it says. "Palestine is a test case. If we hesitate or change our accepted policy there we should soon have greater dangers confronting us elsewhere.

"There is much more to be done than just to restore law and order. Manifestly there must be prompt and searching investigation into the responsibilities for the outbreak, both of the criminals themselves and of those we placed in authority in Palestine.

"The Colonial Office describes the situation as 'well in hand,' although they acknowledge there is still a good deal of murder and outrage at various points. But the situation ought never to have got out of hand.

"The British public and the public of all nations who have citizens in Palestine have a right to know the more immediate and remote reasons for the lamentable events of the past few days."

Daily News Sees Danger.

A similar vein was followed by The Daily News and Westminster Gazette. After speaking of the "Palestine dangers" and pointing out that the conclusion "is irresistible" that the Arabs' attacks were "premeditated," it said:

"We are very much afraid, in any case, that the situation has not passed beyond the question of assessing rights and privileges of Jews and Arabs in this debatable piece of holy ground and that for some time to come British authority will be employed in the thankless task of keeping peace in a very much wider sense and over a very much wider stretch than the Palestine territory.

"Obviously, there is a certain danger of the spread of general anti-British movement in the Islamic world, and this anxiety will not be removed until we have learned the attitude and intentions of Ibn Saud, the powerful king of the Hedjaz, upon whose professed friendship for Great Britain depends many doubtful factors."

Indications of attempts at peaceful settlement of the Palestine troubles were contained in messages from Jerusalem issued tonight by the central office of the Zionist Organization.

"There was much sniping overnight," the messages said, "and the old city was not quiet. The more dangerous parts have been partly evacuated.

"On the attempt of the Governor to convene a meeting of the Jerusalem Municipal Council (on which both Jews and Moslems are represented) we said that we considered it premature to expect Jews to sit at the same table with certain Arab members. Also, we considered that under martial law in the district the Governor could very well manage this municipal work himself."

Appeal to World Jewry.

By The Jewish Telegraphic Agency.

LONDON, Aug. 28.—Over the signature of Dr. Chaim Weizmann, president of the World Zionist Organization; Felix M. Warburg of New York, chairman of the administrative committee of the Jewish Agency for Palestine, and Lord Melchett, a member of the committee, the Jewish Agency for Palestine, recently created at the Zurich session, issued tonight the following statement in connection with the Palestine outbreaks and outlined the future course of the Zionist work in Palestine.

The Jewish people, relying upon the Balfour declaration and the Palestine mandate, have worked for the last ten years at the peaceful and constructive upbuilding of Palestine. This work has now suffered violence and wanton destruction.

Innocent Jews and Jewesses have been murdered. Our pioneers died in defense of the foundation they had made for the Jewish national home.

Undeterred by these attacks, Jews the world over must show that their determination to build up the Jewish national home in Palestine remains unshaken and that they will devote all their strength and energy to this work.

Terrorism and violence will not succeed. The blood of the Jewish victims cries out to us all to do our full share for the sacred cause of Palestine.

The responsible officers of the Jewish Agency are taking steps to secure adequate reparation for the damage inflicted, the punishment of all offenders, the removal of incompetent officials, a just settlement of the problem of the Wailing Wall, a renewed and increased immigration of Jews into Palestine and a clear restatement of policy of the mandatory government in regard to Palestine.

We call on all Jews to give immediate proof of their determination to proceed with the work in Palestine and put at the disposal of the Jewish Agency all necessary means to insure that the Jewish national home will be rebuilt effectively and speedily.

The Zionist headquarters here was in receipt this morning of a cablegram from the Zionist Executive in Jerusalem requesting its intervention with the Colonial Office against the orders issued by the Palestine authorities to disarm the specially enrolled Jewish constables and the Jewish self-defense body. The message declared that the order, under the conditions still prevailing in Palestine, was premature and may create a more dangerous situation for the Jews of Palestine.

The dispatch charged that while the Jews were being disarmed the Palestine authorities enrolled fifty beleheen who were formerly members of the Transjordanian Frontier Force, many of whom are residents of the village Lifta near Jerusalem, the hotbed of the Moslem anti-Jewish agitation.

The leaders of the Jewish community in Haifa have complained of the great difficulty they encounter in obtaining the cooperation of the authorities. The Haifa barracks were burned down. Some of the inhabitants of the barracks were shot. The habitation was looted.

In Tel Aviv A. R. Oofien, manager of the Anglo-Palestine Bank, after touring the city recommended the commencement of normal business on Wednesday.

The Zionist headquarters in London as further informed by the Zionist Executive of Jerusalem that it has approached the Palestine Government with a request to officially deny the rumor published in some London newspapers that the Friday riots were started when some Jews threw a bomb at the Moslem demonstration. The Palestine Government declared that it cannot possibly believe that such a rumor was spread since its reports to the Colonial Office transmitted the facts in the case and these reports contained no mention of any such allegation.

JERUSALEM SUBURB DECLARED MENACED

Arabs Plan to Destroy Old City Tomorrow, Cairo Hears—2,500 Jews Reported Starving.

CAIRO, Aug. 28 (By the Jewish Telegraphic Agency).—Panic has not yet passed in Jerusalem. It is rumored that the Arabs are preparing to destroy the Old City on Friday. From Jericho it is heard that 1,000 Transjordanian Bedouins are marching on Jerusalem.

Under the Arab Police Officer Kemal Irani searches and arrests are said to continue among the Jews in the towns. In the Russian Square on the Military Centre Arab scouts in official uniform are keeping order. The Jewish officials are declared to be abused and badly treated. Newspapers are not yet appearing. Telephonic communication for private use, which was closed, has been reopened.

General conditions in Jerusalem are described as terrible. Twenty-five hundred persons are said to be starving in the Old City for lack of bread. Three hundred and fifty Yeneenites have left the village, Kfar Hashiloacha, on the outskirts of Jerusalem, is in fear of an attack.

All attacks on the colonies in the valley of Jesreel were repulsed, it is stated, without the loss of a life among the Jews. The colony Ein Harod in lower Galilee started work in the fields today. This colony, which is a cooperative one and one of the most successful settlements, having 200 farmers, also sent food to Jerusalem. Will Wolfgang Don Weisl, who was severely injured in the first attack, is recovering.

GENEVA, Aug. 28 (By the Jewish Telegraphic Agency). — A special meeting of the Zionist organization which functions between congresses was called to be held here within ten days. Dr. Leo Motzkin issued the call after consultation with Isaac Gruenbaum of Warsaw, Rabbi Nurok, a member of the Latvian Parliament and Dr. Leon Reich of Galicia.

Mohammedan Papers Bitter About Policy Toward Palestine.

London Times Dispatch.
By Cable.

LAHORE, India, Aug. 28.—Bitter indignation at the British attitude in Palestine was expressed today in Lahore's Mohammedan newspapers, one of which is English, and one in the vernacular.

Both papers say that Indian Moslems are unalterably opposed to the Palestine Government supporting the "unjust and preposterous" Jewish demands regarding the Wailing Wall, and infer that the British Government is trying to deprive Moslems of their rightful control of the holy places in Jerusalem and elsewhere.

Further, according to these newspapers, the British Zionist police in Arab lands are causing great resentment among Moslems generally, which Downing Street cannot afford to ignore.

By The Associated Press.

BOMBAY, Aug. 28.—The Syrian-Palestine Committee in Cairo has sent a telegram to Indian Khalifatists saying that "hundreds" of Palestinian Moslems had been killed by the Jews and the police while defending the Wailing Wall in Jerusalem.

The committee appealed to their Indian brethren to favor the Moslem cause by all means at their disposal, adding that the situation was still dangerous.

Julius Rosenwald has given $25,000 to be used in relief measures for the refugees in Palestine, it was learned yesterday. That is the second local gift of that sum, the first having been made by Nathan Straus. A contribution of $25,000 by Felix Warburg also was announced in a cablegram from London. The day's contributions to the Palestine Emergency Fund were more than $63,000.

The day after he had cabled his donation to Jerusalem, Mr. Straus met Mr. Rosenwald on the golf links and mentioned what he had done. Mr. Rosenwald then asked Mr. Straus to send his contribution.

The $50,000 given by Mr. Straus and Mr. Rosenwald will be expended by the Straus Health Centre at Jerusalem. Mr. Straus learned that the centre had fitted up vacant rooms to receive those injured in the hostilities around Hebron. He was informed by cable yesterday that both donations, which will help provide food and medicines for refugees, had been received in Jerusalem.

Warburg Gives $25,000.

Louis Lipsky, president of the Zionist Organization of America, told in a cable message from London yesterday to his local headquarters of Mr. Warburg's gift. Mr. Warburg is returning from London on the Homeric, Mr. Lipsky said.

David A. Brown, chairman of the Palestine Emergency Fund, announced that small contributions, not yet tabulated, would increase the day's contributions of $63,000.

The contributions included one of $50,000 by the joint distribution committee, $10,000 by Lieut. Gov. Lehman, $2,500 by Tammany Hall and $500 by James N. Rosenberg.

In sending his contribution, Mr. Lehman said:

"I am sure that the whole world sympathizes with the Jews of Palestine in their desperate plight and that everybody, Jew and non-Jew alike, will feel called upon to lend their aid to the succoring of those devoted pioneers who have been struggling to build the Jewish homeland. I am confident that the British Government will succeed speedily in restoring order and that the Jews of Palestine will go on with their great enterprise, aided by the Jews of the world."

The General Executive Board of the International Ladies' Garment Workers' Union last night voted to cable $5,000 at once to relief agencies in the Holy Land, and ordered shop chairmen in all women's garment shops throughout the country to make collections among the needle workers for that purpose. The board voted the funds after an appeal by Benjamin Schlesinger, president of the union.

Borah to Speak at Mass Meeting.

All Jewish organizations in the city have been invited to participate in the mass meeting to be held this evening at Madison Square Garden to protest against the Palestine situation. It will also be a memorial meeting for the hundreds of Jews who have lost their lives there.

The chairman of the meeting will be Samuel Untermyer, the committee of arrangements said yesterday. The speakers will include Senator Borah, chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee; Lieut. Gov. Lehman, David A. Brown, Rabbi Samuel Schulman of Congregation Emanu-El, Bernard A. Rosenblatt, Rabbi M. Z. Margolies, Baruch Zukerman, Nathan D. Perlman and Bernard S. Deutsch. Mayor Walker has also been invited.

Philadelphia, Newark, Norwalk, Conn., Boston and Albany are all sending delegations, the committee said.

The Cantors' Association of New York will sing the traditional chants that are sung at memorial services for the dead, and it is expected that the speeches will be broadcast. The arrangements are being made by a committee representing more than 150 Jewish organizations.

Lipsky Tells of Need.

Mr. Lipsky, in his cablegram from London to the Zionist Organization of America, said that Palestine needs help.

"The speedy action of American Jews in establishing a Palestine emergency fund meets with the approval of world Jewry, which knows how generous American Jewry has always been," the cablegram said. "No situation that has arisen in recent years is as disastrous for Jews as the present one in Palestine.

"Large funds are urgently needed immediately for the purposes arising directly out of the present calamitous situation. The needs of Palestine

TOWNS IN PALESTINE WHERE THERE HAVE BEEN SERIOUS CLASHES BETWEEN JEWS AND ARABS.

Jewry are indescribable. But reading the private dispatches that come to London from authoritative sources, I can assure American Jewry 'that never was the need of a single group of Jews greater. If the suffering is to be at least partially ameliorated funds must be forthcoming at once."

The Jewish Centre of East Flatbush, 661 Linden Boulevard, Brooklyn, yesterday forwarded its protest about the Palestine situation to Sir Esme Howard, British Ambassador at Washington.

Among those who sent out statements about the situation was Representative Loring M. Black. He said that he felt the United States Government should order warships to the coast of Palestine as a protective measure for American Jews now there.

"Speedy action is necessary by us or there will be an extension of the Moslem fury," he said. "The President will find that his ordering naval vessels to Palestine would be effective as well as in accord with international usage.

"Humanity requires that American forces intervene in its behalf. I am sure that all Americans here with loved ones in Jerusalem would be heartened at the Presidential order to our fighting forces to sail for the troubled area."

Celler Criticizes Britain.

Representative Emanuel Celler, speaking over the Young Israel Radio Hour of WPCH last evening, said:

"In this instance blood is on the hands of the Arabs. They are to blame. But to my mind, as much blame rests upon Great Britain. It has had much experience in dealing with religious animosity. In India, where it reigns and has its Viceroy, there are the elements of hatred and bigotry between the Moslems and the Hindu. Great Britain should have profited by its dreadful experience in Ireland. Great Britain will never learn."

The local headquarters of the Zion Orphanage in Jerusalem announced at its offices, 70 Lenox Avenue, that it had received a cable from Palestine saying that the children under its care were healthy and that the orphanage had not been touched.

Rabbi Moses Schub of 207 East Broadway said he had received a cable message from Rabbi J. M. Tukasinsky that the hospitals in Jerusalem were crowded and that help is badly needed.

Fish Urges Stimson to Act.

Representative Hamilton Fish Jr. announced last night that he had sent the following telegram to Secretary Stimson:

"As a member of the Committee of Foreign Affairs of the House of Representatives and as an author of the Zionist resolution which was adopted by the Congress of the United States in favor of establishing a homeland in Palestine for the Jewish people, I respectfully urge and request that immediate steps be taken by the State Department to protect the lives and property of American citizens in Jerusalem by ordering the nearest available American naval vessels to Palestine and by offering to land our marines to cooperate with the British armed forces for the purpose of protecting the lives and property of American citizens endangered by fanatical and lawless mobs."

Resolutions were also forwarded to Secretary Stimson by Representative William F. Brunner, who said it was done "at the urgent request of constituents," the Clean Government party of Queens and the East New York Jewish Grocers and Dairymen's Association.

Delegates of Hudson County's Jewry assembled at the Jewish Community Centre of Jersey City last evening and passed two resolutions. One called on Great Britain to explain its Palestine attitude, to compensate the victims of the rioting, to investigate the cause of the rioting and to permit the Jews to arm in self-defense. The other asked Secretary Stimson to protest to Great Britain its "criminal negligence" in Palestine.

SIR HERBERT SAMUEL DENIES RECALL REPORT

Ex-British High Commissioner in Palestine Says at Prague He Has Not Had New Offer.

Wireless to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

PRAGUE, Aug. 28.—Sir Herbert Samuel, former British High Commissioner in Palestine, who was reported to have been recalled to London Monday in connection with the troubles in Palestine, is still in this city, where his wife and daughter-in-law are taking part in the congress of the International Women's League for Peace and Freedom.

Sir Herbert today received representatives of the Zionist District Committee and denied that he had been recalled to London to take up a fresh appointment as High Commissioner. He declined to express any opinion on the Palestine situation beyond saying that reports that he had seen appeared exaggerated. In the course of debate in the House of Commons he intends to express his views on the situation, he said.

Although he has been stormed by local journalists and foreign correspondents to express his views on the policy of the British Government in Palestine, he refused any statement to every one, including British correspondents.

Group of Jews, Christians and Moslems Assail Zionists to French at Beirut.

ITALIAN CRUISER OFF CITY

Paris Orders Another From France —Minor Clash Reported Quelled in Damascus.

BEIRUT, Syria, Aug. 28 (AP).—French authorities reported today that a scuffle had occurred in Damascus between a small number of Arab manifestants and the local police. There were a few persons wounded, but the affair was local in character and had no repercussions.

French troops are permanently stationed on patrol inside the Jewish quarter here to protect the lives and property of its inhabitants from possible Arab attack, although no further demonstrations have occurred except an orderly Arab procession this morning.

The Beirut bazaars were closed and sympathizers with the Palestine Arabs participated in the demonstration.

The parade today was only a small one to escort the Moslem leaders to Government House to discuss their plans for a great demonstration similar to the parade of 20,000 Arabs yesterday. French authorities persuaded them to abandon their idea.

A group of Moslems, Christians and Jews waited upon the president of the Syrian State and protested against the situation of the non-Zionist population of Palestine.

The Moslems had previously assured representative Jews that the demonstration was merely intended to protest against the Zionist extremists in Palestine.

The parade was carried out in perfect order. The procession was headed by the flags of France and of the Liban and the crowds shouted: "vive la France," as its leaders were admitted to the Government House.

Demonstration Called Off.

The French, however, fearing that the rif-raff element of the population might improve the occasion to loot or attack the bazaars, persuaded the Arabs to call off the demonstration entirely. Their arguments were effectively underlined by the presence in and around the Jewish quarter of two battalions with fixed bayonets.

The French authorities in Syria feel that the questions involved in the Arab-Jewish troubles in Palestine are quite remote from those which made Eastern Syria, the Hauran Mountains, the Djebel Druses and the Gardens of Damascus scenes of bitter fighting and bloodshed in 1925 and 1926.

It is only since 1927 that barbed-wire entanglements, sandbags and stone barricades have been removed from the streets of Damascus before the gates of the Grand Serail, and the French are sparing no effort to prevent being obliged to reinstall them.

All was reported quiet in Damascus except for the scuffle mentioned. The Midan quarter, destroyed by French artillery in 1925 and always a centre of ferment since its rebuilding, was tranquil. Bazaars closed for the past two days in Damascus will be reopened tomorrow.

Disquieting News From Palestine.

Reports from Palestine said that British troops had the situation well in hand in all urban districts. Quiet continued in the cities.

News from Transjordania and the Valley of Esdraelon, however, was more disturbing. Travelers brought word of agitation and unrest among the Arabs there. The attitude of the Arabs in Transjordania especially was said to be threatening.

Information from Safed, the nearest Palestine city to the Syrian border, was to the effect that atrocities had been committed by Arabs in which women and children had lost their lives. These tales found many believers among those who were witnesses of the tactics adopted by Arab rebels around Damascus and towns at the foot of the Lebanons.

Those close to the authorities in Syria believe every attempt to bring peace in Palestine will be in vain unless the British mandate officials make clear to the Jews that Palestine is distinctly an Arabic country, with 80 per cent of Moslems in its population.

Armenians at Beirut Alarmed.

Some 40,000 Armenians in camps at Beirut and Aleppo, awaiting settlement on land under the League of Nations, were in a state of alarm yesterday lest the Arab uprising should spread to aliens, whether Christian or Jew, according to advices received by the Near East Relief in New York.

Frank A. March, manager of the relief for the Syria and Palestine area, reported that French authorities were confident that any Arab demonstration in sympathy with the Palestine situation would not reach a dangerous outbreak. Mr. March said that American child welfare workers serving in the refugee camps were continuing on duty and that French police and military precautions had been increased.

Arab attitude toward the Armenian settlers from the north has not been over-friendly of late, Mr. March reported, but the leaders of both groups have shown a disposition to avoid difficulties.

Cleveland Jews to Meet in Protest.

Special to The New York Times.

CLEVELAND, Aug. 28.—Jews of this city, aroused by the Arab attacks in Palestine, will hold a demonstration tomorrow evening at the synagogue of the Jewish Centre. Thirty-one organizations have united to hold this mass protest. The meeting will be addressed by Representative Charles A. Mooney, Rabbi Barnett R. Brickner, Isaac Carmel and Mrs. Sigmund Herzog, and an appeal will be forwarded to government authorities in Washington to intervene.

ZIONISTS IN LONDON RAISE $250,000 FUND

Felix Warburg Heads Contributors Who Call Upon Premier to Aid Jews in Palestine.

Wireless to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

LONDON, Aug. 28.—The Zionist Executive, under the presidency of Dr. Chaim Weismann, issued this afternoon an urgent appeal for a fund to meet the Palestine emergency. No limit was fixed for the fund, which, under the signature of Lord Melchett, will coincide with an appeal made simultaneously in New York. More than $200,000 has already been contributed, the first gift being $25,000 by Felix Warburg, who sailed on the Homeric for New York today. Lord Melchett, James A. de Rothschild and Simon Marks contributed similar amounts.

It was announced after the meeting that Jews everywhere will be called upon to proceed with whatever arrangements are necessary to continue peaceful efforts for the establishment of a Jewish national home in Palestine.

A delegation of Zionists and English Jews will shortly present to Premier MacDonald a formal memorandum on the Palestine situation, suggesting what measures that Zionists deem necessary that the British Government should take, making clear that the purposes of the mandate cannot be carried out if present conditions in Palestine continue. How could Jews regard Palestine as their national home if a crisis like the present were allowed to continue? it is asked by Zionists here.

Memorial Prayers in Australia.

By The Canadian Press.

MELBOURNE, Aug. 28.—Memorial prayers will be recited here for the Jews killed in Palestine, Rabbi Brodie announced today. The Jewish Herald in an editorial exhorts Australian Jewry to be calm. It says Great Britain's inspiring response to the High Commissioner's appeal shows she realizes fully her obligations under the mandate. "Whatever can be done will be done," the newspaper adds.

1,000 HERE SIGN UP TO FIGHT THE ARABS

Volunteer Ranks Swelled by Offer of Services of Jewish Veterans of Canada.

PERMANENT UNIT PLANNED

Graubard Forming Force of 500 That Will Be Ready for Any Future Emergency.

With 1,000 volunteers already signed up in New York City, the ranks of the volunteer Palestine army of the Jewish War Veterans of the United States were swelled last night, when before a large mass meeting at 437 Lafayette Street, Lieutenant Jack Arron, who served overseas with the Canadian Engineers, offered the services of the Jewish Veterans of the Canadian Legion.

Meanwhile Nathan Graubard, 23 years old, whose father runs a second-floor restaurant at 281 Grand Street, was haranguing a group of eager youths who sat at tables in the restaurant. Graubard estimates the number of those who have so far signified their willingness to join his band of young Jewish champions at 250.

Graubard Volunteers Recognized.

His activities were at first frowned upon by the older veterans, but he has now received their recognition and will parade with them tonight at the mass demonstration in Madison Square Garden.

Among the more zealous listeners at the meeting in Graubard Restaurant last night was Louis Fischman, 24, a mechanic, of 32 Ludlow Street. He was there to confer with young Graubard in order to learn what arrangements could be made in Palestine for volunteers who took it upon themselves to go direct to the scene of action. Fischman, who has been a seaman, plans to ship with several friends on the freighter Exmouth of the American Merchant Lines, sailing for Haifa early in September.

Graubard's volunteers, who will furnish their own equipment, plan to establish a permanent unit of 500 Jewish youths who will hold themselves in readiness for service in the present and in any future emergencies.

Wires to Stimson and Howard.

At the meeting of the Jewish War Veterans two telegrams, which had been dispatched by the executive committee, through the organization's Commander-in-Chief, Assemblyman Julius S. Berg, to Sir Esme Howard, British Ambassador at Washington, and Secretary of State Stimson, were read and unanimously approved.

The telegram to Sir Esme Howard apprised him of the readiness of the veterans to fight for the defense of Palestine and asked him to communicate their sentiments to his home government. It said that no lack of confidence was felt in the ability of the British to handle the situation but that the veterans felt that their experience—some of them having fought under General Allenby—qualified them to be of service.

The veterans asked Secretary Stimson by wire whether any existing international treaties or obligations would be violated by their recruiting. Last night no reply had been received to either message.

BOSTON JEWS RAISING FUNDS FOR PALESTINE

Workers Alone Plan to Get $25,000 to Aid Needy Arab Toilers as Well as Brethren.

Special to The New York Times.

BOSTON, Aug. 28.—Boston Jews organized a drive today for funds to aid stricken Palestine and staged a mass demonstration in Faneuil Hall tonight at which every Jewish organization in Boston was represented. Formation of a committee of 100 was begun, which will conduct the campaign for funds.

The campaign will come under the United Jewish Organizations' drive for destitute Palestine, and one section of it alone—the Paole Zionists, Jewish workers—will seek to raise $25,000 in Boston.

This organization is not protesting against the British Labor Government, but against the Palestine administration. Arab workers in Palestine are in full sympathy with the Jews, according to Abe Hamlin, head of the workers' unit. According to him, the rich Arabs are exploiting the poor of their own race as well as the Jewish workers in the present upheaval.

"The Jewish workers of Boston are determined to give all help to the destitute workers in Palestine, both Arab and Jewish," he said.

LAGUARDIA MAKES PUBLIC WORKS TOUR

Distressed by His Findings, He Says, but Reserves Detailed Statement Till Later.

ASSAILS WHALEN'S SILENCE

His Manager Tells of Bennett's Defeats at Polls and Latter Calls Major a Socialist.

Representative LaGuardia made an early morning tour of public works in upper Manhattan and the Bronx yesterday and asserted that his campaign survey had revealed conditions "most distressing to any New Yorker."

The Republican designee for Mayor did not detail his findings of the tour, which was made by automobile starting at 7:30 A. M. He said he would reserve them for later in the campaign.

"I will make my report to the citizenry of the city in due course," he said. "Did I find anything startling? No, nothing startles me now. What I found was most distressing to any New Yorker."

Comments on Whalen's Silence.

Mr. LaGuardia, informed that Police Commissioner Whalen had offered no reply to his charges of the previous night that the semi-annual police report had juggled facts about crime conditions said, "There is no answer to that. Whalen knows there is no answer. How could he answer when my analysis of the report is backed up by every insurance company in town?"

Keyes Winter, campaign manager for Mr. LaGuardia, and William M. Bennett, opponent of the Representative in the Republican primaries, engaged in a duel of statements during the day. Mr. Winter made the first thrust, one a reply to Mr. Bennett's previous declarations that Mr. LaGuardia was not a good Republican.

"Mr. Bennett was kind enough inadvertently to compliment Major LaGuardia on his series of victories in seven successive campaigns in New York City," said Mr. Winter. "Perhaps it is not out of place that the voters of the city of New York should be informed of William M. Bennett's office seeking in the Republican party.

Tells of Bennett's Defeats.

"In 1916, William M. Bennett entered the primaries for the nomination for Governor. He was defeated. In 1918 he entered the Republican primaries for the nomination for Lieutenant Governor. In 1920 he again entered the Republican primaries for the nomination for Lieutenant Governor. He was defeated. In 1917 he ran on the Republican ticket for Mayor of New York. He was defeated. In 1919 he contested the nomination for President of the Board of Aldermen in the Republican primaries with Major LaGuardia. He was defeated. In 1921 he ran in the Republican primaries for the nomination for Mayor. He was defeated. In 1925 he entered the Republican primaries for the nomination for Mayor. He was defeated. Since then he entered the Republican primaries for the nomination for State Senator in one of the Manhattan districts. He was defeated."

Mr. Bennett, whose one successful primary contest was in 1917, when he defeated John Purroy Mitchel for the Republican nomination for Mayor, said in his statement of retaliation:

"I admit what he says is true. The point I made, however, in the statement to which his statement is an answer, was that Mr. LaGuardia voted against Calvin Coolidge for President. Mr. Coolidge in my opinion was the best President since the Civil War. He was the right man in the right place at the right time.

Calls LaGuardia a Socialist.

"If Mr. LaGuardia found Mr. Coolidge not a fit man to receive Mr. LaGuardia's vote, then that raises a very serious question as to whether Mr. LaGuardia is the proper man to receive the votes of enrolled Republicans at the primary. I charge that Mr. LaGuardia is not a Republican but a Socialist. He says he is a fusionist in the present campaign. I have been through all the fusion campaigns in New York since 1890. Mr. LaGuardia admits he is not running as a Republican but as a fusionist. This is the first time I have ever heard of a fusion ticket headed by a Socialist."

Mr. LaGuardia said he did not desire to make any comment on Mr. Bennett's statement.

David Barnett, chairman of the Constitutional Campaign Committee which is supporting Mr. Bennett's primary candidacy, opened a drive during the day for a $125,000 campaign fund. Several thousand letters asking for financial support and calling for volunteer workers to help circularize the city for Mr. Bennett were sent out during the day from Mr. Barnett's office. The letters asserted that Mr. Bennett stood with President Hoover in his demand for the elimination of "speakeasies," whereas Mr. LaGuardia in effect was defending Tammany Hall in declaring the law could not be enforced.

In an address delivered last night from an automobile in front of the Allerton Republican Club at 705 Allerton Avenue, the Bronx, Mr. LaGuardia repeated his attacks on Mr. Whalen's police report. The meeting was held in the street because the crowd of about 500 could not be accommodated in the hall.

Mr. LaGuardia reiterated that facts had been juggled in the police report. "The Whalen report is full of holes and every cop on the beat is laughing at it," he said. He took occasion to gibe at the Police Commissioner concerning his experience on Park Row in the afternoon, when a workman who booed Mr. Whalen was taken into custody, although later released. "When the commissioner rode along, every one came to attention, I guess, except this one man. He must have been the one person who read the police report," Mr. LaGuardia said.

Mr. LaGuardia also repeated his charges of Tammany intimidation of business men, shopkeepers and peddlers. "They are being called upon by Tammany to put up," he said. "If necessary, let them put up and shut up now, but on election day they can go into the booth and vote the way they want."

HARVEY MAKES BID FOR DEMOCRATIC AID

Says Party Has Done Nothing to Hinder Him, but That De Bragga Faction Has.

IS ASSAILED BY LABORER

Worker Says He Lost Job 24 Hours After Refusing to Sign Petition for Borough President.

Borough President George U. Harvey of Queens made overtures for Democratic support yesterday when he asserted that for some months, while Democrats had done nothing to hinder him in his work, Republicans of the De Bragga faction had been continually finding fault with his administration.

Mr. Harvey is contesting the Republican nomination with John J. Karle, formerly his borough secretary, who has been named by the regular organization headed by Joseph A. De Bragga. Mr. Harvey will run independently if he does not get the Republican nomination, he has intimated, and hopes to get considerable Democratic support.

"There hasn't been a Democrat who has done anything to hinder us since I took office," he said. "Out of the 4,500 borough employes, most of whom are Democrats, we've received 100 per cent cooperation in every way. Since the first of the year, however, we have been hammered right and left by organization propaganda on the part of De Bragga, and these are the only people who have been finding fault with us.

"Their object was apparently to have us scatter our efforts and accomplish nothing worth while. But we laid down a definite policy and followed out that program, and as a result have good results to show in spite of De Bragga and his agents."

The Borough President was the object of an attack from the regular organization forces during the day. Adam Denzler, Republican district captain of the First Election District of the Fifth Assembly District charged that he was discharged from a position as a laborer twenty-four hours after he failed to sign a designation petition for Mr. Harvey.

The leaders of the three Democratic factions have been active in the past few days making arrangements for the primary campaign, which is expected to get into full swing immediately after Labor Day. The three factions have designated respectively for the nomination for Borough President Edward W. Cox, Bernard M. Patten and William F. Brunner.

The Democratic factional leaders, it was said, would begin with an effort to get endorsement for their candidates from as many political clubs as possible. The speaking campaigns will be unusually intensive, according to the present plans.

VATICAN FOLLOWS EVENTS.

By The Associated Press.

ROME, Aug. 28.—The Lavoro Fascista, Fascist organ, declared today that the Vatican was following the developments of the situation in Palestine with apprehension because the fighting endangered the conservation of the holy places.

The Vatican was said to believe the trouble had arisen from the artificial preponderance of Jews in Palestine caused by large Jewish immigration.

The Lavoro added that "the findings of the British commission sent to Palestine were that before the Zionist movement started, violent anti-Semitism was unknown on the banks of the Jordan."

South African Jews Cancel Dances.

By The Canadian Press.

CAPE TOWN, South Africa, Aug. 28.—All forthcoming Jewish social functions in South Africa, including a number of dances, have been canceled and numerous inquiries for the latest news from Palestine are being made night and day at newspaper offices.

3,000 Jews Parade in Warsaw.

By The Associated Press.

WARSAW, Aug. 28.—Three thousand Jews paraded through the Jewish district of the city today in a demonstration protesting against the Arab attacks in Palestine. Posters carried legends such as "The Wailing Wall must be ours." "Honor to the victims of the fight with the Arabs." The demonstration was orderly throughout and at 4 P. M. Jewish merchants closed their stores.

AGREE ON MRS. PRATT TO SUCCEED MRS. SABIN

Republican Leaders Accept Her as Harmony Candidate for National Committee.

Representative Ruth B. Pratt will be selected as Republican National Committeewoman by the State Committee when it meets on Sept. 6, it was reported yesterday. The committee will assemble that day to choose a successor to Mrs. Charles H. Sabin, who resigned last Spring.

Mrs. Pratt, it was said, was virtually assured of the selection, as practically every important leader of the party in the State had accepted her as a "harmony" candidate.

Mrs. Miriam A. Schindler, Republican vice chairman of the Albany County Committee; Miss Florence Wardwell of Otsego and Mrs. Arthur L. Livermore of Westchester are among those who have been most prominently mentioned in the past for the place.

Mrs. Livermore, it was understood, failed to win support when it became known that her aspirations did not have the backing of William L. Ward, Republican leader of her own county. This left the choice between Mrs. Schindler, who conducted an active campaign, and Miss Wardwell, who was favored by many.

It was at this juncture, according to information obtained yesterday, that the leaders decided to call on Mrs. Pratt to prevent intra-party strife. Ogden Mills, Under Secretary of the Treasury, has been instrumental in the prospective selection of Mrs. Pratt, it was asserted.

GOOD-WILL BODY ACTS.

Committee of Church Council to Send Sympathy to Palestine.

A formal proclamation of sympathy for the Jews in the Palestine uprising will be issued today by the committee on good-will between Jews and Christians of the Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America. Its officers were engaged yesterday in drawing it up and getting signatures.

The proclamation will be signed by Bishop Francis J. McConnell of the New York Methodist Area, who is president of the council; the Rev. Dr. Charles S. Macfarland, general secretary; the Rev. Dr. S. Parkes Cadman, former president, and the Rev. Everett R. Clinchy, chairman of the committee.

HAS DOUBT ON LAND POLICY

Dean Graves of Yale School Says Federal Control Is Advisable.

Special to The New York Times.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Aug. 28.—Qualified opposition to the new public land domain policy of President Hoover was declared today by Dean Henry S. Graves of the Yale School of Forestry, who headed the conservation movement in the United States as National Forester under Presidents Taft and Wilson, succeeding Gifford Pinchot. While much of the land domain might well become privately owned, national instead of State ownership and direction seemed wise, Dean Graves said.

"Generally speaking, I cannot concur in a policy that will transfer en block the bulk of the public domain to the States, because I do not believe that the far-reaching and complicated economic and industrial questions concerned will be solved by such action," Dr. Graves asserted.

"In my opinion, extensive areas of the public domain must remain in Federal ownership and be handled as grazing reservations. They have not been taken up by private individuals partly because the present laws do not permit their acquisition in large enough units and partly because they are not of such character that they may be held profitably by private ownership.

"Certainly, the Federal Government should not surrender its control over land now owned by the nation which may vitally affect national interest.

"I hope that the proposed commission will give consideration to these features and to want other factors that bear on this complex problem."

JUDGE BACKS MOSAIC LAW.

Grants Divorce to Chicago Man Barred From Worship.

CHICAGO, Aug. 28 (AP.).—From the Book of Leviticus, xxi, 14, Judge Joseph B. David yesterday took authority to annual the marriage of Louis Leon, 61 years old.

It was not until after his marriage to Mrs. Rose Davis, 50, last February, he said, that he learned that she had been twice married before, her first husband dying, her second having been divorced. Thus, he told Judge David, he had twice violated the Mosaic law, "A widow, or a divorced woman . . . these shall he not take."

Judge David delayed decision until he had time to consult several prominent rabbis. They agreed that Leon had forfeited his rights of worship.

"I will not bring shame on the Tribe of Aaron," Judge David said. "Though under the laws of this State you have almost no claims, I will sign the order."

STEPS FROM AIRSHIP ON TO FLYING PLANE

By LAUREN D. LYMAN.

tried to hook his "shepherd's crook," a steel contrivance built up about two feet from his upper wing, to a lattice-work metal trapeze that hung down seventeen feet from the bottom of the airship's hull, amidship.

Gorton had to be accurate. On both sides of him hung the bulky gondolas housing two of the ship's Maybach engines. Three times he made the contact, but before the hook caught firmly it slipped off and the flier swung out into the air in a diving turn.

On the fourth contact the hook gripped tightly. Gorton cut his motor to idling speed and the plane swung down out of the flying position. Inside the airship bluejackets, by means of apparatus that is still a navy secret, pulled the plane snugly against the hull.

Boards Plane in 45-Knot Gale.

Then Commander H. V. Wiley, at the helm of the Los Angeles, swung his majestic vessel about and the whole fleet swung with him. Together, flying at about thirty-five knots, they proceeded across the stands in front of a mile of cheering people. The watchers saw the little plane let go and come away and the cheering redoubled.

A few minutes later it landed and Gorton climbed out. With him was Lieutenant C. M. Bolster of the Los Angeles, to whom the honor goes of being the first man ever to change from airship to plane in the air.

"It was simple enough," Lieutenant Bolster said. "We would have done it before except that hitherto we haven't been able to pull the plane up close. Today I merely climbed through the hatch to the top wing, which was only three or four feet below the airship, and that is about all there is to it."

Lieutenant Bolster failed to add that he was battling a forty-five knot wind as he clung to the hook on the wing of the swinging plane. He had no parachute and evidently did not think the need for one would arise. From the wing he slipped into the forward cockpit. Gorton tuned up his motor and the trapeze was lowered again. Then Gorton slipped his hook, dove and swung away from the airship.

Akron Crew Lands Dirigible.

The crowd had been told by broadcast and news dispatch that the Graf Zeppelin would fly over the airport this afternoon. When the Los Angeles sailed above Cleveland late in the day the thousands who had not decided to attend the races put aside whatever they were doing and started for the airport, clogging the roads for miles with traffic.

A goodly portion arrived in time to see the Los Angeles and the plane make the contact, and they remained to watch the airship land with the aid of an amateur landing crew. The crew that was expected here from Lakehurst had to stay in New Jersey to await the Graf. An experienced group of twenty-five came from the Goodyear Zeppelin plant at Akron, headed by Lieut. Commander Zeno Wicks, resigned from the navy at Lakehurst less than two weeks ago to become chief erector at Akron.

For the last two days, with his group of twenty-five to help him, Lieut. Commander Wicks has been busy drilling 150 college boys, who have been acting as ushers at the races, in the business of landing an airship. They carried on like veterans.

Commander Wiley nosed down, with the Los Angeles headed into the wind, and as the long landing lines shot out they were caught expertly. Spiders were attached, and in ten minutes the airship was trussed down and being walked toward her mooring mast. An hour after she crossed the field the dirigible was fastened to the mast.

Besides the crew of forty-five the Los Angeles brought several passengers to the air races, among them Senator Hiram Bingham, who is president of the National Aeronautical Association, under whose sponsorship the Cleveland races are being held.

Mendell and Williams Lead Derbies.

The results of the two derbies finishing today were not posted tonight. Unofficially it was reported that Loren W. Mendell of Los Angeles, flying a Buhl Air Shedwan, won the Oakland-to-Cleveland race. Second place in this event went to Joseph Barrows, flying a Fairchild cabin monoplane, and Captain J. D. Donaldson of the Newark air service, in a Travelair, took third.

The Philadelphia-to-Cleveland derby, in which E. J. Devereaux was killed at Boston yesterday, finished its last leg, the fliers coming from Syracuse this afternoon. Errett Williams of Colorado Springs, flying an Alexander Bullet with a five-cylinder Whirlwind engine, won the event. J. Wesley Smith, in a Whirlwind Bellanca, took second place, and third place went to Ike Hewitt in a Monosport cabin plane.

Times were not announced and the winners were announced unofficially.

The fifty-mile race over a triangular course for ox planes was won by Douglas Davis of Atlanta. Ed Winkle of Brooklyn took second place with his bird plane and made a very pretty race of it. His speed was 100.7 miles an hour. R. H. Spencer of New York followed the two leaders across the line for third place, maintaining an average of 98.22 miles an hour.

Like the women's closed course race yesterday this event was flown under difficulties. In the air at the time were the army bombers, and the pursuit planes were tuning up on the ground. The racers flew for at least a mile before turning the home pylon in a dust screen so thick as to hide them completely from the spectators. They flew practically blind for the last mile to the pylon.

Lindbergh Again Skylarks.

Colonel Lindbergh again skylarked for twenty minutes with Givette and O'Beirne. Their formations were even tighter and more intricate than they were yesterday. They finished with a three-way diving attack on the circle in the centre of the field.

The second squadron of nine planes of the navy "high hats" put on a unique demonstration. They went aloft in groups of threes with wing-tip tied to wing-tip with beribboned manila lines about twenty feet in length. These lines were fastened loosely, so that on the slightest tension they would part. One line did part as the nine planes took off, but the others held for some time while the fighters swung about first in a V and then in échelon flights. They drove, zoomed and made sharp right and left climbing turns, the bright bits of ribbon streaming out in graceful loops as wing-tip all but touched wing-tip. When the squadron landed the centre trio still had their lines fast, while a pair each of the outside trio still were fastened together. It was a great demonstration of precision flying.

RED URGED AS CHIEF OF CHINESE RAILWAY

Berlin Negotiators Recommend Kazan's Manager as Peace Step, Mukden Hears.

EMBASSIES IN REICH DENY IT

Nanking Foreign Minister Asserts China Never Really Seized Road in Manchuria.

MUKDEN, Manchuria, Aug. 28 (AP).—Reports reached Mukden from Harbin today stating that unofficial Chinese-Russian negotiators in Berlin had decided to recommend M. Zharkoff, former head of the Kazan Railway, as general manager of the Chinese Eastern Railway.

It was understood that one result would be the opening of formal negotiations for solution of the Russo-Chinese dispute over the Chinese Eastern.

[The possibility of new negotiations between Russia and China was advanced in Shanghai Tuesday with the publication of dispatches saying that unofficial conversations were in progress in Berlin. The Soviet was said to be willing to open formal negotiations if the Chinese Government would be agreeable to Moscow's appointment of a new Soviet manager for the Chinese Eastern.]

Embassies Deny Reports.

BERLIN, Aug. 28 (AP).—Both the Soviet Embassy and Chinese Legation today denied that any conversations whatever with reference to settlement of the Chinese Eastern Railway and Manchurian disputes were taking place here. It was said no official or unofficial contact between the two missions had been established.

Chinese Depredations Reported.

MOSCOW (Thursday), Aug. 29 (AP).—Reports received early this morning from Blagoveschensk on the Northern Manchurian border charged the Chinese with three separate border violations.

Soviet border posts ten miles from the station of Manchuria on the western frontier of the Chinese district of that name were said to have been fired upon by artillery from the Chinese side.

The captain of the steamer Karl Liebknecht and several passengers were wounded when the vessel was fired on when about fifteen miles from Blagoveschensk.

The Chinese were also alleged to have fired on a Soviet cutter in the Ussuri River near Iman.

Reports from Harbin, Manchuria, yesterday stated that the bodies of six beheaded persons have been found in the Sungari River.

Some of them, it is stated, were Soviet citizens.

The Moscow Foreign Office has requested the German Embassy to ask its consular officials in Harbin to investigate the affair.

Chinese Firm, Says Wang.

Any doubt that the Nanking Government is weakening in its position in the controversy with Russia over the Chinese Eastern Railway was dispelled yesterday by Dr. C. T. Wang, the Foreign Minister, according to a dispatch from Shanghai to the official Kuo Min News Agency.

Dr. Wang is quoted as saying that the restoration of the status quo, which the Soviet Government was reported still to demand, would "unfailingly result in even more intensive communistic propaganda and activities than hitherto had been conducted by Soviet agents."

This would endanger China and the world, the Foreign Minister declared. He emphasized the Chinese contention that Russia had violated the agreement of 1924, in which both countries engaged to refrain from propaganda against the social or political system of the other nation. That the Soviet Government had repeatedly violated this provision of the agreement was reiterated by Dr. Wang, who recalled that the Government of Manchuria had frequently drawn attention to the alleged habit of the Russian general manager of the Chinese Eastern Railway of diverting railway funds for Communist propaganda throughout China.

In view of the subversive activities which, according to the Chinese Foreign Minister, the Soviet agents were conspiring to launch in various parts of China, he said, the National Government feared a repetition on a larger scale of the Communist riot of December, 1927, in Canton, and therefore felt compelled to adopt defensive and precautionary measures.

Discharges Declared Necessary.

These measures included the discharge and arrest of certain Russian officials of the Chinese Eastern Railway, he said, but it was incorrect to assume, on the basis of this action, that China had seized that road.

China's attitude in the present apparent impasse continues "firm but conciliatory," he continued, and in this Mukden and Nanking are in "full harmony. The Central Government is according full financial support to the Eastern Provinces [Manchuria]."

Regarding the reports of border clashes, Dr. Wang asserted that no Chinese troops had stepped on Soviet soil. While it was admitted that National Government troops under General Ho Chen-chun were reinforcing the forces of Chang Hsueh-liang, the Governor of Manchuria, the Foreign Minister insisted that the Chinese policy was non-aggressive, as instanced by a recent clash which, he said, a detachment of Russian soldiers precipitated when they advanced within twenty feet of a Chinese fortress. The Chinese did nothing until they were fired upon by the Soviet troops, who were in Chinese territory, according to Dr. Wang.

Dr. Wang concluded by saying that "Soviet propaganda is blinding only the Russian people, for the world appreciates the actual facts of the true situation."

Peasant Fires at Premier When Cart Is Upset; Bulgarian Official Frees Him, Taking Blame

Wireless to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

SOFIA, Aug. 28.—An unpleasant experience of Premier Liaptcheff yesterday enabled him to play the rôle of the Caliph Haroun al Raschid toward a peasant who had fired a half dozen revolver shots at him.

Returning by automobile at high speed from a visit to the royal Summer residence at Eudoxia, his car collided just outside of Varna with a cart of a wealthy peasant from Sora. The horses began to bolt and were with difficulty controlled by the peasant, who, ignorant of the identity of the occupant of the automobile, proceeded to revile the Premier with all the wealth of invective of the Orient. Having gone back many generations in denunciation of the Premier's ancestors of both sexes, the infuriated man drew the inevitable Balkan revolver and gave point to his curses by a stream of bullets, which smashed the windshield and punctured the back of the car, but fortunately missed the Premier.

The chauffeur sprang at the peasant and disarmed him, shouting, "Miserable dog! You will hang for this! You have fired on the Premier of Bulgaria."

No sooner had the peasant comprehended than he whipped up his horses and disappeared across the country.

He was quickly pursued and arrested by the police. Premier Liaptcheff, however, telephoned from Sofia the same evening and ordered his release.

"I can understand the man's anger," he said. "It was largely my fault for allowing the chauffeur to drive at such a pace. I refuse to prosecute."

DE PINEDO RESIGNS AS ITALIAN AIR CHIEF

ROME, Aug. 28 (AP).—Colonel Francisco de Pinedo, famous Italian aviator, has resigned his post as chief of the General Staff for Aviation. It became known today that his resignation had been accepted and General Valle named to succeed him.

Colonel Francisco de Pinedo soared to the front rank among the world's great aviators two years ago, when he made his round-the-world flight in his big flying boat, the Santa Maria, and its successor, the Santa Maria II. Colonel de Pinedo was received with enthusiasm in New York on April 25, 1927, and black-shirted Fascisti had a prominent part in the welcome to him.

The ship in which he crossed the Atlantic and in which he flew over difficult South American country was destroyed by fire on the lake at Roosevelt Dam, Ariz., on April 6, 1927, due to a carelessly thrown cigarette. A new ship, the Santa Maria II, was sent from Italy and assembled on Staten Island. On Colonel de Pinedo's return flight across the Atlantic he was forced down near the Azores and rescued by a steamship.

Colonel de Pinedo returned to Italy a national hero. He was appointed head of the Italian air staff in October, 1928, succeeding General Armando Armani, who had been injured in an aviation accident.

WIN GRAPE JUICE SUIT.

New Haven Club Members Get Back 700 Gallons of Wine.

Special to The New York Times.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Aug. 28.—The Honest Brothers' Club of Lafayette Street today defeated city officials and outflanked the Volstead act when its officers were discharged in the city court and 700 gallons of wine were returned to the clubhouse after the members had admitted they possessed it and drank freely of it.

The club admitted having a large amount of wine in its cellars, but contended that the members' dues went for the purchase of grapes and that the grape juice was put in the cellar. Members drank what they wished of the juice at various stages of fermentation, but insisted that no wine, or even grape juice, was sold over the counter.

CROATIAN LEADERS FLEE INTO AUSTRIA

Dr. Trumbitch and Three Others Reach Vienna on Way to Lay Case Before League.

TO PROTEST DICTATORSHIP

Group Evaded Close Police Surveillance—Will Proceed Later to London.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

VIENNA, Aug. 28.—A sensational flight from Yugoslavia was made by Dr. Anton Trumbitch, called "the father of Croatian freedom," across the frontiers to Vienna. Dr. Trumbitch is going with three other leading Croats to Geneva to lay a protest before the League of Nations, on the part of the Croats, against the treatment being accorded them under the dictatorship.

Dr. Trumbitch was the best known Yugoslav in allied circles during the war, as he was the leading Croat on the Yugoslav committee at Paris which worked for the freedom of Croatia from Hungarian rule. At Corfu he signed during the war with the Serbian Premier Nicola Pachitch, the pact whereby the two peoples agreed to unite under the Karageorg dynasty.

After the war Dr. Trumbitch became the first Yugoslav Foreign Minister, but he soon found the union working in quite a different way than he had expected. With Stephen Raditch he joined in the triumvirate of Croat leaders which led the Croats in their opposition to the Serbian hegemony and demanded Croatian political economic autonomy within the Yugoslav State.

Under the dictatorship Dr. Trumbitch has been under such close police surveillance that the police even accompanied him in his own car to the theatre. He was recently refused a passport to go abroad. Nevertheless, he succeeded in evading the Serbian frontier guards.

With Dr. Trumbitch is Dr. Kosutitch, also a former Minister and a son-in-law of Stephen Raditch, who was shot at Skupshtina; Dr. Kanjevitch, general secretary of the Croat Peasant party, and Dr. Ghilar, editor of Dr. Trumbitch's newspaper, Hrvat, who until recently was imprisoned for a month, when the newspaper ceased publication.

It is unlikely that the refugees will be allowed to remain more than a night in Vienna, as the Yugoslave maintain their legation here and a department of secret police which will insist that the Vienna police move them on.

From Geneva they intend to go to London to lay Croatia's case against the dictatorship before the Labor Government.

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil, Aug. 28 (AP).—The second Pan-American Highway Congress closed this afternoon with an announcement by Victor Condor, Minister of Communications, that the third congress would be held in Santiago, Chile, in 1932.

The delegates were the guests tonight of the Minister at a banquet and tomorrow will dedicate a "good roads" monument on the São Paulo highway seventy miles from here.

Most of the United States delegates are going to Uruguay for a four-day visit and then to Argentina and Chile, but Senator Tasker L. Oddie of Nevada sailed today on the steamship Western World for New York in order to attend the tariff hearings of Congress.

New Zealand Backs Australia.

NEW WELLINGTON, New Zealand, Aug. 28 (Canadian Press).—The firm stand of Australia against any abolition of the right of the dominions to appeal to the Imperial Privy Council in important judicial cases was supported by New Zealand today. Prime Minister Sir Joseph Ward said the New Zealand Government did not intend to alter the present position, speaking in Parliament in answer to a question regarding the reported intention of the British Parliament to offer to the dominions the option of abandoning the right of appeal.

CANADIAN SHIP IN COLLISION

Canadian Mariner Hits Unknown Ship in Fog Off England.

LONDON, Aug. 28 (AP).—The Canadian National Steamship Company's Canadian Mariner, bound from Montreal to London, collided with an unknown ship off Beachy Head, England, at 8 A. M. today in a dense fog. No injuries were reported.

The Coast Guard service picked up her wireless distress signal and the Eastbourne lifeboat went to the rescue. The lifeboat found the Canadian Mariner with a hole in No. 3 hold and taking water, but able to cope with the inflow by using all her pumps.

The lifeboat searched the spot for the unknown ship with which the Canadian vessel had collided, but could find no trace of it. It was believed she was undamaged and had continued on her voyage immediately after the collision.

FRENCH PRESS LEANS TO THE HAGUE PACT

EVENTS FAVOR PREMIER

Le Temps Holds Agreement Ends Bitterness and Asserts Locarno Spirit Has Prevailed.

By CARLISLE MacDONALD.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

PARIS, Aug. 28.—Confusion caused by the sudden, almost breath-taking solution at The Hague after the public had become more or less reconciled to impending failure has not subsided sufficiently to permit of anything but superficial comment, but in well-informed quarters there is an impression that the reparations negotiations have been saved at the expense of France politically and Germany financially.

If Germany was induced to supply the monetary deficit which blocked the way to Philip Snowden's final consent, she only agreed after France had given ground on the question of evacuation of the Rhineland. Although dispatches from The Hague mentioned the end of next June as the limit fixed for departure of the last soldier from occupied areas, reports now current in political quarters are that the soldiers will be gone some months before that date.

Militarists Decry the Plan.

Naturally enough, evacuation of the third zone five years before the time fixed in the Treaty of Versailles has aroused the military group and parties of the Right and Centre, from which the militarists receive their support. To them and their spokesmen Premier Briand will be forced to address his most winning arguments, but supporters of the great statesman express complete confidence in his ability to convince the nation as a whole of the advantages of The Hague agreement.

It is a subject of active speculation in political clubs that two important members of M. Briand's Cabinet are entirely out of sympathy with the eleventh-hour settlement and would be strongly inclined to make an issue out of it but for a fortunate combination of circumstances in which the Premier finds himself. According to present arrangements, M. Briand will not reach the capital until tomorrow evening or Friday morning. Forty-eight hours later he must leave for Geneva to be present at the opening session of the League of Nations Assmbly. Thus there remains no time for the calling of a Cabinet Council at which a crisis, if any, would normally develop.

Sources close to the government deny the existence of any real sentiment of this charactr and emphasize that succeeding events will prove that the Premier has served the interests of his country well.

"The miracle of The Hague," as many editorial writers refer to last night's events, has by a single stroke removed most of the intense bitterness from the daily press. A feeling of strain between London and Paris no doubt exists, and Mr. Snowden is criticized for not having shown two weeks ago the good-will which he displayed last night. But in the words of the semi-official Le Temps, the thing that really matters now is the agreement, and that has been reached.

Holds Accord Ends Bitterness.

"The accord is big enough to erase the littleness of the struggle which almost produced a terrible catastrophe," says Le Temps. "The resolution proposed by Mr. Snowden to the financial commission would have sounded the death-knell of the Young plan, which constitutes the only honest basis for a general settlement of the reparation issue.

"Despite all the manoeuvres and all the campaigns launched against it, the Young plan emerged whole and safe. Nothing has been changed. The plan remains as the experts established it. The satisfaction which was accorded to Britain was accomplished within the framework of the plan. The Young plan, adopted by all the interested powers, now becomes a living thing, and it is in this achievement that The Hague finally finds its real significance. There exists no victory other than that achieved by the Young plan."

Le Temps says that in the final analysis Mr. Snowden contributed a 25 per cent concession and the other powers the remaining 75 to the ultimate solution, while grave difficulties which collapse of the conference would have inevitably brought about had induced the Chancellor to recede, however slightly, from his intransigent stand.

Sees Locarno Spirit Preserved.

The newspaper then proceeds to sum up the meaning of The Hague accord:

"What was accomplished last night amounts in reality to preservation of the whole policy created at Locarno and Geneva during the last four years. We can now proceed with that for which France has never ceased to strive, namely, liquidation of the war and evacuation of the Rhineland.

"It can also be said that our cause, which is associated in this case with the cause of peace and order in Europe, has in view international circumstances which have been defended at The Hague in more serious fashion than at any time since the war."

Other well-known commentators, such as Leon Bailby, in L'Intransigeant, and Jacque Bainville, in La Liberté, decry calling The Hague accord a "Snowden victory," pointing out the danger of attributing victory to anything but the cause of European peace and conciliation.

Says Accord Is All That Matters.

"That the British press should speak this way is not surprising, but all that really matters is that accord has been reached and that France, with the support of three other powers, was able to maintain solidarity of sentiment and interests," remarks M. Bailby.

Tonight's Journal des Débats, with that lighter touch indicative of the relief which now exists here, describes last night's developments thus:

"The soup, on the point of being spilled, was replaced on the fire. The cooks fenced for seven hours over the pot, and on the stroke of 2 o'clock, after having mixed up all the ingredients, they finally served the contents with a taste which is rather difficult to judge at this moment. It is good cooking, even though it is diplomatic cooking, usually done under other conditions.

"Shall we be pleased with this soup, which has been served to us cold? It is doubtful if it will delight us, but the question is whether it is better to have this soup or no soup at all."

All-Day Blaze in Cellar of Paris Food Market Fells Six Firemen as Tons of Produce Burn

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

PARIS, Aug. 28.—American revellers from Montmartre who went to the central markets for their traditional plates of onion soup at sunrise today, joined with a large crowd of hucksters, market venders and truckmen in witnessing the beginning of a blaze which late tonight still kept the subterranean passages under one of the main market pavilions a furious brazier, emitting columns of smoke and noxious gases.

Fourteen fire companies fought the smoldering blaze all day. Six firemen were seriously gassed and taken to a hospital. The damage cannot yet be evaluated, but it includes 200,000 large crates of fruits and vegetables. It is feared that the building itself will collapse when its iron frame may snap through cooling.

The fire started among hundreds of crates and cases of fruits and vegetables brought to Paris as part of the day's food supply. The cellars became a veritable inferno, the heat being estimated by the Paris fire chief at more than 1,000 degrees, Centigrade. So intense was the heat that steel curtains of buildings above the street level became red hot.

It is feared that there may be a number of victims, since many poor and homeless persons who frequent the markets, obtaining work loading and unloading the wagons, are allowed to sleep on the premises. But as there is no official check on these lodgers, it may never be known whether any perished, for firemen doubt that anything recognizable will be found once the fire has burnt itself out.

Market distribution had to be carried on in side streets in Paris today and in the Place Du Chatelet, with what produce could be rescued from the blaze; but the authorities have organized temporary quarters in another section for the markets.

GERMANS DEADLOCK THE HAGUE PARLEY

as something was demanded of them, they would demand something in return. It was the first time since the conference began that the Germans had a good position and they stood on it. The main thing Dr. Stresemann asked was that Germany not pay the cost of the armies of occupation after Sept. 1.

While it is generally agreed that evacuation will be completed six months after the Young plan is in effect, the German Foreign Minister pointed out that the Young plan made no definite provision for the payment of the cost of the occupation after Sept. 1, but counseled the governments to reach an agreement. The agreement Dr. Stresemann wanted was that some one else pay the costs of the occupation after the first of next month.

This brought a speech from Premier Briand of France, who said that France had not bargained for picayune advantages in this conference; that he had, against the counsel of many of his advisers, remained here to save the conference from wreck, and that France and Italy, in their desire for consolidation and peace, had met demands the justice of which had not impressed themselves upon him. He rebuked Herr Stresemann for seeking what he called a bargain at this stage.

To the surprise of every one, Mr. Snowden attacked Herr Stresemann for his demand, saying that Herr Stresemann had pleaded with the English to accept the Young plan, and that Britain had now done so only to find the Germans did not accept it. Then ensued a bitter dialogue between the German and English chiefs, in which Herr Stresemann said that after a long life in politics he still found something to learn in the novel methods of Mr. Snowden.

Snowden Makes Distinction.

Mr. Snowden retorted that when it came to political manoeuvring he declined the honor of giving lessons to one whom he regarded as a past master. Herr Stresemann then scored heavily by quoting from campaign speeches by Mr. Snowden in favor of Germany's position as to occupation, to which Mr. Snowden answered that Herr Stresemann ought to know that speeches made when one is not in power and speeches made when one is in power often differed.

"I am now in power," added Mr. Snowden.

The debate went on until 8 o'clock, when the meeting adjourned to resume at 11, after M. Briand had announced that his train was waiting and that he was ready to go.

It is believed a settlement will be reached with the Germans, since the amount involved if evacuation were completed in six months would be only about 50,000,000 marks (about $12,000,000). But Herr Stresemann is playing for home opinion, and certainly no one should refuse him that right. It is possible, therefore, that he will drag out the argument through today.

Bitterness Marks Parley.

In any event there can be little doubt that the sooner this conference is suspended the better it will be for every one. Even after Tuesday night's settlement there was no spirit of peace here. It seems none of the other delegations is satisfied with the bargain. There is no good-will about it. Some say that Mr. Snowden got blood money. That is strong. Others say that France, Italy and Belgium made a sacrifice for the sake of the peace of the world, and then they add that it was menaced by the English.

Their knowledge that the English will ask other things later on only serves to increase their bad tempers. For the conference to usher in permanent peace for Europe this party started wrong, continued wrong, and since it must end wrong it ought to end quickly.

The soothing spirit of the League of Nations may soften their spirits before the conference resumes in three or four weeks. And awaiting the end of the comedy one wonders whether any delegate will say in public what they all have been saying in private—namely, that if America had been good enough to cancel the debts all this three weeks of agony would have been spared the rest of the world, which presumably would have been hoisted to a higher plane by such a spirit of sacrifice on the part of the United States.

Anyhow Americans here are not allowed to forget that it is all for the purpose of arranging to pay Uncle Sam for a half century or so.

Proceedings To Be Broadcast.

THE HAGUE, Aug. 28 (AP).—A full public session of the Reparations Conference, which will be broadcast by wireless, has been arranged for tomorrow in the belief that a settlement is at hand on both financial and political aspects of the Young plan. The proceedings will be broadcast at 2:30 P. M.

The present idea of the chief delegates is to leave any unsettled questions, such as the organization of the bank for international settlements, in the hands of experts who will report either to the governments or to a reconvened conference in September or October.

Philip Snowden, British Chancellor of the Exchequer, is making a strong effort to have the Bank of International Settlements located in London.

He posed his question in the famous midnight session of the conference, but they refused to discuss the question in connection with the financial features of the plan. Mr. Snowden declared he should have that concession for consenting to the reduction of his claim. Aristide Briand, French Premier, declared that there was no question of compensation involved, and that the British sacrifice was nowhere nearly as great as that France had made and that the controversy must be settled purely on its merits.

The line-up of the powers on location of the proposed international bank is expected to be about the same as on distribution of the reparations payments. However, Mr. Snowden is said to have the backing of some of the smaller nations, who have shown an inclination to seek British support on some other matters.

Germany, Belgium and France want the bank in a neutral country. Italy's position is doubtful. Japan at the last moment seemed to have turned against Great Britain.

Premier Briand and Arthur Henderson, Foreign Minister of Great Britain, plan to leave here tomorrow evening. Mr. Snowden will leave for London on Saturday.

NEW HITCH AT HAGUE HITS LONDON'S JOY

GREAT RECEPTION PLANNED

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

LONDON, Thursday, Aug. 29.—News of the new hitch at The Hague came as a complete surprise here. All of the delegates, it is reported here, were very tired after their long after-dinner sitting and none looked too cheerful. The whole discussion, it is understood, centred around the question of the costs of occupation of the Rhineland after Sept. 1, and an agreement is not to be expected until Foreign Minister Briand of France gives a definite and satisfactory date for the evacuation by French troops of the third zone of occupation.

The ministers representing the occupying power and Germany will meet again this morning.

In the view of The London Times correspondent there is no reason thus far to assume that tonight's developments "are not normal developments to be expected in the circumstances" and say it is by no means to be taken for granted that an agreement cannot yet be reached. Arthur Henderson, the British Foreign Secretary, has postponed his departure for Geneva. He had hoped to leave for Geneva at 5 o'clock tonight.

Placards Cover Metropolis.

The British metropolis was placarded all of yesterday with newsbills proclaiming "Snowden Wins," "Snowden Victory," "Snowden's Triumph," as representing the three main divisions of political opinion here and last night London was prepared to give her chief delegate at The Hague conference, when he returns home tomorrow, a welcome on a "grander scale than Great Britain has accorded any statesman since Benjamin Disraeli brought back 'peace with honor' from the famous Berlin conference."

At The Hague yesterday Mr. Snowden remarked: "I have heard about that and do not much like it. I told my wife I would detrain at some wayside station."

The result of Mr. Snowden's visit to The Hague cannot be measured here in terms of the £2,000,000 he says Great Britain will now receive out of the £2,400,000 pounds a year he estimated it would lose under the proposals of the Young Plan, but in its moral effect. His incursion into Continental diplomacy can best be likened in the British mind to one of those sudden trench raids by a handful of men solely designed to increase morale of British troops and "put the wind up among the enemy."

The shock which undoubtedly has been administered to the Continental diplomats is not likely to be felt long, but the most cursory glance over last night's editorials in all sections of the British press reveals a distinct heartening in the British outlook toward reparations and international affairs.

"Mr. Snowden returns," said the Conservative Evening Standard, "not only having gained the material fruits of victory, but he has restored his country to its proper position in Europe."

England's Position Called Stake.

"What was at stake," said the Liberal Star, "was England's position and influence in Europe, and, thanks to Mr. Snowden's determined stand, that position and influence are now made clear beyond all question."

For the first time since the Marquis of Curzon left office, it is pointed out, a British Minister "has said no in the face of Europe, has meant it, has stuck to it and has won."

It is frankly admitted that if the conference had failed the road leading to peace in Europe and those projects of still wider import for world peace which lie beyond would have been made immeasurably harder. However, when Premier MacDonald dispatched from Lossiemouth the telegram in support of Mr. Snowden, which Mr. MacDonald declares was so spontaneous that he never even kept a copy, it was realized that a stand had been taken by the government from which there was no possible chance of retreat. It was then felt that Mr. Snowden had convinced Mr. MacDonald that he had a good chance of winning, and although he came perilously near to defeat, as The Star said, "It was the others, not he, who cried, 'don't shoot, Colonel, we're coming down.'"

Another point made with some emphasis last night is that Mr. Snowden has shown it possible to "unite the whole country in behalf of a worthy cause," and interviews certainly support this contention.

Tory Ex-Minister Applauds.

Lord Brentford (Sir William Joynson-Hicks), the Home Secretary in the recent Conservative Administration, for instance, says:

"I heartily congratulate Mr. Snowden on the result of his firm stand," and as regards the mine owners, who have the reputation of being one of the mainstays of rabid Toryism in this country, their spokesman says:

"Mr. Snowden has secured a distinct advance in the arrangement which means the employment of another 4,000 miners yearly."

The London Times said today that it is a matter of "undisputed experience" that no Conservative Government could have done the things that Labor is doing these days, that is, rushing troops and warships to Palestine and risking economic disorganization in Europe, except in the teeth of a violent and perhaps effective opposition.

"That is one reason why it happens, in the paradoxical chances of our party system, that Conservatism often is less fruitful in foreign policy than in domestic reform."

In praising the assistance from Germany, "whose helpful attitude, it is hoped, will be maintained to the final stage," the Laborite Daily Herald says:

"We are astonished that Italy and France should so persistently have fought against readjustment of the annuities and that it has taken three weeks of plain talking and sincere courage to induce them to withdraw from their most impossible attitudes. Continental criticism has been, not only unfair, but based upon misunderstanding and misinterpretation of the issues at stake and of the attitude of the British Government and of its delegates."

Other Conservative newspapers, while unstinted in their praises of Mr. Snowden's achievement, also congratulate the four powers and Germany for the common sense with which they finally agreed to the British demands. The Daily Mail applauds the statesmen of the other nations for facing the realities of the situation.

"There is no reason to suppose that they think any the worse of this country because they have been brought to recognize that we stand firmly by our rights," says Lord Rothermere's most powerful newspaper.

The Tory Morning Post, usually the bitterest critic of everything socialistic, pays ungrudging tribute to Mr. Snowden, but goes on to praise "a certain reasonableness shown by Germany" and the tenacity with which the Allies struggled for their interests.

"That was no crime on their part," says The Morning Post. "It was rather an aspect of that patriotism with which Mr. Snowden has so much surprised his friends and fascinated his critics. The final solution was a notable service to the cause of peace and a surrender of their attitude, which entitles them to an increased measure of our confidence and respect."

Throughout the press comment there is an undercurrent of hope that bygones will be bygones and that ruffled tempers at The Hague will speedily give way to friendliness on all sides.

ROMAN PAPER HOLDS SNOWDEN'S FORCE WON

ROME, Aug. 28 (AP).—Giornale d'Italia, commenting today on the creditor agreement on reparations reached at The Hague, declares that Philip Snowden, British Chancellor of the Exchequer, has demonstrated once again "that the policy of a fist banged on the table is always that which guarantees the biggest successes."

The newspaper wonders what the effect on Franco-British relations will be and declares that the whole European system is in the way of changing with England's apparent support of Germany against France. It finds, however, that the conference has created a particularly close accord between Italy and France and with other Continental allies.

In conclusion it warned that there were still several fundamental problems to be resolved and cleared up in Franco-Italian relations. These problems, it said, are of spiritual rather than of technical nature, and there must not be undue optimism.

HAGUE ACCORD HIT IN GERMAN PRESS

Nationalists See Reparations Agreement Saddled on the Country.

CONCESSIONS ARE URGED

All Factions, However, Seem Agreed That Allies' Demands Must Be Accepted Finally.

By WYTHE WILLIAMS.
Wireless to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

BERLIN, Aug. 28.—While German officialdom yesterday was pessimistically resigned to the situation at The Hague, feeling that the then imminent rupture could only result in more harm than good, overnight developments had the natural effect of stimulating all local factions into fresh outbreaks in every direction. The only point upon which at present all here seem to be agreed is that the German delegation must consent to the Allies' demands.

Nationalist papers, foaming with resentment, declare the "agreement has been made upon Germany's back" and call it "an agreement of tribute by the powers which Germany is not privileged even to discuss." Democratic papers demand that the German delegation consent to further sacrifices only if German demands for speedy evacuation of the Rhineland, no control committee, a preliminary agreement concerning the Saare and an agreement with England regarding sequestrated property are satisfied.

The Democratic press asserts that the situation again is the same as at previous conferences.

Sees Burden Again on Germany.

"After the Allies have reached an agreement among themselves, they are pressed for time and demand that Germany hurry. Thus they place on Germany the burden of responsibility for failure," the Tageblatt declares, adding that inasmuch as England is profiting from German sacrifices Germany is justified in demanding a return of the great sums which England still holds in liquidation in sequestrated German property.

"Nobody at The Hague seemed ashamed to make this a conference of horse dealers," the Tageblatt says. "We at the last moment should not be too noble to barter and exchange. Agreement has been reached behind our back. This cannot be denied, and so far as the financial part of the conference is concerned, Germany has gained no victory.

"We now are in a cul-de-sac, but if Germany by sacrifices enables agreement among the Allies she has further increased her moral right to fair treatment on her political demands. Not only that. Germany holds—and her creditors should not forget it—the key to final success or failure of this conference.

"She holds the means of compensation which she must sell at as high a price as possible. What is also at stake is the Saar Valley, and a date must be fixed for a Franco-German conference in this matter."

Holds Young Plan Changed.

Germania takes a sharper note, saying:

"What is now demanded of Germany? To put it clearly, a change of the Young plan to our disadvantage because the amount of the annuities unprotected by the transfer clause will be raised from 650,000,000 to 700,000,000 annually. That this surplus amount will be evened out after thirty or forty years is immaterial in view of the fact that Germany's financial situation is difficult.

It would be extremely hard to meet a financial crisis—in spite of Hilferding's optimistic statements. This is the view of the Reichsbank president and many others. Under such conditions it is irresponsible to increase these sums, which in case of a moratorium must be paid under all circumstances."

Referring to the allied claim to 300,000,000—Dawes-Young plan—this paper says:

"The only condition under which waiving our claim could be discussed is that the occupying powers pay their own occupation costs. This, however, has been rejected. So, if we add to the costs of occupation the damages caused by occupation, we arrive at a figure of 150,000,000, which, together with other sacrifices, exceed 250,000,000 marks ($60,000,000), which we expected to pay on the altar of English and French understanding."

MURDER SUSPECT CAUGHT.

Trooper May Get $5,000 Reward for Arrest in Newark Hold-Up.

Special to The New York Times.

IONA, N. J., Aug. 28.—A $5,000 reward may go to State Trooper David Reid of the Malaga substation, whose keen memory for faces resulted in the arrest of Joseph Rado, alias Redo, 27 years old, at the Iona Lake Hotel here today. Rado is wanted by the Newark police for the part he is alleged to have played in the murder of George P. Lee in the $4,000 payroll robbery of the Public Service garage at Lake and Bloomfield Streets, Newark, last Oct. 15.

Reid saw Rado standing in a doorway in the lobby of the hotel. He went to a telephone booth and called the Malaga substation. When additional troopers arrived they found Reid guarding Rado with his pistol.

After a brief questioning by the troopers, during which Rado insisted that his name was George Corby, he was taken to headquarters of the State police at Hammonton. His features and body measurements were said to correspond to those of Rado. The Newark police were notified and detectives arrived to bring him to that city.

Three men captured last Winter at Lackawanna, N. J., are in the Essex County jail in Newark charged with the Public Service garage crime. A fifth man who participated in the hold-up since has been shot by gunmen and a sixth man is a fugitive. He is John Murrey, alias Frank O'Brien and Frank McBride.

The $5,000 reward was posted by the Public Coordinated Transport.

Says Industrial Arbitration Fails.

CANBERRA, Australia, Aug. 28 (Canadian Press).—J. G. Latham, Federal Attorney General, declared in Parliament today that there was no loyalty to the principle of arbitration in the trade union ranks of Australia. He pointed out that the timberworkers had precipitated their recent strike against the award of the arbitration court. He was speaking on the bill to repeal the Commonwealth conciliation and arbitration acts and industrial peace acts.

Bremen Makes New Record On Return Trip to Cherbourg

By The Associated Press.

CHERBOURG, France, Aug. 28.—The German liner Bremen arrived here today, completing the Atlantic crossing in 4 days 15 hours and 42 minutes under normal weather conditions. Ten thousand letters were rushed to Germany by the ship's mail plane, which was catapulted ninety miles west of here. Eight passengers from the Bremen flew from Cherbourg to Le Bourget, where they planned to transfer to another plane for Germany.

The Bremen's crossing was a record. The best previous time was made by the Mauretania, which reached Cherbourg in 5 days 1 hour and 49 minutes in August, 1924.

URGES USING SALOONS OF SHIPS AS LIFEBOATS

Wireless to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

LONDON, Aug. 28.—With the idea that the saloons on the upper decks of big ocean liners could be converted at a moment's notice into hermetically sealed life-saving chambers, capable of being released by those inside if the ship sank, several demonstrations were given at the Liverpool docks today with models of an invention of J. Kelly, a Liverpool master stevedore.

Mr. Kelly holds that his patented release gear also could be applied to a special chamber in submarines and as regards large passenger liners, believes the releasing of a saloon filled with people would prove a more effective means of saving life than attempting to load them into several boats, especially when the liner has a big list, as in the case of the Vestris.

It is expected that a full-sized cabin will be built, in which Mr. Kelly volunteered to be sunk to the bottom of the River Mersey, to show the ease with which a saloon could be released from a sunken platform representing the ship's deck.

PLANE STRIKES TOWER OF UTAH CITY HALL

Pilot and Two Passengers Seriously Injured—Boy Struck by Wing in Street.

EUREKA, Utah, Aug. 28 (AP).—While a crowd of 5,000 looked on, a plane carrying two passengers and a pilot struck the tower of the City Hall here today and hurtled against the second floor of an adjoining building, seriously injuring the occupants of the plane and also injuring a pedestrian.

James Fletcher, the pilot; Helen Strong and Kenneth Jones, aged 19, were in the plane. John Bougan, 14, was hit by a wing as it was whirled downward.

The accident occurred during the celebration of the anniversary of the discovery of ore in this mining community. Fletcher, operating under a private license, had been taking passengers into the air during the festivities. He said he struck unfavorable air currents, losing altitude, and made a vain attempt to swing over the landing field.

CONFER FOUR HOURS ON NAVAL REDUCTION

DENIES ANYTHING UNUSUAL

Secretary Says Negotiations With England Are Progressing Satisfactorily.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—After a two-hour conference at the White House this morning and another of equal length this afternoon, with intermittent attendance at conferences between Under-Secretary Cotton, Commander Train and Captain Allen Buchanan, the President's naval aide at the State Department, Secretary of State Stimson stated today that the negotiations looking to naval reductions are progressing without obstacles of an unusual character, and that no questions have arisen outside the negotiations themselves.

"These negotiations," the Secretary said, "have now reached a stage where it is necessary to go through all the documents bearing on the problem, with the object of getting together the threads of two months of exchanges and putting in a peg of definite progress."

Nothing of the nature of a crisis or emergency has arisen, Mr. Stimson said, despite the fact that he spent three hours in conference with President Hoover and Secretary Adams yesterday, and nearly four hours with the President today. He indicated that the work is proceeding satisfactorily.

More Conferences Likely.

It was stated at the White House after the conference this afternoon that, although progress continues to be made in the discussions, there probably will be several more conferences before the situation reaches a final stage.

No announcement will be made, it was said, pending some understanding between Great Britain and the United States. The progress that has been made in the discussions has been that many individual questions of detail have been disposed of, all of which have to be in final shape before general principles could be reduced. This work, it was stated, will be a matter of some time, even several weeks.

Communications are being exchanged constantly between Washington and Ambassador Dawes, who in turn conveys the information to the British Government.

They cover the results of the conversations and have enabled the two governments to gain knowledge of the position of each other. Since last Wednesday there have been six or seven cablegrams from Ambassador Dawes and the whole correspondence which has been under discussion in the conferences at the White House and the State Department forms a voluminous package, to say nothing of the exchanges between the State and Navy Departments.

To Approach Other Powers.

As soon as an accord is reached between the United States and Great Britain there will be an approach to the other powers, Japan, France and Italy. It may be deduced from the exchanges so far held, it was stated, that public sentiment in Great Britain is firmly behind the idea of naval reduction.

Officials denied that events in Palestine, which have necessitated the dispatch of British warships to the scene, have had any untoward effect upon the naval negotiations.

It was pointed out that the fact that some British troops were transported to Palestine on British cruisers was, in reality, not necessarily an argument in favor of more cruisers for Great Britain. Troops might be transported upon any speedy vessel, it was pointed out, a commercial ship as well as a warship.

This line of reasoning, it was stated, bears out the American contention that naval strength is of importance only in its relation to the naval strength of other powers and in no wise proves that the American demand for parity of cruisers is unjustified.

Disposed to Agree.

The most encouraging feature of the negotiations thus far, it was stated, is the fact that there is now full knowledge on the part of the British and American Governments, respectively, of the needs of each and a mutual disposition to meet those needs on a basis that would end competition in armaments, with a substantial saving in the cost of armaments.

The statement was made that there has been too much disposition on the part of the public, however, to assume that all that was necessary for an agreement was for President Hoover and Premier MacDonald to smile and look agreeable. Before anything so tangible as an accord can be reached, it was emphasized, it is necessary to go through a rather long-drawn process of study and agreement on details.

Despite intimations that Premier MacDonald might hasten the date of his visit to the United States, it was stated today that the last official word indicates he will come between the 1st and the 10th of October.

Marking Time in London.

Wireless to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

LONDON, Aug. 28.—The Dawes-MacDonald negotiations marked time today, despite reports from Washington of a three-hour conference on naval matters between President Hoover, Secretary Stimson and Secretary Adams. Up to this afternoon no communication from Washington on the subject of yesterday's conference had been received at the embassy here, and officials were unaware that any such conference had been held.

For the day, at least, The Hague and the Palestine problems pushed naval reduction into the background at 10 Downing Street, where, it was said, Dawes had held no further conversation with the Prime Minister.

UNTERMYER DENIES RUMOR ON HIS REPORT

Governor Will Get Findings in Westchester Inquiry Before They Are Given Out.

Special to The New York Times.

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., Aug. 28.—Rumors were heard here today that Samuel Untermyer, who is directing the investigation of the purchase of land costing $948,000 by the Westchester County Board of Supervisors, would recommend to Governor Roosevelt that taxpayers' suits be instituted against the supervisors, but these rumors were denied by Mr. Untermyer himself.

He reiterated earlier declarations that he would not disclose the nature of any action he might contemplate until his report was in the hands of the Governor. Apparently the rumors grew out of the statement Mr. Untermyer made on Monday that he would like to hear argument on whether the members of the Board of Supervisors were not personally liable for the moneys thus expended.

Published reports yesterday that the brief of County Attorney William A. Davidson, which was submitted on Tuesday at the request of Mr. Untermyer, was welcomed editorially by "the Macy group of Westchester County newspapers" caused a protest yesterday by J. Noel Macy, president of the County Publishers, Inc. The newspaper which commented on the brief was the White Plains Daily Press, published by Charles B. Forbes. Mr. Macy pointed out that his newspapers had refrained from editorial comment on the investigation from its beginning.

South Dakota Jury to Decide If Men May Don Day Pajamas

SIOUX FALLS, S. D., Aug. 28 (AP).—The first jury to be called upon to decide whether pajamas are proper habiliment for daytime street wear by men will be empaneled next Tuesday. Yielding to the demand of attorneys for Ralph Duncan of Bradentown, Fla., who ran afoul of the law in the downtown streets here yesterday, Municipal Judge Verne Jennings today granted a jury trial on charges of indecency and disorderly conduct filed against Duncan.

CROYDON POISON CASES REPORTED DROPPED

Lack of Evidence Said to Make Prosecution Impossible—Mystery Baffled Scotland Yard.

LONDON, Aug. 28 (AP).—It was reported here today that because of lack of evidence the authorities had decided not to bring charges against any one in the so-called Croydon poisoning cases, involving the sudden death of three members of a family.

If the reports are correct, it will mean that one of the greatest poisoning mysteries of modern times remains unsolved. Scotland Yard has been working on the case for months, but efforts to evoke a workable criminal theory from the web of circumstances seem to have proved futile.

Edmund Creighton Duff, Miss Vera Sidney and Mrs. Violet Sidney, all members of a family living in Croydon, a suburb south of London, have died during the last year and a half under suspicious circumstances, and in each case a jury found the death caused by poisoning. Duff and Miss Sidney were found to have been wilfully murdered by a person or persons unknown, but the jury was unable to determine whether the death of Mrs. Sidney, Mr. Duff's mother-in-law, was a case of suicide or murder.

The whole case has been characterized in England as the most baffling murder mystery of modern times. The murders, if such they were, seem to have been as deliberate as they were lacking in motive. This is one of the most puzzling features of the case.

Americans Hurt in Wreck Improve.

COLOGNE, Aug. 28 (AP).—Hendrik Cohn of Pittsburgh, who was injured Sunday in the wreck of the Paris-Warsaw Express at Buir, had a fair night. Both he and John Kowals, another American injured, were doing as well as could be expected, the doctors said.

LAKEHURST READY TO LAND DIRIGIBLE

GROUND FORCE STANDS BY

Seven of Zeppelin Crew, Left on Coast, Race Here by Air-Rail for Speed Honors.

LAKEHURST, N. J., Aug. 28.—Officers and men composing the landing force are standing by awaiting the arrival of the Graf Zeppelin at this airport, which is expected early tomorrow morning.

Rear Admiral William A. Moffett, chief of the bureau of naval aeronautics, who arrived here tonight from the air races in Cleveland, estimated the time of the Zeppelin's arrival at 6 o'clock tomorrow morning. That she was surpassing the speed forecast by experts here also was indicated in information received tonight that at 7:50 o'clock she had passed over Adrian, Mich., and was going better than eighty miles an hour.

On her arrival the ship will have completed the first round-the-world flight in the annals of dirigible aviation, but, it appeared today that she might be deprived of the added laurels of making the fastest trip around the world, for seven members of her own crew, it has developed, are likely to snatch the record for themselves.

These are the men whom Dr. Hugo Eckener, commander of the dirigible, relieved from duty before departing from Los Angeles in order to lighten the airship to facilitate the ascent to a high altitude while crossing the Rockies. With F. W. von Meister, representative in the United States of the Luftschiffebau Zeppelin Gesellschaft, and Hugh Allen of the Goodyear Zeppelin Company, they left Los Angeles at 8:30 o'clock Tuesday morning via Transcontinental Air Transport.

Racing With Zeppelin.

A telegram dated at St. Louis and received here today from G. E. Everett, passenger traffic manager of the Air-Rail Line, said: "Seven members of the Zeppelin crew riding with us are racing with the Zeppelin itself to establish world's record for around-the-world trip. We have a good chance of establishing the record."

Another telegram from Mr. Everett said that the seven members of the crew would board a train at Columbus, Ohio, on the Pennsylvania Road that is due in New York at 10:50 A. M. tomorrow and that they planned to leave the train at Trenton, N. J., and come to Lakehurst by airplane.

The seven men include Assistant Chief Engineer Buerle, Helmsman Bowers and Quartermasters Rouesch, Schreibmueller, Halder, Weber and Braune.

With the arrival here today of 110 bluejackets and marines from Philadelphia, fifty more than had been announced yesterday, the last move was made in preparing for the arrival of the great airship. No liberty was permitted tonight to any of the total of 450 men of the ground crew, who are on tiptoes awaiting the jangling gongs and hoarse sirens that will notify them when to run out to the field and stand by to grasp the spider lines by which the huge gas bag is secured to the earth.

Ready to Refuel Dirigible.

Lieutenant S. C. Stengel, in charge of gassing the ship, is likewise prepared for the ticklish operation that will begin as soon as the air liner is inside the hangar here. Fabric gas lines are in readiness to be hooked up for the injection of as much of 945,000 cubic feet of fuel gas and 320,000 cubic feet of hydrogen as may be needed.

Incidental preparations, including those in connection with the great crowd of spectators that is expected, were likewise completed today. Captain L. Nicol arrived from Freehold Barracks with seventy-five State police to assist the marine detachment here in keeping the throngs away from points where they might interfere with landing operations.

Arrangements for entertaining the crowd with radio broadcasts were also completed. The National Broadcasting Company announced that microphones were in place at both ends of the lofty roof of the hangar, on the hangar floor, in the naval executive offices, in the welfare house, wither passengers will be taken for customs inspection, and on the mooring mast, for use in the event a high wind necessitates the Zeppelin's tying up there before being moved to the hangar. Those of the crowd who are within range of radio loud speakers should be able to hear Dr. Eckener, Lady Drummond Hay, Sir Hubert Wilkins and others, who are scheduled to speak into the microphone upon their arrival.

They will constitute only a fraction of the "listeners-in" when the first round-the-world flight is completed, however, for the sounds of the airship's motor and the voices of her officers and passengers are to be broadcast throughout the nation from sixty-eight stations and from four short-wave stations located in Schenectady, Pittsburgh, Cincinnati, and in Oakland, Cal. The latter stations should transmit the sounds of the history-making event around the world, according to broadcasting officials.

Special Train for Passengers.

After the passengers have undergone customs inspection they will board a special section of the Blue Comet of the Central Railroad of New Jersey, which will be awaiting them on a spur near the helium plant here. The train, consisting of four cars, has been chartered by the Hamburg-American Line, and will take passengers as well as some officers and members of the Zeppelin crew to New York.

Dr. Eckener will not be among them, it was said by a representative of the Maybach Motor Company, who declared he had received word that the Zeppelin commander would proceed to Washington as soon as the ship was lodged in the hangar. The purpose of his visit to Washington was not made known here, but the fact that he would be there for more than a day was indicated by an announcement that he might not be able to attend a reception scheduled to take place in his honor in New York on Friday.

Among those who will be here to welcome the round-the-world fliers, it was learned, will be Rear Admiral Julian Lathmer, commandant of the Philadelphia Navy Yard, representing the United States Navy; Princess Di Camponoli and a party, and William Schlef of 85 Maiden Lane, New York. They will return to New York on the train chartered by the Hamburg-American Line.

Set Sailing for Sunday.

On behalf of the line, J. P. Brophy, who is in charge of the Zeppelin's passenger arrangement, said late today that instead of lingering here for a long overhauling, as originally expected, the Graf Zeppelin was expected to be in such excellent condition after her round-the-world flight that she could proceed to her home port of Friedrichshafen as soon as refueling and routine tuning-up was completed. He predicted that, weather permitting, she would take off Sunday.

Among those to arrive by air to greet the Graf Zeppelin were Dr. Otto Meissner, Secretary of State to President Von Hindenburg; Dr. O. C. Kiep, Counselor of the German Embassy at Washington, and Dr. Paul Schwarz, German consul at New York. They landed in a specially chartered plane from Washington at 8 P. M.

As to Dr. Eckener's plans after landing, Dr. Schwarz was noncommittal, explaining that there were two possibilities. Dr. Eckener might go to Washington on Friday to carry out his wish of meeting President Hoover, he said. This would necessitate a postponement of the reception New York has scheduled for that day. On the other hand, he continued, he might go to New York on Friday.

"It all depends on Dr. Eckener," he went on, "and we won't know until he lands."

Praises Germany's Enterprise.

Rear Admiral William A. Moffett, head of the Bureau of Aeronautics of the Navy Department at Washington, flew to the field from the air races at Cleveland in a Vought Corsair plane piloted by Lieutenant G. I. Cudify. He arrived in the late afternoon and this evening gave out an interview praising Germany's progress in four directions.

She is leading in lighter-than-air craft, he said; her new man-of-war puts her in the lead in the construction of weapons of naval warfare; she leads in merchant marine development with the Bremen and has the largest flying boat in the world.

"For a nation that has just been through a war," he continued, "and one which is said to be heavily in debt, she is certainly going strong. We must take off our hats to her."

Admiral Moffett asserted that with our start in rigid airships, gained through what was learned in the experiences of building the Shenandoah and from the Los Angeles, and with the advantage of possessing helium, we had a chance to lead the world in lighter-than-air craft.

"We dilly-dallied," he said, "or by now one of the new rigid airships now building for the navy could have been flying the Pacific, the Atlantic, or anywhere."

He asserted that the flight of the Graf Zeppelin justified the navy in its lighter-than-air program. "The Graf Zeppelin made the Atlantic trip and covered a distance equivalent to that from New York to London in fifty hours," he said. "If you can carry mail from New York to London in fifty hours it's worth the amount of money spent, even if you didn't carry a passenger."

He said that the cost of construction of rigid dirigibles decreased rapidly when more of the same type were built, and the criticism against them as to the large ground crews required to handle them he dismissed by saying that the cost of the maintenance of the crews would be distributed over a great number of ships as more were built.

According to telegraphic advices received at the office of the Hamburg-American Line from E. A. Winkler, Pacific Coast manager of the steamship company, sixteen passengers were aboard the dirigible when she left Los Angeles for Lakehurst.

World Flight From Lakehurst to Lakehurst.

The big dirigible, after reaching Kansas City, headed northeast over Iowa for Chicago. From Chicago the course was over Detroit and Cleveland. At the latter city the national air races are being held. A feature of the meet yesterday was the visit of another dirigible—the Los Angeles—which thrilled thousands of spectators.

FIVE DAYS FROM TOKIO.

The picture of the Graf Zeppelin which appears in this issue of THE NEW YORK TIMES, showing its arrival over Tokio, came with others of similar nature from Japan by air mail in exactly five days, establishing a record for the transportation of actual photographs.

The pictures were taken and developed by the Times Wide World office in Tokio. They were then addressed to the Wide World office in Los Angeles and placed aboard the Zeppelin just before she departed at 2:13 A. M. (New York Daylight Saving Time) Friday. At Los Angeles a representative of the Wide World accepted the pictures upon the arrival of the dirigible and immediately remailed them to the Wide World office in the Times Annex via the regular air mail service.

They reached the postoffice here at 2:30 o'clock yesterday morning and were delivered at once. Copies of the photographs were also mailed from New York to Philadelphia and Boston in time for publication in those cities today.

Mother Sees New Yorker Drown.

ZEPPELIN BRINGING 36,000 PIECES OF MAIL

When the Graf Zeppelin's cargo is unloaded today 36,000 pieces of mail dispatched on the round-the-world flight on Aug. 8 will be taken off. W. Irving Glover, Assistant Postmaster General in charge of the Air Mail Service, said that the letters and postcards, bearing the stamp valued by stamp collectors, were contained in thirteen pouches weighing 540 pounds.

The Zeppelin has delivered about 5,000 pieces of mail consigned to Friedrichshafen, Tokio and Los Angeles and has two more pouches to take to its home port.

The customs examination, a notable feature of the arrival of the Graf on its last trip from Germany, will be minimized this time, according to latest advices, in view of the fact that a complete examination of baggage was made at Los Angeles, which became the port of entry on this flight.

The special train which will bring the passengers from Lakehurst to New York includes an extra baggage car which has been equipped as a "rolling laboratory" for the use of news photographers. The baggage equipment had been removed and a table 60 feet long and 3 feet wide installed, together with a tank containing fifty gallons of water.

The problem of handling the stories of the Graf's arrival written by scores of newspaper reporters also was solved, the Western Union announced yesterday, by installations capable of transmitting half a million words in a night. These include speedy telegraph printers and augmented equipment of the type used by telegraphers. It was planned to transmit urgent matter direct from the hangar where space was provided by the Communications Department of the United States Navy.

Up-State Wins Target Honors.

Special to The New York Times.

PEEKSKILL, Aug. 28.—Division staff officers of the New York National Guard announced today that the 108th Infantry Regiment of Syracuse and up-State cities, under Colonel John Thompson, has carried off the 1929 training season's honors for marksmanship. The 107th Regiment of Manhattan, under Colonel Wade Hayes, made second best showing and the Tenth Infantry Regiment of Albany, under Colonel Charles Walsh, stood third.

CHICAGO WELCOME HEARD OVER RADIO

WORD PICTURE ALSO GIVEN

A bedlam of whistles, shouts and the sound of countless automobile horns playing an accompaniment to the roar of the Graf Zeppelin's motors, intermingled with the word-pictures of the event, told New York listeners to WJZ's network last night that Chicago was giving its first welcome to the airship of Dr. Hugo Eckener and his round-the-world voyagers. The description of the scene as the Graf Zeppelin circled the city and its outlying suburbs and towns was carried over the radio chain from coast to coast, an NBC representative said.

From the time the ship was sighted, about 6:25 P. M. Eastern Daylight Time, until the announcer told of its disappearance in the mist to the eastward about a half-hour later, the radio audience might easily gain the impression that Chicago officials and the populace were surpassing themselves to give the voyagers welcome and bid them godspeed. It seemed that Chicago was loath to part with the airship which was soon to speed on her way to New York and Lakehurst.

Announcers on Top of Building.

The radio announcers, Thomas J. Breen Jr. and Gene Rause, were stationed atop the Capital Building on Michigan Boulevard. They told of a skyline of tall buildings literally covered with gaping humans, with a black crown of watchers on the new Civic Opera Building and a crowd at Randolph Street and Michigan Boulevard that caused Chicago traffic to come to a standstill.

A message of welcome by Mayor William Hale Thompson to Dr. Eckener was read over the radio network. The announcer then read a message from Dr. Eckener to the National Broadcasting Company which predicted the Graf Zeppelin's arrival at Lakehurst early this morning. While Dr. Eckener is said to have set no hour for his arrival, the N. B. C. representative in New York said the combined facilities of the company would be warmed up at an early hour today to be ready to broadcast a description of the ship whenever she appears over this city, and then to continue the broadcast when the Zeppelin is sighted at Lakehurst.

The airship circled over Chicago either two or three times. The announcers did not make it clear just how many. She circled over Gary, Hammond, Evanston and other towns, and was lost in the haze over Lake Michigan at least once. She turned her nose northward and sailed directly over Chicago's North Shore district, which was termed the "Gold Coast." The visibility was described as being "only a few miles."

Passengers Wave Greetings.

The airship passed over the tallest of Chicago's building with only about five hundred feet clearance, the announcer said. When this happened the roar of the airship's five motors and the cries of many spectators nearly drowned the announcer's description of the sight. Several voices not intended for the microphone were heard to tell of passengers of the Graf Zeppelin leaning from the cabin windows to wave greetings.

At present it is planned to have New York's official welcome to Dr. Eckener and his party begin at about noon today, an N. B. C. bulletin said last night. The event is to be picked up from Pier A and City Hall steps. WEAF and network will broadcast the welcome.

AID FROM PHILADELPHIA.

Special to The New York Times.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 28.—A detachment from the Philadelphia Custom House, including inspectors, an appraiser and a boarding officer, left for Lakehurst, N. J., late today to join Deputy Collector William H. Biester, who will have charge of customs work in connection with the landing of the Graf Zeppelin as it completes its voyage around the world.

A large part of the cargo carried by the dirigible was removed at Los Angeles for reshipment to its destination in this country by rail or air, according to information received at the Port Collector's headquarters here today. It was assumed, therefore, that much of the other detailed work incidental to the arrival of the Graf Zeppelin also had been handled by the West Coast officials, so that Philadelphia customs men expected their task to be considerably lighter than it was when the dirigible arrived from its two westward transatlantic crossings. They will have a full crew ready, however, to handle work expeditiously.

Health and immigration officers also will be present at Lakehurst, and a representative of the Postoffice Department will take charge of the immense collection of letters and postcards carried around the world by the air liner.

ZEPPELIN IS DUE HERE THIS MORNING that ever went up to the skies from this mid-continent city.

It is estimated that millions of persons took part in the demonstration. It seemed certain that every man, woman and child in the far-flung metropolitan area saw and shouted a welcome to the silver ship.

The Zeppelin came into Chicago almost out of the due west, and when she had paid her respects she flew away again due east. Straight as the crow flies she headed over the lake eastward and at 5:50 P. M., Standard Time (7:50 Eastern Daylight Saving Time) she was reported over South Bend, Ind., "sailing high and fast," again "almost due east."

Weather Bureau officials here had warned radio stations to send word to Dr. Hugo Eckener, master of the dirigible, that there was squally weather and blinding rain over lower Michigan and that it was dropping southward rapidly toward his course over lower Indiana.

The officials advised the ship to take a deep curve around the centre of Indiana. If Captain Eckener got the messages he must have believed his gallant craft could ride the weather, for he kept her in her due eastward course.

Clouds Clear for Big Ship.

Gods of the weather were most kind to the vast throng that gathered to see the giant air liner pass over the city. Rain clouds, which had hung low and threatening all the late afternoon, suddenly, with a few brief drops, cleared up almost as the Zeppelin hove in sight.

As the big ship soared majestically over the Loop out over the Lake, across the stadium in Soldiers Field, back north again, and then once more south and away, the clouds opened and the sky cleared. As the silver shape headed once more eastward out over the lake and sped onward a burst of sunshine shot through the gray clouds, throwing on the big bag a silver sheen, making it appear to the millions watching to be disappearing almost in a halo.

The millions who turned out and made a holiday of the occasion, started gathering in the downtown district from early morning. By noon thousands upon thousands were out, most of them gathered in Grant Park from Randolph to Fourteenth Street. By early afternoon the streets in the Loop were jammed and all available parking space for automobiles was taken.

In Grant Park men and women sat with their children upon newspapers, so that, as the afternoon waned and the reports of the ship's progress to the city passed ever more rapidly back and forth, spots in the wide lakefront area of grass and sand and stone were literally white with the newspapers.

The vast throng in the Loop got its first glimpse of the great ship as it came nosing out through the lowering gray atmosphere that hung low over the city. Like a big, blunt bullet, the dirigible's nose poked slowly out of the ether about Eighteenth Street and just a little to the west of Michigan Avenue.

Several of the many thronging the south end of Grant Park saw the big ship come pushing through the mist, then there was a yell and a mighty roar. Automobiles took up the chorus, adding their din to the human lung power. Locomotives took up the medley; factory whistles all over the city and boats on the lake and river joined in. The continuing roar reminded those who were in the city on that memorable day, Nov. 11, 1918, of Armistice Day.

The Zeppelin was first sighted by those in the Loop about 4:20 Standard Time, or 5:20 Eastern Daylight Saving Time. It flew over the Loop district for approximately eighteen minutes and disappeared into the hazy eastern sky within three minutes later.

But by the time the great ship had turned its nose to the east to continue on the last leg of its epoch-making flight around the globe the crowds had lapsed into a sort of strange, awed silence.

The throng stood at intervals of minutes just gazing at the majestic ship and forgetting to make any outcry. This was true in spots. For several minutes there would be little noise from one particular section of the crowd. Then, with the whistles and bells and sirens still crying out full blast, these sections of humanity would seem to come back to themselves and begin their shouting all over again.

The traffic jam in the Loop, on every street, in Michigan Avenue, on the driveways into Grant Park and on the outer drives was unprecedented from the time the Graf Zeppelin was sighted until several hours after she had disappeared in the eastern sky.

The autoists simply threw all rules to the winds, put the brakes on and climbed on their running-boards and hoods and tops and stood thus clinging and craning their necks and shouting. Policemen milled about in the streets in vain. They threatened and they bullied and tried to blow their whistles, but no one paid the slightest attention, and soon they threw up their hands, shrugged their shoulders and turned their own eyes skyward.

Kansas City Views Dirigible.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Aug. 28 (AP).—Poking her blunt nose through the low-hanging clouds and gray haze, which blended with the silver coloring of the ship, the Graf Zeppelin reached here at 9:39 A. M. (11:39, Eastern Daylight Time). Business was suspended as the whole city turned out to view the spectacle.

The air visitor caught the glint of the sun on her nose as she headed east into the city. Reaching the business district, she swung around in a circle to the south over the residential section. With motors humming perfectly, the ship rode easily at an altitude of several thousand feet.

Whistles shrieked a greeting and spectators waved and cheered.

At 9:50 A. M. the Zeppelin had completed the circle and headed across the Missouri River to the northeast straight for Chicago, disappearing from view in the low cloud banks.

The United States Department of Commerce broadcast weather reports to the dirigible, but received no response from the ship's radio.

TRENTON, N. J., Aug. 28 (AP).—By a curious set of circumstances, members of the Graf Zeppelin crew who left the dirigible at Los Angeles to lighten its load may beat all world's records, including that of the Zeppelin itself, in circumnavigating the globe.

Tonight these seven members of the crew were speeding eastward over the American continent by the joint rail-air line of the Transcontinental Air Transport, Inc., the Pennsylvania Railroad and the Santa Fe. Their destination is Trenton and they are scheduled to reach here tomorrow morning at 9:30, Eastern Daylight Time. From here they will be rushed to Lakehurst to assist in mooring the Zeppelin upon its arrival there.

ECKENER FETE PLANS AWAIT HIS WISHES

Plans for the ceremonious welcome of Dr. Hugo Eckener, commander of the Graf Zeppelin, to New York City were at a standstill late yesterday, awaiting definite word of the airship's arrival and Dr. Eckener's approval.

Following completion of the announced plans, including the customary courtesies of Police Commissioner Whalen's reception committee, a ride in the bay on the Macom and a reception by Mayor Walker at City Hall, a message including them was sent by radio to Dr. Eckener.

Among the honors planned for the commander, announced yesterday, was the presentation of a silver punch service, to be tendered by the German newspapers of New York at the luncheon tentatively scheduled in the city's program for Friday. Frank McDermott, president of the New York Electrical School, also radioed an invitation to Dr. Eckener to visit the school at 39 West Seventeenth Street.

AIRPORTS PLANNED IN STATE

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—New airports are planned by six New York cities and villages, including Avoca, Ballston Spa, Canandaigua, Chenango Bridge, Deruyter and Oneonta, and an airport improvement is contemplated at Buffalo, the Commerce Department reported today.

Thirty-six other new airports are planned throughout the country, in addition to improvements of four others, the report showed.

NEW YORK NOW LEADS IN AIRPLANE LICENSES

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—New York now leads all other States in licensed aircraft, even surpassing California, which long held the lead in aeronautical activity, Major Clarence M. Young, Director of Aeronautics, reported today.

Airplanes owned within the State number 1,006, of which 758 are licensed and 248 identified, as compared to California's 896, of which 518 are licensed and 378 identified.

The report listed a total of 7,287 aircraft in the United States, of which 4,232 are licensed and 3,055 identified.

The other States which lead in the ownership of aircraft include Illinois, for which 290 licensed and 247 identified aircraft are listed; Pennsylvania, 244 licensed and 117 identified; Michigan, 235 licensed and 140 identified. Forty-three licensed and twenty-one identified planes are listed for Connecticut and ninety-seven licensed and seventy-four identified for New Jersey.

New York State, the report showed, falls far below California in the numbers of pilots and airplane mechanics licensed by the Department of Commerce. California has 1,167 licensed pilots, including the scores of movie stars who have taken to the air, while New York has 551. Illinois has 312 licensed pilots, Pennsylvania 205, Michigan 297, New Jersey 115 and Connecticut 52.

A total of 877 airplane mechanics were licensed from California, 459 from New York, 375 from Illinois, 280 from Pennsylvania, 307 from Michigan, 178 from New Jersey and 43 from Connecticut.

WHEN we built our New fireproof Storage Warehouses, our main thought was "Security for our Patrons when they store their household effects with us." We accordingly constructed in our Warehouses 1800 Fireproof Vaults—with the thought dominating that if a safe deposit box is necessary for your Insurance Papers, Deeds, Investments, etc., all of which can easily be duplicated, then a Fireproof Vault is absolutely necessary for the storage of your furniture, wedding presents, family portraits, pianos and other keepsakes, that were so carefully selected and can never be replaced.

If you intend STORING, MOVING or PACKING your household effects, why not call WATKINS 1800 and have our representative call and advise terms?

ences in conditions of competition in the principal markets of the United States, between domestic articles and like or similar competitive imported articles."

The Finance Committee considered a proposal to give the President authority to proclaim new ad valorem rates of duty worked out by the Tariff Commission on the basis of the United States valuation, but in the portion of the bill made public today it deprives the President of this power of proclamation and directs that the rates worked out by the Tariff Commission shall be reported to Congress.

The conclusion of the committee was that the method proposed would surrender to the President part of the taxing power invested in Congress by the Constitution. Under the provisions as now proposed, Congress would determine whether the Tariff Commission's rates should become law.

Changes in Board Disapproved.

Because of determined opposition by Democrats, the administration and its supporters on the Finance Committee decided not to sanction the House provision to permit the appointment of a partisan tariff commission. The House bill invested the President with authority to appoint a commission without regard to its political complexion and increased the number of its members from six to seven. The present law specifies that not more than three of the six members shall be of the same political party.

The Finance Committee Republicans approved the House provision increasing the salaries of the Tariff Commissioners to $12,000 a year.

The Senate bill provided that the terms of the commissioners shall be for six years instead of seven as in the House measure. Under the present law the commissioners serve for twelve years. One provision of the Senate bill, however, apparently gives the President the right to appoint an entirely new commission.

The Finance Committee Republicans struck from the House bill and present law the provision whereby in suits regarding unfair methods in the import trade an appeal might be taken beyond the Customs Court of Appeals to the Supreme Court. The Customs Court was left with the final decision.

Appeals on Appraisals.

Under one of the sections of the Senate Republican bill, labor organizations and American producers, manufacturers or wholesalers are allowed to appear in customs court cases affecting appraisals, under rules prescribed by the court. They may also appear in cases affecting decisions of collectors of customs, which may be appealed to the Customs Court of Appeals.

The Senate bill transfers to the Department of Justice from the Treasury Department the appointment and fixing of salaries of clerks and other employes of the Customs Court.

Important changes in the House bill and the existing law are recommended with respect to the valuation of imports for ad valorem rates.

Adhering in the main to foreign methods of value, the bill reported today provides for alternative plans of American valuation where foreign costs or values cannot be ascertained to the satisfaction of United States appraisers.

At the same time, the Senate committee adopted a provision directing the Tariff Commission to convert the ad valorem duties of the proposed law, founded largely on foreign values, to equivalent duties upon the basis of domestic value, using for the purpose price figures current from July 1, 1927, to June 30, 1929.

Appraiser's Verdict Not Final.

As a result of the determined opposition of importers, the Senate committee deleted from Section 402 of the House bill the provision that made final a decision of an appraiser that he could not satisfactorily determine foreign value, leaving him free under the circumstances to apply United States value, and denying an importer the right of appeal to the courts in such a case as is permitted under existing law.

The House provision prohibiting judicial review of an appraiser's decision in the matter of valuation was attacked before the Senate committee on constitutional grounds, and it was for this reason that it was struck out of the measure by the Senate group.

In Section 402 the Senate bill conceurs in the House provisions carrying over from existing law the language prescribing that in valuing imported merchandise an appraiser shall use either foreign or export value, whichever is higher, and that if he determines that neither can be satisfactorily ascertained, then he may resort to United States value. If the appraiser decides that he cannot satisfactorily ascertain values by any of the methods indicated he is empowered to use "either cost of production" or American selling price as the basis of fixing ad valorem rates.

United States Value Defined.

The definition of "United States value" is changed in a number of particulars. It provides that United States value of imported merchandise shall be, first, the price at which imported merchandise is offered for sale in the principal market in this country, in wholesale quantities; or, second, if similar imported merchandise is not so offered for sale in the United States, then an estimated value, based on the price at which comparable merchandise, imported or domestic, is offered for sale, with such adjustments as may be necessary owing to differences in the characteristics of given products.

In assessing duties in accordance with the rule of United States value, the appraiser is directed to make allowance for cost of transportation, insurance and other necessary expenses, a commission not exceeding 6 per cent of goods obtained otherwise than by purchase, or profits not to exceed 8 per cent, and general expenses not to exceed 8 per cent on purchased goods. Present definitions of foreign value, export value, cost of production and American selling price are continued by the Senate bill.

Acting on request of the American Federation of Labor, the Republican committeemen amended the House bill so that articles designated by an American trade-mark must be actually manufactured here, and not abroad, where labor costs are lower.

House provisions regarding additional duties for failure to mark the imported articles and to withhold delivery until so marked were retained.

Seditious Literature Clause.

The new language agreed upon by both the House and the Republican committeemen of the Senate concerning seditious literature has caused great controversy. Originally the House declared that the section of the law forbidding importation of obscene literature must contain a clause reading:

"Any book, pamphlet, paper, writing, advertisement, circular, print, picture or drawing containing any matter advocating or urging treason, insurrection, or forcible resistance to any law of the United States, or containing any threat to take the life of or inflict bodily harm upon the President of the United States."

The Senate committee Republicans substituted "any person in the United States" for "the President of the United States."

The new House section allowing discretionary embargoes against diseased cattle, sheep, swine, meats and plants was changed by the Senate committee. Under this change the Secretary of Agriculture could not bar plants unless they are infected with disease or injurious insects "new to or not heretofore widely prevalent or distributed" in the United States.

Convict Mine Output Barred.

The American Federation of Labor won a victory when it persuaded the Finance Committee Republicans to add "mined or produced" to the law forbidding the importation of convict-manufactured goods from abroad.

Free importation under bond was altered by the Republicans to include:

"Articles imported by illustrators and photographers for use solely as models in their own establishments, in the illustrating of catalogs, pamphlets or advertising matter."

New language inserted by the Republican committeemen would permit the Porto Rican Legislature to tax coffee entering from the United States, and these duties would go to support the Porto Rican Government.

The Senate revision provides for repeal of Section 2804 of the revised statutes prohibiting the importation of cigars in packages containing less than 3,000, because of which Cuba abrogated its parcel post arrangements with the United States.

If the repeal provision, which was carried by the tariff bill as it passed the House, becomes a law, a new parcel post treaty can be arranged with Cuba, Postoffice Department officials assert.

For Advertising Reciprocity.

An interesting provision inserted by the Republican committeemen deals with reciprocal agreements relating to advertising matter. Under this, the government could agree with other countries to provide mutual free entry "of dispatches or shipments through the mails of circulars, folders, pamphlets, books and cards, in the nature of advertising matter (except such matter as may be printed, manufactured or produced in a foreign country, advertising the sale of articles by persons carrying on business in the United States or containing announcements relating to the merchandise or business of such persons) to individual addressees."

The House had made changes regarding the marking of imported articles, but the Finance Committee altered these still further. The Finance Committee provision reads:

"Section 304. Marking of imported articles:

"(a) Manner of marking—Every article imported into the United States, and its immediate container, and the package in which such article is imported, shall be marked, stamped, branded or labeled, in legible English words, in a conspicuous place in such manner as to indicate the country of origin of such article, in accordance with such regulations as the Secretary of the Treasury may prescribe.

"Such marking, stamping, branding or labeling shall be as nearly indelible and permanent as the nature of the article will permit. The Secretary of the Treasury may, by regulations prescribed hereunder, except any article from the requirement of marking, stamping, branding or labeling if he is satisfied that such article is incapable of being marked, stamped, branded or labeled or cannot be marked, stamped, branded or labeled without injury, or that the marking, stamping, branding or labeling of the immediate container of such article will reasonably indicate the country of origin of such article."

Hits at Hoover on Manganese.

Senator Wheeler, Democrat, of Montana, today quoted Senator Bingham of Connecticut as saying he had reversed his vote so as to put manganese on the free list because President Hoover advised it. Mr. Wheeler then quoted President Hoover as saying at Pueblo, Col., last year that manganese could scarcely be produced except for a protective tariff.

"Mr. Bingham had voted for a duty on the ore and changed to remove that duty at the time of the successful drive by the big steel corporations on the Finance Committee.

"The usually accurate NEW YORK TIMES last Monday recited that, according to Republican leaders, the President approved the placing of manganese on the free list on the ground that the duty—which in the past seven years amounted to $45,000,000 on the imported alloy, might be saved to the consumer. If Senator Bingham told the truth—and I have never heard his veracity doubted—President Hoover has absolutely defaulted on his promise made at Pueblo."

Senator Bingham has denied that he ever changed his vote on the manganese schedule.

Harrison Attacks Revision.

The Finance Committee's draft of the tariff was attacked by Senator Harrison of Mississippi, a Democratic member of the committee.

"The bill as reported by the Senate Finance Committee," said Senator Harrison, "is even worse than when it was passed by the House; it contains some increases of rates in the agricultural schedules, but for the most part these are paper rates.

"For every apparent increase carried in the Senate committee's recommendations on agricultural products, there are proportionately greater increases carried in innumerable other schedules of the bill.

"For instance, enormous increases are carried on pig iron, cotton and woolen clothing, hosiery, hats, glassware, crockery; cement and hundreds of other articles, which will increase the cost of living not only to the farmer but to the American consumer generally.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28 (AP).—President Hoover recommended in his message to the special session of Congress that legislation be enacted providing for a reorganization of the commission, and the text of the reframed tariff measure made public today disclosed that the way had been opened for the Executive to bring this about.

Each incumbent would serve until his successor was nominated, confirmed and assumed office. The President, however, could retain any member he desired.

Under the present law the term of Commission Frank Clark of Florida expires Sept. 7, 1930; that of Edgar B. Brossard of Utah on the same date in 1932; Chairman Alfred P. Dennis of Maryland, 1936; Lincoln Dixon, Indiana, 1938, and Sherman J. Lowell, New York, 1940.

Storm Damages Port of Salonica.

ATHENS, Aug. 28 (AP).—A wild storm today did great damage at Salonica, many houses were flooded and others collapsed. The losses extended into the free zone back of the port.

Texts of Tariff Revisions by Senators

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—Following are the texts of Sections No. 336, No. 340 and No. 402 of the tariff bill as agreed upon by the Republicans of the Senate Finance Committee, affecting, respectively, the flexible provisions, the conversion of ad valorem rates to United States value, and the determination of the present system of valuation.

The section affecting the flexible provisions reads:

EQUALIZATION OF COMPETITIVE CONDITIONS.

(A) Change of Classification or Duties—In order to put into force and effect the policy of Congress by this act intended the President shall investigate the differences in conditions of competition in the principal market or markets of the United States between domestic articles and like or similar competitive imported articles.

If the President finds it thereby shown that the duties expressly fixed by statute do not equalize the differences in such conditions of competition in the principal market of the United States between a domestic article and a like or similar competitive article imported from the principal competing country, he shall determine and proclaim such changes in classification or such increases or decreases in rates of duty expressly fixed by statute, as are shown by such investigation to be necessary to equalize such differences. In no case shall the total increase or decrease of such rates of duty exceed 50 per centum of the rates expressly fixed by statute.

(B) Change to American Selling Price—If the President finds, upon any such investigation, that such differences cannot be equalized by proceeding as hereinbefore provided, he shall make such findings public, together with a description of the articles to which they apply, in such detail as may be necessary for the guidance of appraising officers, and shall proclaim that the ad valorem duty or rates of duty based in whole or in part upon the value of the like or similar competitive imported article in the country of exportation shall thereafter be based upon the American selling price (as defined in Subdivision F of Section 402 of this act) of the domestic article.

The President shall further determine and proclaim such ad valorem rate or rates of duty based upon such American selling price as are shown by such investigation to be necessary to equalize such differences. In no case shall the total decrease of such rates of duty exceed 50 per centum of the rates expressly fixed by statute, and no such rate shall be increased.

(C) Effective Date of Proclamation—Thirty days after the date of any proclamation under this section the changes in classification or basis of value provided therein shall take effect, and the increased or decreased duties provided therein shall be levied, collected, and paid on the articles specified therein when imported from any foreign country into the United States or into any of its possessions (except the Philippine Islands, the Virgin Islands, American Samoa and the Island of Guam).

METHOD SET FORTH.

(D) Ascertainment of Differences in Conditions of Competition—In ascertaining the differences in conditions of competition between domestic articles and like or similar competitive imported articles in the principal market of the United States, the President shall take into consideration, in so far as he finds it practicable, and applicable:

1. Costs of production of the domestic article, or the price at which such article is freely offered for sale to all purchasers in the principal market of the United States, in the ordinary course of trade and in the usual wholesale quantities in such market; and
2. Costs of production of the imported article, or the price or value set forth in its invoice, or its import cost as defined in subdivision (e) of Section 332; and
3. Other costs of the domestic article and of the imported article (in so far as not considered under paragraph 1 or 2), including (a) the cost of all containers and coverings of whatever nature and other charges and expenses incident to placing the article in condition packed ready for delivery, and (b) costs of transportation, and
4. Advantages granted to a foreign producer by a government, person, partnership, corporation, or association in a foreign country.

(E) Investigations by the Commission—Investigations to assist the President in ascertaining difference in conditions of competition under this section shall be made by the commission, and no proclamation shall be issued under this section until such investigation shall have been made.

The commission shall give reasonable public notice of its hearings and shall give reasonable opportunity to parties interested to be present to produce evidence, and to be heard. The commission is authorized to adopt such reasonable procedure, rules, and regulations as it may deem necessary.

(F) Modification of Proclamation—The President, proceeding as herein before provided for in proclaiming changes in rates of duty, in classification, or in the basis of value, shall, when he determines that it is shown that the differences in conditions of competition which led to such proclamation have changed or no longer exist, modify or terminate the proclamation accordingly.

Nothing in this section shall be construed to authorize a transfer of an article from the dutiable list to the free list or from the free list to the dutiable list, nor a change in form of duty. Whenever it is provided in any paragraph of the Title I of this act, or in any amendatory act, that the duty or duties shall not exceed a specified ad valorem rate upon the articles provided for in such paragraph, no rate determined under the provisions of this section upon such articles shall exceed the maximum ad valorem rate so specified.

TERMS ARE DEFINED.

(G) Definitions, for the Purposes of This Section—(1) The term "domestic article" means an article wholly or in part the growth or product of the United States; and the term "imported article" means an article imported into the United States and wholly or in part the growth or product of a foreign country.

(2) An imported article shall be considered like or similar to and competitive with a domestic article if the imported article is of the same class or kind as the domestic article and accomplishes results substantially equal to those accomplished by the domestic article when used in substantially the same manner and for substantially the same purpose.

(3) In determining the principal competing country with respect to any imported article the President shall take into consideration the quantity, value and quality of the article imported from each competing country and any other differences in the conditions under which the article imported from each such country competes with the domestic article. A determination by the President as to the principal competing country shall be final.

(4) The term "United States" includes the several States and Territories and the District of Columbia.

(5) The term "foreign country" means any empire, country, dominion, colony or protectorate, or any subdivision or subdivisions thereof (other than the United States and its possessions).

(6) The term "costs of production" when applied with respect to either a domestic article or an imported article, includes, for a period which is representative of conditions in production of the article:

(a) The price or cost of materials, labor costs and other direct charges incurred in the production of the article and in the processes or methods employed in its production; (b) the usual general expenses, including charges for depreciation or depletion which are representative of the equipment and property employed in the production of the article and charges for rent or interest which are representative of the cost of obtaining capital or instruments of production; (c) the cost of containers and coverings of whatever nature, and other costs, charges and expenses incident to placing the article in condition packed ready for delivery.

(7) The term "costs of transportation" means: (a) In the case of an imported article, the cost of transporting such article from the areas of substantial production in the principal competing country to the principal port of importation in such article into the United States and (b) in the case of a domestic article, the cost of transporting such article from the areas of substantial production that can reasonably be expected to ship the article to the principal port of importation into the United States of the like or similar competitive article.

(H) Rules and Regulations of President—The President is authorized to make all needful rules and regulations for carrying out the provisions of this section.

(I) Rules and Regulations of Secretary of Treasury—The Secretary of the Treasury is authorized to make such rules and regulations as he may deem necessary for the entry and declaration of imported articles of the class or kind of articles upon which the President has made a proclamation under the provisions of Subdivision (B) of this section and for the form of invoice required at time of entry.

(J) Investigations Prior to Enactment of Act—All uncompleted investigations instituted prior to the approval of this act under the provisions of Section 315 of the tariff act of 1922, including investigations in which the President has not proclaimed changes in classification or increases or decreases in rates of duty, shall be dismissed without prejudice, but the information and evidence secured by the commission in any such investigation may be given due consideration in any investigation instituted under the provisions of this section.

CONVERSION PROCESS.

Text of Section 340, affecting the proposed conversion of ad valorem tariff rates to a domestic or United States value, follows:

DOMESTIC VALUE—CONVERSION OF RATES.

(A) Conversion of Rates by Commission—The commission shall ascertain, with respect to each of the ad valorem rates of duty, and each of the rates of duty regulated by the value of the article specified in this act, an ad valorem rate (or a rate regulated by the value of the article, as the case may be) which, if applied upon the basis of domestic vaule, would have resulted as nearly as possible in the imposition, during the period from July 1, 1927, to June 30, 1929, both dates inclusive, of amounts of duty neither greater nor less than would have been collectible at the rate specified in this act applied on the basis of value defined in Section 402 of the tariff act of 1922.

(B) Report to Congress by Commission—The commission shall, as soon as practicable, but in no event later than Jan. 1, 1932, submit a report to the Congress setting forth the classes of articles, with respect to which the conversion of rates has been made, together with the converted rates applicable thereto.

(C) Data to Be Furnished by Secretary of Treasury and Secretary of Commerce—To assist the commission in carrying out the provisions of this section the Secretary of the Treasury and the Secretary of Commerce are authorized and directed to furnish to the commission, upon request, any data or information in the possession or control of their respective departments relating to the importation, entry, appraisement and classification of merchandise and the collection of duties thereon.

(D) Definitions—When used in this section: (1) The term "domestic value," applied with respect to imported merchandise, means (a) the price at which such or similar imported merchandise is freely offered for sale, at the time of importation of the imported merchandise, packed ready for delivery, in the principal market of the United States to all purchasers, in the usual wholesale quantities and in the ordinary course of trade, or (b) if such or similar imported merchandise is not so offered for sale in the United States, then an estimated value, based on the price at which merchandise, whether imported or domestic, comparable in construction or use with the imported merchandise, is so offered for sale, with such adjustments as may be necessary owing to differences in size, material, construction, texture and other differences.

(2) The term "rate of duty regulated by the value of the article" means a rate of duty regulated in any manner by the value of the article, and includes the value classification by which such rate is regulated.

PRESENT VALUATION.

VALUE.

(A) Basis—For the purposes of this act the value of imported merchandise shall be:

(1) The foreign value or the export value, whichever is higher;

(2) If the appraiser determines that neither the foreign value nor the export value can be satisfactorily ascertained, then the United States value;

(3) If the appraiser determines that neither the foreign value, the export value, nor the United States value can be satisfactorily ascertained, then the cost of production;

(4) If there be any similar competitive article manufactured or produced in the United States of a class or kind upon which the President has made public a finding as provided in Subdivision (B) of Section 336 of this act, then the American selling price of such article.

(B) Foreign Value—The foreign value of imported merchandise shall be the market value or the price at the time of exportation of such merchandise to the United States, at which such or similar merchandise is freely offered for sale to all purchasers in the principal markets of the country from which exported, in the usual wholesale quantities and in the ordinary course of trade, including the cost of all containers and coverings of whatever nature, and all other costs, charges and expenses incident to placing the merchandise in condition, packed ready for shipment to the United States.

(C) Export Value—The export value of imported merchandise shall be the market value or the price, at the time of exportation of such merchandise to the United States, at which such or similar merchandise is freely offered for sale to all purchasers in the principal markets of the country from which exported, in the usual wholesale quantities and in the ordinary course of trade, for exportation to the United States, plus, when not included in such price, the cost of all containers and coverings of whatever nature, and all other costs, charges and expenses incident to placing the merchandise in condition, packed ready for shipment to the United States.

BASIS OF VALUING.

(D) United States Value—The United States value of imported merchandise shall be (1) the price at which such or similar imported merchandise is freely offered for sale at the time of importation of the imported merchandise, packed ready for delivery, in the principal market of the United States to all purchasers in the usual wholesale quantities and in the ordinary course of trade, or (2) if such or similar imported merchandise is not so offered for sale in the United States, then an estimated value, based on the price at which merchandise, whether imported or domestic, comparable in construction or use with the imported merchandise, is so offered for sale, with such adjustments as may be necessary owing to differences in size, material, construction, texture and other differences, making due allowance in either case for cost of transportation and insurance, and other necessary expenses from the place of shipment to the place of delivery, a commission not exceeding 6 per centum, if any has been paid or contracted to be paid on goods obtained otherwise than by purchase, or profits not to exceed 8 per centum and general expenses not to exceed 8 per centum on purchased goods, for duty.

In any case in which the price of comparable domestic merchandise is used as a basis, such allowances shall be based upon the costs, expenses, commission (or profits and general expenses) and duty in respect of the imported merchandise.

(E) Cost of Production—For the purpose of this title the cost of production of imported merchandise shall be the sum of—

1. The cost of materials of, and of fabrication, manipulation or other process employed in manufacturing or producing such or similar merchandise at a time preceding the date of exportation of the particular merchandise under consideration which would ordinarily permit the manufacture or production of the particular merchandise under consideration in the usual course of business;
2. The usual general expenses (not less than 10 per centum of such cost) in the case of such or similar merchandise;
3. The cost of all containers and coverings of whatever nature, and all other costs, charges and expenses incident to placing the particular merchandise under consideration in condition, packed ready for shipment to the United States; and
4. An addition for profit (not less than 8 per centum of the sum of the amounts found under Paragraphs 1 and 2 of this subdivision) equal to the profit which ordinarily is added, in the case of merchandise of the same general character as the particular merchandise under consideration, by manufacturers or producers in the country of manufacture or production who are engaged in the production or manufacture of merchandise of the same class or kind.

(F) American Selling Price—The American selling price of any article manufactured or produced in the United States shall be the price, including the cost of all containers and coverings of whatever nature and all other costs, charges and expenses incident to placing the merchandise in condition packed ready for delivery, at which such article is freely offered for sale to all purchasers in the principal market of the United States in the ordinary course of trade and in the usual wholesale quantities in such market, or the price that the manufacturer, producer or owner would have received or was willing to receive for such merchandise when sold in the ordinary course of trade and in the usual wholesale quantities at the time of exportation of the imported article.

WOULD GIVE PRIZES TO NEW PARK PLANS

INSPECT SITE FROM BOATS

Daniel DeV. Harned Says Staten Island Recreational Area Will Accommodate 1,000,000 Persons.

A resolution petitioning the Board of Estimate and Apportionment to initiate a competition with "suitable and substantial" prizes for the three best plans for the development of the proposed Marine Park and Basin at Great Kills, S. I., was adopted yesterday at a luncheon held by the Park Association of New York, Inc.

Eighty-five persons, including civic leaders, landscape architects, aquatic sportsmen, shipbuilders and city and Federal authorities, attended the luncheon at Kotte's Hotel in Great Kills, following an inspection from the water of Crookes Point, the park site.

Harned Describes Project.

M. Lawrence Craner of the park association was chairman of the luncheon in the absence of Nathan Straus Jr., president of the association. Daniel DeV. Harned, first vice president of the Community Councils of the City of New York, said:

"The park will have a water frontage of six miles, two miles of beach facing Sandy Hook and four miles along Great Kills Basin. The beach fronting the bay will be ideal for enjoyment by little children and their mothers; the four miles facing the harbor will insure permanent anchorage for innumerable yachts and power boats and accommodate thousands of boys and girls and older folks interested in aquatic sports which require quiet water.

"It is estimated that a park of the size and character described will care for more than 1,000,000 people without overcrowding."

Mr. Harned pointed out that Controller Berry recently reported to the Board of Estimate that "unless some drastic action is taken in the very near future the channel of the inlet (to Great Kills Basin) will be entirely closed as a result of the action of the sea." An embankment along the entrance channel, to prevent this, would cost not more than $48,000, Mr. Harned said. Following his address a resolution was adopted asking the Board of Estimate to appropriate funds to be used in whatever manner is deemed advisable for protecting the channel.

War Department to Cooperate.

Lieut. Col. R. W. Ward, War Department engineer, told the gathering that the War Department is prepared to cooperate with the city in its plans for the park as soon as assurance is given that the city intends to go forward with the project. The Board of Estimate already has authorized the Controller to pay $700,000 for the property needed. The New York State Land Office Commission has granted to the city rights to land under water in the vicinity of Crookes Point.

The idea of offering prizes for development plans originated with Mr. Straus, who has recalled that such a plan was adopted when Central Park was purchased but that no "set plan of landscaping" has been used for other large park tracts acquired since that time. The resolution adopted asks that "there be a competition held for the best plan for the construction, development and beautifying of the proposed Marine Park and Basin at Great Kills, S. I., with suitable and substantial prizes, for the first, second and third plan accepted by a committee to be appointed by the Mayor of the city of New York.

MAY MAKE ROY DAVIS AMBASSADOR TO PERU

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—Roy Tasco Davis, American Minister to Costa Rica and a "career" man of the United States Foreign Service, may be elevated to the post of American Ambassador to Peru, according to authoritative reports on Capitol Hill today. He would succeed Alexander P. Moore of Pittsburgh, who returned to the United States in July from Lima on leave and who is planning to retire from the service.

If Mr. Davis is selected for the post at Lima it will be the first expression of President Hoover's new policy of placing "career" men of the diplomatic service in nearly all of the Central and South American diplomatic posts, which the President is understood to consider the "front line" of American foreign relations, and where trained and seasoned diplomats are considered vitally essential in the conduct of the foreign relations of the United States.

The post at Lima would be the third diplomatic post held by Mr. Davis. He was originally appointed American minister to Guatemala by President Harding in 1921. A year later he was transferred to San Jose, where he has since remained.

According to reports here, Mr. Davis has been unusually successful in the conduct of American foreign relations in Costa Rica and is reported to be highly thought of by President Hoover as a result of the enthusiastic reception given him when as President-elect he visited San Jose on his South American tour.

250,000 Used Playgrounds Daily.

The 431 vacation playgrounds maintained by the Board of Education in New York City accommodated more than 250,000 children daily during the Summer, it was announced yesterday by the Playground and Recreation Association of America. The games, swimming and handicraft contests for children were conducted by a staff of 1,800 persons.

ASSURES CANADIANS OF PREFERENCE RULE

READY TO HOLD A PARLEY

British Employment Minister Says Dominion Should Buy More Goods in England.

MONTREAL, Que., Aug. 28.—J. H. Thomas, Lord Privy Seal and Minister in Charge of Employment in the British Labor Government, in an address before the Montreal Canadian Club today stated that his government was ready to hold an economic conference with the Dominion and was willing that such a conference be held in Canada. He said that the government did not want to drag the people to London, and this, he thought, showed the spirit in which the British Government was approaching the trade question.

Mr. Thomas also emphatically declared that R. Philip Snowden, Chancellor of the Exchequer, had no intention of abolishing the preference system as it existed in trade within the empire today. He pointed out that Britain did not want Canada to purchase British goods unless it was good business to do so.

Should price, quality, and service be equal, Canada should give Britain more of its trade, instead of giving it to other countries, he said. Figures showed, he added, that Britain bought twice as much from Canada as Canada bought from Britain, while the United States found its best customer in the Dominion.

Mr. Thomas declared that the maintenance of the British commonwealth of nations in all its integrity was as safe in the hands of the Labor party as it had been in the hands of any of the former governments.

Furthermore, he said that the Labor government, when driven too hard, would fight for British rights, as exemplified by the action of Mr. Snowden at the Hague reparations conference.

Nevertheless, he said, the Labor govrnment was ready to show by deeds as well as by words its willingness to help in the banishment of war from the world's future, and was ready to help in limitation of armaments wherever the opportunity occurred.

In discussing unemployment, the speaker said that he had made some definite proposals to the Dominion Government which might, in his opinion, make it possible for Canada to help in the solution of Britain's problem. According to the general tenor of his remarks, this would lie in the direction of stronger trade relations, rather than in wholesale immigration to this country from the old land.

INVITES WALKER TO DEBATE.

Norman Thomas, Socialist candidate for Mayor, made public yesterday a letter to Mayor Walker inviting him to take part in a three-cornered debate on the issues of the municipal campaign. Mr. Thomas said that Representative LaGuardia, Republican designee, had agreed to participate.

"I am delighted to see by the papers that you have broken what they have called your dignified silence if only to call your opponents names," wrote Mr. Thomas to the Mayor. "For there is so much value in public discussion that I welcome this beginning and suggest that, now that the ice is broken, you keep talking about the issues of the campaign. To do this successfully requires, as I have suggested and Major LaGuardia has agreed, that we should meet in public discussion. How else can you show us up as 'akin to Bolsheviks'—a piece of repartee which I am sure you can improve on by practice. Since radio has become a peculiarly valuable means of public discussion, and since New York City owns its own radio station, would it not serve a genuine educational function to allot a certain time for political discussions which all parties should share equally?"

Mr. Thomas went on to assail the semiannual report of Police Commissioner Whalen and to declare that the morale of the department was being lowered because of political interference with the department.

PLANES TO USE LETTERS.

Nationality and Service Must Be Shown in Foreign Commerce.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—Airplane licenses issued by the Department of Commerce in future will bear the prefix letter "N," signifying the American nationality of the plane, Edward P. Howard, chief of the air regulations division, announced today. Only licenses issued for experimental purposes will be excepted.

American airplanes operating regularly or temporarily in foreign air commerce are required to display the nationality symbol on wings and rudder, followed by either the symbol "C" or "R," the former denoting the commercial character of the plane and the latter its use for specifically designated purposes, such as racing, crop dusting or aerial photography.

Mr. Howard said that airplane owners will be allowed to use the international prefix with the license numbers painted on wings and rudders of aircraft licensed for operation in the United States. This use, he explained, will be required only when the plan is operated in foreign commerce.

Gets Mexican Air Mail Rights.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—A contract between the Mexican Government and Mexican Aviation Company, a subsidiary of Pan-American Airways, has been signed, whereby the company, in return for a $200,000 investment in the Central Airport of Mexico City, is to have preferential rights in the carriage of Mexican air mail and other preferential treatment, according to a report to the Commerce Department by George Wythe, commercial attache at Mexico City.

forced to compare the conditions as I find them with those that existed when I first traveled through the State, twenty or more years ago.

We have a very real problem and it is a problem that confronts not only the farmers themselves, but, at least to an equal extent, the business men of the State and those who are wage-earners in the cities of the State.

I recall, for example, one very lovely old lady who came down to the canal to see me at a place called Montezuma. She was a fine woman, 80 years old, and had lived on a large and formerly prosperous farm ever since her father had brought her to the central part of the State on the old Erie Canal when she was three weeks old.

On that farm she had raised a large family in comfort, but today, in her declining years, she struggles to make both ends meet. This example is, I am sorry to say, typical of thousands of acres which two generations ago provided a prosperous livelihood for an intelligent and progressive population.

Would Assure Good Living.

I will not recite to you the steps which, at the suggestion of the Governor's Agricultural Advisory Commission, have already been taken to relieve farmers of some of the unjust tax burdens, nor of other steps, which might be called emergencies, to equalize the burdens more clearly.

The ultimate goal is, socially and economically, briefly stated. It is to arrive at the day when the average farmer in this State will be assured of as good living conditions and as much earning power in the average year as the skilled mechanic or small business man in the cities of the State.

I want tonight to discuss an economic trend which I believe to be on the way, and which is sound, both from the point of view of geography and the point of view of economics.

It is perfectly true that this is one great nation in which we live, yet we are apt to look at some of the economic features of our life too little from the regional viewpoint.

Let me cite an example of what I mean. The 6,000,000 people in the city of New York are the daily users of hundreds of thousands of quarts of milk and cream.

Tells of Milk Inspection Limit.

Modern medical science requires that the milk and cream be pure and free from dangerous bacteria from the moment of its production to the moment of its consumption by the man, woman or child in the city. That requires inspection by the city health authorities of the source of supply—i. e., the individual farms where the milk and cream is produced.

Two years ago the Health Commissioner of New York City adopted the very wise and practical business policy of confining the area to which his inspectors could go to points within a reasonable distance of New York City, eliminating thereby costly and time-consuming visits to scattered individual farms through a dozen States of the Middle West.

Thus was created what is known as the New York milkshed. It includes the whole of the State of New York and a few near-by points in New Jersey, Northern Pennsylvania and Vermont. The New York City inspectors thus have only a homogeneous easily-reached district to cover and the cost of this governmental function has been put on a practical business basis.

At the same time every effort is being made by the Dairymen's League and other cooperating agencies to bring the milk and cream production of this area up to the needs of New York City and to keep the production up to the necessary maximum from year to year.

Recommends Near-by "Milkshed."

This is sound economics for two reasons. It means that the elimination of Western milk and cream will prevent extreme fluctuations in the cost of milk and cream to the individual user in New York City, and secondly, it means that farmers engaged in the production of milk will be assured of a definite market year in and year out.

By the same token, it is good economics for the Western farmer, for if the same practice is established in the cities of the Middle West, the Western farmer, through proper cooperation, will build up the same kind of stabilized market in the cities of his own vicinity such as exists in New York today.

In addition to all of this, the consumer, both in the West and in the East, is assured of fresher and safer milk and the railroads can make great operating savings in having definite shipping schedules instead of the fluctuating hit-or-miss methods that existed in transportation up to the time this splendid step was taken.

What I am driving at is this. If the cities of New England, the city of Philadelphia, the city of Baltimore and other centres of the East could carry out the same method of the encouragement and maintenance of a local and near-by milkshed, the dairy industry throughout the Eastern States in a very few years would automatically be stabilized.

Tells of Dumped Cabbages.

Now if this principle can be successfully applied to milk and cream—and I am glad to say other cities and States are following our lead—why in the name of common sense can it not be applied to other agricultural products which are locally used?

If we can have a successful milk shed, why should we not have a successful vegetable shed?

I do not, of course, refer to the out-of-season vegetables, which have necessarily a nation-wide distribution. For instance, in the Spring of the year thousands of carloads of vegetables come to Northern and Western cities from the South several weeks before those same vegetables can ripen in the North. I refer of course to the seasons in which vegetables come to maturity in our own individual localities.

What, for instance, is the economic use of the spectacle of huge dump scows being towed down New York Harbor and out to sea for the purpose of threwing overboard dozens of carloads of cabbages—which have come to the New York City market from the East and Middle West, and in many cases the far West—all arriving the same day in such quantities that they could only be consumed if the 6,000,000 people in New York all decided to eat corned beef and cabbage three meals a day for a week?

The growers of those unfortunate cabbages blame the commission merchants when they get no return and are out of pocket for the shipping charges, but the fault lies not with the commission merchants but with the lack of planning by the communities and the growers as a whole.

State Control for Markets.

The manufacturer of shoes or the producer of automobiles does not send a trainload lot of shoes or automobiles to the New York market, or any other large city, on consignment in the fond hope that he can sell them in forty-eight hours. Why should vegetable growers and vegetable dealers and the vegetable consuming public lay down another and different rule?

The next practical step for us to take is to devise means by which, for example, the vegetable supply of the cities of New York State will be placed on a State-wide basis. This can be arrived at only by cooperation between the city-dwelling public on the one side, and the vegetable-growing farmers, on the other.

Another example: The same proposition applies to fruit. Nobody would expect us in the East to limit in any way the shipping of early peaches or grapes from the further South before our own fruit is ripe. Nevertheless, when our own fruit is ripe, it is an economic waste for us to be bringing in fruit of no better grade or quality from other sections of the country.

We all know the story of the Oregon apple. We must take off our hats to the energy and salesmanship of our friends in Oregon and Washington who have created a demand in our New York State cities for apples which have to be transported 3,000 miles. The story of the success of the Western apple is well known in every Eastern city, in spite of the knowledge that we can, if we want to, raise equally fine and perhaps better-tasting apples in our own orchards.

One trouble is, of course, that too many thousands of farmers in the East continue to flood the local markets with inferior, under-sized, badly packed apples, with the result that the average retail merchant prefers to handle the product from the Pacific Coast because the buying public wants something that looks good as well as tastes good.

If we could build up the same cooperative interest among the apple growers of the State of New York as we have succeeded in building up among the dairy farmers, we would soon be able to establish an apple shed for the cities of our State.

In all of this work of regional planning for the production and consumption of agricultural products we need the same cooperation from business men as they are now giving to city and suburban planning.

We need their study in conjunction with farmers of the physical and material needs of marketing. We need their interest in the building up of common-sense pride in the use of our own products.

Over in New England, the organization known as the New England Conference has already accomplished great things in teaching the average citizen to prefer to use the products of New England rather than to buy articles which are no better but which happen to be made in totally different sections of the country.

Advocates Regional Planning.

I am confident that the theory of regional planning for the more local use of all future situations is economically sound. It will result, in the long run, in a more stabilized price, in the prevention of overproduction, in the more permanent employment of labor, in the saving of transportation duplication and waste, and in a better understanding between the city and farm populations.

I look for the day when, throughout the length and breadth of the United States, zones will be established for the production and consumption of whatever the soil within that zone is best fitted to raise whatever the local demands of consumption require.

Let us not forget that the prosperity of the country, both State and national, is dependent nearly as much on the prosperity of the agricultural population as on the prosperity of the city dweller.

Need of City Cooperation.

If the farming population does not have sufficient producing power to buy new shoes, new clothes, new automobiles, the manufacturing centres must suffer. It is time for us, who are in business or in governmental positions, to regard this task as our own and to realize that the farm problem is not confined to wheat, corn and cotton.

Much can still be done, to equalize the burden of taxation, to meet the waste which undoubtedly exists in local government and to reduce other economic burdens, such as the inequality of the tariff in its relation to the farmer.

But in the final analysis, we need, more than anything else, a definite determination on the part of the business men, of the city dwellers and of the agricultural population to join hands in creating a permanent basis of production, transportation, sale and consumption in which the natural economic laws will take precedence.

Carl Von Wiegand, dean of foreign newspaper correspondents abroad, selected the new Filmo 70-D for the globe-circling tour, appreciative of its instant and all-round adaptability to photographic requirements under every condition of weather, speed, distance, and light

BLAZING a new trail around the earth's skyways, Filmo motion picture cameras aboard the Graf Zeppelin today are clicking off foot after foot of thrilling movies for their distinguished owners. Two of the veterans aboard, Carl Von Wiegand and Lady Grace Drummond Hay, bought Filmos especially for the trip. No other movie camera would do! Overhead, today, Filmo is filming history in the making. It was inevitable, for Filmo cameras grow from a tradition of movie pioneering as old as the industry itself. For 22 years Bell & Howell have supplied professional movie cameras to the world's major producers. Filmo, as precise as a fine watch and as sturdy as its big Hollywood brothers, reflects this long experience in every detail of its design and manufacture.

Movies of your family, your children, your friends . . . movies of your vacations, travels, outings and your favorite sports—that is what a Filmo is for. It is easier than taking snapshots. To operate Filmo means merely to look through the view-finder, press the button, and "What you see, you get."

"This is the camera for me! It is so light and compact that I can slip it right into my jacket pocket!" Thus exclaimed Lady Grace Drummond Hay in selecting her Filmo 75 for the round-the-world air voyage

175,000 SEE BABIES PARADE AT ASBURY

1,000 YOUNGSTERS IN LINE

Two Daughters of Representative Hoffman Receive Cups and the Queen's Award of Automobile.

Special to The New York Times.

ASBURY PARK, N. J., Aug. 28.—The crown of the champion of American babies tonight rested upon the head of Gloria Matthews, 3-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sherman T. Matthews of Lakewood, N. J. The award was made in the thirty-eighth annual national baby parade here today. A crowd estimated in excess of 175,000 viewed the spectacle of 1,000 children along Ocean Avenue.

Riding with a float representing "Byrd in the Antarctic," the Matthews child won the award in the national division, the seventh section to march in the parade. By virtue of the fact that the entry had won the Queen's prize in the baby parade at Point Pleasant, N. J., it was eligible for competition in the national division. The award carries with it a prize of $500 in gold.

Jersey City Baby Second.

The second award in the national division went to Bobbie Bates, 2-year-old son of Mr. and Crs. C. S. Bates of Jersey City, with the entry "Pioneer Days." The child rode in a miniature stage coach with three wheels. Where the fourth wheel should have been there was a plank which dragged along the street.

The third winner in the national division was Naomi Geisenhouer, 6-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert G. Geisenhouer of Wildwood, N. J., with a float representing "sunshine and snowflakes."

The award of three prizes to the float entry of Representative Harold G. Hoffman was a feature of the parade. The Hoffman entry "Joan of Arc" with a mechanical horse, which was constantly in operation throughout the march, received as a prize an automobile, a grand prize of a silver loving cup and first prize in the float division.

The parade, in addition to the thousands lining the sides of Ocean Avenue, was witnessed by ten thousand persons who sat in the amphitheatre, where the queen, Titania XXXVIII, Miss Charlotte Hance Fritz of Woodmere, L. I., and Spring Lake, N. J., reviewed the marchers. Governor Morgan L. Larson and his staff sat in a box opposite the dais upon which the queen and the members of her court were seated.

The parade, which was initiated by James A. Bradley thirty-eight years ago with fewer than 170 children in line, took more than two hours to pass in review before the queen and the grand judges.

'FREEDOM OF SEAS' CALLED FIRM POLICY

OPPOSES LEAGUE 'CONTROL'

Professor Reeves, However, Asserts This Country Is Bound to Others by Kellogg Pact.

CANADA'S POSITION DEFINED

Her Interest Is to Take American Viewpoint in British Empire, Halifax Man Declares.

By LOUIS STARK,
Staff Correspondent of The New York Times.

WILLIAMSTOWN, Mass., Aug. 28.—The "old" and "new" interpretations of "freedom of the seas" were debated at the Institute of Politics today.

Rear Admiral W. L. Rodgers, retired, who upheld the former, which he argued was still the American policy, asserted that the United States should reserve the freedom to trade with any belligerent until the merits of the specific case were apparent. It would be highly dangerous for this country to accept the leadership of the League of Nations as to which nation in a quarrel might be the "aggressor," he said. A League boycott would, according to Admiral Rodgers, "throw most of the expense of maintaining it on our arrested industries."

Professor Jesse Siddall Reeves of the University of Michigan, who took the other side, maintained that "freedom of the seas," in the old sense, did not exist. He said that he agreed with the statement of President Wilson in 1916 that the position of a neutral had become intolerable.

He was unable to see how, under the Kellogg pact, the United States could, in the future, stand aside, reserving its right to "freedom of the seas" and "to make 7 per cent out of the necessities of the belligerents." ents."

If there was any security at all in the League of Nations and the Kellogg pact, he declared, "freedom of the seas" had passed into history, "along with privateering and other remnants of past glory."

Sees Chance to Ban Submarines.

George Young, co-author with Lieut. Commander J. M. Kenworthy of "Freedom of the Seas," pointed out that privateers had once been engaged in destroying commerce and that the majority of the powers had stopped privateering by agreement. In the same way he felt that the use of submarines might be stopped.

He was confident that there would be no difficulty for two great powers to agree to forego the use of submarines. While he admitted that some powers would be reluctant to give up undersea fighting craft, Mr. Young believed they would do so if they had assurances of security.

In a discussion of Canadian interest in the Anglo-American relations, Robert A. Mackay of Dalhousie University said that Canada's peculiar position in the British Commonwealth and as a North American power enabled her to exert perhaps the preponderating influence on American questions in the empire's councils. He referred to the unguarded 4,000-mile frontier between the United States and Canada and said that Canada had gambled on continued peace between herself and the United States and between the United States and England. It was important for Americans to understand that in many situations involving British foreign policy Canada had the controlling voice.

"Canada is a hostage to Anglo-American peace," he declared. "Her vital interests demand peace. With all due respect to our distinguished Admirals present, may I say that the security of the United States against Great Britain is not the British Navy. Security lies rather in the fact that Canada is at once a member of the British Commonwealth and a North American power."

Admiral Hussey Cites Variances.

Admiral C. L. Hussey, retired, who was in charge of the conference, said that the recent protracted impasse in Anglo-American naval negotiations was not simply a matter of tons and guns, but was due to "irreconcilable concepts of human relations." He said that the "American concept of equal opportunity" was opposed "to the English concept of special privilege." He suggested that forbearance by all the great powers and world dominance by none would make for freedom of the seas, security, stability and world peace.

In his discussion Professor Reeves said that freedom of the seas in the old meaning of the term could not be maintained except by force and declared that "a freedom of the seas which looks toward war in times of peace is the greatest obstacle to peace."

In the event of another war, Professor Reeves said, the United States would find itself in a position where, with virtually everything except "rubberless baby carriages" on the contraband list, it would run into trouble if it insisted on the old policy of freedom of the seas. He argued that the Kellogg pact made it impossible for this country to be neutral in any conflict, since the pact required certain obligations on the part of this nation.

Professor William Marshall Brown of Princeton University said that Professor Reeves assumed that neutrality had been abolished instead of being the goal toward which the United States was tending. As to parity, Dr. Brown said the trouble was in the difference on two historic points of view; England has a just thesis for a navy that would protect her vast empire, and the United States must always be in a position to resist dictation.

Mr. Young declared himself a "bull on Anglo-American relations, not a John Bull." The difficulty in the naval negotiations lay in parity, and that could be brough about by agreement that the power which had the preponderance of cruisers should build more slowly, while the other power should build more quickly.

Discussing aerial warfare, Mr. Young remarked that in his opinion all commerce would be air borne in a hundred years. Airplanes could not, like submarines which have no commercial purpose, be abolished out of hand, but their use in war could be checked by restrictions.

Rodgers for Merchant Marine.

Admiral Rodgers, in speaking of the economic background of freedom of the seas, said that all wars had shown that, in order to maintain a measure of freedom for our neutral trade, we must have a commercial fleet capable of carrying a large share of American foreign trade and a navy capable of defending it.

"If this country, being neutral, expects to insist that her merchants may supply belligerents overseas, she must be ready to fight in order to aid her friend," he said, adding, "and that is not neutrality."

The Admiral asserted that freedom of the seas and prohibition of American export of munitions were advocated abroad because they tended to limit the commercial power of this country, "to the advantage of our foreign competitors." He advocated freedom of commercial action in time of war "until the merits of specific cases are clearly apparent."

In his final lecture tonight Professor T. E. Gregory of the London School of Economics dealt with the relations of British financial policy to the unemployment situation. The formal plans of the Liberal and Labor parties for dealing with unemployment, while differing with regard to the part that should be played by the State, were identical. Both parties propose a vigorous policy of "public works" to relieve unemployment, while the British Treasury was skeptical of the economic policy involved.

Dr. Eugene Staley of the University of Chicago proposed for discussion at the round table on inter-allied debts a plan to link war debts owed to the United States with disarmament. The proposal was to have the President announce to those nations in debt to the United States that whenever arms could be radically reduced by international agreement the United States would reduce her claims in the same ratio; that if armaments were slashed one-half the United States would write off half of the war debts.

Frank B. Jewett, vice president of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company, at a round table conducted by Dr. Harrison E. How, said it was hoped that the new transatlantic telephone cable would be opened in 1930. Mr. Jewett said that the new means of instantaneous communication were having a revolutionary effect on commerce, diplomacy and the prospects of war. Television and loud speaking telephones would enable the world soon to know of objects and events with time and space eliminated, he predicted.

AUBURN CONVICTS ESCAPE.

Two Take Truck and Get Away From Venice Road Camp.

AUBURN, Aug. 28 (AP).—John V. Rooman, aged 39, of Buffalo, and George S. Ryan, 31 years old, of Corning, were missing when the breakfast count was taken at the Venice road camp of the Auburn State prison today. Apparently they made their escape during the night while the other convicts were asleep.

A one-ton truck owned by the town of Venice was also reported missing. It had been parked near the camp, and it was believed the prisoners used the truck in escaping.

Rooman was doing two to five years for grand larceny, having been received at the prison Dec. 10, 1927. Ryan was serving a sentence of five years for grand larceny, second degree, second offense. He was received Oct. 15, 1926.

ACCEPT 3 FOR JURY IN STRIKERS' TRIAL

VENIREMEN PROVE FRANK

Most of Those Excused for Prejudice Freely Admit It When Asked.

By JOSEPH SHAPLEN,

CHARLOTTE, N. C., Aug. 28.—The battle for the lives of thirteen Communists and strikers, who with three women co-defendants facing possible prison sentences, are on trial here for the killing of Chief of Police O. F. Aderholt of Gastonia, began in earnest today. Three men, two farmers and a structural steel worker, were selected for the jury.

The three jurors chosen from a special panel of 200 were S. L. Caldwell, a farmer; J. L. McCoy, the steel worker, and Zeb Morris Jr., who helps work his father's farm. They said their minds were free of any opinions as to who shot Aderholt, that they had no prejudice against labor unions, and that they would acquit any man who was shown to have killed in defense of his life or property.

Self-defense, as indicated by the questioning of prospective jurymen by defense counsel, will play a large part in the fight to free the defendants. Judge M. V. Barnhill said today that he will admit evidence showing that the strikers fired in self-defense upon Aderholt and his men on the night of June 7, when they came to strike headquarters.

Three Chosen Early.

The three jurors were chosen within an hour after the opening of the morning session, but the rest of the day was fruitless.

Few of those hostile to the defendants made any effort to conceal their hostility. The great majority of these openly and frankly stated they had formed definite opinions as to the guilt of all or some of the defendants, and the defense counsel had no trouble in having them dismissed. Quite a few said they believed in the innocence of the accused.

The State used seventeen of its fifty-eight peremptory challenges and the defense twenty-five of the unprecedented number of 168 peremptory challenges at its disposal. Thirty-four men were excused for cause, most of them because of openly expressed prejudice against the defendants. Together with the three jurors selected and those excused for inability to serve, eighty-five men were examined.

In all cases objected to by the State in which a prospective juror revealed a belief that the defendants were not guilty or showed a determined inclination to give them the benefit of doubt, the court compelled the State to resort to peremptory challenges.

Sharp Division of Opinion.

Nearly every one of them appeared anxious to be understood as clearly as possible as to where he stood on the issue. Some of those who declared that "some of them must be guilty" pleaded to be excused when the court tried to ascertain whether, despite their positive views, they could render an impartial verdict on the basis of the evidence.

They stated frankly that their minds were influenced to such an extent that they did not believe they could give the defendants a fair chance.

Colonel Johnson D. McCall, a portly baldheaded, bespectacled man of 50, with a wide, immaculate shirt front, conducted the examination for the defense. Colonel McCall has the reputation of knowing nearly everybody in the county, as does E. T. Cansler, who conducted the interrogation for the State.

Attorneys Clash at Outset.

Today's session opened with a clash between the attorneys for the defense and prosecution as to their own qualifications, when J. Frank Flowers, for the defense, rose and challenged some of the attorneys for the State on the ground that they were or had at some time been employed by the mills.

His attack was directed particularly against Major A. J. Bulwinkle, attorney for the Loray mill of the Manville-Jencks Company, where the strike resulting in the killing of Adelheit took place. Mr. Flowers demanded that each of the State's attorneys rise and say in open court by whom he was being paid.

One after another they arose and declared that they were employed and paid by the State of North Carolina, Gaston County or the city of Gastonia.

The attorneys for the State, through Mr. Cansler, then demanded to know by whom counsel for the defense was employed and where they received their compensation.

One after another the attorneys for the accused, with the exception of Arthur Garfield Hays of New York, bobbed up and announced they were employed by the International Labor Defense directly or through one of their colleagues and paid either by the defense organization or by other counsel. Mr. Hays said he was general counsel for the American Civil Liberties Union, but employed by the International Labor Defense, that he represented the defendants and received no payment.

DISTILLERS SLOW TO ACT.

Only Three of the Required Six Ask to Make Medicinal Liquor.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28 (AP).—Though the government this Fall will begin the distillation of 2,000,000 gallons of medicinal whisky to replace the diminishing supply now in bond, only three distillers have as yet filed applications for permits to produce the liquor.

Assistant Secretary Lowman said today the distillers seemed to be waiting for the Prohibition Bureau to select the distilleries which would be granted permits to produce bourbon and rye whisky. This he attributed to the statement of Prohibition Commissioner Doran that the bureau would select not more than six distilleries to manufacture the medicinal supplies.

The Prohibition Bureau announced some time ago that the production of whisky to replace the dwindling supply of medicinal liquor would start this Fall, as there was less than 10,000,000 gallons on hand and it would be nearly exhausted when the new liquor had been aged four years, as required under the bureau's rules. The legal consumption of whisky in this country the bureau set at between 1,500,000 and 2,000,000 gallons a year.

BROOKLINE, Mass., Aug. 28.—The team that swept the boards at Wimbledon to win the English championship, vanquished Germany's best pair in the interzone Davis Cup match and then went on to establish itself as the foremost combination of the world by defeating Henri Cochet and Jean Borotra in the challenge round, met its Waterloo at the hands of a scratch team playing together for the second time in two years this afternoon in the national doubles championship at the Longwood Cricket Club.

Fighting from behind for three savagely contested sets, John Van Ryn of East Orange, N. J., and Wilmer Allison of Austin, Texas, allowed victory to escape their grasp after they had gained a lead of 4—1 in the fifth chapter and Berkeley Bell and Lewis N. White, also of Austin, Texas, came through like men saved by a last minute reprieve to win at 6—4, 4—6, 6—4, 4—6, 8—6.

The defeat of the top seeded team in the tournament, which followed upon the elimination on Tuesday of Fritz Mercur and J. Gilbert Hall, the national clay court champions, was only the opening gun of an afternoon's onslaught that saw William Tilden and Francis Hunter carried to 7—5 in the fifth set by the Anglo-American team of Norman G. Farquharson and Gregory Mangin and that was marked by the eclipse of H. W. Austin and J. S. Olliff of the English Davis Cup team.

Win After Almost Losing.

Harris Coggeshall of Des Moines, Iowa, and Junior Coen of Kansas City, who accounted for Mercer and Hall, eliminated the British combination, after being within a stroke of defeat in the twenty-sixth game of the fourth set. Their greater lasting powers carried them through by the score of 6—4, 2—6, 1—6, 16—14, 6—2.

Tilden and Hunter, who were betrayed into a sense of false security by the ease with which they won the first two sets, came close to paying dearly for their over-confidence, as Mangin and Farquharson hit into a streak of magnificent tennis that had the Davis Cup veterans running for cover. It was only after the latter had trailed at 0—40 in the final game that they turned back the onslaught of drives and volleys of their rampaging young opponents. The score was 6—3, 6—3, 6—8, 3—6, 7—5.

George Lott of Chicago and John Doeg of Stanford, who survived Tuesday's play only by the grace of a volley that overhit their base line, were sufficiently chastened by that narrow escape to go to work with a vengeance today, and so they had the easiest afternoon of all the teams.

It was easy only by comparison, however, for Frank Shields and Donald Strachan were challenging their best all through a 12—10 first set, and it was only after the latter pair had used up all their ammunition in the second that Lott and Doeg were able to take a siesta. This match went at 12—10, 6—4, 6—2.

Final Round Saturday.

Tomorrow, in the semi-finals, Bell and White will meet Coggeshall and Coen in the upper semi-final at 2:30, and at 3:45 Tilden and Hunter will go on the courts with Lott and Doeg, who defeated them last week in the Newport invitation doubles. The final will be held on Saturday.

The defeat of Van Ryn and Allison is not the first they have sustained since their return from Europe, for Philip Neer of California and Bruce Barnes of Texas vanquished them at Newport. On that occasion, however, the Wimbledon champions were short of practice, having gone to Maine on a long vacation, and as unexpected as their defeat was, it was not difficult to understand.

The Texan combination showed a total lack of respect for the reputation of their opponents. They went into the match with their racquets primed for destruction and they set such a cyclonic pace that Allison was shaky all through the first four sets, while Van Ryn, who was the steadying influence, grabbed the balloon rope too in the closing stages after Allison had steadied down and begun to play his best tennis of the day.

Bell Fights Hard.

Bell and White afforded a strong contrast. The wiry little Bell, fairly bristling with aggressiveness, fighting with the fury of a tiger and sprawling all over the court, was a bundle of nerves compared to the tall, spare partner by his side, who was as cool as though he was going through a practice workout.

If Bell was the more sensational of the two and furnished most of the pyrotechnics with his headlong recoveries, his hitting volleys and his sham drive that fairly struck the racquets of Van Ryn and Allison from their hands, White was equally to be feared. The tall Texan's beautiful service, his flattening overhead smash, made with the same easy, graceful swing as his service; his whiplash drives from both wings and his piercing volleys accounted for fully as many points as did Bell.

In the first three sets Van Ryn was playing consistently fine tennis, with Allison faltering and giving away points on superfluous errors. It was Allison's complete miss of an overhead shot in the final rally that enabled the Texas team to break through him for the first set, and it was his double fault which gave the winning combination the final point of the fifth set. Van Ryn did not lose his service until the eighth game of this last chapter, whereas Allison was broken through repeatedly.

Seventh Goes at Love.

Allison's play in the first half of the last set made amends for his earlier mistakes, and as he and Van Ryn took four games in a row to pile up their lead of 4—1, they seemed to have the match sewed up. But in the next game the Texan slumped again, making two double faults to drop his own game, and White's superb service accounted for the seventh at love.

The eighth game was the critical one of the match. With Van Ryn serving, the Wimbledon champions gained a lead of 40-15. They needed only one more point for a 5-3 advantage and so hopelessly were their opponents on the defensive that there didn't appear to be the shadow of a doubt as to the ultimate outcome. But Bell and White, putting up a remarkable exhibition of lobbing against the smashes that were stabbing their base-line, hung on grimly and finally pulled out the game at 7-5, as both Van Ryn and Allison put volley after volley into the net.

That made the third game in a row that the Texans had won and they annexed the following one also for a 5-4 lead. From this point on the match developed into a duel of services, with four games in succession going at love. In the fourteenth game Van Ryn and Allison led at 30-0 and then Van Ryn had his worst period of the match. White, who rushed across court to retrieve Allison's sharply angled volley, gave the Texas combination vantage point and then came Allison's double fault, after a let had been called on his second serve, to bring the play to an end.

Tilden-Hunter in Lead.

The match between Tilden-Hunter and Mangin-Farquharson started as a romp for the Davis Cup veterans. Mangin and Farquhrason were ragged in their stroking and the play was so lacking in interest that the gallery hardly stirred for the first two sets.

In the third chapter, Tilden and Hunter broke through Mangin in the opening game and the end seemed to be in sight. But at this point the tide began to turn, Mangin and Farquharson suddenly found themselves and, with Tilden and Hunter resting on their laurels, the Anglo-American pair took command to set the gallery wild with their brilliant shot making.

Four games in a row went to them in quick fashion and by that time Tilden and Hunter were prepared to yield the set and finish the job in the fourth. But the fourth found Mangin and Farquharson standing by their guns without a sign of faltering and time and again Farquharson's magnificent volleys put the opposing pair to rout, while Mangin's terrific forehanders added to their troubles. Twice Tilden was broken through, and the score stood two sets all.

By this time Tilden and Hunter were thoroughly aroused, and they held nothing in reserve in the fifth. Though Tilden used all his stratagems and though Hunter's forehand was going across the net with the velocity of a bullet, they could not shake the defense of their opponents. A break through Farquharson in the third game was followed by one through Hunter in the fourth, and from then on games went in orthodox fashion until finally Farquharson, whose graceful volleys had the stand marveling, lost his touch, and his errors paved the way for the deciding break in the eleventh.

Three electrifying drives by Mangin and Farquharson gave them a 40 love lead in the twelfth, but here Tilden and Hunter steeled themselves and took five points in a row to end the match.

PORTES GIL TALKS SPORTS WITH ROOT

WILL HELP IN FOOTBALL

Wants It Played in All the Colleges and Promises to See the Next Game.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

MEXICO CITY, Mexico, Aug. 28.—President Emilio Portes Gil today told Reginald Root, tackle on the 1924 and 1925 Yale elevens and here this year coaching the University of Mexico football team, that he was delighted that the university boys were playing the game and he hoped it would spread to all other universities in Mexico.

The President received Coach Root at his castle at Chapultepec and discussed sports with him for half an hour. He had Root go with him later to Balbuena Field to inspect the athletic equipment there. A delegation of players from the University of Mexico went with Root to Chapultepec. Roberto Noriega, quarterback, who represented the university at the National Collegiate Athletic Association's conference at New Orleans last year, acted as spokesman and interpreter.

Wants to Thank Yale.

"I wish I could express my appreciation to Yale University," said President Portes Gil, "for having allowed Mr. Root to come to the University of Mexico. I feel strongly about sports and their educative value and I look forward to the time when there will be not only intercollegiate contests in football in Mexico but games with colleges in the United States.

"I shall be glad to give all possible encouragement to this sport in Mexico and shall look forward with pleasure to your next game. I shall be there. If it were not for the opening of Congress next Sunday I should attend the game on that date."

The university players told the President that they would be glad to postpone their contest on Sunday in order to have him there. The President expressed his pleasure. He then told his callers about his plans of developing a nation-wide interest in healthful sport. He described to Coach Root the athletic plant that is being laid out at Balbuena Field and asked the former if he would not go out there with him to see it. Root promptly accepted the President's invitation. The two compared notes on their point of view on sports and laughingly agreed they thought alike.

"Mexico's boys," said Root, "have shown the same characteristics in their football and the same aptitude for the sport as the American boys. They have lots of spirit and determination and persistence and you will be pleased to hear that they promise to develop fighting elevens. Football is a game for men and my boys have as fine manly qualities as any I ever have known."

President Is Pleased.

This greatly pleased President Portes Gil. He told Root that Mexico is entering an era of sport. Another remark by the Yale coach also delighted the President. "Your interest in sports," said Root, "has made a most favorable impression in the United States. Your campaign against alcohol is splendid, I think, for the youth of this country. Sound minds in sound bodies are the foundation today for American business."

This was the President's busy day for he was preparing his annual message and there was a line of Cabinet Ministers waiting to confer with him, but he became so enthusiastic in talking with Root that he kept the others waiting and then went out on the terrace of the castle and posed for a picture of himself and his callers.

At the parting with Root and the university students he urged the latter to be guided by the counsels of their coach to lead clean lives and especially keep away from liquor.

25,000 in Copenhagen See Brown Beat Larsen; Planes Signal Progress of Bout to the City

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

COPENHAGEN, Aug. 28.—Al Brown of Panama scored a victory on points tonight over Knud Larsen of Denmark, the European featherweight champion, before a tense crowd of 25,000. Brown was superior in almost every one of the twelve rounds although Larsen put up a game fight which thrilled the strongly partisan crowd to the core.

Thousands who were unable to get seats for Denmark's greatest sporting event got the news of the progress of the fight from airplanes which swooped low over the city with red alnterns glowing on wings as signals.

COPENHAGEN, Aug. 28 (AP).—Panama Al Brown dazzled Knud Larsen with his great variety of punches, faster footwork and lengthy reach that always kept leather in the aggressive Dane's features. A part of the crowd booed the decision loudly but Brown clearly won the advantage in the first seven rounds.

Brown dropped to his knees from a low blow to the body in the seventh but was able to continue. The blow seemed to slow Brown and Larsen won the next two rounds. Brown came back in the tenth and befuddled Larsen with his speed and hard punching.

Brown is scheduled to meet Teddy Baldock, the British champion, in New York in September.

PAIRS WITH TOLLEY TO WIN

Brown and Finlay Are Defeated, 4 and 2—Champion's Card Shows Six One-Putt Greens.

DEL MONTE, Cal., Aug. 28 (AP).—Bobby Jones broke par by two strokes today and set a new course record of 70 on the difficult Pebble Beach links, where the national amateur golf championship will be played Sept. 2-7. Yesterday John Dawson, Chicago, scored a 71.

Jones was out in 35 and back in 35. He had birdies on the fifth, sixth, fourteenth, fifteenth and sixteenth holes.

The Georgian was over par on the first, eleventh and thirteenth holes.

Jones was one under par on the first nine after scoring birdies on the fifth and sixth holes. His most spectacular streak, however, began on the fourteenth when he got the first of three consecutive birdies. He sank a twenty-footer on the fourteenth and sank putts of about six feet on the fifteenth and sixteenth.

On the sixteenth Bobby's approach shot bounced around but landed not far from the hole. It was the only piece of luck that entered the champion's play in his third practice round.

Tolley Registers a 79.

He played so easily that few in the gallery realized how far his score overshadowed the cards of the British amateur champion, Cyril Tolley; Phillips Finlay of Redlands, Cal., and Francis Brown of Honolulu. These three were in Jones's foursome, but none of them came within reaching distance of the champion's score. Tolley carded a 79, Finlay 80 and Brown 82.

Jones's 70 today is three strokes under the official record for the revised Pebble Beach course of 73 set by John J. McHugh of San Francisco.

The foursome comprised four of the longest hitters in the game. Tolley was hitting the longest ball today, although Finlay had an occasional smash that far outdistanced the British star.

Jones made no effort to match tee shots with Tolley or Finlay and Brown was off on his drives.

Although a little off line at the beginning of today's round, Jones's famous putter, "Calamity Jane," which has been erratic on the Pebble Beach greens, sent the champion down in one putt on six greens.

Tomorrow morning Jones and Francis Ouimet, Henry Lapham of Boston and Roger D. Lapham, president of the California Golf Association, will play the Cypress Point course.

Jones took 73 for his second round of the course yesterday. He had had the same card for his first round the day before.

Jones Studies the Course.

Where he was careless and nonchalant on Monday, Bobby was studious yesterday, although the result was the same. He went out in 35, one under par, and returned in 38, two over par. The best card in the champion's foursome was that of Dr. Paul Hunter of Pasadena, Cal., who was out in 35 and back in 37, for 72.

Jones's partner in the foursome, Jack Neville, California amateur champion, ran into trouble on his second shots, and was forced to pick up on five holes, ruining his score. George Von Elm of Detroit, who won the national amateur title in 1926, was paired with Dr. Hunter, and went out in 38 and back in 37, for a 75.

Bobby, who generally had aces expected to break into the 60s, paid strict attention to the play, tramping over the course and studying the contours of the different holes, the possibilities of interference from wind on the outer fairways, and the roll of the greens.

Second Ace in 2 Weeks Made By Foster on Inwood Course

INWOOD, L. I., Aug. 28.—Ben Foster of Inwood made a hole-in-one on the seventh hole at the Inwood Country Club course today while engaging in a foursome with George Katz, Dr. E. Ettlinger and Al Manowitch. Foster's ace was scored with a driver, the distance of the hole being 208 yards. Two weeks ago Foster also scored an ace on the sixth hole of the same course, the distance of which is 163 yards.

STUART'S 67 SETS FOX HILLS RECORD

FAILS TO GAIN A PRIZE

By LINCOLN A. WERDEN.

Mark Stuart three-putted the first green over his home club links, Fox Hills at Clifton, S. I., in the one-day tournament of the Metropolitan Golf Association yesterday, and the 5 that he holed there kept him from winning any of the three net prizes at stake.

The thought of that 5, however, had another effect, for it spurred him on to score a 67 and set a new amateur record for the course. Stuart's 67 was 3 under par.

Stuart literally had to race up and down the hills of the course to have his record round accepted. He arrived late and was the last man off shortly before 4 o'clock. With Lieutenant J. H. Kyger, also of Fox Hills, as his partner, Stuart managed to save some time as preceding two-somes allowed them to play through, and soon after he had holed his seventh birdie at the home green, Kyger did some sprinting himself, attested the card, hurried to the board and, with only minutes to spare before the official 7 o'clock closing time, had the score posted.

Four Under Par on Last Nine.

The best part of Stuart's great golf came over the closing nine, for after being out in 35, one over par, he clipped four shots from the regulation 36 coming back, holing five birdie three of them on the last four holes, to lower the record previously held by Pennington Miller-Jones with a 68.

Stuart finished among the dozen who turned in net scores to tie at 70 or better, being lowest with a 62, but since there was no gross prize and it is a rule of the association to decide the three net prizes by having the players match cards, Robert Farquahar of Richmond County received the first award with 76—7—69, by virtue of having a birde 3 at the first hole. Martin Isler of Suburban with 73—4—69 took the second prize, being away to a 4, 4 start, while Lester Rice of Salisbury was third with 82—13—69, having 4, 6 at the first two holes.

Ninety-four in Field.

But none of the ninety-four others who competed in this tournament, the first one-day affair the Metropolitan Association has ever staged on Staten Island, could match cards with Stuart after that first hole and hope to win prizes.

It was his best round over these links. Several times before in friendly rounds he has had 69s. The first three holes he considers to be his "jinx," and they proved to be yesterday as far as his chance for a prize was concerned. He was over par on four holes, and two of them were the first and third.

At the fourth and fifth he began his streak of birdies, holing a 4 at the fourth and sticking a spade mashie shot six feet from the pin for a deuce at the 165-yard sixth. Out in 35, with a 5 at the ninth, where he three-putted the green, he followed with another 5 at the tenth, where he overplayed the green. He scooped a birdie at the eleventh, one more on a fine chip at the thirteenth, the fifth one on a ten-foot putt at the fifteenth. He left himself only a yard putt on a beautiful pitch at the seventeenth, where he ran down his 3.

Hits Pin on Eighteenth.

Isler trailed Stuart by six shots with a 35, 36—71, and Sam Freeth of Salisbury and Miller-Jones with 39, 35—74 and 40, 35—75, respectively, followed.

MRS. MIDA TRIUMPHS OVER MRS. PRESSLER

MISS VAN WIE PUT OUT

MRS. HILL GAINS VICTORY

Mrs. Lifur, Miss Wall and Miss Wattles Among Survivors in Cleveland Competition.

By The Associated Press.

CLEVELAND, Aug. 28.—Mrs. Lee Mida of Chicago, who has been whacking golf balls around for almost a quarter of a century, and 16-year-old Miss Rena Nelson, her fellow-townswoman, created sensations in the women's Western championship tournament at Mayfield today, one by dethroning the defending champion and the other by eliminating the outstanding favorite.

Shooting the same brand of golf that has beaten many champions, but which seldom has brought her a title, Mrs. Mida conquered Mrs. Leona Pressler of Los Angeles, who was seeking her third straight crown, 2 and 1, while Miss Nelson, the baby of the field, halted the march of Miss Virginia Van Wie, Chicago's first-ranking golfer and runner-up in the 1928 national classic, 1 up.

As a result of these upsets the championship tonight appeared to be a toss-up among the eight survivors —Mrs. O. S. Hill of Kansas City, Mrs. Gregg Lifur and Miss Kathleen Wright of Los Angeles, Mrs. Harley Higbie of Detroit, Miss Bernice Wall of Oshkosh, Wis., Miss Peggy Wattles of Buffalo, and Mrs. Mida and Miss Nelson.

Miss Nelson in Uphill Fight.

Of the two triumphs, that of Miss Nelson, a slightly built girl who has been playing golf for only four seasons, was the most surprising. With no one giving her an outside chance to win, she played a brilliant game, took advantage of every break available and came from behind to conquer her far more experienced rival.

Miss Van Wie outstroked her youthful rival in medal play, scoring an even par 72 to Miss Nelson's 83, but three shanked approaches at crucial points beat her. Miss Van Wie led at the turn, 1 up. Miss Nelson, who is competing in the championship for the first time, played a wonderful match game. She won the tenth to square the match, lost the fourteenth but evened again on the fifteenth, then went 1 up on the sixteenth. The last two holes were halved.

Mrs. Mida gained a lead over the champion at the start and never was headed. She stroked along in par golf over the seventeen holes while Mrs. Pressler, a trifle wild with her pitches and unsteady with her putts, was four over perfect figures. It was a stymie match at four holes and in all of them Mrs. Pressler lost because of the obstructions.

Leads 3 Up at Turn.

Mrs. Mida gained the lead on the second hole with a par 4, while Mrs. Pressler was in trouble all the way and required a 7. Mrs. Pressler evened the battle on the third with a par 5, but after halving the next two with par golf, the veteran Chicagoan shot birdies on the sixth and eighth holes and a par on the long ninth to gain a 3-up lead. The champion came back to whittle her rival's margin to 1 up by capturing the tenth and eleventh holes in par, halved the twelfth, then dropped the thirteenth and fourteenth to birdies, halved the next par, won the sixteenth with a birdie 4 and then lost the match by halving the seventeenth in par. It was the first time Mrs. Mida had defeated Mrs. Pressler in three matches.

Favorites came through in the other six matches. Mrs. Hill, tournament medalist, defeated Miss Eva May Johnson of Chicago, 4 and 2; Mrs. Lifur, who upset Miss Virginia Wilson of Chicago in the first round yesterday, swamped Miss Virginia Vilas of Chic

Wins by More Than 2 Minutes, but Committee Orders More Races Today.

SCOTTISH CREW ARRIVES

By SHANNON CORMACK.

Special to The New York Times.

OYSTER BAY, L. I., Aug. 28.—The choice of an American defender to represent the Seawanhaka Corinthian Yacht Club against the challenger of the Royal Northern Yacht Club of Scotland for the Seawanhaka Cup still hung in the balance this evening after the selection committee tried vainly to arrange races that would bring forth one outstanding boat.

Priscilla III, owned and sailed by Johnston De Forest, and Gypsy, owned by Frank Paine of Boston and sailed by Ray Hunt, one of Marblehead's most promising young skippers, are the two eight-meter sloops from which the committee must make its choice. Tomorrow's races are expected to be final.

Lewis Luckenbach's Marin, Van S. Merle-Smith's Thisbe and H. B. Plant's Muffet were eliminated by the committee before the start of today's races and E. Townsend Irvin's Sally went by the board in the first race when she was hopelessly outdistanced by Gypsy on the first leg of a 7½-mile triangular course.

Only One Race Sailed.

In the only complete race sailed today, Gypsy beat Priscilla III by 2 minutes and 2 seconds. In the three races in which Gypsy and Priscilla III have been opponents the former has won two, one by a small margin and today's race by more than two minutes. At the present time there seems little to choose between the two and the committee is having its work cut out to decide which one shall defend the cup and incidentally win the Captain Gherardi Davis Trophy presented to the winner of the series.

Mr. De Forest is a veteran Long Island Sound yachtsman and the waters off Oyster Bay are as familiar to him as the pathway to his own door. On the other hand, Mr. Hunt, though well known in Marblehead waters, is making his first appearance in Long Island Sound racing. Where the one skipper knows about where the marks on the courses are set by his knowledge of the surrounding shores, Hunt must perforce plot his course by compass bearings and it is significant that in none of the races has he overstood his marks.

In the handling of the two sloops there is little to choose and the boats themselves are about as equal as any two in a class can be. Both have demonstrated their ability to sail in fresh as well as light winds and while the score now stands two to one in favor of Gypsy, it must be borne in mind that the cutting across the line by a tug and a string of barges in today's race gave Gypsy a decided advantage.

Before the sloops left for the rendezvous off Centre Island the skippers of Marin, Thisbe and Muffet were notified by the selection committee that they had been eliminated. This left Priscilla III, Gypsy and Sally as the remaining contestants, Mab having been voluntarily withdrawn yesterday. Robert N. Bavier, owner of Mab, was invited to join the selection committee and he and George Nichols followed the yachts in one boat with W. A. W. Stewart and George Cormack in another.

Gypsy and Sally were paired for the first match. Gypsy took the windward position at the start and on the first leg, a beat, outdistanced her opponent by 4 minutes and 28 seconds. This lead was so great that the committee decided the yachts need not complete the course and Sally was eliminated.

All interest then centred on the match between Gypsy and Priscilla III and at 1:30, after the wind had shifted to northeast by west the two boats were sent off. Gypsy led all the way.

The Corinthian crew of the Scottish challenger Caryl arrived this afternoon. The sloop is being towed from City Island. The crew, W. F. Croberts, owner and skipper, and Major A. A. Stewart Black and John J. Stephen of the Royal Northern Yacht Club on the Clyde, may have their boat out for a trial spin tomorrow.

McGINNITY IS IMPROVING.

Old-Time Pitcher Has Fine Day Following Operation.

Joe McGinnity, the famous iron man of the Giants of a quarter of a century ago, who was operated on at Brooklyn Hospital on Monday for an intestinal disorder, enjoyed a good rest yesterday, and according to the nurses, his condition is good.

Ill for nearly a year, McGinnity, who is 57 years old, withstood the operation well. He pitched for a minor league team two years ago.

Toronto Swim Put Off Again; $25,000 Test On Tomorrow

TORONTO, Aug. 28 (Canadian Press).—A second postponement for twenty-four hours of the Wrigley-Canadian National Exhibition, fifteen-mile, $25,000 marathon swim was announced late this afternoon by race officials. Weather conditions and the direction of the wind upon which the temperature of Lake Ontario depends so much, convinced officials that favorable conditions would not prevail tomorrow, but they stated their belief that warm water exceeding the necessary 58 degrees and bright weather would enable the marathon to be held on Friday.

BAR HARBOR WINS 5TH AT MARBLEHEAD

MARBLEHEAD, Mass., Aug. 28.—Having sent four other aspirants for the junior championship back to home waters, crews of the Annisquam and Bar Harbor Yacht Clubs started this afternoon in the final match for the Sears Cup. One race was sailed, which Annisquam won rather easily, and then the deciding contests were held over to tomorrow forenoon.

Young William B. Cudahy is defending his title as champion skipper of the coast, having won the Sears Cup a year ago when sailing for the Beverley Yacht Club.

When the six crews came out this morning for the fifth and what proved to be the deciding contest in the preliminary round, Annisquam and Bar Harbor were so far in the lead on points that finishing in the ruck would scarcely have threatened their chances for the finals, while Pequot and Cotuit had just a ghost of a show to tie the score.

Yachts Closely Bunched.

The fleet was sent off before a light breeze on what was expected to be a leeward and windward course, and at the turn Larchmont had gained a slight advantage, with Bar Harbor not far astern. Then the wind shifted and the homeward course, instead of being a beat, turned out to be a broad reach, and for a time five of the yachts were closely bunched, with Hingham well behind.

As they drew into the finish, Bar Harbor, being somewhat to leeward, was able to trim sheets a bit and make a closer reach for the line, nosing out Larchmont and Annisquam by less than a minute, with Pequot fourth and Hingham beating Cotuit by three seconds.

The result gave Bar Harbor and Annisquam so many points that a sixth race was unnecessary, and, after lunching together and wishing the survivor success, the Pequot, Larchmont, Cotuit and Hingham boys left for home waters.

Bar Harbor Leads.

After the captains of the two crews in the finals had decided what boats they would use they were started on a 2½-mile beat to windward in a moderate breeze. Bar Harbor had a slight advantage at the start, but Annisquam ranged ahead and three minutes after the gun had gained the weather mark. Cudahy tacked frequently and, although somewhat quicker in stays, he could gain little, as young Gleason met every tack. Half a mile from the turn Annisquam picked up a slight breeze and wore around the mark with 44 seconds to spare.

In the run to the finish under spinnakers Gleason seemed to keep his boat steadier than did Cudahy, whose yacht was continually rolling the wind out of her sails, with the result that Annisquam picked up a full minute in the slide down the breeze.

As the race was a slow one and the wind was dropping it was decided to postpone further sailing until tomorrow.

TENNIS STARS PICKED FOR EAST-WEST PLAY

R. N. Williams, King and Shields Gain Places on Team to Represent East.

R. Norris Williams, former Davis Cup captain, Dr. George King and Frank Shields have gained places on the team which will represent the East in the annual competition with the West at the Forest Hills stadium on Saturday and Monday. It was announced yesterday by E. D. Story of the Eastern Lawn Tennis Association. Four players also were selected for the Western combination.

The selection of the remaining members of both teams is dependent upon the progress of the national doubles tournament at Longwood, whose final match is scheduled for Saturday.

The players named yesterday to represent the West, which captured the series last year by six matches to three, are Berkeley Bell of Texas, intercollegiate champion; Junior Coen of Kansas City, who made a very creditable record abroad this season; Bradshaw Harrison and Phillip Neer, both Coast stars.

The players named were paired off yesterday for the first afternoon of competition at Forest Hills. In the singles King will oppose Harrison, Williams will meet Bell and Shields will play Coen. In the doubles Williams and Shields will face Harrison and Neer.

SIX JUNIOR CREWS GAIN SERIES FINAL

TO SAIL IN SIX RACES

Entry Winning Most Points In Today's Events Will Win Midget Title of Sound.

Special to The New York Times.

BAY SHORE, L. I., Aug. 28.—The last of the elimination races for the midget championships of the Junior Yacht Racing Association of Long Island Sound were held today in Great South Bay.

The six crews that will enter the finals tomorrow consist of five from Great South Bay yacht clubs and one from Long Island Sound, where the idea of midget yacht racing originated. The surviving crew from the Sound is from Stamford, Conn. The other finalists are Sayville, Babylon, Bay Shore, Point o' Woods and Cedarhurst.

Sayville and Babylon of the third division led Bellport, American, Timber Point and Indian Harbor with scores of 24 and 23 respectively. In the second division Bay Shore and Point o' Woods set the pace to Shelter Island, Larchmont and Pequot, the last named crew representing the present holders of the title. In the first division Cedarhurst and Stamford led Cold Spring Harbor, Harlem and West Hampton.

Tomorrow the six high-scoring crews will sail six races, exchanging Star Class sailboats at the finish of each race. The crew scoring the highest number of points will win the championship.

The Babylon crew entered the last of the trial races of the third division with high score, 23 points, but came out of the contest without adding a point to its credit. As the Babylon crew sailed for the finish mark it fouled and was disqualified. Earlier in the day the Bellport and Harlem crews withdrew.

INTERCLUB FLEET IN LARCHMONT RACE

Will Compete on Labor Day, but Test Will Not Be a Bermuda Cup Event.

Chairman Cornelius Shields of the Sound Interclub Class committee announced yesterday that the Larchmont Yacht Club had invited this class of sloops to compete in its annual Labor Day regatta on Monday. Mr. Shields said that many of the craft would take part, but because others would be away on the Stratford Shoal race, which starts on Saturday night, the Larchmont race would not count as the eighth of the series for the Royal Bermuda Yacht Club Cup. Originally the Larchmont officials wanted the interclub test in their regatta to be listed as a Bermuda Cup event.

Thus the interclub race in the regatta will be only a class event, but some stirring competition is expected, as the boats in this class are very evenly matched. The eighth race for the Bermuda Cup will take place on Sept. 15, and the ninth and final competition will be held Sept. 22.

In the schooner class Seneca finished with a long lead over three other boats. In the Ninth Division Sunbeam, owned by P. M. Laing, Q. C. Y. C., won and Osprey, A. Norman, Q. C. Y. C., was second.

In the Seventh Division for yawls and ketches 31 feet and over, 20 feet rating, the Ontario, C. Hyde, C. Y. C., won from Ripple, Harry Purcell, C. Y. C.

Brenda II First in Division 8.

MISS CARSTAIRS TESTS SPEEDBOAT

Makes Fast Run in Estelle IV and Expresses Delight at Its Speed.

WINDSOR, Ont., Aug. 28 (AP).—Miss Marion B. Carstairs, English challenger for the Harmsworth Trophy, took her new Estelle IV on a fast test run in the Detroit River today, later expressing great delight at its speed.

The craft is said to be more seaworthy and speedier than the ill-fated speedboat which sunk last year in the race with Car Wood of Detroit.

Wood's new Miss America VIII is reputed to be able to smash the 92-mile-an-hour record established in Florida last Winter by Miss America VII, but Miss Carstairs and her party, despite this, appear very confident.

Canadian Dominates Race Group.

DETROIT, Aug. 28 (AP).—Commodore Harry B. Greening of the Royal Hamilton Yacht Club, Hamilton, Ont., will have two votes on the international committee which will decide any disputes arising in the Harmsworth Trophy race series here Aug. 31 to Sept. 3.

Under the terms of the gift by the late Lord Northcliffe, the donor and each contesting club is represented on the committee. Greening will represent the Northcliffe estate and the Royal Yacht Club of Great Britain, from which Miss Marion B. Carstairs has entered her boat, Estelle IV. W. D. Edenburn of Detroit will represent the Yachtsmen's Association of America as defender of the trophy.

Yankees Lose to Athletics, 9-7; Pirates Beat Cubs Twice

RALLY BY ATHLETICS IN 7TH BEATS YANKS

Five-Run Attack When Mackmen Trail, 7-4, Gives Them 9 to 7 Victory.

RUTH CLOUTS 36TH HOMER

BURNS'S DOUBLE COUNTS 3

By WILLIAM E. BRANDT.

The Athletics retreated in good order last evening, with a 9 to 7 victory to offset the 2 to 0 shut-out the Yankees inflicted on them Tuesday and the lion's share of the applause doled out by yesterday's 25,000 beholders. They went home with an even break for their two days' stay at the Stadium and with their first-place lead guarded by a thirteen-game margin, just as it was when they arrived here.

The Yanks, in true Yankee fashion, with homers by Ruth, Lary and Gehrig and seven other assorted hits, gained a 7 to 3 lead in the first five innings of play. But in the seventh things went wrong on the left wing of the Yankee infield and the Philadelphians slipped in just enough hits to land them the decision. The pace-making Mackmen, powerless at bat Tuesday, had their hits handy yesterday when they meant most.

In their two important innings, the fourth and the seventh, the Athletics made no hits at all until the Yankee infield set the scenery to show off a safe swat at its very best advantage. Each team used four pitchers, the Yankees employing Sherid, Moore, Zachary and Pipgras and the Athletics Walberg, Quinn, Rommel and Grove.

Ruth's thirty-sixth homer came in the first inning and celebrated his return to action after his eight-inning vacation of Tuesday. The drive gave him a lead of three for interleague honors. Babe blasted one of Walberg's finest pitches high into the right field bleachers, and the 1 to 0 lead thus established lasted until the fourth.

Yanks Miss Double Play.

In that inning, with none out, Sherid walked Cochrane, and Simmons's grounder to Durocher failed to result in a double play because Lazzeri's relay to first was wide, pulling Gehrig off the bag. Then Sherid walked Foxx, and Miller filled the bases by bouncing an infield hit over the pitcher's head.

The stage thus set, George Burns fired a double over third base which scored three runs. The count was three and two on Burns, with two out, and all the base runners were in motion with the pitch. Boley singled to left, but Byrd shot down Burns with a fine throw to the plate.

Then the Yanks stepped out and forged ahead. Gehrig singled and Lazzeri doubled. Durocher's single drove home two runs and tied the score. Sherid's double scored Durocher and ousted Walberg, and the Yanks led, 6-3. In the fifth off Quinn came homers by Lary and Gehrig into the left-field stand, with Combs's single in between them, making the score 7-3.

But that marked the end of the Yankees' power. Rommel and Grove held them scoreless the rest of the game. Rommel, twirling the sixth inning, became the winning pitcher, for in the seventh the Athletics made five runs on only two hits and won the game.

Athletics Score in Sixth.

Their run in the sixth was the product of two singles and a double play and the Athletics trailed, 7-4. In the seventh Sherid began by walking Bishop, then a perfect double-play grounder to short by Haas was fumbled by Durocher so completely that the ball scooted to left, with Bishop taking third and Haas second.

Sherid gave way to Moore and Bishop scored when Cochrane rolled another grounder to Durocher, who ran down Haas between second and third and tagged him, but dropped the ball. Durocher scrambled for the ball and threw to Lary, who also spilled the ball in the act of reaching for the elusive Haas.

When Moore walked Simmons, filling the bases, the scenery again was all set and the hitting began. Foxx doubled to right and Miller singled to centre, the only hits concerned in the run making. The double drove in two runs and tied the score at 7-7 and the single put the Mackmen two ahead.

Zachary then quenched the Mackian fire, but Grove officiated in a similar capacity on the other side of the argument. The Yanks on an infield hit and two passes had the bases filled in the eighth with two out, but Byrd bounced out. Lary opened the ninth with a single, but two grounders and a fly rounded out the inning without a score.

Grimes Scores 17th Victory in Opener and Kremer Upsets League Leaders in 2d.

HARGREAVES STARS AT BAT

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 28 (AP).—The Pirates celebrated Jewell Ens's rise to the managerial post today by taking both games of a double-header from the Cubs. The scores were 10 to 3 and 7 to 6, reducing the Chicago lead to twelve and one-half contests.

The Buccaneers were forced to come from behind in both engagements. Cuyler's homer with one on in the third gave the Cubs a 3-to-1 lead in the opener, but the Pirates assaulted Percy Malone for five runs in the sixth and for four more in the seventh. Nine of the ten markers were earned and five of them were driven in by Charlie Hargreaves, the Pirate catcher.

BUSH RESIGNS POST AS PIRATE MANAGER

Quits in His 4th Season—He Won Pennant Once and Finished Third Twice.

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 28 (AP).—The Pittsburgh National League baseball club, which slumped within a brief period from first place to a position more than a dozen games behind the league leaders, played under new management today following the sudden resignation of Owen J. (Donie) Bush, aggressive little pilot. Jewel Ens, a coach, was named acting manager after President Barney Dreyfuss had accepted Bush's resignation. Dreyfuss intimated he would retain Ens as manager next season if the Buccaneers made a good showing the remainder of the 1929 race.

Bush, returning to Pittsburgh today from a disastrous Eastern trip during which his charges lost twelve out of seventeen games, submitted his resignation soon after his arrival. No reason for the action was advanced by either Bush or Dreyfuss.

Dreyfuss's Comment on Action.

"He's resigned. That's all I can tell you," said Dreyfuss.

"There is nothing more to give out than that I have resigned and President Dreyfuss has accepted the resignation," said Bush. "That's all there is to be told. I simply decided to quit. There is no ill feeling between President Dreyfuss and myself or between any of the players and myself."

He added that "it was unfortunate that we made such a poor showing on the final Eastern trip, but it was just the fortunes of war." Rumors of an impending shake-up following the Eastern trip have circulated in baseball circles for several weeks.

Bush's Record in Three Years.

During Bush's three-year managerial reign the Pirates won the National League flag in 1927 and finished third in 1926 and 1928. The diminutive skipper came to Pittsburgh from the managership of the Indianapolis, American Association club, and stepped into the shoes of Bill McKechnie, present St. Louis Cardinal leader, who left the Pirates after the Adams-Bigbee-Carey blow-up. During Bush's tenure Kiki Cuyler was benched and the Pirate owner upheld Doyle despite loud protests from the fans. Later Cuyler was sent to the Chicago Cubs.

Prior to connecting with Indianapolis, Bush was manager of the Washington Americans. During his player days he was star shortstop of the Detroit Tigers in the time Hughie Jennings was manager and Ty Cobb was in his prime.

JERSEY CITY STOPS MONTREAL, 3-1, 3-0

Rhodes Yields Only 4 Hits in Opener, Haines Stealing Home to Prevent Shut-Out.

MONTREAL, Aug. 28 (Canadian Press).—Jersey City took both ends of a doubleheader from Montreal today, 3 to 1 and 3 to 0.

A fine pitching performance by Dustv Rhodes, who limited the Royals to four scattered blows won the first game for the visitors. Hinkey Haines stole home in the first to save the locals from a double shutout.

George Grant matched Rhode's performance in the second game and scattered Montreal's six hits. Both Van Gilder and Buckalew, who went the route in their games, pitched well but were outclassed by the Jersey City moundsmen.

3 OF 11 FINISH IN CHASE

By BRYAN FIELD.

Special to The New York Times.

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N. Y., Aug. 28.—High Strung, the champion 2-year-old of 1928, made his first start today since winning the Pimlico Futurity last Fall and he demonstrated that he is a first flight 3-year-old and still one of the fastest thoroughbreds in training.

When he won the Futurity at Belmont Park and clinched his place as the greatest money winning horse of 1928, High Strung established a new track record and today he ran the fastest six furlongs that has been seen here in two years at least High Strung injured himself in his stall in the Spring while being prepared for the Preakness.

Trainer George Odom certainly did a fine job in bringing back the son of High Time and Emotion, which raced in the colors of Robert L. Gerry. High Strung's time was 1:10 4-5 for six furlongs, which compares favorably with the track record of 1:10 2-5, set in 1918. The fastest six furlongs of 1928 was 1:12, and while performances this year have been better, there has been nothing to equal High Strung's sparkling time today.

High Strung's Form Impressive.

For a horse that has not raced in about ten months High Strung looked very powerful. He ran under wraps for the entire route and finished handily a length ahead of W. R. Coe's Vanity, which led Samuel Ross's Lady Capulet by four lengths.

The others in the order of their finish were Virmar, Farmer, Calwick, Okaybee and Sun Hatter. Linus (Pony) McAtee was up on High Strung and going to the post had no trouble keeping his seat. High Strung seemed glad to be in a race again and was frisky all the way to the post.

At the break McAtee let High Strung rush to the front. Soon he had several lengths the best of it and McAtee did nothing more than cluck to him once or twice so he would not forget he was in a horse race.

Virmar ran second for most of the way, but tired in the last furlong and both Vanity and Lady Capulet ran by her.

The winner was the 7 to 10 favorite in the betting and carried top weight of 120 pounds, which made the effort look better than ever. Vanity had only 107 pounds up and Lady Capulet four more. High Strung's fractions were as follows: 0:23, 0:46 2-5 and 1:10 4-5.

The return to the races of last year's juvenile champion quite overshadowed the scheduled feature, which was the Delaware Handicap, worth $4,450. This produced a thrilling contest, which was practically a repetition of the American Legion Handicap of Aug. 10, Colonel E. R. Bradley's Buddy Bauer won again, finishing the mile in 1:37, with Ironsides second, Osmand third and Distraction fourth.

There were five horses in the race and Bobashela brought up the rear. Buddy Bauer's margin was a scant nose and the stretch drive produced a hot battle between Buddy Bauer, Osmand and Ironsides. There was a lot of betting on the test, Ironsides and Osmand being joint favorites at 8 to 1, with Bobashela and Buddy Bauer right behind them at 7 to 2 and 16 to 5, respectively. Distraction was 6 to 1.

Osmand Rushes to the Front.

The break saw Osmand rush to the front with Buddy Bauer at his saddle cloth. Ironsides was rated third, several lengths off the first two. For seven furlongs, or until well into the stretch, Osmand and Buddy Bauer ran head and head. In the last three-sixteenths of a mile the 124 pounds Osmand was carrying told and he gave up. Ironsides had been closing fast all this time, and when Osmand was beaten joined the issue with Buddy Bauer.

The finish was fast and furious with Legere getting Buddy Bauer home a snort in front despite the best efforts of McAtee on Ironsides, who missed a double by being second. The winner carried 117 pounds as against 110 for Ironsides.

The biggest steeplechase field of the meeting paraded in the Newport when eleven faced the starter. Of these only three finished the course, the rest of the horses and riders being strewn everywhere. Jockeys Snyder and Newton were severely shaken, Newton being taken to the Saratoga Hospital.

The winner was J. E. Davis's Polish, with Humanist second and Stiff Shirt third.

SHAW OUTPOINTS MOY.

Matto Stops Rapp in First Round at Olympia B. C. Show.

Henry Shaw of Washington Heights, weighing 158 pounds, gained the decision over Al Moy of Chinatown, 154, in the main four-round bout at the Olympia B. C. new talent show last night. In the semi-final, scheduled for four rounds, Johnny Matto, 179, knocked out Billy Rapp, 171½, in the first.

The other bouts, all of which were scheduled for four rounds, resulted as follows:

Belmont Purses on Sept. 14 To Total More Than $200,000

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N. Y., Aug. 28.—The forthcoming Belmont Park meeting will see the largest day's distribution of purse money in American racing history. According to a calculation made by the Westchester Racing Association which estimates that the Futurity will gross about $140,000.

The Grand National Steeplechase is expected to have a gross value of $45,000 and the Jockey Club Gold Cup will approximate about $20,000.

All of these events will be run on Sept. 14, and along with the ordinary races to be run that day assure a purse distribution of more than $200,000. The Belmont meeting opens Monday.

WINDY CITY IS DEFEATED

CHICAGO, Aug. 28 (AP).—The Black Dot Stable's Click, in whose nostril a sponge was found after his last race, came back today to win the Flossmoor Handicap, the feature attraction of a well balanced card at Lincoln Fields. Greenock, from August Sutro's stable, was second and Brown Wisdom third. The race had a cash value of $1,500 to the winner and the six furlongs were negotiated in 1:11 4-5.

Click, away well, was taken into a short lead right after the start and under a sterling ride by T. Burns, held on to win in a hard drive by a neck. Greenock, away well, dropped back to fourth position at the quarter and, coming again in the stretch, took a brief lead but then hung slightly to take the place money by three lengths. Brown Wisdom ran an even race throughout to take the small end of the purse. Cayuga and Martie Flynn were outrun.

Mrs. R. Pollard registered two victories when her Uluniu won the Hazelcrest Purse, the secondary feature, defeating Windy City, the winner of the American Derby; Calf Roper, the winner of the Louisville Derby, and Buddy Basil, the winner of the Latonia Derby. BUCKAROO IS FIRST IN JUMPING EVENT

U. S. Army Entry Victor Over Wasp After Tie at State Fair Horse Show.

PROCTOR WINS TWO BLUES

By HENRY R. ILSLEY.

Special to The New York Times.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Aug. 28.—Members of the United States Army horse show team and their mounts provided the most interesting competition at the third day of the eighty-ninth annual New York State Fair horse show. In the jumping event over five-foot obstacles that veteran of many hard-fought battles, Buckaroo, carried off first money with a perfect performance.

Captain W. B. Bradford had the mount on the old fellow and tied with The Wasp, the local entry from the Lyndon Farm of E. I. White, which made its best showing to date over the jumps. In the jump-off, however, Buckaroo again had a clean slate and took the blue. Third went to the Rolling Rock Farm's brown mare Comet and fourth to Mrs. Proctor Welch's Lyndondale. It was the winner's second blue of the exhibition.

The star of the army outfit, however, is the noted jumper Proctor, which scored so handsomely on the Eastern show circuit before going across for the last Olympic games. The big bay gelding has already accounted for three blues and a yellow ribbon, accumulating $300 in cash.

Proctor Beats Little Canada.

His two victories today came in the hunter division. First he had to beat the Longacre Farm's good jumper Little Canada in the class for qualified or green hunters other than thoroughbreds.

In the class for hunters ridden by amateurs, Proctor received a setback, finishing no better than third to Little Canada and the Rolling Rock Farm's Windsor, respectively. In the event for hunters over the regular course he was again to the fore, taking the measure of Little Canada and Windsor.

The old argument regarding competition of the Army team against civilians in the regular hunter and jumper classes has been renewed here. The service men had none the worst of it today and, while they did not score clean sweeps in all their competitions, they accounted for more than their share of ribbons and cash.

One sweep the Army did make was in the class for jumpers over the special course, with jumps of 4 feet 6 inches. The bay gelding Babe Wartham, the chestnut mare Huron Girl, the bay mare Miss America and the black gelding Tan Bark, all turned in perfect performances. Instead of jumping off—it being one of the late classes of the day—they tossed for the cash and ribbons, the awards going as above.

Alsea Farm Scores.

While the Army representatives largely dominated the jumping classes, ribbons in the pony division were monopolized by the Alsea Farm of Alvah G. Strong of Alton, N. Y. In the harness class for ponies over 13.2 hands and not over 14.2 hands, Strong scored one-two with his veteran bay mare Braishfield Fanfare and bay gelding Imported Fusion G.

In the pace and action class, Strong won with his bay gelding Brookside Nabob and followed this with a nice victory in the number for harness pony tandems, showing Glantham Marvel in the lead and Brookside Nabob on the wheel. While there were only three in the competition, it was one of the prettiest events of the day.

In the class for saddle horses over 15.2 hands, the Pennypack Valley Farm's bay mare Carita repeated her victory of the opening day, when Mrs. Rowland's latest acquisition accounted for the novice class. Mrs. Rowland rode her bay mare, Betty Wright to take the blue in the saddle class over 14.2 hands, amateurs to ride, it being Betty's second first money.

Eastcott Polo Four Vanquishes Old Aiken, 12-2

OLD AIKEN ROUTED BY EASTCOTT FOUR

E. W. Hopping, Scoring Six Goals, Leads British Teammates to 12-2 Victory.

By ROBERT F. KELLEY.

Special to The New York Times.

WESTBURY, L. I., Aug. 28.—A combination of staleness on the part of the Old Aiken team and very much improved play by the Eastcott team brought a sound victory to the visitors on Cochran Field at the Meadow Brook Club today. The Britons with their American leader triumphed, 12 to 2, the young American collegians scoring once in the fourth period and once in the fifth and nowhere else in the game. The players were handicapped by the field, which is dry and pretty badly cut up.

From beginning to end the eight men rode through clouds of flying dust that hid them at times from the watchers along the sideboards and must have made seeing the ball something of a problem for the players.

Under the circumstances the game was not so fast as some of the practice matches which had been played, but there was some excellent polo at times, and the entire Eastcott team played well, together and individually.

Eastcott Has Wide Margin.

Eastcott had a decided margin, and it detracted nothing from the victory that the Old Aiken youngsters were obviously stale. They have been playing polo steadily for the past couple of weeks. Three of them played yesterday in informal games and they were pretty much off their game today.

Colonel P. K. Wise started at No. 3, with Captain C. H. Tremayne at back, for the Eastcott four. At half time last Sunday at Fleischmann Field these players switched places, and apparently they are to stay that way for the open championship which starts on Saturday.

Captain Tremayne seemed to be at home at back and played a much better game today than he had shown before. He has apparently begun to find the form which made him stand out at London this Spring. His passing was directly responsible for four of the Eastcott goals, and, though he did not score himself, he fits well into the defensive and offensive play of his team.

Earl W. Hopping, the American, and Cecil Balding, the young Englishman, at No. 2 and No. 1, were both on their game today. Hopping hit very well from all sides of his mount and was high scorer with six goals.

Balding made three goals and figured in many plays leading up to scores. He also hit out well from the corners. Colonel Wise had about his best game since arriving. He stormed through the pack time after time, aiding greatly in the defense also. He was about the most valuable man on his side.

Wise made two pretty goals in the seventh period close to each other, one the result of a run nearly the length of the field.

Team Play Stands Out.

The Eastcott team still does not impress as a long-hitting group, but its combination play is very well done, and it stood out today. In fact Eastcott showed more team play today than Old Aiken, which has risen to prominence on the strength of that factor in its play.

There was only one score in the first two periods, made by Hopping with Balding's aid. Eastcott added two more goals in the third, and at half time was leading, 4-1. Through the fifth Old Aiken seemed to improve a bit and made more of a fight of it, but from the period on the older men had things pretty much their own way.

It was learned today that Cecil Smith, the young Texan recently raised to seven goals on handicap, would be unable to play with Roslyn in the open championship. He broke a bone in his foot in action and his place is to be taken by Aiden Roark, younger brother of the British internationalist, Captain C. T. I. Roark, who refered today's game.

The officials also announced today that the Long Island Railway had agreed to run special trains to the matches in the open and Waterbury Cup series, leaving New York each day at about 3 o'clock Daylight Saving Time and returning to New York immediately after the games.

Sports of the Times

By JOHN KIERAN.

TO the clicking of castanets and possibly the faint strains of "La Paloma" offstage, the young and dashing cavalier from Cuba, Señor Filigio Sardinias Kid Chocolate in the rough—delivered a pre-battle statement as follows if there is any truth or semblance of truth in a confidential document at hand:

"Yo no quiero aparentar estar engreido, pero estoy muy confiado en mi victoria sobre Al Singer el Jueves por la noche, y espero ganar por knockout."

There was more to it, but a sample is sufficient for all practical purposes. It is Napoleonic in simplicity, having all the force and straightforward dignity of the late Emperor's "Soldats, quarante siècles vous regardent," &c. But Kid Chocolate's message is even more pointed and more personal. A man wouldn't have to know Spanish to get the drift of the Sardinias speech. That particularly plain word "knockout" carries the message to Garcia. Nothing more is needed. He could have started and stopped there, with one sweeping gesture to indicate the spot where the body would be found.

Taking It Lightly.

Considering the fervor and even ferocity with which the respective merits of Kid Chocolate and Al Singer are being discussed in some quarters, this may be treating the subject too lightly, but, after all, the lads are less than lightweights. It is only a heavyweight championship that calls for deep thinking, denunciations from the pulpit, interference by Attorneys General and race riots in the suburbs.

As an instance of the bitter feud raging between the principals—again the evidence is gathered from confidential documents—it is alleged that Al Singer personally purloined the salad dressing or hair oil with which the Cuban fighter dressed his curly raven locks, this being a point of great pride with Señor Sardinias, the ex-newsboy of Havana.

"Wow! he be mad when he finds out who did it?" said Master Singer, as he scurried off, and, certainly, Kid Chocolate should be mad, just as mad as the dog they still tell about in Naugatuck, Conn. The dog was trotting around in a circle, and citizens were grouped around watching it.

"What's the matter?" queried an inquisitive stranger. "Is that dog mad?"

"Mad! Guess he is mad!" said a local dignitary. "The butcher jes' tuk a roast o' beef off'n him."

Possibly, the theft of the hair oil or salad dressing will affect Kid Chocolate in the same way, and he will run in circles as soon as he gets in the ring. Or he may be so blind with rage that he will wallop the referee by mistake. Anyway, there's deep-dyed villainy in it, and the bitterness of the feud is shocking.

Popular Education.

It occurs that educators in general might take a deep interest in the little pre-battle statement by Kid Chocolate in the original Spanish with sound effects. There's the germ of a complete modern language course wrapped up in this idea.

Let each fighter hereafter issue his statements in his own language and let there be no translations for the benefit of the ignoramuses (or should it be ignorami?) who can't read Spanish, French, Italian, Serbian, Lithuanian and other modern languages, including the Scandinavian. The youth of the country, vastly interested in matter pugilistic, would thus be forced to learn these languages to keep up with the chatter of their fight favorites.

Thus Max Schmeling should have his statements issued in German script, Campolo could join Kid Chocolate in promoting the Spanish language and literature, André Routis and others would be giving short courses in modern French, and the venerable Mike McTigue of County Clare could issue his periodic threats and challenges in the original Gaelic.

This little tip on how to start a rage for modern language study among small boys is offered free of charge to the Carnegie Foundation. Don't mention it.

A Gentlemen's Agreement.

Late in the training period for the impending bout there was a wrangle over the weight question. Probably, it was merely for the purpose of making a noise and calling attention to the fact that Singer and Sardinias were going to fight, and the tickets were on sale at the box office.

The weight stipulation of 128¾ pounds, an odd figure, was good advertising in itself, whether Singer had any intention of making the weight or not when the agreement was signed. But it turned out that the agreement had no official sanction from the Boxing Board, and one of the managers, speaking of the $5,000 check posted as an alleged forfeit, said innocently: "Well, suppose there isn't enough money in the bank to meet the check?"

That's an indication of the upright, courtly and confiding spirit in which modern fight managers conduct their business. If they talk in low tones up dark alleys or whisper behind their hands, it's merely because, like Falstaff, they lost their voices with hailoing and singing of anthems.

A fellow from Philadelphia said he knew four honest fight managers. Well, that would make one apiece for the great natural history museums of New York, London, Paris and Berlin.

A Conflict of Opinion.

Changing the subject; President John Arnold Heydler of the National League seemed impressed a month or two ago with the prosperity of baseball as reflected by the rapid whirling of the turnstiles at the ball parks. The echoes from other quarters are conflicting. Perhaps they had better take the count again and go over the bank balances.

The Boston Braves should do better this year because they have Sunday baseball, but the increase on account of the Sunday trade has been offset to a great extent by a drop in weekday attendance. Cincinnati and St. Louis have had slumps in attendance. No records will be set in this city this year. In addition to that, the Coast League split the season to stir up interest, and several minor leagues have nomad teams that were dispossessed from their home grounds by various sheriffs.

Philadelphia, Chicago and Cleveland have had good years financially. Otherwise, it has been something of an off-season for baseball.

By JAMES P. DAWSON.

Al Singer, Bronx junior lightweight, and Kid Chocolate, the ring sensation from Cuba, face each other tonight in a battle which, in advance, seems assured of a position as a history-making ring event. The lads are to fight at the Polo Grounds under the direction of the Madison Square Garden Corporation in a bout listed for twelve rounds.

It is expected that a crowd of 40,000 will be present and that the receipts will reach or exceed $200,000. Not since the days of Benny Leonard, perhaps the greatest individual ring drawing card the city of New York ever has known, has there been manifest such tremendouos interest in a match between the so-called little fellows of the ring.

When Leonard fought Lew Tendler for the former's lightweight title, a gate of $432,000 was attracted at higher prices than are imposed for tonight's contest. For this greatest "natural" match available right now the scale runs at $1.05, $3.15, $5.74, $8.40 and $13, including taxes, and the advance has already exceeded $125,000. With each lad fighting for 25 per cent of the receipts, it is likely that Singer and Chocolate will each collect $50,000.

Hailed as Modern Leonard.

Singer is being hailed as a modern Benny Leonard. By many he is regarded as better than Leonard was at a corresponding stage in the retired champion's career. Chocolate, outgrowing the bantamweight class, is plodding along on the featherweight title trail and seems destined to scale the heights.

Betting on the contest holds Singer the favorite at odds of 8 to 5. A dearth of Chocolate money may send these odds to 2 to 1 or, if the Cuban's supporters back their idol, Singer may be a receding favorite and enter the ring at 6 to 5. The weight favors Singer, who is a legitimate 130-pounder. Although a private agreement exists whereby Singer undertakes to weigh not more than 128¾ pounds, it is known that the Bronx lad has no intention of scaling at this notch if he finds it difficult. The contracts on file at the headquarters of the State Athletic Commission specify maximum weight of 130 pounds for each fighter.

Each lad is reported in perfect condition after intensive training sieges. Selection of a winner reveals widely different views. Many lean to Chocolate principally upon his record of being undefeated in 154 ring engagements as an amateur and as a professional.

Singer Equals Rival as Boxer.

There can be no gainsaying that Singer measures up to his rival as a boxer, if, indeed, he does not surpass him. Also, the Bronx lad hits more sharply and forcefully than the Cuban, and that the weight advantage he will enjoy will make Chocolate's handicap so much harder to overcome. And, in the final analysis, a boy who can come along as has Singer to the stage where he knocks out André Routis in two rounds; tough Gaston Charles in two rounds, and holds Tony Canzoneri to a draw commands careful consideration. On his record, notwithstanding his knockout at the hands of Ignacio Fernandez and the improvement he has shown, Singer is being selected to win by his admirers.

The supporting card holds a ten-round semi-final between Jack (Kid) Berg, English lightweight, and Spug Meyers, Pocatello, Idaho, which promises an exciting skirmish; a ten-round return battle between Harry Ebbets and Izzy Grove, rival middleweights, and three four-round matches.

MRS. QUADE'S DOG WINS AT SYRACUSE

Special to The New York Times.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Aug. 28.—With a record-breaking entry on the benches, the sixteenth annual New York State Fair Dog Show opened today, to continue tomorrow and Friday. Nearly 500 dogs were benched, including many from the leading Eastern kennels, among them being the star of the Newport show, the noted Irish setter bitch, Delaware Kate, owned by Earnest W. Smoot of Washington, son of the United States Senator.

Delaware Kate was not in the ring today, but will come under Frederick J. Lenoir of Greenwood, Mass., tomorrow afternoon, and there is great interest among the gun dog men as the probable winner of the sporting group. Delaware Kate will meet some very stiff competition, judging by the quality in that division.

An excellent start was made and it is worthy of note that the attendance was the largest that has been recorded in the history of the Syracuse show. S. Edwin Megargee Jr. of New York City ruled on some good springer spaniels, the best of which was the winning dog, Bobby Forment, owned by Mrs. H. R. Quade of Fayetteville, N. Y. To take best of winners he had to beat the winning bitch, Windswept Lou, shown by Newman J. Hamburg of Limerick, N. Y. This was the only breed in the sporting group judged the first day.

Toys Judged in Morning.

Alva B. Rosenberg of Brooklyn cleaned up the toys in the morning session and went through with four of his non-sporting breeds in the afternoon. His entry in the former was not very heavy, although there was a fair showing of pekes and poms.

Among the pekes, Mrs. Richard S. Quigley of Lookhaven, Pa., who topped the breed at Newport, once more gained the highest honors. Her Trinket of Balcroft and Cleo of Sunnyholme were first and reserve respectively. Among the bitches Trinket went on to take the best of winners and best of breed over the winning dog, Glen Iris Dai Breeze, shown by Mrs. Sydney Franc of Inlet, N. J.

The winning dog was the best of the poms. This was the little Schoty's Trillion-sire shown by Mrs. A. R. Kittermaster of Toronto. This youngster, just a little over a year old and a homebred, took the blue in the class for open dogs under five pounds, went to winners and defeated the winning bitch, Miss Buffalo III from the kennels of Mrs. Charles Volz of Buffalo.

French Bulldogs Judged.

Chows were disappointing in numbers. Honors for the breed were taken by Lady Chang, shown by Mr and Mrs. Roy Brooker of Fulton N. Y., their sole entry in the show. This homebred defeated the winning dog, Grey Friar of Silverton, owned by Edward H. Goodwin of Plainfield, N. J.

Rosenberg ended his day of judging with the French bulldogs. Mrs. A. W. Corr of Pittsford, N. Y., swept the boards in the breed taking winners, dogs with the well-known homebred Ruinart's Perfection, which later went on to best of winners and best of breed, defeating his kennelmate, Ruinart's Charmaine, which was without competition in the bitch division.

Three of the terrier group were disposed of. Mr. Megargee had a very small lot of cairns and placed at the top, the winning bitch, Walnut Witeners, shown by Thomas M. Gately of Hamburg, N. Y., she beating the winning dog, Cornor Oliver, owned by Miss Dorothy Achelis of Sea Bright, N. J.

Scotties, too, were limited in numbers, and Mr. Megargee took no long time in selecting Crassy Autocrat, owned by Henry D. Bixby of Huntington, L. I., for the honors. He topped the winning bitch, Chantey Sellie, shown by John G. Evans of Buffalo.

Mr. Rosenberg had a good lot of schnauzers and the competition was warm. Among the miniatures the winner was Champion Brookmeade Amael, owned by Harry I. Caesar of New York City, but the little fellow met his match from the bigger division when judged for best of breed, going down before Arko Fruhlingsgarten, the star from the Hillwood Kennels of Mrs. T. W. Durant of Roslyn, L. I.

Routis's title was not involved, as each weighed 127 pounds, which is over the featherweight class limit.

NATIONALS DEFEAT BROOKLYN HAKOAHS

Triumph by 5 to 4 Before Crowd of 2,000 in Night Soccer at Polo Grounds.

The New York Nationals defeated the Brooklyn Hakoahs by 5 goals to 4 in the American League competition at the Polo Grounds before 2,000 spectators last night.

Although the home side scored the first three goals in succession, the Hakoahs were not one whit discouraged and kept right after their rivals. They had the satisfaction of reducing the Nationals' lead by half time to 3 to 2.

The score was equalized shortly after the start of the second period and then the Nationals drew away again. Facing a deficit of two goals, the Hakoahs struggled hard and tallied once more. The final whistle, however, found the Nationals victors by the odd point.

Nelson was the scoring ace for the Polo Grounders, getting three tallies, and Hookie Leonard accounted for the other two. Mahrer, with two goals, and Schneider and Schonfeld, with one each, did their best in behalf of the losers.

WEBSTER SUGGESTS RADIO LAW CHANGES

OTHER ACTS COVER POINT

Amendments Outlined for Communications Bill Would Substantially Modify Present Allocation System.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—The elimination of Section 17 of the radio act, which forbids agreements between and the merger of radio and wire companies, was suggested to the Senate Committee on Interstate Commerce by Bethuel M. Webster Jr., general counsel of the Federal Radio Commission, in a communication to Senator James Couzens, chairman of the committee.

The suggestions are made to the committee at its specific request in connection with hearings held on the Couzens bill for the establishment of a general communications commission.

Discussing the merger section of the bill, Mr. Webster said:

"In my opinion, the anti-trust laws, together with the power of strict regulation conferred by the bill, amply protect the public against the evils of monopoly. The provision is unintelligible, and I should eliminate it entirely. If retained, however, it should be clarified to show, among other things, whether the commission is bound to make findings of restraint of trade or monopoly."

Against Mandatory Penalty.

As to the provision requiring the Radio Commission to refuse licenses to applicants finally adjudged guilty of violation of the anti-trust laws, Mr. Webster said:

"If it is retained, however, its application should be made permissive rather than mandatory, for there may be cases in which the interest of the public in maintaining a system of communication would greatly exceed the interest in drastic punishment. Also, as indicated, the section must be clarified to show specifically its application to civil as well as criminal guilt."

Would Classify Radio Groups.

Mr. Webster limited his suggestions to provisions dealing with radio communication, offering them in the form of proposed amendments to the Couzens bill. He did not assume a position for or against the establishment of a commission on communications.

The proposed amendments maintain a distinction between common carriers, that is, general public service agencies, and other types of radio stations, such as broadcasting stations, experimental stations &c., whereas the Couzens bill groups all forms of communication under the head of common carriers.

Mr. Webster emphasized the essentially private character of broadcasting and certain other forms of radio communication. He recognized, however, the need for regulation of broadcasting, and suggested that the act be made applicable to all forms of communication by wire or wireless.

While his suggestions embrace the essential features of the zone system, Mr. Webster proposes to enlarge the power of the President to permit the appointment of any qualified citizen as a member of the commission regardless of geographical location.

Recognizing the contention made from time to time that the commission cannot act when a vacancy in its membership occurs, Mr. Webster would expressly provide:

"No vacancy in the commission shall impair the right of the remaining commissioners to exercise all the powers of the commission. A majority of the members thereof shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business."

For Modifying Allocations.

Substantial modification of the Davis amendment, which requires the commission to maintain an equal allocation of broadcasting licenses, frequencies, periods of operation and power among the several zones is recommended. Mr. Webster puts emphasis on the interests of the listener. His amendment provides:

"In considering applications for licenses, for renewal of licenses and for modification of licenses, when and in so far as there is a demand for the same, the commission shall make such a distribution of licenses, frequencies, hours of operation and power among the several States and communities as to provide an equitable distribution of good radio reception among the same."

A new provision was recommended specifically allowing a hearing in opposition to any application which may be before the commission. Under the radio act of 1927 the commission has been able to take final action without consulting the interests of licensees who may be affected by the granting of an application.

Aims at Treaty Conflicts.

The amendments would permit the holding of directorships and a larger stock ownership by aliens. They would avoid inconsistencies with other acts and treaties by allowing the issuance of licenses covering apparatus on board United States vessels or aircraft when the installation and use of such apparatus is required by act of Congress or treaty to which the United States is a party.

Mr. Webster would enlarge the statute to define strictly the right created by a station license, to require control of stations by licensees who may be held responsible therefor during the entire term of a license, and to eliminate dealing in licenses.

Contending that a convenient procedure should be provided for revocation and suspension of station licenses, an amendment was offered to vest the commission with discretion to determine whether revocation or suspension is appropriate to meet the circumstances in each case, to permit the licensee to make a showing before an order of revocation or suspension is issued and to eliminate the present clumsy procedure.

FIRE CAUSES FATAL CRASH.

Philadelphia Councilman Dies as Blaze in Car Diverts Driver.

Special to The New York Times.

HAMMONTON, N. J., Aug. 28.—Councilman, was fatally injured Benjamin H. Field, 41, Philadelphia early today when the driver of a coupé in which he was riding to Atlantic City turned his attention to a blazing piece of paper on the front seat and crashed into a telephone pole on the White Horse Pike at Elwood.

Field died on the way to the hospital.

The third passenger, Robert M. Thielen, 36, also of Philadelphia, was unhurt.

BYRD'S RADIO TESTS TO BE RELAYED BACK

KDKA to Put Signals on Another Short Wave So Antarctic Station Can Check Up.

OTHER BROADCASTS ADDED

Plans for Third Nation-Wide Radio Chain Being Discussed With "Movie" Interests Here.

Radio tests to be intercepted tomorrow night at KDKA from Commander Byrd's station, WFA, near the South Pole, will be relayed back to the Little America station on another short wave so the sender may see immediately the results of the experiment to determine the vagaries of radio transmission, according to the Westinghouse Company.

The plan to hold the test only last night at 7 o'clock, Eastern Daylight Time, has been amplified to include similar broadcasts tonight and tomorrow night at the same hours, he said. The representative said yesterday that "osiso" signal recording devices in the Westinghouse laboratories at East Pittsburgh were tuned up and ready for the first broadcast on six short-wave lengths—68.1, 45.6, 34, 26.5, 22.7 and 17.9 meters. Signals intercepted from Little America will also be broadcast over the 306-meter wave of KDKA, so local listeners may hear the test.

"The signal received from WFA, about 11,000 miles away from Pittsburgh, will be turned about and rebroadcast directly back to the sender on another wave," said a Westinghouse engineer. "All the signals received from WFA will be recorded as received, for future reference."

The broadcasts will be sent out by Malcolm P. Hanson, radio engineer of the expedition. The osiso recorders are said to be so delicate that time differences of only a few millionths of a second can be readily detected. Thus the radio waves, as they arrive by various paths from the south polar transmitter, will be recorded in the order of their coming. A very exact method of ascertaining these time differences has been perfected and is incorporated in the osiso.

The investigations are expected to increase knowledge concerning radio dead spots and fading, the causes of which are now imperfectly understood.

Plans were also being made yesterday to intercept the experimental broadcasts at the General Electric experimental laboratory at Schenectady, a representative said.

Adolph S. Linden, president of the American Broadcasting Corporation of Seattle, Wash., which is in the hands of receivers, is in New York to negotiate with motion picture interests to refinance or take over his company, it was learned yesterday. Mr. Linden is said to be negotiating with William Fox, president of the Fox Film Corporation, and other picture organizations, for the carrying out of the American broadcasting concern's announced plan to establish a third country-wide radio chain, with affiliated stations in New York.

Leading radio set makers may face litigation for infringement of United States Patent Letter No. 1,672,855, controlled by the Ware Manufacturing Corporation, according to Paul Ware, president. This patent, dated June 5, 1928, is said to cover the use of "selective shields" to prevent undesired reception. Results attained with receivers equipped with this device have resulted in the copying of the system by virtually all makers of radio receivers, Mr. Ware said. The patent, applied for on Jun 1922, contains twenty-two claims. Several leading radio set makers are said to be considering plans to acquire licenses under the Ware patent.

STUDY ADIRONDACK FLY.

State Officials Work to Relieve Mountain Resorts of Pest.

LAKE PLACID, N. Y., Aug. 28 (AP).—The "fly in the ointment" of the Adirondack Mountain resorts may be removed as a result of a survey being conducted to determine the habits of the black fly and similar insect pests found in the Adirondacks.

The work is being carried on under the direction of Dr. Charles C. Adams, director of the New York State Museum, and Dr. Robert D. Glasgow, New York State entomologist. It was undertaken at the request of a number of camp owners and hotel proprietors who complained of the winged pests.

The survey is being conducted at Saranac Inn, Tuper Lake, Lake Placid and numerous other points in the mountains. One investigator is studying the habits of the flies and the other is securing data on the economic loss suffered by residents of this section because of the flies. This will be presented to the Legislature at its next session and an appropriation asked to establish scientific control of the insects.

LIVING TISSUE CELLS SHOWN IN MOVIE

CHANGES PLAINLY VISIBLE

Microscopic Photography Reveals Action in Cancer—Doctors Tour Hospitals Today.

Living cells of body tissues which have been observed in the past only through a microscope, were shown here yesterday on a motion picture screen at the Rockefeller Institute for Medical Research.

By substituting an automatic motion picture camera for a scientist's eye at the microscope, and gearing it to take on exposure a minute, Dr. Alexis Carrel, experimental surgeon of the institute, obtained a film which reproduced the unremitting observation of the camera while the scientist was attending to other researches. Half an hour of his time, spent in watching the film when it was projected on the screen, showed what used to require days of patient observation alone at the end of a microscope.

Moreover, the automatic observations of cell behavior made by Dr. Carrel through his motion picture camera, were shared directly yesterday with about 500 scientists attending the Thirteenth International Physiologists Congress.

It was not even necessary for Dr. Carrel to be present. After the visiting scientists had been welcomed by Dr. Simon Flexner, director of the Rockefeller laboratories, it was announced by Dr. Winthrop J. V. Osterhout, physiologist of the institute, that Dr. Carrel was abroad, but that his application of motion pictures to the study of cell behavior would be shown by a collaborator.

Cells of microscopic size appeared on the screen in dimensions of feet instead of microns. Their interior changes could be followed in detail from the rear of a fifty foot room as they grew and reproduced.

The continuous record of their movements revealed dynamic changes in the tempo of their "dance," as it was called, which became convulsive as they split.

The death of a cell and its special behavior in cancerous tissue were also shown, but no conclusions were announced, since the showing was simply to illustrate the application of the motion pictures.

The visiting scientists applauded and examined the phenomena again by having the films run through the projector once more.

Today and tomorrow, they will visit hospitals and laboratories in New York and the vicinity, as individuals, and proceed to Quebec where the Congress will disband on Sept. 7, until 1932.

SEMINARY ROW DEFERRED.

Princeton Conservatives Postpone Suit to Oust New Board.

Special to The New York Times.

PRINCETON, N. J., Aug. 28.—Action on the part of the minority or extreme conservative group against the new board of control of Princeton Theological Seminary is understood to be deferred, at least for the present, according to advices here today. Legal action to determine the right of the new board to function had been threatened by this group, which has consistently opposed the reorganization of the seminary and questioned the legality of the measures taken to effect it. It is understood, however, that with the establishment of the new seminary in Philadelphia, which will be opened next month, the plan is to delay any action, at least for a period.

The Rev. Dr. Oswald T. Allis, who will be on the staff of the new seminary and has taught for many years at Princeton, was the only member of the minority group in Princeton who was reached. He was unable to say whether action against Princeton's new board would be dropped or merely deferred. In the past the initiative against the board has been taken by the Rev. Dr. H. Gresham Machen and the Rev. Dr. Samuel G. Craig, both of whom have been out of town for the past few weeks.

J. A. Springer's Death by Drowning

A special dispatch published in THE NEW YORK TIMES of Aug. 12 told of the death by drowning near Erie, Pa., of J. A. Springer of New York in an attempt to save his wife. The statement, made on the authority of the local coroner, was erroneous. Mr. Springer was not married.

PHILADELPHIA FACES DARK THEATRES

DEADLOCK WITH MUSICIANS

Refuse to Pay the Orchestra Members Whether Theatres Are Open or Closed.

Special to The New York Times.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 28.—Negotiations between the Musicians' Union and the managers of Philadelphia's legitimate theatres reached a deadlock today and the managers canceled all engagements, tentatively booked for the early part of the season. How long the season would be dark could be foretold neither by representatives of the union nor by the managers, the attitude of both being, "no compromise."

The old agreement expires Saturday night and the musicians are seeking to have it renewed. It includes provisions that they are to be paid whether the theatres are open or closed and that theatre orchestras must have 80 per cent. local talent.

The eight legitimate theatres may not be the only ones affected. The musicians, whose spokesmen at the meeting were John Colaplete, president of the union, and Charles J. McConnell, secretary, threatened to bring about on Monday in all movie theatres a strike of musicians, stagehands and movie operators unless the movie managers come to terms.

A "sympathy message" from the allied craft and stage hands, upholding the demands of the musicians, was delivered to the legitimate theatre managers soon after today's conference broke up.

"This would also mean that the actors would favor the musicians, if we went ahead and opened the theatres without the musicians," said Samuel N. Nirdinger, manager of the Shubert theatres and spokesman for the managerial group. "The unions of the stage hands, the musicians and actors are all closely allied. It looks like a pretty gloomy prospect of any settlement soon. The managers have absolutely made their final offer, and the musicians say they will accept nothing less than they had last year."

The managers refuse to agree that the musicians be paid during "dark" weeks and they insist upon orchestras having only 33 1-3 per cent local talent.

A telegram to the managers' conference from A. L. Erlanger, representing the Erlanger booking organization, declared that "the unwarrantedly selfish demands of the musicians are depriving Philadelphians of attendance at first-class theatres. The managers are agreed that we shall not pay musicians when the theatres are dark."

WHALEN TURNS BACK THE SPEAKEASY TASK

Letter in Detail.

Mr. Whalen's letter to Mr. Campbell follows:

Aug. 28, 1929.

The Honorable Maurice Campbell,
Prohibition Administrator
Treasury Department
New York City, New York.
Dear Sir:

This will acknowledge receipt during the past few days from you of a number of stereotyped letters submitting for my attention copies of complaints of alleged violations of the national prohibition act. In your letter you referred to these complaints as relating to violations of Section 1,530 of the penal law, defined as a public nuisance. These letters of complaint in all instances relate to the sale of intoxicating liquors.

You apparently have assumed merely because the complaints refer to the national prohibition act that as such constituted a violation of Section 1,530 of the penal law.

Your department was created by the Congress of the United States for the express purpose of detecting violations of the national prohibition act and all statutes collateral thereto, and to cause to be instituted appropriate prosecution therefor.

On the other hand, the Police Department of this city is charged by law with the detection and apprehension of all persons charged with violations of penal statutes of this State, of which Section 1,530 is merely one of a large number.

May I remind you that agents of your department have all the power possessed by police officers of this city with respect to the apprehension and prosecution of persons charged with violation of the public nuisance law. Your agents have exactly the same standing for the purpose of instituting such prosecution in the magistrate's courts of this city as have police officers.

It seems to me whenever a complaint is brought to the notice of your department respecting violation of the national prohibition act, when such violation is accompanied with the violation of Section 1530 of the penal law, it is the duty of your department to investigate such complaints and where such legal evidence is obtained to cause to be instituted appropriate criminal prosecution either in State or Federal courts. The duties of your department in this respect are not discharged merely by your referring such complaints to this department.

Promises General Cooperation.

The Police Department of this city will continue to cooperate with your department and to give proper attention to complaints brought to its notice in respect to violations of any penal statutes in which it has jurisdiction. It is correspondingly the duty of your agents to investigate violations of the national prohibition act and cause to be instituted prosecution in the magistrates' courts where investigation shows that act complained of is a violation of Section 1530 of the penal law. Magistrates' courts are available to your agents for filing of information respecting such violations. Official representatives of the District Attorneys' offices of the respective counties of the city of New York are on duty in each magistrate's court. Where informations are filed by your agents in such courts charging violation of Section 1530 of the penal law, the District Attorneys will cooperate with your agents to the fullest extent of their powers in prosecuting those who are accused. If, in the opinion of the magistrates, the evidence should warrant such action, they would no doubt hold the defendants for trial in the Court of Special Sessions. In this court also is an Assistant District Attorney assigned to duty for the purpose of such prosecution. In this manner your department would receive all cooperation possible from the State, District Attorney and the courts.

If you are unwilling to discharge your sworn obligations to the Federal Government or wish to make a confession of your inability to effectively direct the activities of your department, for which a large proportion of a $36,000,000 appropriation is allotted, the admission should be made primarily to your superiors in Washington, instead of "passing the buck" to the State law-enforcing officers. Your plan would necessitate increasing the police personnel by 5,000 men, costing the taxpayers of the city of New York a minimum of $15,000,000 per annum.

The policy laid down in this communication has been arrived at in conference with the acting chief city magistrate and the district attorneys of the five counties of the city of New York.

Very truly yours,
GROVER A. WHALEN,
Police Commissioner.

Enclosures:

May Arouse Dry Circles.

Mr. Whalen's defiance of the prohibition administrator in the New York district is expected to arouse interest among Federal dry enforcement officers in Washington and other States which have no individual dry laws.

After receiving Mr. Campbell's communications Mr. Whalen asked Acting Chief Magistrate Corrigan and the District Attorneys of the five counties of the city to confer with him at 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon in the Lawyers Club.

Acting District Attorney Ferdinand Pecora of New York County, District Attorney John E. McGeehan of the Bronx and his chief assistant, George B. DeLuca; District Atorney Richard E. Newcombe of Queens and Chief Assistant District Attorney Joseph V. Gallagher of Kings, representing District Attorney Charles J. Dodd, and the Acting Chief Magistrate were present in a private room when Mr. Whalen, Chief Inspector O'Brien and Deputy Chief Inspector Mulrooney joined them.

Mr. Whalen had brought with him the photostatic copies of the complaints received from Mr. Campbell, and it was understood that many of them were read to the gathering before the attitude to be taken by local authorities was discussed. Before the close of the conference at 4 o'clock, it was learned, a rough draft of Mr. Whalen's letter was dictated to a stenographer.

As the conference broke up Mr. Whalen announced that he was on his way to Police Headquarters to dictate a full reply to Mr. Campbell, and that copies of this reply would be made public in about an hour. It was not until 8:20 o'clock last night, however, that the Commissioner finished his reply and made it public.

Mr. Whalen said that he felt that his attitude in the matter had been fully covered in his communication. He refused to make any comment on the declaration of Mr. Campbell that the Police Department could effectively close every speakeasy in the city by use of the Court of Appeals decision that such resorts come under the nuisance law.

Many Complaints Anonymous.

Pressed for information as to the character of the complaints received from Mr. Campbell, however, Mr. Whalen said:

"Many of them were signed anonymously, and merely expressed the suspicion that the Federal prohibition law was being violated. In some instances no definite address was given. Some of the letters had been addressed to the Federal prohibition enforcement officers in Washington, while others had been sent to the local Federal authorities.

"In no instance was there any indication that Mr. Campbell or any of his local enforcement officers had made any attempt to verify the charge that liquor was being sold. It was evident that all Mr. Campbell did was to take up these anonymous communications, signed 'John Doe,' or 'Richard Roe' or something like that and send them here with the declaration that it was up to the police to arrest persons at the addresses on charges of violating the State law against public nuisances.

"To cite one instance, here is a complaint, signed 'Citizen,' in which it is stated that an employe of the writer, before coming to work each day, visits a drug store and when he comes out appears to be under the influence of liquor. The writer advances the belief that 'booze' must be on sale in the place.

"I was assured by the prosecutors at the conference today that they would willingly cooperate with the Federal enforcement authorities in this city in proceeding against suspected public nuisances when the prohibition officers brought substantial evidence into the magistrates' courts. There is an Assistant District Attorney in every magistrate's court ready to work with them and see that legitimate cases are held for trial in Special Sessions.

"Acting Chief Magistrate Corrigan promised that the magistrates of the city also would willingly aid the prohibition enforcement officers in sending legitimate cases to the higher court. Under the circumstances the Federal prohibition officers have every facility to act under the State law against public nuisances as we have."

WHALEN GETS $10,000 AS HUTCHINSON REWARD

He Divides Insurance Company's Gift Among Detectives in Recovery of Jewels.

A reward of $10,000 for the recovery of jewels valued at $114,900, which had been stolen from the Summer home of Mrs. Sydney E. Hutchinson of Philadelphia at Beverley Farms, Mass., was paid to Police Commissioner Whalen yesterday by Chubb & Co., which had insured the gems.

Commissioner Whalen announced that the reward would be divided as follows: Lieutenant Patrick V. J. McVeigh of the staff of Deputy Chief Inspector Edward Mulrooney, $1,000; Detectives Martin Menahan, Edward Kirwan and Hymie Lavine, $1,000 each; three members of the secret police squad, $3,500; police relief fund, $1,500; police pension fund, $1,000.

Wilson Harmon, 29 years old, a negro, proprietor of a pool parlor at 137 West 144th Street, was arrested by Detectives Levine, Kirwan and Monahan after Byron Jones, from whom they had recovered the bulk of the loot on Monday, had told them of selling a diamond ring worth $4,000 to Harmon for $25. The latter denied it, but was held on a charge of criminally receiving stolen property.

Jones was held by Magistrate Delaney in Washington Heights Court without bail for examination on Sept. 4 on a charge of bringing stolen goods into the State and Sept. 5 on charges of felonious assault and violation of the Sullivan law. Police Chief Welsch of Beverley Farms said that a new link had been forged against him in the discovery in his pocket of a pair of silk gloves, tabs from which were found outside the Hutchinson home after the burglary.

HAS $275,000 LEGACY BUT STICKS TO CIRCUS

Water Carrier Says if He Quits to Collect Inheritance He Will Lose $60 Owed Him.

PORTLAND, Ore., Aug. 28 (AP).—A 21-year-old $8-a-week water carrier for a circus playing Portland remained at his post under the white tops today and refused to leave to collect a $275,000 inheritance available in Los Angeles because, he declared, the circus owed him $60 "hold back" money.

The youth, Robert Sterling of Philadelphia, said he would remain with the circus until it reached Los Angeles, where he would answer personally a telegram he had received from an attorney informing him of the inheritance left by his father.

Sterling said when the Radio Corporation of America was organized, his father, who operated a radio shop in Philadelphia, purchased a few shares of stock in the corporation. When the elder Sterling died in 1927, Robert said, he left the stock in keeping of a Los Angeles attorney until Robert became of age. Sterling became 21 years old on July 20.

Last night Sterling received a telegram from the attorney stating that the stock was worth $260,000 and that there also was $15,000 in accrued dividends awaiting him.

EAST ROCKAWAY, L. I., Aug. 28.—District Attorney Elvin N. Edwards of Nassau County, addressing the Bay Park Property Owners' Association in the Rhame Street school auditorium here this afternoon, declared that the speakeasy problem must be attacked through the nuisance laws and that District Attorneys throughout the State have the right to demand that police procure evidence against speakeasies or be indicted for failure to do so.

"I have respect for 95 per cent of the policemen," he said, "but the dishonest ones I will prosecute."

The plea of some District Attorneys that there is no State law under which the speakeasy operator can be prosecuted was deprecated by Mr. Edwards. He cited a record of 300 speakeasies closed and $50,000 collected in fines in Nassau County. The prosecutions were made under the State nuisance act, and evidence was procured by special operatives of the District Attorney's office working with the Nassau County police, he said.

Referring to Commissioner Whalen's conference today, he said, "Commissioner Whalen's 30,000 speakeasies are coming back as ghosts to annoy him."

"One of the Assistant District Attorneys in New York told me that the campaign against evil is impeded because the prosecutor has only the Special Sessions Court in which to try cases. If I had such a court here in Nassau County I could try at least thirty cases a day, instead of the one or two that I am able to try at the present time with the juries here."

Mr. Edwards, who a short time ago proposed the Quebec plan of liquor distribution, tonight withdrew the proposal. Too much opposition levelled at him from protagonists of both sides of the liquor question, forced him to do so, he said.

HOOTS AS WHALEN GOES BY.

Man Detained by Commissioner's Aide, Who Suspects Insult.

As Police Commissioner Whalen in his official limousine drove past Mall Street on Broadway yesterday afternoon a street car switchman emitted a loud and raucous squawk which Detective Thomas Linn, bodyguard of the commissioner, apparently considered lèse majesté.

Linn took the man, who said his name was Prescott Robins, to the Oak Street police station, and after keeping him there for an hour, released him with the remark that he was "lucky the commissioner didn't want to press a charge."

Commissioner Whalen said later that any action which had been taken by Linn was on his own initiative. Linn declined to discuss the matter.

THEATRICAL NOTES.

Gertrude Lawrence began a try-out engagement in "Candle Light" at Southampton, England, on Monday night. She will open the play in this country on Sept. 16 in Philadelphia, coming here two weeks later.

"Ghost Parade" will open Sept. 16 at Werba's Flatbush Theatre, Brooklyn. Charles K. Gerdon is the producer.

Douglas G. Hertz announces that he will produce a dramatization of his novel "Flesh Alley" in late October or early November. Modette Hunt will have the leading rôle.

Charles Henderson, Edward Redding and Larry Wood have been engaged for "Reborn," of which Glenn Hunter is to be the star.

"Yes, James," a musical comedy, is announced for production by its authors, Ralph Rainger and Adam Carroll, who are the pianists of "The Little Show." William Taylor and John C. King will be associated in the production.

"Nancy's Private Affair," Myron C. Fagan's new play, will be tried out by Chamberlain Brown's company in Greenwich, Conn., the week of Sept. 9.

A revue bearing the title of "On and Off" may be produced by Irving Schloss. The sketches will be by William Griffith, now in Murray Anderson's Almanac."

GREENWICH, Conn., Aug. 28.—Miss Catherine Dunbar Duer of Wilmington, Del., was married to Richard Nicholls of New York, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry S. Nicholls of South Devon, England, on Monday. The ceremony was performed by Justice of the Peace John J. O'Brien.

Mr. Nicholls is an actor and has been identified with the theatre for many years. He was educated in Queens College and Exeter, England. He last played in "The Jade God."

At the Lewisohn Stadium tonight, commencing at 8:30 o'clock, the Philharmonic Symphony Orchestra, conducted by Willem van Hoogstraten, will play its final program. The items will be the "Pathetic" symphony of Tchaikovsky, the Fifth symphony of Beethoven and the "Meistersinger" overture of Wagner.

WALTER CAMP TO WED RUTH ELDER TOMORROW

The wedding of Ruth Elder, transatlantic flier and movie actress, to Walter Camp Jr., president of Inspiration Pictures, Inc., and son of the late "father of American football," will take place tomorrow, "presumably" in New York, Mr. Camp said yesterday. Miss Elder, who confirmed the report of her engagement while contesting in the recent women's air derby from Santa Monica, Cal., to Cleveland, arrived here by train yesterday morning.

Both Mr. Camp and Miss Elder refused to say where or at what hour the ceremony would be held, but in reply to a question Mr. Camp said that he "presumed" it would be somewhere in the city.

The wedding will be simple and strictly private, Mr. Camp said, as both he and Miss Elder desire to avoid any undue attention which Miss Elder's activity in aviation might attract.

They will depart immediately after the ceremony for an extended honeymoon, he said. They will make their home here, Mr. Camp said.

SNOWDEN AND YOUNG.

Mr. SNOWDEN and his methods at The Hague are naturally hailed in England as completely victorious. He did gain a large part of his demands, in the matter of the British share of German reparations, but he did not gain all. The dispute whether he got 75 per cent, as the French say, or 80 per cent, as the English experts figure it out, of what he asked is largely a matter of juggling figures. But it must not be forgotten that at the very beginning of The Hague conference Mr. SNOWDEN laid down an ultimatum from which he declared that he would not recede an iota. His exact words on Aug. 7 were: "I speak "quite frankly—we cannot compro- "mise." He threatened to withdraw at once with his whole delegation unless the British case were instantly conceded. But he finally stayed on for three weeks, and in the end compromised, though he had protested that he never would.

Another attitude and statement of his should be borne in mind when attempting to measure correctly his achievements. In his opening speech at The Hague he made a bitter attack upon the Young Plan. He asserted that the House of Commons would never ratify it as it stood. Therefore it must be revised. But it has not been. All the concessions made to England have been made within the framework of the Young Plan. It yet stands secure against all the bitter assaults upon it made by Mr. LLOYD GEORGE, Chancellor SNOWDEN and others. There is nothing sacred about it, but it has become the symbol and safeguard of the peace of Europe. Not even Great Britain, though spurred on by her fiery Chancellor—so different from patient and persuasive OWEN YOUNG—can seek to undo it in any important particulars without incurring such blame and disrepute as even the proudest and most self-sufficing nation might well shrink from.

ROOSEVELT AND THE COUNTY.

Governor ROOSEVELT is evidently determined to keep tilting at county government. In his annual message he took up the theme where his predecessor had left off: "Why should "any of us pretend any longer that "our county and town governments "do not require the same kind of "overhauling which we have given "to the affairs of the State?" His plea fell, as he must have expected, on deaf ears. But he is renewing it. Controller TREMAINE, who has dug deep into the fiscal affairs of a number of up-State counties, is reported to have in preparation a report of the finances of local governments generally. It should prove useful to the Governor when he turns again to the attack on this citadel of political privilege.

Already he is dropping propaganda behind the enemy lines. In a letter to the taxpayers of each of the fifty-seven up-State counties he set out in dollars and cents the savings which should result from the so-called farm relief program adopted, after considerable dissension, at the last session of the Legislature. Sullivan County, for example, will gain $154,805 by being relieved of its share of the burden of State highway construction. The elimination of the direct tax should turn another $35,828 into the local treasury. Other legislative blessings will bring the county's total saving up to something like $200,000. The Governor slyly points out that whether the taxpayers will get the benefit of this reduction will depend on the Board of Supervisors and other local officials, mostly Republican.

This is calculated to make some of them squirm. Those who had plans neatly made for spending this legislative largess in a way to suit their own tastes may cry out that the Governor should mind his own business. But after all it is his own business. They can hardly object to his explaining to the taxpayers the nature of the legislative tax-relief program, and its benefits. And whatever the politicians may say, the taxpayers are not likely to take exception to his suggestion that they take an increased interest in local expenditures. There is where today's tax shoe pinches most sharply, and most unnecessarily.

BRITISH RESPONSIBILITY.

Prime Minister MACDONALD by both word and act admits the obligation resting upon the British Government to maintain order in Palestine. This realization of the duty of England as Mandatory for that country is doubtless sharpened by the fear that Moslem sentiment in India and Egypt may be stirred violently by the events in the Holy Land. But whatever view is taken of the present crisis, it cannot be denied, and the British Government would not think of denying, that the deliberate engagements of England make her primarily, if not solely, responsible for what has happened, and what may happen, in Palestine.

Everything goes back to the Balfour Declaration of Nov. 2, 1917. This was made public more than a month before Lord ALLENBY entered Jerusalem. Its words should be distinctly held in mind today:

> His Majesty's Government view with favor the establishment in Palestine of a national home for the Jewish people, and will use their best endeavors to facilitate the achievement of that object, it being understood that nothing shall be done which may prejudice the civil and religious rights of existing non-Jewish communities in Palestine, or the rights and political status enjoyed by the Jews in any other country.

It is plain, therefore, that the Jews who have gone to Palestine since the war did so on the distinct invitation of the British Government. Their welcome and their protection were implicitly guaranteed. Both became explicit with the Mandate for Palestine approved by the League of Nations and accepted by Great Britain. The Mandatory Power was authorized to set up an Administration of Palestine which should "organize on a voluntary "basis the forces necessary for the "preservation of peace and order." Such a police force, supplemented by British troops, was supposed to have been provided, but it is now evident that it was made too small by successive reductions. It is said by way of excuse that the British authorities in Palestine did not foresee the bloody outbreak of the past few days. But they had distinct warnings of it in advance, and British colonial administrators have too long and too often had proof of the danger of inflaming Moslem passion to leave them in doubt that special measures should have been taken to safeguard the situation in Palestine, which was known to be menacing.

Whatever may be said of the wisdom of the aspirations and activities of the Zionist organization in Palestine, it was given a clear standing and undeniable rights by the British Government. Under the terms of the Palestine Mandate it was recognized as "an appropriate Jewish agency" for the purpose of advising and cooperating with the Administration of Palestine. It was placed under the protecting power of Great Britain. If that demands maintenance for some time to come of a large British force in Palestine, there is no escape from it. England has made herself responsible both morally and legally, and must be prepared to go every necessary length in showing that she intends to live up to her solemn obligations undertaken in the eyes of the whole world.

EXPORTATION FOR HARMONY.

Having jauntily ordered National Committeeman LIGGETT and Senator GILLETT to be thrown overboard as "Jonahs," former Governor FULLER of Massachusetts views the sea from his Rye Beach villa and enjoys his allusion. Meanwhile, the Republican brethren wonder what he will say or do next. Should he stay in the State, he is sure to raise Cain with the party, if his orders aren't obeyed. To some expert on Republican life-savers light came from New Jersey. If a statesman's absence is thought conducive to the health of his party or the convenience of some of his associates, his employment in a diplomatic post may be the remedy, easy to take and pleasant for all.

A day or two ago a Washington dispatch in The Boston Herald ascribed to the perambulating universal Senator MOSES the design to transport Mr. FULLER, translate him into Ambassador and so escape the peck of troubles looked for from him in 1930. Mr. MOSES has taken permanent charge of Massachusetts and most other States. Even if the ascription to him be mythical, he deserves it by the fertility of his mind and the remarkable success of his suggestions in 1928. Yesterday the Washington correspondence of THE TIMES painted a picture full of melancholy charm.

Mr. WILLIAM MORGAN BUTLER, an ancient victim of the Republican vendetta, was at the White House. There were conferences. A plan for Massachusetts Republican relief is said to have been discussed. Can't Mr. FULLER be induced to take a nice fat ambassadorship? Spain, for instance; or would he prefer Japan? Certainly the patriots who want him exported prefer Japan. As "JOE" FORAKER said when asked if he objected to the appointment of BELLAMY STORER to a foreign mission, "No, the foreigner the better." To make the situation more comic, it is proposed that an assistant secretaryship of the Treasury be given to BENJAMIN LORING YOUNG, beaten Republican candidate for Senator last year. Doubtless provision will have to be made also for General BUTLER AMES and EBEN DRAPER, Mr. YOUNG'S competitors in the primary.

This scheme of consolation prizes is pretty; but the transportation of the main offender is the vital question. Will he accept the sentence? Hadn't he rather indulge his genius? After doing justice to his great qualities, "BOB" WASHBURN writes in The Transcript: "That Spartan boy, "the Republican Party, should have "thrown this young tiger out of "its bosom before he grew his "claws." Will a transmarine cage invite him? Perhaps he is enjoying himself too much. The funniest thing about the White House parle is that its chief purpose seems to have been to leave the field clear for Senator GILLETT, if he decides to seek renomination. One has to rub one's eyes to realize that Mr. COOLIDGE, Mr. GILLETT'S sponsor, is not President. It is to be noticed that divers timid old faithfuls are saying again that Mr. COOLIDGE must be elected to the Senate in 1930 if the State is not to have two Democratic Senators.

JUDGE BARNHILL'S DECISIONS.

The Communists who in the court room at Charlotte on Tuesday circulated leaflets denouncing the Gastonia labor trials in advance as a "frame-up," could not be quieted by any judge or court procedure, however fair. But to all those watching the trial with open minds, the course of the presiding judge thus far has seemed in line with the fairness which prompted him to grant the plea of the defense for a change of venue from Gastonia, scene of the murder of the police chief, to Charlotte. While the bill of specifications of the prosecution has been argued, he has shown a just and commendable effort to reduce the issues to the plain ones of culpability and premeditation. In barring evidence dealing with the words or actions of the defendants prior to the day of the murder, in so far as they relate to the charge of conspiracy, he has followed the best practice of American courts. Particularly in this case, where efforts have been made to array one social class against another, and to seek to make of the defendants martyrs to "soulless capitalism", in advance of trial, have Judge BARNHILL'S firm and equitable rulings been of national value.

It is to be expected that, as the choice of a jury proceeds, the judge will preside with the same demonstration of a just purpose. Certainly he and the State of North Carolina have done everything possible to give the defendants a trial by a jury of their peers not locally influenced, as they might have been had the proceedings taken place at Gastonia. In permitting the defense attorneys also the right to examine in private certain witnesses for the prosecution, the judge and the State have shown a willingness to permit the defense to avail itself of every right which North Carolina gives to men in jeopardy of their lives. The outcome may be awaited by those concerned for the good name of American judicial procedure with confidence, at least, that here is no "frame-up."

BURGLARY LOSSES AND CASES.

In his first detailed analysis of the Whalen police report, Mr. LAGUARDIA showed the alert and acute quality of mind which his opponents will have to reckon with throughout this campaign. If they make a slip or blunder, he will pounce upon it like a hawk. Under his watchful eye they will have to be extremely careful about their facts and figures. Commissioner WHALEN gave him an opening in his statement about robberies and burglaries during the first six months of this year, and Mr. LAGUARDIA pressed through it sword in hand.

The trouble was largely one of bad arrangement and misleading inference in the police report. It contained on page 5 the heading "Rob- "bery and Burglary—Reduced 70 "Per Cent." But the following matter related only to the losses, as a result of robbery and burglary, paid by the insurance companies. These did, indeed, show a reduction of 44 per cent over the same period in three previous years. But, as Mr. LAGUARDIA was quick to point out, these figures cover only a small portion of the entire property of the city. Thus the total impression made by this section of the police report was really wide of the facts. Yet Mr. LAGUARDIA was not quite accurate in saying that Commissioner WHALEN had not reported the actual number of cases of robbery and burglary. It is true that he kept them out of his personal statement where he was discussing the matter, but on page 42 of the report was included a table showing the actual reported cases of assault and robbery. The entire number for the first six months of 1929 was 569. Parallel cases reported in 1928 numbered 571. Thus the grand total of reduction in this category was exactly two cases. This is much more of a telltale fact than is the comparison of burglary losses paid by the insurance companies. On another page of the report were the figures for burglary—1,530 in 1929, as against 1,871 in 1928. This is a big and gratifying drop, but does not justify the report's claim, "Reduced 70 per cent."

TECHNICAL DEFECTS IN TALKIES.

Perfection of the mechanics for transferring a complete drama of the stage to the talkie projection outfit is still a long way off, but engineers are hard at work on the problems still to be solved, and they assure us that some day we shall be able to go into a cinema house and be unaware of a screen. Instead we shall see on a full stage people and things that look and sound like the genuine performance of a play such as one now sees at the regular theatres of Broadway. Exact imitation is still ruled out by the physical limitations of talkie apparatus. The screens used are the usual movie screens, which destroy all illusion of the real theatre. A number of leaders in the film industry are claiming complete success in reproducing lifelike colors. The third dimension is promised for the immediate future. Prophecies of improvement in diction and tone are beginning to be credible, for the talkie stars are not lisping quite so badly, and the resonance of their voices is gradually being subdued.

While we await what The New Yorker calls the Cecil B. de Millenium, it is interesting to learn something of the technicalities of talkie production. In Current History for September is an article by EDWIN W. HULLINGER on giving the movies a voice. There are two totally different methods, one of which is not difficult for the layman to understand. It was the first to be commercially successful. A phonograph is used to record the actors' voices and other sounds, and mechanical synchronization is supposed to keep the words in time with the picture when both are run off. Despite the defects of this kind of talkie, it was so popular that the experts working on the "sound cell" were hurried into commercial production before their equipment was quite ready for the public.

The principles of the "photoelectric sound cell" are not understood even by the engineers who have discovered and utilized it. They know what it does without knowing why. It looks like an ordinary electric light bulb coated almost entirely with silver solution. The chemicals covering it are sensitive to light variation, though no one quite knows why. They also have the power of causing variations in an electrical current playing on them. The reason for this is not known either. When the actor speaks, the sound waves are recorded in the form of light and dark shadows on a film. It is passed before the sound cell when reproduction is desired. If the shadow record of speech can be made to correspond precisely to the original utterance, one important technical item in the talkie program will have reached perfection.

"AMERICA'S PREMIER PHYSIOLOGIST."

A little short of a century ago a young army surgeon, WILLIAM BEAUMONT, brought to Plattsburg a Canadian woodsman, ALEXIS ST. MARTIN, whose life he had saved ten years earlier. The man was under a contract probably without its like. He bound himself to report to the doctor for examinations during a year and to submit to the experiments desired, he himself to receive $150 in addition to "expenses, good sus- "tenance, suitable housing, wearing "apparel and washing." Young ST. MARTIN became for this benefactor during that time a living human laboratory. The experiments of M. CLAUDE BERNARD, the French physiologist, were limited to animals, but BEAUMONT had been furnished a window by a wound, which could not be completely closed, through which he could observe the action of the human stomach in dealing with foods. It seemed a miracle that the young Canadian's life could have been saved, and BEAUMONT, who cared for him out of his own meager allowance, preventing his being deported as a pauper back to the Canadian wilds, thought at first only of restoring him to health. This he succeeded in doing so completely that the young woodsman could do heavy work.

It later occurred to Dr. BEAUMONT that his patient might be of service to science. He then began his observations which resulted in the publication, in 1833, at Plattsburg, of a book giving in detail 238 experiments, showing the relative digestibility of foods, the nature of the gastric juice, the temperature of the stomach in digestion &c. In the recently published second volume of the Dictionary of American Biography, Dr. VICTOR C. VAUGHAN, who devotes more than five full pages to his life, its vicissitudes and its achievements, states that the results which BEAUMONT set forth have been but little modified by subsequent studies and that most of his fifty-one conclusions are still accepted.

BEAUMONT was professionally recognized by the physiologists from many parts of the world when they gathered last Saturday to unveil the tablet in his memory as "America's premier physiologist." The publication of his "Experiments and Obser- "vation on the Gastric Juice and "the Physiology of Digestion" was "the commencement of a new era." With the possible exception of CLAUDE BERNARD, says Dr. VAUGHAN, no other man has made so important a contribution to the physiology of digestion.

Yet but few Americans realize their debt to this scientist. His human laboratory, the man "with a lid on his stomach," yielded to the call of the wild, declined to return for further experimentation and lived for twenty years longer than his benefactor. But the period of the unique contract brought such returns that it is written for all the future of America to know:

> Every physician who prescribes for digestive disorders and every patient who is benefited by such prescription owes gratitude to the memory of WILLIAM BEAUMONT.

TOPICS OF THE TIMES.

Relieving Congestion at the Piers.

By shifting customs inspectors from less congested ports to New York the Treasury Department hopes to be able to end the vexatious delays to which incoming passengers have been subjected during the past few days.

This is, of course, the busiest season for returning tourist traffic from Europe. Thousands of passengers arrive in a week—as many as 8,000 landed in two days recently. Owing to the nature of our customs regulations, which require a thorough examination of all articles brought in by incoming passengers, the time consumed in the process of verification of declarations is necessarily long.

Perhaps it will be possible, with more inspectors, to do away with some of the individual inconveniences, as, for example, the lengthy standing in line while an inspector is being assigned to examine the baggage. Stories were told last week of elderly persons having to wait for more than an hour, and being denied the right to have a chauffeur hold their places while they sought a few moments' rest.

The public will be grateful for such relief as the transferred inspectors will be able to afford. Obviously, it is difficult for Mr. LOWMAN and others to meet elastic demands with a rigid force. It is good to know that they are doing their best under the circumstances.

East River Fantasies.

One of the many foreign visitors who have written books about America complained that the New York press gives no indication in its daily news that this island is the world's greatest port. Readers were seldom reminded in print, he said, that a triangle of deep water surrounds the battlements of Manhattan. This may be true, and those who work and play on the rivers could add that the swarming city population misses a good deal of fun by not watching the craft which ply the encircling waters. A study of just the names of harbor vessels would repay any one interested.

The O'BRIEN brothers, for example, are river contractors, and must have had a great deal of amusement in naming their scows. One is called, with pride, O'Brien Boys. Another, very battered and black, has painted upon its sides the romantic name of Sea Fox. Another scow is the Sea Duck; and there are also the Sea Queen and the Dauntless. Humble though be the cargoes of these vessels, their names align them with the adventurous company of the sea.

On the East River daily are also to be seen scows owned by other masters, who call them Elmer, Bird, and—this a very black coal barge—May Queen. They are usually in the tow of tugs called Admiral Dewey or Frost Valley, or something equally unrelated to the grim daily life of a tug. Those who spend their time wondering where Pullman cars get their names—a new one is called the Wawa—and where safety-razor blades go, might profitably spend an hour looking down from the walls of Sutton Place.

Motion pictures brought a new world of action and of scene to the deaf, and the phonograph and radio a world of music and speech to the blind. Has the drama in talking pictures anything to add? Mr. FARNOL'S experiment was with a play of complexity and quick action and of speech with a strong English accent, yet even that seems to have been followed by his blind auditors with understanding and appreciation.

It has been suggested that any sighted person might make the experiment for himself by sitting with closed eyes through an entire play. The blind are accustomed to make greater demand upon the other senses, particularly that of hearing, and so can speedily and accurately construct a scene from mere sound or closely follow an action that is suggested by the words where a person with closed eyes would be hopelessly slow or helplessly lost.

To unstop the ears of the deaf and to open the eyes of the blind was in earlier times considered supernatural. Patient science has now found a way if not to restore the lost or impaired sense at any rate to teach the other senses to take its place in whole or in part. The blind, deaf and dumb HELEN KELLER sees, hears and speaks. She speaks accurately and movingly in a language she has never heard—a rebuke to those who though having hearing ears and free tongues murder their mother language in slovenly speech.

Speed Contests and Efficiency.

Sheep-shearing contests, with a prize to the man who can shear a sheep in the shortest time, are not new. But in Canada a variation of this old game has been tried. It is a race against time—to remove the coat from a sheep's back and transfer it to the Governor's in the shortest time possible.

At 5 o'clock in the morning four sheep were sheared. In exactly thirty minutes their wool was cleaned and then dyed. After this it was carded, spun into thread and woven. Without loss of time this material was dispatched to a tailor, who hastily made it into a suit. It was sent by airplane to the Quebec Exposition, where the Governor, M. PERODEAU, appeared in it at a banquet at 6:45 P. M.

The Paris Figaro comments on this marvel of speed, but doubts whether the coat could fit M. PERODEAU as well as it had fitted the sheep. There is doubt, too, whether during the heat of the after-dinner speeches the Governor may not have found his hands turning the same color as his suit, with the dye running out as rapidly as it had been soaked into the material. Speed and efficiency are not always compatible.

THANKS FROM CHICAGO.

To the Editor of The New York Times:

Chicago certainly appreciates the gracious manner in which New York has announced its intention of withdrawing its proposed World's Fair for 1932 in justice and fairness to "A Century of Progress," Chicago World's Fair of 1933.

Officials of the New York World's Fair Committee are reported in the newspapers as scheduling a World's Fair in that city for 1935, in which connection, for the guidance of New York, it is timely to bring to notice the fact that at a convention of official representatives of forty foreign nations held in Paris last year it was decided to limit the number of international expositions in which foreign nations would participate. The program was as follows:

> First, general expositions involving the construction by participating nations of buildings and displaying products of human activity in many branches of science and industry. These will be limited to not more than one every fifteen years for any single nation. Furthermore, a six-year period must elapse between any two of these expositions.
> Second, expositions that do not involve the construction of national buildings will be limited to not more than one in every ten years in any one country.
>
> Third, special expositions concerning only one branch of science or industry will be limited to not more than one in every five years.

The convention also decided to have expositions so arranged geographically that each nation is afforded its opportunity.

A New York newspaper, in referring to New Yorkers being on the architectural commission of "A Century of Progress," and New Yorkers also members of the National Research Council, which is working with Chicago for its World's Fair of 1933, makes the comment that "Chicago is putting up the money and the location, but New York is supplying the brains."

Chicago, with its big and broad purpose to make "A Century of Progress" of service and benefit to all humanity, will wholeheartedly welcome the cooperation of the brains of the world.

OUT OF THE NORTH.

"Of course, my delight in the country is keen—
There are many more trees, if you see what I mean—
But when cook, bairns and baggage are packed in the car,
I'll be eager to join them," says Auld Lochinvar.

"My bark, once so braw, to a whisper is worn
For rodents elusive who chatter with scorn;
They bear no regard for the conduct of war;
Guerrillas, not sportsmen," says Auld Lochinvar.

"The brambles, the brush-piles, the chill wind and fog
Prove trying at times to an elderly dog;
I find myself yearning for broad boulevard
And sheltered seclusion," says Auld Lochinvar.

"Then, too, in the purlieus of cevilized streets
One gauges the methods of dogs that one meets;

"Then hey! for the joys of community life!
The views from the windows; the well-governed strife!
Though muzzle and leash my activities bar,
Three barks for the city!" says Auld Lochinvar.

RELIGIOUS ISSUE IN TEXAS.

Renewed Agitation in State Campaign Laid to High Authority.

To the Editor of The New York Times:

It has been interesting to read the editorial comment in Eastern newspapers upon the political campaign in Virginia and the issues therein, of which the importance seems to grow with their irrelevance.

We have a similarly ridiculous situation in Texas. Though the State campaign is a year away, the bitterness of the 1928 campaign is already being exploited for advantage in 1930.

The logical candidate for Governorship is the present Lieutenant Governor. Unfortunately for his higher political aspirations in this State, his wife is a Catholic. This fact is all that is necessary for the so-called Hoover Democrats. They need no other issue. They are strictly political opportunists, having been wet and dry, Democratic and Republican, Klan and anti-Klan, as the advantages to be got out of any particular situation might appear.

And so, as things go in Christian Texas, where chivalry and womanhood are dearly prized—as vote-getting vehicles, that is, by officeseekers during a political campaign, though we have the highest divorce rate in the United States—the campaign is on.

A Fort Worth preacher, recently freed by a jury in a shooting case, is already demanding by sermon and radio that Texas make certain not to permit a Catholic gentlewoman to occupy the Governor's mansion at Austin. This preacher was one of the leaders in the successful effort to turn the electoral vote of Texas to Mr. Hoover. As might be expected, he was, and is, a violent protagonist of the Klan. It is to be presumed that he is working closely with the Hoovercrats of this State again, and has sounded their keynote.

This is another result of the religious issue—one might more properly say the irreligious or the anti-religion issue—in the 1928 national campaign. The Republican candidate last year made a very pallid and unconvincing disavowal of those of his supporters and workers who exploited the religion of Governor Smith, but the records do not show that he expelled a single one of them from the campaign program. Evidently, one has a right to infer, because he was wholly willing to be the beneficiary of their effort to get votes for him.

It is, after all, neither Mrs. Willebrandt nor Mr. Burke that owes an explanation of the recent controversy over what must have been a matter of fact and record, but Mr. Hoover.

And since Mr. Hoover encouraged the Klan element of this State last year by his ready acquiescence to be the beneficiary of that element's campaign efforts, and later acknowledged his debt to that element by appointing a leading Hooverecrat—who, though perhaps not himself a member of the Klan element, nevertheless was hand-in-glove with them in this State last year—to an important Federal post, it is therefore Mr. Hoover we shall have to thank for what will doubtless be the most despicable campaign ever waged in this State—a campaign in which the leading candidate is to be defeated by making his wife the target of another whispering and openly insulting offensive.

OUR PETULANCE.

To the Editor of The New York Times:

What is there about the British claims at The Hague conference that makes the American press so petulant? Judging from your editorial in the issue of Aug. 25, THE TIMES has softened its tone somewhat, but it cannot yet be said that you are exactly sympathetic.

Was not The Hague conference called for the purpose of ratifying the Young plan, which was signed by the representatives of the several powers, but which throws still greater burdens on England, and leaves her with a deficit not previously contemplated? Is the peevishness due to Mr. Snowden's refusal to ratify without debate? One has vague recollections of the deliberations of that august body, the United States Senate, after President Wilson's return from Paris, when the Senate was convened to ratify certain acts of his. As to what the Senate did is of common knowledge. The ruling American party cheered the Senate's repudiation of the country's accredited representative abroad. Why, then, should we be so impatient of Mr. Snowden's actions?

Is it not true that we sanctimoniously disclaim any share in reparations, but shall nevertheless have turned over to us for fifty some years to come every farthing that England is allotted from the German payments; that England is only claiming sufficient to pay the American debt; that the debt itself was contracted after our nominal entry into the war in April, 1917; that we had no army in the field for over a year thereafter; that England's casualties were greater than our whole armed force; that England loaned to her Allies over eight billions, but borrowed from America only half that sum? In short, is it not true that America's part is not quite what one would call decent—much less generous or noble?

Praise for Park Project.

To the Editor of The New York Times:

A recent edition of THE TIMES brings the welcome news that Commissioner Herrick is about to make available for park uses the old South Reservoir in Central Park.

The community is to be congratulated that architectural imitations no longer threaten here the integrity of the park. More power to the commissioner, and may he make use of that power with continuing intelligence!

METALS LOOKING UP IN FOREIGN TRADE

LOWER THAN LAST YEAR

Canada Continues to Be the Best Market, With Japan Also a Large Purchaser.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—Exports of Iron and Steel products from the United States in July, for the first time in two months, showed an increase in comparison with the preceding month, J. W. Palmer of the Iron and Steel Division of the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce announced today.

The gain in exports amounted to 22,721 gross tons, or 9.1 per cent, and brought the total shipments for the month up to 270,532 tons, the fourth highest figure of the year. Imports for the month also showed an increase, the gain in incoming trade amounting to 7,743 tons, or 12.1 per cent, and bringing the total for the month up to 71,378 tons.

The increases were strongly reflected in the average daily trade of the month, the daily export average for July being 8,724 tons, in contrast with that of June, 8,260 tons, and that of April, the peak month of 1929, 9,253 tons. Import trade presented a similar picture, with a July average of 2,302 tons, against that of June, 2,121 tons, and that of May, 2,396 tons.

The cumulative export trade for the year, by reason of these same advances, totals 1,862,371 tons, against 1,610,767 tons for the first seven months of 1928, a gain of 251,604 tons. Here the similarity ends, however, for despite the gains in the July import trade the cumulative activity of 1929, 429,233 tons, is 18,432 tons less than that of 1928, 447,655 tons.

The average daily movement over this elapsed period compares favorably with the monthly daily figures, averages in 1929 being 9,785 tons of exports and 2,025 tons of imports, whereas the 1928 figures are, respectively, 7,562 tons and 2,102 tons.

Twenty-five classes of products participated in the export increase, against seventeen showing losses. The largest single gain was that in steel bars, 4,934 tons, although slightly smaller gains in pig iron, scrap, wire rods and fabricated structural shapes helped to swell the total. Against these were losses in the shipments of ingots, 2,936, rails, casing and oil line pipe, hoops and plain structural shapes.

Canada was the principal purchaser of each of the five major products in the July trade, a quarter of the scrap exported going there, although Italy, Japan and Poland were also large purchasers. Nearly 90 per cent of the plain shapes followed and the same was true of the trade in boiler and other plates.

A third of the black steel sheets found their way to Canada markets, despite large tonnages which were shipped to Japan for galvanizing and to France, to be made into automobile bodies, while one-half of the steel bars were also shipped to Canada, lesser tonnages going to the United Kingdom and Japan.

ROOSEVELT SEES TAX CUT.

Tells Westchester Residents They Will Save $897,701 Next Year.

Special to The New York Times.

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., Aug. 28.—Governor Roosevelt told Westchester County taxpayers today that they will be saved $897,701 during the coming year because of the recent approval by the State Legislature of his farm relief program. This annual saving, he computed as follows:

> County highway tax saving, because the county is relieved of paying 25 per cent of the cost of the completion of the State highway system—$218,390.
> Town and village tax reduction, because they will not have to contribute to the upkeep of improved State highways—$16,450.
> Elimination of direct county tax—$663,861.

Two laws, one for the equalization of school taxes and the other the reduction of the county's share in the expense of grade crossing eliminations, will also save the taxpayers a substantial amount, the Governor concluded.

OPENS GARDENS TO PUBLIC.

Princeton University Has Famous Group of Primroses.

Special to The New York Times.

PRINCETON, N. J., Aug. 28.—The Princeton University experimental gardens, which contain what is said to be the finest group of evening primroses in the world, are being opened to the public, it was announced today.

Dr. George H. Shull, Professor of Botany, whose experiments on the primroses have brought him wide fame, issued the invitation.

Foreign scientists have come here to study the seven acres of evening primroses and the other rare species now blooming at Princeton. Included in the varieties are species developed by Professor Shull.

MANNING AT PLATTSBURG.

Bishop Addresses Officers at Camp on Value of Preparedness.

PLATTSBURG, N. Y., Aug. 28.—Bishop William T. Manning, head of the Protestant Episcopal Diocese of New York, visited the Citizens' Military Training Camp at Plattsburg today. The month's training period ends Saturday.

During the World War Bishop Manning was chaplain of the Seventy-seventh Division at Camp Upton. One of the regiments of this division, the 306th Infantry, is now in training at Plattsburg.

Addressing the officers of the 306th Bishop Manning said the Citizens' Military Training Camps have an educational as well as a military value.

"We may as well abolish the police force of New York City as to abolish military training," he said. "The United States Army has never stood for militarism. It has always been an agency for order, right and peace. The value of these camps as an educational agency is unsurpassed," Bishop Manning continued.

Chicago Cult Camper Dies After 31-Day Fast; Starvation Takes Art Model Who Sought Health

LYONS, Col., Aug. 28 (AP).—On a cot in a tent the lifeless and withered form of a Chicago art model and member of a cult that came to the wilderness of Peaceful Valley to seek "youth, truth and health" was found today, a victim of starvation.

Solburg was one of a party of thirty members of a Chicago health cult who, a month ago, under the leadership of Dr. George Huntley Aron, came to Colorado seeking a place where they might practice their health tests, including fasting.

Sunday Holburg, who had completed his fast of thirty-one days, began eating solid foods. His fast had reduced him from 160 to 85 pounds. After consuming several sandwiches his friends said that he was in agony. All day Monday he remained on his cot and yesterday he was inert, refusing to converse with other members of the cult who were fasting.

Today a friend entered his tent and noticed that his face was white and drawn. The friend called other members of the cult and it was determined that Solburg had died early this morning. Coroner A. E. Howe of Boulder County, who went to the camp, reported that the art model's death was caused by starvation and overeating when he broke his fast.

The Chicago cult received considerable publicity when ranchers reported that its members were running around Peaceful Valley without clothes, taking sun baths. Authorities demanded that they at least wear sun suits.

A business letter found in Solburg's pocket from the Chicago Utility Security Company admonished the fasting devotee "not to carry this thing too far." Fifty shares of valuable stock were also found in his tent.

With Solburg's death only a few members of the Chicago cult remain at the camp and, excepting one person, they are reported to have quit fasting.

MISS VALERIE FRENCH SAILS FOR WEDDING

LONDON, Aug. 28 (AP).—Miss Valerie French, one of the two beautiful granddaughters of the late Earl of Ypres, left today aboard the liner Homeric for the United States, where she will be married to Henry Bradley Martin, son of a New York financier.

Announcement of the engagement of Miss French, granddaughter of the late Field Marshal Lord French, to Mr. Martin, who is the eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Bradley Martin, was first made on Oct. 28, 1926, but the engagement was broken last year. On July 30 The London Evening Standard said that the announcement was to be made soon, but at the French home it was said that the report was unauthorized and that no such engagement existed.

On Aug. 1 Mrs. Gerald French denied that her daughter had become re-engaged to Mr. Martin, although London papers carried reports from the United States that the elder Mr. Martin asserted their marriage would take place on Oct. 6.

Young Mr. Martin, who is a grandson of the late Bradley Martin and of Henry Phipps of Pittsburgh, one-time partner of Andrew Carnegie, was injured on July 28 in an automobile accident in Colorado. He is a nephew of Lady Craven, widow of the fourth Earl of Craven.

Their wedding, according to the Associated Press, will take place in the hospital at Mr. Martin's bedside. Mr. Martin's father will meet Miss French here and take her to Denver.

DR. FAHNESTOCK GIVES LAND TRACT TO STATE

Area of 2,000 Acres in Putnam County to Be Part of Park and Parkway System.

Special to The New York Times.

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., Aug. 28.—A gift of 2,000 acres of land to the State of New York has been made by Dr. Ernest Fahnestock. The tract, located in Putnam County about twelve miles northeast of Peekskill, is to be part of the State park and parkway system and is to be named the Clarence Fahnestock Memorial Park.

Dr. Fahnestock presented the land to the Taconic State Park Commission, which intends to develop a large recreational ground out of this tract and other land in the region.

At present the land is quite inaccessible, but it is planned to route the Eastern State Parkway through this area and it is expected that upon completion of the parkway construction program the demand for camping facilities in this locality will be strong.

In 1926, when the Tri-State Park was started, less than 200 acres of rather inaccessible land was controlled by the State of New York in the Taconic region in Columbia County. But since then the Taconic State Park Commission has acquired for the State park and parkway system more than 8,000 acres of land. Of this total approximately 4,000 acres have been acquired without cost to the people of the State of New York.

The lands which have been given to the State, appraised at a conservative market price, added to those acquired with State funds for park and parkway purposes in the counties of Putnam, Dutchess and Columbia, have a value exceeding $500,000.

The daughters also share equally in their father's personal and household effects, including his automobiles, furniture, books and portraits.

COMPLAIN OF THE PASSAIC.

Auerbach and Others Hit Pollution at Sewerage Board Meeting.

Louis Auerbach, Jr., chairman of the board of the Passaic Valley Sewerage Commission, called the attention of the commission to the polluted condition of the Passaic River yesterday in a letter read at the board's meeting in Newark. Mr. Auerbach's letter also asked J. Ralph Van Dunyn, chief engineer of the commission, why facts furnished him concerning the pollution by Richard C. Smith, the board's chief chemist, had not been put before the commission.

Mayor Congleton of Newark said at the meeting that Newark and other municipalities are anxious to clean the river and are spending more than $1,000,000 to that end, but that the Federal Government withheld its aid. John Mueller, attorney for property owners, said that homes distant from the river were blackened by pollution fumes, and that even if the War Department dredged the river the pollution would remain.

Mr. Auerbach ordered a special open meeting of the commission to be held tomorrow morning.

John Goff, 86, Civil War Veteran, Was Gettysburg Survivor.

ST. PAUL, Minn., Aug. 28 (AP).—Death has checked another name from the membership roll of the Last Man's Club. Today only two members survive.

John Goff, 86 years old, of St. Paul, youngest of the three men who for two years have kept the famous organization of Civil War veterans in existence, died yesterday at the Veterans' Hospital at Fort Snelling.

At Stillwater, Minn., on July 21, 1855, thirty-four members of B company, First Minnesota Regiment, which won fame in the Battle of Gettysburg, pledged themselves to a comradeship which only death could dissolve. Only Peter O. Hall, 91, of Atwater, Minn., and Charles Lockwood, 89, of Chamberlain, S. D., now survive. They are expected to attend the funeral of their comrade at Stillwater on Friday.

At the first meeting of the club in 1885 a bottle of wine was set aside. It was to be opened by the last man who was to drink a toast to those who had gone before. Two years ago, however, the three survivors opened the wine and drank the toast. They decided that it would be too great an ordeal for one man alone.

MACRAE RETRACTS BOOK CLUB CHARGES

BUT HE STILL OPPOSES IDEA

Says In Letter of Apology That His Concern Will Continue Its Refusal to Cooperate.

John Macrae, president of E. P. Dutton & Co. and former president of the American Book Publishers' Association, has retracted three specific charges he made last Spring against the Book-of-the-Month Club and that organization has withdrawn its libel suit for $200,000 against Mr. Macrae and his company, it was announced yesterday.

Mr. Macrae made it clear, however, that his general position as taken in two attacks published last Spring has not changed and that he still objects to the book club methods of selecting and distributing books. E. P. Dutton & Co. will continue not to submit its books to book clubs, he said.

The three charges retracted by Mr. Macrae in a letter made public by the Book-of-the-Month Club are, first, that the judges of the club were influenced in their selection of books by the company's management; second, that the rate of discount upon which the club purchased books may have exceeded the announced rate in certain cases, and third, that the purpose of the club was to mislead the public.

Information received since the publication of the broadsides has convinced him that these charges are erroneous, Mr. Macrae said, and in the interest of fair play and in the effort to promote harmony in the book trade he has withdrawn them. His letter follows:

Dear Sirs: I am writing to you in behalf of E. P. Dutton & Co., Inc., of which I am president, and in my own behalf. I wish to advise you that, based upon investigation made since I published certain broadsides concerning the Book-of-the-Month Club, and upon information which I have since received, I am now convinced that your judges have exclusive and complete control over the selection of books for your members, free of any influence or coercion by your company's management. I am also convinced that the rate of discount upon which you purchase (as announced to the trade and generally understood by it) has never been exceeded upon any book and that the matter of discount has never influenced your committee's selection. I am also convinced that my statement that your aim and purpose was to mislead the public was erroneous. I sincerely regret having made the statements referred to.

My views, however, on book clubs, as a method of selecting and distributing books, are as stated in these broadsides except as they are qualified by the above, for I have been unable to change my opinions as I there expressed them. I wish to thank my friend, Mr. Richard F. Fuller of the Old Corner Book Store of Boston, as the result of whose intervention this letter is written and who is working so earnestly to bring about harmony in the book trade. Very truly yours,

E. P. DUTTON & CO., INC.,
By JOHN MACRAE, President.

The libel suit against Mr. Macrae and E. P. Dutton & Co. was started in the Supreme Court by the Book-of-the-Month Club last May after Mr. Macrae had refused to withdraw the statements made in his two broadsides, copies of which he had mailed to more than 1,000 editors and critics.

NEGRO ELKS IN DISPUTE.

Special to The New York Times.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Aug. 28.—A heated argument opened the annual convention of the Grand Lodge of the Independent Protective Brotherhood of Elks of the World, a negro organization, here today when delegates from the Fort Dearborn Lodge of Chicago attempted to seat themselves in the hall. The lodge was suspended on Aug. 15 last for non-payment of dues. Its difficulties are said to have resulted from opposition to the present administration, and today, when its delegates appeared, a three-hour debate ensued.

The regular procedure for delegates from a suspended lodge is to make application to be seated to the Grand Exalted Ruler and then to go before the credentials committee. The delegates refused to go through this formality, but finally complied with Grand Exalted Ruler Wilson's command that they present themselves to the committee. It is expected that they will be seated.

Representative Oscar De Priest of Chicago and State Senator Adelbert Roberts are leaders of the Chicago faction opposed to Wilson and are supporting Caspar Holstein of New York for Grand Exalted Ruler.

PLANS MEDICAL LECTURES.

New York Academy Will Open Fortnight Course Oct. 7.

The New York Academy of Medicine will hold its second graduate fortnight on Oct. 7 to 19, it was announced yesterday. The topic of general discussion, which will be open to physicians and other interested persons without charge, will be "Functional and Nervous Problems in Medicine and Surgery."

Sessions will be held each evening at the academy, Fifth Avenue and 103d Street, and lectures delivered there will be augmented by visits to clinics and hospitals during the daytime.

The field to be covered in the discussions, it is stated, "includes those functional disturbances which have been much neglected in the last thirty years in comparison with the structural disturbances of the human body. The topic covers differential diagnosis and organic derangements in all branches of medicine and surgery. It is believed that the subject will attract not only the medical profession generally but also social workers and those interested in public welfare."

RENT LAW TEST UP TODAY.

First Case Involving Validity of Measures to Be Argued by Hilly.

Corporation Counsel Arthur J. W. Hilly will argue the first test case involving the rent laws of 1929, recently passed by the Municipal Assembly, before Supreme Court Justice Thomas C. T. Crain this morning. He said yesterday that the decision would test the constitutionality of the laws.

Anna Bahlinger of 235 East Ninety-third Street is defendant in the action and will be represented by Charles Recht in association with the corporation counsel. She is fighting the attempt of Ernest M. Adler, her landlord, to increase her rent from $20 to $28 a month. Jacob B. Aronoff will represent the landlord.

Mr. Hilly said the city joined in the action after Assistant Corporation Counsel William E. Meyer heard Mrs. Bahlinger oppose the rent increase in Supreme Court on Aug. 15. His request that the city be joined in the proceedings was granted by Justice Peters.

BANK CLERK HELD IN THEFT

Harold Woodruff, 21 years old, of 49 Seventh Avenue, Brooklyn, was in the line-up at Police Headquarters yesterday morning charged with the larceny of $7,300 by means of blank stock certificates stolen from the Central Hanover Trust Company, where he was employed as a clerk. He is said to have filled in the certificates and used them as collateral in obtaining loans.

Woodruff is alleged to have taken a 100-share certificate of the National Cash Register Company on June 18 and after filling it in and signing a fictitious name obtained a loan of $6,500 on it from Ardis & Co., brokers, of 120 Broadway. Later he obtained three smaller loans, it is charged.

The youth confessed when arrested, according to the police, and said he had bought an automobile and spent the rest of the money on good times.

THUG'S SLAYER PROMOTED.

Patrolman James Quigley was made a first-grade detective yesterday, with an increase in salary of $1,000 a year by Police Commissioner Whalen in recognition of his bravery in killing one thug and putting another to flight as they were beating a neighbor of his in front of his house at 361 Seventy-ninth Street, Brooklyn, Tuesday.

Patrolman Quigley, who is 38 years old, was warmly praised by the Commissioner for his action, particularly as he was on vacation at the time. His assignment to the office of the Chief Clerk will remain unchanged, the Commissioner announced.

Hoover Asked to Baltimore Fete.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—President Hoover today received an invitation to attend a celebration in Baltimore, Sept. 12 to 15, inclusive, of the 200th anniversary of the founding of that city. Sept. 12 was selected as the opening day of the celebration because it marks the anniversary of the Battle of Fort McHenry near Baltimore, during the War of 1812. It was during this battle that Francis Scott Key wrote the verses of "The Star-Spangled Banner."

FROM THE FOUNDER'S WRITINGS

for the past two hours. What do you suppose is the reason for its stopping there so long? The boatman with whom you are speaking says it has no engine and it is stagnant because there is no force to fill its sails when the wind dies down. Can it be possible that the idle men are stagnant, too, unable to sail for days and years out of the Lake of Indolence? What would a city of stagnant men become?

ROOSEVELT SAVES HARRIS FROM CHAIR

GIRL'S FAMILY MADE PLEA

Governor, in Changing Sentence to Life Imprisonment, Says Harris Was Mentally Ill.

INVOKES 'MERCIFUL JUSTICE'

He Does Not Announce Action on John Fabri, Doomed, as Was Harris, to Die Tonight.

Special to The New York Times.

ALBANY, Aug. 28.—Governor Roosevelt today wrote out his first commutation, which saved the life of Milton Harris, 24, of Buffalo. Pleas for Harris, who had been sentenced to death, were made by the mother of the girl, Louise Friday, whom he was convicted of murdering; the dead girl's father, two sisters and two brothers. Members of the jury that heard the case joined in the effort in the young man's behalf.

The Governor did not announce what action, if any, he would take in the case of John Fabri of Syracuse, who is awaiting electrocution in Sing Sing for the murder of his friend, Louis Mangino.

Pleas for both men were made to the Governor yesterday. The death of Fabri, as was that of Harris, is set for tomorrow night.

Statement by the Governor.

In commuting the Harris sentence the Governor wrote a memorandum, in which he said:

This homicide was committed by a fairly well educated boy of 24, who up to the time of the crime had led a respectable, decent life in a good home. A series of unhappy occurrences had brought about in him a depressed, melancholic state of mind.

He had recently lost his father by death after a long serious illness, his mother's life savings had been lost in a small business venture, he had tried in vain for months, from place to place, to obtain employment to help his mother and sister maintain their home; a serious physical ailment provided a further handican in his struggles. He seemed to fall in whatever he undertook. Brooding and depression followed. There was evidence submitted to me showing that he made two abortive plans for suicide.

During this time he became acquainted with the deceased, a young lady of eighteen. They saw a great deal of each other and he undoubtedly thought he was in love with her. After a short but very close friendship she noticed this queer depressed state of mind and decided that it would be better to discontinue their association. She confided to her mother that his melancholia and depression induced her to this decision.

When informed of her determination, he decided to go away and borrowed a few dollars for this purpose. Then he decided he should see her once again. On this last occasion, after taking some intoxicating liquor, and in broad daylight on the streets of Buffalo, he shot her dead and then attempted to kill himself. Whether his nerve failed him, or whether his condition destroyed his control, the bullet intended for himself missed.

The presence of the pistol in his car, which he used in the commission of the crime, is explained by his fear of robbers on the occasions when he used to drive the deceased over a lonely road on which many hold-ups had recently occurred.

Case of Mental Disturbance.

This is no case of a man with hardened criminal instinct. Though judicially declared legally sane, this youth cannot be said to have been in full possession of his reasoning faculties when this homicide was committed. It is clearly a psychopathic case. His family doctor informs me that he had had periods of mental aberration, with short attacks of amnesia, and that the crime was committed while he was suffering from the pain of a middle ear abscess which ruptured the following day and which was sufficient to upset his already tortured mind.

The twelve jurors, who did their duty as they saw it in rendering their verdict on the law as charged by the court, have all joined in this supplication for executive clemency. Hundreds of citizens in Buffalo have signed petitions in this boy's behalf. Friends of the family, who have known him for a long time, have testified to his despondent mind and recent mental disturbance.

Above all else, the mother of the murdered girl has herself voluntarily asked me to commute his sentence. The girl's father, her two sisters and her two brothers have also requested a commutation for him.

Accepting the declared policy of the law of this State that capital punishment should serve as a deterrent to crime, I cannot believe that such function would be carried out in a case of this kind. Life in prison to a boy of his very sensitive nature will be a double punishment.

In view of the unusual facts in this case, in view of the boy's youth and mental deficiencies under the stress of misfortune, in view of the recommendations of the citizens and of the jury, in view of the request of the mother and relatives of the deceased girl, and in lview of the overwhelming appeal which all the circumstances make to one's sense of merciful justice, I have decided to commute this sentence to imprisonment for life.

FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

PORT OF SPAIN, Trinidad, Aug. 28.—A Venezuelan captain was fined $28 here for overloading his ship with refugees and cargo. Steamers from Venezuela are arriving with khaki-clad escorts of government troops armed with rifles and machine guns.

Swordfish Pierces Launch, Breaks Off Spear in Battle

AVALON, SANTA CATALINA ISLAND, Aug. 28 (AP).—The beak of a big swordfish, piercing the planking of the fishing launch Chappie, remained here today as evidence of a furious battle ending in victory for a fisherman.

The battle started when the fisherman, W. G. Peterson of Los Angeles, hooked the swordfish with a line. The fish lunged at the launch and rammed its spear through the gunwale and up through the deck. The lunge nearly overturned the launch and broke the sword off short.

JAMESBURG, N. J., Aug. 28 (AP).—Three persons, one of them a mother of twenty children, were instantly killed and two others seriously injured early tonight when a Pennsylvania Railroad train struck a truck on which a group of potato diggers were returning to their homes, at an unprotected crossing at Lower Jamesburg.

The Dead.

MESSINO, FRANK, 14.

The Injured.

GEORGE, JOSEPH, concussion of the brain, internal injuries, skull may be fractured.
GEORGE, Mrs. GEORGE, cut and bruised.
GEORGE, SAMUEL, cut and bruised.
GEORGE, SARAH, cut and bruised.
MESSINO, PETER, cut and bruised.
POLAMBO, MARY, cut and bruised.
POLAMBO, ROSE, fractured leg and internal injuries.
POLAMBO, TESSIE, cut and bruised.

Rose Polambo and Joseph George were taken to St. Peter's Hospital in New Brunswick. The others were treated at the scene.

All were returning from the Forgate Farm, about a mile from Jamesburg.

M. C. Odman of Jamesburg, driver of the truck, escaped unhurt. He was arrested on a charge of manslaughter.

The train, an express operating between Philadelphia and Asbury Park, struck the truck from the rear, completely demolishing it.

Authorities said the crossing was protected only by signal lights, which were reported working.

QUAKER CITY OFFICIAL ADMITS FAKING HOLD-UP

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 28 (AP).—Alexander J. Hamilton, assistant paymaster of the Department of Public Works, today confessed that he had helped to "fake" the hold-up and robbery of his office yesterday. His signed confession was used against him at a hearing before a magistrate, who held him in $15,000 bail for the grand jury on charges of larceny, embezzlement and conspiracy.

Jesse Titermary, a relative of Hamilton, was held in similar bail after admitting that he had aided Hamilton by locking him in a closet and carrying away $4,089.80 of city payroll funds. All the money was recovered.

James Gaygan, proprietor of a garage, to whom Titermary gave the money, was held in $500 bail as a material witness after he had testified that he believed Titermary had won the money gambling. Gaygan voluntarily turned the money over to the police today and Director of Public Safety Shofield expressed the belief that he was an innocent victim of the alleged conspiracy.

In asking that Hamilton and Titermary, described by Shofield as a gambler, be held in heavy bail, the director told the magistrate that the case was "a particularly bad one."

"If these men," he said, "had got away with this it would have been more than a loss of money to the city. It would have held the police bureau up to ridicule. It would have been a stigma on the department. People far and wide would have said that bandits could go right into City Hall, go to the top floor, stage a hold-up and escape. For that reason I think we can view it as more than a case of robbery."

Yesterday was Hamilton's forty-fourth birthday. He has been in the employ of the Department of Public Works for eighteen years. His salary is $1,800 a year. He is married and has one daughter.

LEAPS 10 STORIES TO DEATH

Harry B. Davis, 58 years old, a retired business man of 310 West Eighty-fifth Street, committed suicide yesterday by jumping from the bathroom window of the apartment occupied by his son-in-law and daughter on the seventh floor of 250 West Ninety-fourth Street. He was instantly killed when his body landed in the rear courtyard.

Mr. Davis had been chatting with his daughter, Mildred, and her husband, Dr. Coral Moses, for about an hour and a half when he suddenly excused himself and disappeared. A few minutes later Mrs. Moses received a telephone call asking her to come down into the yard, where she identified the body.

Mr. Joyce, the divorce bill states, maintained a luxurious Lake Shore Drive apartment, a seagoing yacht, and number of servants for his wife. Mrs. Joyce asked $2,500 a month temporary alimony. Mr. Joyce's first wife was Peggy Hopkins Joyce.

STEINHARDT AIDE QUITS FEDERAL BAR

At the close yesterday of the bankruptcy hearings being conducted before Federal Judge Thacher by William J. Donovan, Edmund M. Toland of Mr. Donovan's staff announced that Richard P. Carrigan had resigned from the Federal bar and that his resignation had been accepted. Carrigan was the secretary of David Steinhardt, bankruptcy lawyer, who, when sought in charges of embezzlement, killed himself on the eve of his capture.

The papers containing the order to strike Carrigan's name from the rolls said that on Aug. 5 last he testified that he had been appointed a receiver in fourteen cases by Judges Winslow and Bondy and that the fees realized on these appointments were turned over to Steinhardt and divided between Steinhardt and Max Pinner, a deputy clerk in the Federal Court. The papers said Carrigan testified that he had knowledge of the division of these fees when he received them.

Pinner, who was a messenger, tried to kill himself after he had been confronted with checks indicating that he had received from Steinhardt $100,000 within a year.

Carrigan Praised by Judge.

The order striking Carrigan's name from the rolls was without prejudice and permits Carrigan to apply for reinstatement after five years. In permitting him to resign, Judge Thacher said that he had been impressed with Carrigan's uprightness, and that from what he could learn Carrigan was a young man of "ability and more than average integrity," but what he did unwittingly and without appreciation was inexcusable in a member of the bar.

The inquiry into the practices of William Weiss, a bankruptcy lawyer, beneficiary of forty-three receiverships bestowed by former Federal Judge Winslow, was continued before Judge Thacher. Ogden D. Budd Jr., whose father was employed by Weiss as custodian in many of the bankruptcies, testified that in 1927 while he was attending law school, he was appointed custodian or manager in six bankruptcy cases, five of them coming from Weiss and the sixth from William S. Coffey.

Budd said he had signed affidavits, at the request of Weiss, showing that he had served as custodian in several cases at the same time and that each of the bankrupt estates had been charged with a fee of $5 a day for his services. The cases in which he served and the terms of the service were: the Vulcan Button Works, from April 24 to May 18, 1927; the Fitwell Slipper Company, from April 21 to May 12; Barlow Kimmet Company, Inc., from April 22 to May 20; the Otto Furman Radio Corporation, from April 23 to May 21; the Pain Fireworks Company, from April 23 for several weeks, and the Silent Motor Corporation, from April 23 to May 21.

Budd said he had not the slightest idea when he covered the many jobs, and that he did not realize when he signed affidavits that they contained practically the same dates. Judge Thacher said he had failed to learn anything definite as to the methods the witness employed to do work of practically the same character at different locations at the same time, and commented:

"I have listened in vain to hear you say you were unaware of the true facts under which you worked."

Admits Labor Affidavits.

Leo Machenberg, called as a witness, testified that he had acted as custodian in several cases where Weiss was the receiver. He admitted that he had sworn to false affidavits at the request of Weiss. All he received, he said, was $5 a day, although he had been charged with the receipt of larger amounts. He said he had cashed some of the checks for greater amounts than his work as custodian called for. Two checks cashed by him in 1924, he said, were for $280 and $59.60. He gave the money to Weiss, the witness said, and Weiss then paid him $200 for forty days work as custodian.

Russel H. Kittel, a lawyer, was questioned concerning his connection with the bankruptcy of the Van Dyke Pharmacy in 1928. The petition filed by the witness said there were fewer than twelve creditors, but it is claimed that there were more. The witness said that a Mr. Rothmeyer held all the claims except those filed by him and one other under an agreement. He promised to produce this agreement today.

Weiss was informed that he might testify if he pleased, but his counsel, George Gordon Battle, announced that he would not take the stand.

The inquiry into the administration of bankrupt estates by receivers is expected to end this week. Next week witnesses will be called to testify in the constructive phase of the inquiry. This testimony will be for the purpose of suggesting needed amendments to the bankruptcy law. The hearing will be continued today.

HYLAN BECOMES HEAD OF FINANCE CONCERN

Former Mayor Accepts Chairmanship of Five Boroughs Trading Corporation.

Former Mayor John F. Hylan announced yesterday that he had accepted the chairmanship of the board of directors of the Five Boroughs Trading Corporation, an organization sponsored by Jerome B. Sullivan & Co. of 42 Broadway to finance small businesses and industries.

Mr. Hylan said he would continue his law practice and would retain his interest in politics whether or not he runs for public office again. He has been a member of the bar for thirty-five years. He said that the corporation would enable small investors to participate in the profits of small enterprises and declared that it was the surest way to prevent investment losses. Jerome B. Sullivan & Co. are members of the New York Curb Exchange. The Five Borough Trading Corporation is now being formed.

Police Band Back From Fair.

The Police Band returned yesterday from the New York State Fair at Syracuse, where it won first prize of $650 in the annual band competition. The money will go to the band fund of the department. The band, which has sixty-eight members, was led by Sergeant Max Ermisch.

Hordes of Praying Mantises Invade the City; Harmless Insects Startle Office Workers

Hordes of praying mantises, insects which resemble huge grasshoppers and get their name from the prayer-like attitude of their forelegs, invaded New York yesterday, causing needless consternation among housewives and office employes in many sections of the city.

The insects were particularly abundant in the vicinity of the Pennsylvania station, where they hopped or flew through windows of office buildings. Miss Mildred Slater, employed at 425 Seventh Avenue, felt something crawling on her hand. Looking down she beheld what she thought was an enormous grasshopper. It reared on its haunches like a kangaroo and its large brown eyes seemed to bulge from their sockets as it encountered her gaze.

Terrified, she swept the insect from her hand and cried out in alarm to other employes. At first she thought she had been bitten, possibly poisoned. A similar scene was enacted in the office of Harold M. Gottlieb, on the eighth floor of 224 West Thirtieth Street. There the insect was captured and taken to the Museum of Natural History. Officials at the museum identified it as the harmless praying mantis.

In Brooklyn a mantis alighted on a woman who was walking in Flatbush Avenue near Church Avenue. She screamed for help. Another mantis was picked up by Henry J. Boers, a tinsmith, on a pile of enamel brick at the site of the new court house in Snyder Avenue, Brooklyn. Boers took it to the offices of the Flatbush Chamber of Commerce, where it was put on exhibition in a glass jar.

Among many nations of the world the mantis is regarded with superstitious awe. The Turks and other Moslem races recognize intelligence and pious intentions in the reverential attitude of these insects. The Chinese and Javanese keep them in cages and make them fight for wagers. One species was venerated by the Hottentots, while in Southern France the peasants believe the mantis will point the way home to persons who are lost.

The mantis also is known by the names soothsayer, rear-horse, prophet and mule-killer. It has the prothorax long and the front legs fitted for grasping its prey. The head is oblique and generally three-cornered. It was introduced into the United States by accident from the Orient and has become acclimated.

MAIL STOCK FRAUDS ARE CHARGED TO TWO

ACCUSED FIRM VANISHES

Ralph J. Sills and Edwin B. Allen, officers of R. J. Sills & Co., the brokerage house in the General Motors Building which was raided by postal inspectors on Tuesday, were charged with using the mail to defraud investors in stocks yesterday and held in $7,500 and $4,000 bail, respectively, by United States Commissioner O'Neill. A hearing for them was set for Sept. 18.

Acting on the complaints of customers who had tired of the slogan of the firm that "the faith and goodwill of our customers is our principal asset," Assistant United States Attorney George J. Mintzer in an affidavit accused the brokers of foisting dubious securities on investors by extravagant representations.

Tells of Lure to Investors.

His specific allegation was that Sills, whose real name is said to be Ursillo, and Allen, who acted as bookkeeper, promoted the stock of American Fruit Distributors, Inc., witnout having the facts to substantiate their promises and predictions. According to the prosecutor, they even told customers erroneously that they had visited the Florida plant of the fruit concern and had found that "the possible profit possibilities of the company were tremendous." They also declared that the shares of the company would enhance in value and would soon be listed on a recognized exchange, Mr. Mintzer said.

"All of the foregoing representations, pretenses and promises made to the victims to induce them to purchase the stock of the American Fruit Distributors, Inc., were to the knowledge of the defendants false, fraudulent and made solely for the purpose of defrauding the victims of their money and property," he charged.

When Mr. Mintzer visited the offices of the brokerage house he discovered an elaborate printing and mailing room and a "boiler" room filled with telephones by which the brokers' employes had personally followed up prospects throughout the country.

Investigating more of the hundreds of complaints which have flooded the office of United States Attorney Tuttle since he started his drive against tipsters, Mr. Mintzer and postal inspectors went to 545 Fifth Avenue late yesterday afternoon to inquire into the activities of Barton Ballard & Co., Inc. They reported that they had found the offices vacated and were informed that the concern had moved two days ago. Efforts to fin dout where it is now located were unavailing.

Indictments Due Tomorrow.

The Federal grand jury which has been sitting continually in its own investigation of suspicious brokerage business is expected to hand up a number of indictments tomorrow, starting in earnest the real work of prosecution. In September there will be two grand juries empaneled, one to devote itself solely to tipster cases.

As a result of State action against bucketshop operations Frank Avolio was arrested in Belleville, N. J., yesterday and held for extradition at the request of New York police. Avolio, who had a money exchange brokerage office at 2,071 First Avenue, disappeared early in July after, it was alleged, Italian resident of the vicinity had been defrauded of about $50,0000. An indictment against him charging first degree grand larceny was handed up to JJudge Donnellan in General Sessions on July 17. Eighteen persons had complained that money entrusted to Avolio in the last four years for transmission to banks in Italy had been stolen.

FAKE AIR HERO HELD AS CHECK SWINDLER

SAID HE FLEW HERE

Told Employes He Had Been Sent From Coast to Cover Arrival of Zeppelin—Has Long Record.

A prepossessing young Englishman strolled into the Biltmore Haberdashery late Tuesday arfternoon, selected about $50 worth of tasteful merchandise which he paid for with a neatly printed personal check on the National Bank of Commerce in Los Angeles, and then went to his room in the Biltmore Hotel to change his clothes.

Yesterday morning the same young Englishman appeared in the line-up at Police Headquarters, wearing one of his purchases—a brand new gray broadcloth shirt which shone beneath the glare of the powerful lights—and admitted a record for passing bad checks. He had been arrested the night before on the complaint of W. F. Olsen, credit manager of the Biltmore, who had cashed another check for him amounting to $200.

He had explained a somewhat unkempt appearance to employes at the Biltmore by the fact that he had just flown in an airplane most of the way from Los Angeles. He had made a forced landing in Erie, Pa., Monday night, he said, and had come on to New York by train. Although the flight had probably been record-breaking, he intimated, he did not wish to be annoyed with interviews. Off the record, however, he was Major L. Gerald Beverley, British war ace, and was here to cover the arrival of the Graf Zeppelin for a Los Angeles newspaper.

This was the story he also told to Frank C. Hutchinson, Madison Avenue jeweler, from whom he purchased a wrist watch, cigarette case and signet ring for a total of $185. In payment he gave what Mr. Hutchinson described as "an hour's charming conversation and a worthless check."

Other stores reported similar encounters. One of these was a luggage shop in the Biltmore Hotel. Here his jauntiness got the better of him, for he nonchalantly ordered the initials "L. B." on a $68 saddle leather wardrobe suitcase. This suitcase was subsequently to prove the means of tracing him to the Grand Central Station, where Detectives McGowan and Kaiser arrested him late Tuesday night as he was about to board a train for Quebec.

Major Beverley, or Lawrence O. Bingham, as he gave his name to the police, registered at the Biltmore Tuesday, after being preceded by a telephone call purporting to be from a man known to the management. He was allowed to cash two checks, one for $50 and one for $200, on the strength of his supposed connections. Soon afterward he left the hotel and did not return.

Somewhat suspicious of Bingham's stories of buying a fast airplane here in which he planned to meet the Zeppelin on its course and radio an account of the last lap of its flight to his newspaper, Mr. Olsen took care to learn from a porter the destination of Bingham's baggage. On being told that it was consigned to the Grand Central Terminal, he had the baggage room watched until Bingham came to claim it.

Bingham had visited this city before, Last March, the police say, he passed bad checks aggregating over $700 at the Plaza and Commodore Hotels. For his operations at the Plaza an indictment against him by the grand jury is still pending. Meanwhile, he visited Chicago and was arrested there for passing a bad check at the Hotel Stevens. He jumped his $2,000 bail and is still wanted by the Chicago police. Yesterday he was arraigned before Magistrate Dreyer in Yorkville Court and held without bail for the grand jury on a charge of grand larceny.

Bingham is 29 years old, athletically built and about five feet nine inches tall. He gave his residence as 6,075 Franklin Avenue, Hollywood, Cal.

LESSONS of the GRAF ZEPPELIN'S VOYAGE

ADMIRAL MOFFETT, Chief of the Bureau of Aeronautics, Navy Department, in an article on development of lighter-than-air craft, states his belief that the round-the-world flight of the Graf Zeppelin will stimulate the building of larger and faster commercial dirigibles to span the oceans. For long-distance flying over water, he calls the airship superior to the airplane.

WARDER GRATUITIES ARE PUT AT $150,000

Dell' Osso Is Said to Have Told of Giving Him $73,000 for Ferrari.

TWO INQUIRIES RESUMED

Two extraordinary grand juries, one in Manhattan and the other in Brooklyn, resumed their investigations yesterday into the failure of the City Trust Company last February with a loss of more than $5,000,000.

The Manhattan grand jury is expected to return additional indictments against Frank H. Warder, former State Superintendent of Banking, who is at liberty on $35,000 bail after pleading not guilty to three true bills returned against him earlier in the week. He is accused of having accepted a gratuity of $25,000 from Francesco M. Ferrari, late president of the City Trust Company, and with having delayed the examination of the City Trust Company accounts as well as unlawfully owning stock in the trust company. The gratuity charge is a felony and the two others are misdemeanors.

Di Paola Testifies Again.

The witnesses yesterday before the Manhattan grand jury were Anthony Di Paola, former cashier of the City Trust Company, who turned State's evidence; Dr. Dominick Marino, P. Memeck, a clerk, said to be employed by the Bank of Europe Trust Company; William A. Hughes, a bank clerk, and former Police Sergeant A. Di Gilio, who was floor guard in the Harlem branch of the City Trust Company. Gennaro Dell' Osso, brother-in-law of Ferrari, who is said to have corroborated a good deal of Di Paola's testimony, did not testify yesterday.

It was reported in the Criminal Courts Building that information furnished the authorities indicated that Dell' Osso turned over to Warder sums at various times aggregating $73,000. This money, it was said, was sent by Ferrari.

If the information given to the authorities is reliable, the figures show that the former State Superintendent of Banks received more than $150,000. During the investigation conducted by Moreland Commissioner Robert Moses into the State Banking Department and its relation to the City Trust Company failure, J. Vincent Labate testified he took $20,000 to the home of Warder on Riverside Drive. Other sums were mentioned as having been paid to Mr. Warder in behalf of Ferrari.

It was said yesterday that Di Paola probably will finish his testimony today. He is to be followed before the grand jury by Judge Francis X. Mancuso of the Court of General Sessions, who was chairman of the board of the City Trust Company when the bank failed.

Judge Mancuso already has testified before the grand jury. He has denied several times that he had knowledge of any disciplinary letters sent by the State Banking Department calling attention to the bank's financial affairs.

Assistant District Attorney Harold W. Hastings, who with Special Prosecutor Hiram C. Todd has been presenting the City Trust Company case to the Manhattan grand jury, was asked yesterday if the evidence adduced against Mr. Warder implicated "any higher ups." Mr. Hastings added a direct answer and his reply was, "the grand jury will investigate every phase of the City Trust failure."

Confer on Brooklyn Inquiry.

It was ascertained that Acting District Attorney Pecora and Mr. Hastings conferred with Assistant District Attorney Louis Goldstein of Brooklyn. It was taken as an indication that some of the witnesses who testified in Brooklyn are to testify before the grand jury here.

Several witnesses were questioned yesterday before the Brooklyn grand jury. They included Joseph M. Cohn and Arthur Beyerle, who were connected with the Atlantic Avenue branch of the City Trust Company. The two were held by Supreme Court Justice Cropsey for the action of the grand jury as a result of alleged irregularities while employed at the bank.

In connection with the Brooklyn investigation, Ira B. Kaplan, vice chairman of the committee representing more than 16,000 depositors in the City Trust Company, announced yesterday that the depositors might expect to get their money back in about a month. Payment is to be made by the International Germanic Trust Company, 26 Broadway. This bank took over the assets of the City Trust Company and agreed to pay back the depositors in full.

A mass meeting of the depositors will be held Sept. 12, in the Chamber of Commerce Building in Brooklyn, at which time testimonials will be drawn for presentation to Governor Roosevelt, Lieutenant Governor Herbert Lehman and Ralph Jonas expressing appreciation of their work in behalf of the victims of the failure. The Manhattan grand jury is to resume its sessions this morning. The grand jury in Brooklyn adjourned until Wednesday.

VOTE FOR NECKWEAR STRIKE

Unions Give Manufacturers Until Saturday to Meet Demands.

A strike of the 4,000 workers engaged in the city's neckwear industry was authorized yesterday at a joint mass meeting of the United Neckwear Makers' Union and United Neckwear Cutters' Union. The date of the walkout was left for the unions' executive and conference committees to determine.

The strike vote followed futile efforts of the conference committee, headed by Louis Fuchs, to reach an agreement with the Men's Neckwear Manufacturing Association, which controls more than 50 per cent of the industry. The manufacturers declined to renew the present contract, which expires on Sept. 1, but insisted that the unions accept a 25 per cent reduction in wages. They rejected the counter proposal that the men be guaranteed forty-two weeks of employment each year if they consented to accept a lower wage. The deadlock has existed for about two months.

It was said after the meeting yesterday that the manufacturers would have until Saturday to grant the unions' demand that the present contract be renewed without change.

Will Rogers Gives a Recipe For Finding a Flying Field

To the Editor of The New York Times:

BEVERLY HILLS, Cal., Aug. 28.—The Zep, in taking off here in Los Angeles, just missed spoiling a great trip and killing everybody by missing a high tension line surrounding the field. Towns bury their dead but they never bury their electric lines.

There is one sure fire recipe for a pilot in a strange town, that don't know where the field is located. Locate a high tension line. There is almost sure to be a field there. If not, follow it till it comes to an intersection of three or more lines and there will be located the city's municipal field.

It's as sure as the sure fire method of locating a speakeasy, by following the town's leading citizens.

SMITH CRITICIZES NEW YORK PRISONS

Only an Aroused Public Can Bring About Reforms, He Says in Autobiography.

CALLS BRYAN OPPORTUNIST

Declares Latter Never Hesitated to Seek Tammany's Aid When Running for Office.

Special to The New York Times.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 28.—Alfred E. Smith's experience with applications for pardons and commutations of sentence during his long period of service as Governor of New York led him to the belief that "there is a fundamental weakness in our whole method of dealing with criminals," he relates in the sixth instalment of his autobiography appearing in this week's issue of The Saturday Evening Post.

The former Governor, dealing at length with his proposals that the State, through a competent board of doctors, psychintrists and students of criminology, make "proper disposition" of the convicted prisoner, goes on to criticize conditions in New York prisons.

"Industries in our prisons have not been modernized," he declares. "I attempted it during my term and had valuable assistance from Adolph Lewisohn, a prominent citizen in New York interested in prison reform, who personally financed a thorough and constructive investigation.

"The whole question is one of properly financing the industries of the prison to get them started. This the Legislature seems to be unwilling to do, for the very simple reason that there is no public interest in it. No reform in government which costs money is possible until public interest is aroused to a point where it makes a demand for it.

"Modernization of the workshops in the prisons must be accompanied by a reform in the general construction of the prisons themselves. The dungeons of a hundred years ago do not suit today."

Governor Smith confesses that he spent "very many unhappy nights" when executions took place in Sing Sing Prison, and he adds that "probably the hardest time a Governor has had in recent years came to me in the period of two weeks before and on the night of the execution of Mrs. Snyder."

Mr. Smith recalls how he went to the Democratic Convention at San Francisco in 1920 and heard himself offered as a Presidential candidate by W. Bourke Cockran, who, he says, "was just tuned up for it" that day.

"I am about to achieve the joy of my life," Cockran told the Governor the night before he made the nominating speech. "For as long back as I can remember, at national conventions I have been fanning the wind either against somebody or against something. At last I have an opportunity to be for somebody."

In an appraisal of William Jennings Bryan, to whom he first spoke in 1924, Mr. Smith says:

"Bryan was an opportunist. Bryan did the thing that helped Bryan. When he found it convenient for his own purpose to assail Tammany Hall and Wall Street he did so, but when he was a candidate himself no man ever cultivated the support of Tammany Hall more than he did.

"When returning from one of the conventions he met the Tammany Hall delegation en route and he said:

"'Great is Tammany, and Croker is her prophet.' When he was a candidate himself he not only declared himself in favor of Tammany Hall, but he was for Richard Croker too. If he could not secure the nomination or did not get the support of Tammany in the convention he immediately linked her up with big business, sordid politics and everything that was mean and rotten.

"When Mr. Smith went back into the trucking business after his first term as Governor he had no idea that he would ever return to Albany, he writes, adding that "it was definitely fixed in my mind that my political career, so far as public office-holding was concerned, had come to an end."

HARVEY PUT OVER KARLE

THREATEN A COURT FIGHT

Drawings for places on the primary ballot, held yesterday by the Board of Elections, gave Representative LaGuardia, organization Republican designee for Mayor, precedence over William M. Bennett, his opponent for the nomination.

While Mr. LaGuardia's name will appear above that of former Senator Bennett, the name of Mrs. Beatrice Beckerman, associated with Mr. Bennett, will appear above that of Bird S. Coler, fusion designee for Alder manic President with whom she is contesting the Republican nomination.

Harvey Outdraws Karle.

In the fight for the Democratic nomination for Borough President of Queens, the drawing placed the names on the ballot in the following order: Edward W. Cox, Bernard M. Patten, William F. Brunner.

The five Democratic candidates for Queens Surrogate nomination will be listed in this order: George J. S. Dowling, Lawrence T. Gresser, George B. Hanavan, John M. Cragen, Richard S. Newcombe. In the Republican contest, the name of Henry G. Wenzel will appear above that of Raymond G. Pollard. In the Democratic contest for Queens Sheriff, Samuel J. Burden's name will head that of Fred A. Sandman.

In the Queens contest for the Democratic nomination for District Attorney the drawings put the names in this order: Herbert A. O'Brien, James T. Hallinan and Charles M. Troessel. In the Republican contest the drawings gave Dana Wallace precedence over R. H. Kruppenbacher. Mrs. Margert Mulligan won the draw over Peter J. McGarry for first position on the ballot in the Queens Democratic contest for the nomination for Register.

In the Thirteenth District in Manhattan, where Alderman Patrick Dowd is contesting Andrew B. Keating for the Tammany leadership, Mr. Dowd won first place. His name will go ahead of that of William J. Sheehan, the Keating designee for Alderman, while the name of Joseph A. Broderick, his candidate for the Assembly nomination, will head that of James Cannon, the Keating designee.

Keating Designees Barred.

An unusual situation was revealed when Henry Clay Greenberg, representing Mr. Keating, attempted to have the names of six designees for Democratic county committeemen, previously named by the Keating faction, removed from the ballot and six others substituted. Edward V. Broderick opposed this move on the ground that no declinations had been filed.

It was explained that the Dowd petition containing these six names was filed at 3:49 P. M. on Aug. 20, while the Keating petition containing the same six names was filed at 5:03 P. M. on the same day. It was pointed out that the municipal election law provides that in such cases the candidates are held to be those of the faction filing the petition first. Mr. Greenberg contended that this left the Keating faction without representation, but Jacob A. Livingston, presiding temporarily over the board of elections, said that the voters who desired to vote for the six candidates the Keating faction attempted to have substituted would have to do so by writing their names on the ballot. Mr. Greenberg intimated that court action might be taken by the Keating faction.

DIFFER ON AUTHORITY TO PLAN LABRADOR SALE

ST. JOHN'S, N. F., Aug. 28 (Canadian Press).—Sir W. F. Croaker, member of the Newfoundland Government without portfolio, has issued the following statement:

"Joseph de Champlain was authorized last September to deal with arrangements preliminary to the appointment of a delegation to consider the sale of Labrador to Canada, which authority was extended by the present administration a few weeks ago."

LEVIS, Que., Aug. 28.—When shown a statement by Sir W. F. Croaker, member of the Newfoundland Government without portfolio, that Joseph de Champlain was authorized by the present administration to make preliminary arrangements in connection with the sale of Labrador, Sir Richard Squires, the Premier of Newfoundland, today said:

"Mr. de Champlain has no authority to announce himself as Newfoundland's representative or agent in connection with any matter whatsoever.

"He has had no association with me and under no circumstances do I propose to have him as an agent or intermediary in connection with the sale of Labrador or any other matter."

Asked if the Newfoundland Government had really contemplated the sale of Labrador, Sir Richard said it was purely a business question between the governments of Newfoundland and Canada. He added:

"It is not so much the sale of Labrador that we are interested in as securing the necessary financial assistance from Canada, the United States or any other source to develop our natural resources."

ITALY TO COMPETE FOR SCHNEIDER CUP

BALBO CONCEDES DEFEAT

Aviation Head Says Death of Captain Motta Ruined Italy's Chances of Victory.

ROME, Aug. 28 (AP).—Italy, after having requested postponement of the Schneider Cup Races in England on Sept. 7, because of the death of one of her best competing pilots, will definitely take part in the blue ribbon air race on the date scheduled, Under-Secretary of Aviation Balbo announced today.

General Balbo, in the face of reports that Italy would not compete this year because of England's refusal to accept postponement, declared that the Italian fliers would enter the races "as a gesture of good sportsmanship and give the lie to the statements that Italy would withdraw."

"However," he added, "the possibility of victory for our squadron has been almost annuled by the death of Captain Motta, who, in addition to being our best pilot, was wrecked in our fastest airplane."

"We shall arrive in London with two hydroplanes, one absolutely new and never before in the water, and two motors untried in actual flights for speed."

General Balbo confirmed the departure of the Italian team yesterday for England. Shipping of the airplanes will be completed today and tomorrow.

The Italian airplanes are two Macchi-67s with Isotta Fraschini motors developing 1,500 and 1,800 horsepower, and the Macchi-52 with which De Bernardi made his world speed record.

There is also an absolutely new type of hydro-airplane known as the Piaggio 7. This is something of a mystery plane. It floats on the water resting on its wings, using no floats. It also has a water propeller, worked from the motor, which helps to lift it off the surface. Two "legs" with fins attached run down into the water and help it to get away rapidly.

The fastest airplanes and those on which the Italian fliers really count, are the Macchi-67s. These are expected to reach a speed of 375 miles an hour.

1 KILLED, 4 HURT IN CRASH.

Special to The New York Times.

CATSKILL, N. Y., Aug. 28.—A thirteen-year-old boy was killed and four other New Yorkers were injured late Tuesday afternoon when two automobiles crashed on the Albany-Skyline Road near Coxsackie. The dead boy, who was crushed by the overturned car in which he had been riding, was Frank Kotmel of 2,222 Forty-second Street, Long Island City.

Mr. and Mrs. Kotmel, the parents of Frank, were not hurt. Mr. Kotmel was driving when, police said, the car operated by Thomas Walker, husband of Mrs. Walker, pulled out of line and side-swiped his car. Charles Kohel of 317 East Seventy-third Street, New York City, the only other passenger in the Kotmel car, was not hurt.

FORD HUNTS TELEGRAPH KEY

OLEAN, N. Y., Aug. 28 (AP).—Representatives of Henry Ford have been searching throughout Western New York for the telegraph key which was used to send the first message dispatching a train. He is said to intend adding the key to the collection in his industrial museum at Dearborn.

The telegraph key was part of the equipment of the Erie Railroad at Harriman near Port Jervis. Later it was moved to Painted Post, where it remained in active service until 1875.

Several men employed at one time by the Erie have received letters from Mr. Ford asking their assistance in tracing the key. Some of them recalled having seen it in the Painted Post telegraph office and they reported that it was later turned over to a minor dispatching office of the railroad in the western part of the State.

The sending of the first train dispatch has been commemorated by the erection of a mounment at Harriman, visible from the windows of trains passing on the Erie Railroad.

RIVAL TRANSIT INQUIRIES.

Philadelphia Mayor and Controller Both Move Against Mitten.

Special to The New York Times.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 28.—Mayor Mackey and Controller Will B. Hadley today announced the launching of separate court investigations of Mitten Management and the financial ramifications of the whole Philadelphia Rapid Transit Company system. A lively fight between the two interested parties was foreshadowed by the resentful reaction of Deputy Controller S. Davis Wilson to the Mayor's announcement.

Mr. Wilson and his attorneys said that a bill in equity would be filed in common pleas court tomorrow asking court investigation "of all the Mitten corporations."

Mayor Mackey, without consulting the controller's office, announced the appointment of former Public Service Commissioner Harold Evans, long a foe of the Mitten policies, as a special city solicitor to take legal action to force a full disclosure of all P. R. T. operations and to determine what money is due the city.

Fined for Liquor on Barge.

The Manhattan Tank Barge Company of 7 West Forty-second Street paid a $480 customs fine yesterday because of the discovery on Tuesday of eight cases of whisky on the tank barge T. N. 74. Citizens reported that they had seen liquor passed from a freighter tied up at Pier 4, American Dock, Staten Island, to the barge, which was taking off cocoanut oil. Searchers found eight cases of whisky on the craft.

WESTERNERS FAVOR RECLAMATION STUDY

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, Aug. 28 (AP).—Representatives of Western States stood committed to President Hoover's proposal for a commission of nine or ten men to study public land and reclamation policies.

Aside from a suggestion to the Governors of the eleven Western public land States to submit the names of three citizens each to the President for appointment to the five places on the commission allotted to these States, the conference of their representatives in its closing session here yesterday failed to take a stand on the other issues presented to it in a letter from the Chief Executive.

A resolution was adopted expressing appreciation of President Hoover's proposal that the government cede to the States surface rights to the public lands within their borders and should turn over the administration of reclamation projects to the States, but did not commit the conference on these matters.

Other resolutions urged increased Federal appropriations for Federal aid highways and roads across government reservations and other public lands, increased funds for forest fire fighting and forestry investigations, and more money for plant pest experimentation and control.

The theory of Federal control of non-navigable streams within State boundaries was denied in another resolution and the government was asked to dismiss pending suits based on such a premise. The principle of reclamation was upheld in still another and its continuation with Federal funds was demanded as a means for further development of the West.

42D ST. AREA TO HAVE AMBULANCE SERVICE

Emergency ambulance service for the Forty-second Street district will be established within a few days, William J. Schroeder Jr., Commissioner of Hospitals, announced yesterday. The announcement followed a meeting of the Forty-second Street Property Owners and Merchants Association, at which a representative of the Hospital for Ruptured and Crippled, 317 East Forty-second Street, offered a site on Forty-third Street, near Second Avenue.

The new service will be put in operation as soon as a temporary structure has been provided, pending the completion of a permanent building. The hospital will furnish housing, telephone service and a rest room for physicians and drivers, while the city will furnish an ambulance, fully equipped, and drivers.

For several years an emergency service for the Grand Central and Times Square areas has been planned. Many accidents occur in this territory every year and at present the district is served only by ambulances from Bellevue and Reception Hospitals, both of which are a considerable distance away.

Details of the new service will be adjusted at a meeting to be held in the Hospital for Ruptured and Crippled on Sept. 10.

BUYS SAN FRANCISCO PAPER

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Aug. 28 (AP).—The San Francisco Bulletin announced today that, beginning tomorrow, it would be published as part of The San Francisco Call and Post and would suspend as an independent publication.

The newspapers entering the merger will be named The San Francisco Call-Bulletin and will be issued as one newspaper from the plant of The Call. The merged papers are the oldest two in San Francisco. The Bulletin was founded in 1855 and The Call in 1856.

Fremont Older is editor of The Call, and it was said no immediate change in editorial personnel or management is contemplated. The Bulletin was owned principally by Herbert Fleishacker, San Francisco banker, and Carl Brockhagen. The Call is owned by William Randolph Hearst.

The consideration involved in the transaction was not disclosed, but persons closely associated with the publications placed the figure around $1,000,000. The Bulletin was established in 1855 by James King William, who was shot by persons who objected to his strenuous editorials in favor of law enforcement. The Call was founded in 1856 by a group of printers as a cooperative enterprise. The Call was a morning paper until 1913, when it entered the evening field. Once before the papers were jointly owned but issued separately.

The merger leaves two newspapers in the afternoon field, The Call-Bulletin and The Daily News.

ENTRATTA DENIES GUILT.

Man Accused in Hotsy-Totsy Killings Is Held Without Bail.

Charles Entratta, alias Green, accused with Jack (Legs) Diamond, a fugitive, of participating in the shooting and killing of William Cassidy and Simon Walker, an ex-convict, in the Hotsy Totsy night club on July 13, pleaded not guilty to a first-degree murder indictment when he was arraigned yesterday before Judge Mulqueen in General Sessions. He was remanded to the Tombs without bail, after his lawyer, David Leavenworth, had obtained the consent of the court to make necessary motions up to Sept. 6.

Entratta, captured in Chicago on Saturday after a country-wide hunt for him, was brought back to the city two days ago to face the murder indictment. He denied any connection with the shooting, saying he was not in the Hotsy-Totsy Club that night.

When he was in the line-up of prisoners yesterday morning at Police Headquarters, Deputy Chief Inspector Mulrooney asked him: "What is your occupation?"

"I'm a salesman," Entratta replied.

"When did you last work at that?" pursued Mulrooney.

"I'll speak about that when my trial comes," was the reply.

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 28 (AP).—Major John Crowley, 86-year-old Confederate veteran, who was a secret dispatch bearer for President Jefferson Davis, lingered between life and death in Charity Hospital tonight from wounds inflicted early today by a noisy demonstrator in front of his St. Louis Street home.

The police arrested Walter Sims, 45, of Pritchard, La., who, they said, was intoxicated, and thrust a knife into the aged veteran's neck during a quarrel on the street.

EAKER IN SHUTTLE DOWN AT CLEVELAND

ON WAY WEST FROM HERE

In Quick Turn Over Mitchel Field Pilot Had Dropped Note Indicating Difficulties.

CLEVELAND, Aug. 28 (AP).—Captain Ira C. Eaker, pilot, and Lieutenant Bernard Thompson in the transcontinental refueling mail plane, Shuttle, were forced down near the Municipal Airport here just before midnight by an accident to the plane caused in an attempted to transfer oil.

Dropped Mail at Mitchel Field.

MITCHEL FIELD, L. I., Aug. 28.—Captain Ira C. Eaker of the Army Air Corps completed the first lap of his transcontinental non-stop refueling flight in the Boeing air mail plane Shuttle here at 5:12 o'clock this afternoon and with a wave of the hand was off for the Pacific Coast again without letting his wheels touch the ground.

The Shuttle dropped a bag of mail and took on another without slackening speed and with such precision and dispatch that it was vanishing into the West almost before those on the ground realized the identity of the plane. It appeared, established contact and departed so suddenly that three planes with photographers, who were waiting for it, did not get off the ground until too late.

The Shuttle, which started from Oakland, Cal., yesterday with Captain Eaker and Lieutenant Bernard Thompson as crew, will cross the continent several times without landing, if all goes well. The object is to show how much mileage a standard mail plane can pile up as it flies the route in every sort of weather and also to test the picking up and dropping of mail without stopping.

Waiting on the ground here when the Shuttle came into sight was Lieutenant Elwood Quesada, who was with Captain Eaker in the army transport plane Question Mark when it established the first refueling flight record. Lieutenant Quesada was in a Douglas two-seater with a small bag of mail and food for the touring aviators.

Close Contact Is Established.

The Shuttle came over the field at 90 miles an hour, circled it, dropped a bag of mail from a height of 1,500 feet and hovered overhead until Lieutenant Quesada had established contact. The planes were only ten to fifteen feet apart, with Lieutenant Quesada's craft above the Shuttle.

Quesada dropped a rope which Lieutenant Thompson made fast. Then Lieutenant E. M. Cadontseff, accompanying Quesada, fixed the mail bag to the rope by means of a ring and let it slide down to the Shuttle. The Transfer of mail required only the brief time in which the Shuttle was circling the field.

Captain Eaker at once headed for Cleveland, where he expected to drop the mail received here, take on another bag and refuel.

In the bag of mail which the Shuttle dropped here was a log, consisting of about ten pencilled pages, giving a detailed account of the flight thus far. It was received by H. J. Adamson, civilian assistant to Assistant Secretary of War Trubee F. Davison.

There also were two telegrams to be sent to the officers at the fields at Cleveland and Omaha asking for changes to facilitate refueling. Over Cleveland last night Captain Eaker and Lieutenant Thompson were drenched with gasoline.

Eaker's Note Told of Trouble.

A message dropped at Cleveland then and received by the United Aircraft and Transport Corporation at its offices here, 230 Park Avenue, told of the difficulties. It was signed by Captain Eaker and said:

"We have had some trouble, but that was to be expected. Have not made the speed we had hoped, as we got no breaks on wind. Plane and engine are performing perfectly. Refueling is causing trouble due to faulty hose. With us it is just a question of getting gas."

SALT LAKE CITY, Aug. 28.—The United States League of Local Building and Loan Associations decided at its convention here today to change its title to the "American Building and Loan League." This was a part of the action on the revision of the constitution.

In the clause in the new constitution defining the purpose of the league, a section making it mandatory on the league to oppose "especially enactments relative to taxation," was stricken out.

In the evening the 1,000 delegates and visitors held a banquet on the shores of the Great Salt Lake.

SERVICE STATIONS PLANNED FOR PLANES

Leaders of Aircraft Industry Lay Out System Similar to That for Autos.

AIMED FOR PRIVATE FLIERS

CLEVELAND, Aug. 28 (AP).—The individual airplane owner in the United States soon may expect to find the same sort of service for his plane that he would expect for his automobile. With this end in view a comprehensive study of service offered the car owner by the automotive industry is to be made by aircraft and engine manufacturers through a committee named at an Aeronautical Chamber of Commerce meeting here today. Upon the results of the survey it is expected to lay the foundation for the servicing of aircraft by which the owner and flier may obtain parts and repairs in any part of the United States with a minimum of delay.

A nation-wide system of service stations and parts distribution is necessary, it was agreed, to the development and future prosperity of the industry. If many sales are to be made in the future to the individual owner, it was pointed out, he must be able to obtain efficient and speedy repair and replacement of parts on his plane in case of a breakdown.

Major responsibility for the servicing of airplane engines was accepted by the engine manufacturers, it being agreed that such service was as much of a specialty as the manufacturing itself. A system of distributorships for parts and replacements, operating under a scale of discounts such as that prevailing in the automobile industry, is to be sought to carry out the engine service. An exhaustive investigation of conditions and experiences in the automobile industry as regards uniform discounts is to be made before any plans are put into operation.

A report recommending standardization of airplane fuels and lubricants so the fliers may obtain the proper grade of gasoline or oil by name rather than by technical specifications was adopted by the fuel and lubricants section of the aeronautical chamber.

MATAWAN, N. J., Aug. 28.—Nine charges alleging Chief of Police Edwin C. Sloat of this place attacked various persons with his fists over a period of more than a year and that he has "a passion for assaulting, wounding and maiming human beings which he is unable to control" were filed against him today by Patrolman Leroy Sproul. Sproul is under suspension and faces a charge of misconduct preferred by Sloat.

Sproul's hearing is set for Sept 17, Sloat's the next day.

Sloat was arrested today on another charge of assault preferred by Anthony Denardo and bail was fixed at $1,500 for his appearance before the grand jury. Denardo asserts that Sloat dragged him from a hospital bed, beat him up, obtained a conviction of disorderly conduct for thirty days by false information, and prevented him from receiving medical treatment for four days, in which time his wounds became infected, necessitating his spending six weeks in a hospital.

BARLOW IS FREED ON BAIL IN CUBA

Havana Government Speeds Release of American, Involved in Land Suits.

HE WILL PRESS CLAIM HERE

States Plan to Take Demands for $5,000,000 to Washington as Stimson Acts for Him.

HAVANA, Aug. 28 (AP).—Joseph E. Barlow, 67-year-old American resident of Havana and claimant of $9,000,000 damages from the Cuban Government for alleged seizure of properties, was freed tonight in bail of $500 after spending last night and most of today at Principe Fortress Prison on charges of grand larceny. El Sol Naciente, S. A., a Cuban bonding company, was said to have acted under instructions of Jesus Maria Barrque, Cuban Secretary of Justice, in arranging the bail.

It was learned by The Associated Press that Mr. Barlow tomorrow will be freed of the charges brought by Señor Vincenta Garcia, who accused Barlow of failing to deliver title to land purchased by her. Sales records shown today by Mr. Barlow to the judicial police indicated that the woman had been a year in arrears of payment and that her lands reverted to the Barlow company.

Release of Mr. Barlow from jail was effected tonight without any appearance in court, the matter being adjusted by a judicial police inspector.

"My arrest was an outrage," Mr. Barlow said later. " I was placed with a dozen or more negro lunatics and given inhuman punishment for my unwillingness to talk or make statements to prison officials. The experience was one that I would never undergo again for all the money I'm asking from the Cuban Government. I was arrested on false charges and imprisoned illegally, and all of these matters have been made known by my wife to the United States State Department in cables sent last night and throughout the day."

To Press Case in Washington.

It was understood that Mr. Barlow will return to Washington this week to report his arrest and imprisonment to the State Department and to resume activities toward securing action on his claims.

The judicial police informed The Associated Press that Mr. Barlow had nothing to fear from further prosecution, but that Cuba "would feel happier if he would return to the United States and stay there, thus avoiding trouble and unpleasantness."

The Barlow claims against the government are based on old Spanish grants which he purchased to a property known as the Manglar de Urrutia, comprising thirty-two blocks in the centre of Havana and valued at $5,000,000, with other claims for water mains in the suburban town of Marianao and a large land tract known as Buenavist.

He has asked the United States to demand execution by the Cuban Government of a court order which gave him title to Manglar and also to adjust his other claims. The Cuban Government parries his charge of non-execution of court orders with the statement that he has not yet exhausted all his legal rights in Cuban courts and has so far failed to establish exact boundaries of his lands.

Mr. Barlow replies that his properties are now held by a member of the Cuban Congress, who under Cuban law cannot be sued, and that he (Barlow) has already established his legal rights in Cuban courts, records of which are at the State Department at Washington.

Stimson Acting on Case.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—Prior to receipt of news here that Joseph E. Barlow had been released from prison at Havana, Secretary of State Stimson made known today that he was acting, not only in the matter of Mr. Barlow's arrest and imprisonment, but in the case of the American's claims against the Cuban Government.

Mr. Stimson had received a cablegram from Mrs. Barlow in which she said her husband had been compelled to don prison garb and was incarcerated in the same quarters with lunatics and lepers. In another message to the Secretary signed by Mr. Barlow, the American had declared he was not permitted to get bail.

In an announcement that Charles B. Curtis, the American Chargé d'Affaires at Havana, had been instructed to take steps in Mr. Barlow's behalf, the State Department said:

"Mr. Curtis was instructed to take up the matter immediately with the Foreign Office and request to be advised of the nature of the charges and endeavor to secure his release on bail, if Mr. Barlow is able to provide one.

"In view of Barlow's physical condition, Mr. Curtis was instructed to request permission to have a member of the embassy staff visit him and ascertain whether, under the circumstances, his surroundings were bearable."

Mr. Stimson denied suggestions that the Barlow case has not been receiving attention from the department. He asserted that he had not only conferred at length with Ambassador Judah about the matter, but also had had conferences with former Ambassador Crowder, who was in Cuba during the earlier attempts of Mr. Barlow to obtain action in his case.

A special envoy has been sent to Cuba, Mr. Stimson said, to get first-hand information on the Barlow case. The reports of this envoy were not yet completed, Mr. Stimson insisted that the Barlow case had had more attention from the department than any other case of an American investor in foreign countries now before the department.

Borah Also Presses Case.

Senator Borah, chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee, who also busied himself here to effect Mr. Barlow's release from prison, said that he was convinced Mr. Barlow's claims were valid. It was also stated that the subcommittee of the Foreign Relations Committee, which investigated the Barlow affair last year, told the full committee that the claims were just.

"There isn't any doubt that Mr. Barlow has a just claim, and there isn't any doubt he had been deprived of his rights," Mr. Borah said.

He then made public the confidential hearings conducted by Senator Shipstead as chairman and Senators Edge, Reed and George. During these hearings Mr. Barlow, Ambassador Judah and a number of other witnesses appeared.

To the subcommittee Mr. Barlow asserted that there was "no law" in Cuba except President Machado, and he described what he said were the injustices done him in the island.

Mr. Barlow estimated his properties as involving respectively $5,000,000, $500,000, $510,000, and $121,000, and also spoke of the "theft" of a breast pin from his daughter. Stressing the "fear" of President Machado that existed among certain persons, he went on to say that he had been haled into court 156 times in two years.

At the Cuban Embassy, it was said with reference to Mr. Barlow's arrest that a warrant had been issued some time ago in connection with a private civil suit, in which Mr. Barlow was charged with having sold property that did not belong to him.

The laughter of children at objects or conditions in which grown-ups see no humor was found to be only a manifestation of growing social awareness by three research workers at Teachers College, Columbia University, who reported yesterday on their findings from extensive researches.

The committee, consisting of Alice Gregg, Marion Miller and Ethel Linton, conducted studies of groups of nursery and kindergarten pupils in an effort to discover the psychology behind their apparently aimless mirth.

It also was noted that when the subjects were "exposed" to what ordinarily are considered laugh-provoking situations they often showed no response. However, simple matters such as the arrival of an elevator or the discovery of a pair of shears in a drawer found them quite responsive.

Spontaneous laughter arose most frequently, it was found, when the children thought themselves alone, and was inspired most frequently by such occupations as watching the rain, jumping down steps and sliding down banisters. The observers recorded as characteristic a gale of merriment from two children dragging a wagon in the garden.

Responsiveness to other children or to adults was found to be one of the chief reasons for laughing, as when the child laughs on entering a room after an absence, or when he laughs after accomplishing some feat with other people near by. In such instances the child looked around to see if he was attracting any attention. Even if nobody noticed him he was conscious of their presence, the observers reported.

Intelligence records of the children observed were compared with their laughter scores in an effort to discover some correlation. The observers found no relation between the two, although they believe there may be a high degree of correlation between the child's responsiveness to humor and his intelligence. Temperament plays a large part in infantile laughter, it was found. The vast majority of laughs were discovered to be related to physical activity.

Among themselves, the children laughed heartily at humorous remarks of their companions. They were particularly amused when Dan, in putting on his overalls, called, "Hey, Jerry, I put it on wrong side out." Jingles of their own creation also inspired laughter. Among the more popular were "Snow, snow beautiful snow, step on a hunk and zip you go," and "Isn't it funny to look down on a bunny."

GANGSTER, NEAR DEATH, HELD IN HOMICIDE CASE

Police Refuse Information on Arrest of One of Pair Believed Fatally Wounded by Gunmen.

Anthony Bassi, 24 years old, of 4,704 Fort Hamilton Parkway, Brooklyn, and Ernest Rossi, 26, of 1,113 Thirty-ninth Street, Brooklyn, alleged gangsters, were reported to be at the point of death last night by the police of the Bath Beach station, Brooklyn. The men were suffering from bullet wounds received Tuesday night when they and another gangster, Michael Petrone, 30 years old, of 1,606 Benson Avenue, Brooklyn, were fired on by gunmen while conversing at Sixty-fifth Street and New Utrecht Avenue, Brooklyn, the police said. Petrone's wounds proved fatal a short while after they were inflicted.

Bassi, who is in Kings County Hospital with a bullet in his skull, was placed under arrest on a charge of homicide yesterday morning, although a victim of the shooting. The police offered no explanation for the arrest. Rossi, who was hit by three bullets, is in the United Israel Zion Hospital, where the three were taken after the shooting. Bassi was later removed to the prisoners' ward at Kings County Hospital.

A fully loaded .32 calibre pistol, believed to have been thrown away by one of the injured men, was found yesterday morning by Detective Max Black of the Fort Hamilton police station near the service station, in front of which the trio were standing when they were shot.

With small chance of getting an explanation of the shooting from Bassi and Rossi, because of their condition, aside from their statements that it was a case of mistaken identity, the police rounded up gangsters of the district once frequented by the late Frankie Yale in an effort to determine if the three had been employed as strong-arm men to terrorize the garment trade.

PADLOCK LIFTED FROM MEYER'S HOTEL

Meyer's Hotel, at 231 Hudson Street, Hoboken, once a rendezvous of sportsmen, and for a time not so far back frequented by leaders of the Bohemian movement which invaded the town, was unpadlocked yesterday by the decision of Federal Judge Guy L. Fake in Newark. The court ruled that the government had been negligent in its padlock proceedings of six weeks ago.

State Senator R. W. Chandless moved to reopen the case and appeared before the Federal court in Newark yesterday. He told the court the government had been negligent in bringing the proceedings. He pointed to the fact that Meyer's Hotel had been raided June 19, 1925, and that the bill was not filed against the place as a nuisance until Feb. 27, 1929.

The court agreed that the government was negligent, over the protest of Assistant Federal Attorney John Grimshaw Jr., and dismissed the matter in favor of the hotel.

FORGETS PISTOL IN TAXI.

Bank Employe, Arrested, Is Said to Have Admitted Planning Hold-Up.

Nathan Berkowitz, taxi driver, of 207 East Ninety-first Street, Brooklyn, complying with the police regulations after leaving a passenger in front of 242 West 104th Street last night, examined the inside of the cab and found a fully loaded automatic pistol on the seat. He called Patrolman John Bergin, who arrested the passenger, described as Hamilton Griener, 23 years old, a bank clerk, for violation of the Sullivan law.

According to the police, Griener admitted ownership of the weapon and said that he had planned to use it in a hold-up. The prisoner wore a belt and holster when arrested, they said.

Griener is said by the police to be the son of a banker in Salem, Ohio, who came here about six months ago and took a position with a branch of the Bank of the Manhattan Company. He will be arraigned in West Side Court this morning.

A score of residents living in a three-story apartment house at 56 West Forty-ninth Street were rescued last night by firemen when fire started in the basement of the house and spread up the stairway making escape by that means impossible. Leonidas Tzolle, 50 years old, superintendent of the building, who discovered the blaze, was overcome by smoke in the hallway on the first floor after giving the alarm. He was badly burned about the legs and arms and was sent to Reception Hospital.

The ground floor of the house is occupied by the Cabin Restaurant. Just after midnight Tzolle smelled smoke and traced it to the basement. After turning in the alarm, he ran through the house pounding on doors and rousing the occupants. But by the time he reached the first floor again the fire was already sweeping up the stairs. Before he could get to the front door he collapsed. When fire apparatus arrived a few minutes later firemen found Tzolle unconscious in the hallway. Occupants of apartments on the upper floors of the house were carried down ladders to safety.

BOY HOOKED DIAMONDS, HIS BROTHER ADMITS

New Britain Youth Says He, Becoming Alarmed, Then Dropped Actress's Rings in a Pond.

NEW BRITAIN, Conn., Aug. 28 (AP).—Police learned today that the three diamond rings, valued at $3,500, stolen from the dressing room of Florence Vernon, a New York actress, while she was on the stage of the Strand Theatre here three weeks ago, are lying at the bottom of a pond at Stanley Quarter Park.

John Wass, aged 18, brother of one of two boys accused of stealing the jewels, is said to have told the police that he took the jewels from his brother and, becoming fearful he would be arrested, placed them in an envelope and dropped them into the pond.

The youth said the boy thieves had used a bent wire, inserted through the window of the dressing room, to obtain the purse which held the diamonds.

MAN SAVED FROM SUICIDE.

Jumps Into East River, but Policeman Swims to His Rescue.

Several youths who were playing at the fot of East 114th Street about 6 o'clock last evening noticed a man who sat on the pier at the end of the street writing a letter. He appeared greatly agitated and when he had completed the epistle shouted a frenzied good-bye to the boys and plunged into the water.

The swift current carried him about 300 feet off shore and was rapidly sweeping him downstream while one of the boys told Patrolmen Stephen Walsh and Thomas Mullins of the East 104th Street station, who were on duty near by, what had happened. They hastened to the foot of East 113th Street, where Mullins boosted Walsh over a picket fence bordering the waterfront there.

Walsh, clad in full uniform, swam out to the man and grasped him after he had gone down twice. With great difficulty he got him to the pier at the foot of 112th Street, where Mullins threw out a rope, which Walsh tied about the would-be suicide's waist. The two policemen with the help of bystanders hoisted him from the water and began first-aid measures over a sandy barrel.

The emergency crew of the Consolidated Gas Company and an ambulance surgeon from Bellevue Hospital were called, and after half an hour the man was pronounced out of danger, eH was too weak, however, to give his name. A pawn ticket in his pocket bore the name "Cursio." The letter he had been writing had disappeared. He was taken to Bellevue.

LEGACIES HANG ON PRAYER.

Philadelphian's Will Requires Heirs to Mark Death Dates.

Special to The New York Times.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 28.—Max Buten, a local business man who died at Saratoga Springs on June 6, provided in his will, probated today, that twice a year, on the anniversaries of the death of himself and his wife, the survivors among their four sons and four daughters are to meet in their parents' home. While the sons are saying prayers in memory of their parents the daughters are to prepare a banquet which all shall attend.

If for any controllable reason one of the children fails to be present, his or her share of the surplus of a specific trust created for the purpose is to go to several Hebrew orphan asylums of Philadelphia.

QUEEN TRIGGERFISH HERE FROM NASSAU

'SLANG-DANG' ALSO ARRIVES

It Flashes Soft Lights on Its Sides —Others in Lot Resemble Cows, Parrots and Hogs.

More than 1,000 brilliantly colored fish from tropic seas arrived on the Munson liner Munargo from Nassau yesterday and were taken to the Aquarium, where they are being classified and sorted. In the service gallery yesterday afternoon experts were busy with the shipment, which represented about sixty species, none of which is very rare.

One of the most interesting was the queen triggerfish, a fickle-colored species with some of the mechanical ability of the hydraulic ram. The handsome queen has developed a superior technique in hunting, a system which has been in process of formation since worms first knew fear more than a million years ago, it was said.

When the triggerfish follows the spoor along the dim sands of tropic seas, the worm-wily animal withdraws its head within its burrowed home, thus to evade the hunter, C. M. Breder, research associate of the Aquarium, said yesterday.

Thwarts Strategy of Worm.

This little stratagem merely whets the greed of the triggerfish. Quick as a trigger, it stops, takes a deep breath and in one terrific blast excavates the sand all around the little worm's abode. This, Mr. Breder said, leaves the worm virtually at the mercy of the triggerfish, which then extracts its prey without much delicacy. The queen then changes her color, proceeding slowly along the scent to rest her lungs.

The sandfish, a slender, graceful figure, is the most evanescent of all color-changing species. This fish hides in the sand to rest and comes out with soft lights flashing down its sides like neon rays. In the West Indies this fish is called the "slang-dang."

Two days ago, Mr. Breder said, the Aquarium received a kind of turtle rarely held in captivity and rarely found except in Southern waters. The turtle, a leatherback, was caught off the New Jersey coast and presented to the Aquarium by Chesebro Bros. & Robbins, 1 Fulton Market.

Leatherbacks Bash Out Lives.

The leatherbacks ordinarily cannot live long in captivity. Being obtuse, they cannot comprehend the implications of a wall and bash out their lives swimming nose first against aquarias. The present specimen, however, seems endowed with some intelligence and has already flipped around the large tank several times of its own volition. It will probably survive, Mr. Breder said.

Among the other specimens brought from Nassau by John Shea, an associate, were the peculiar beaked parrotfish; the angel fish, a gaudy species; the triangular-shaped trunkfish and its brother, the horned cowfish, and the squirrelfish. The Spanish hogfish, not at all to be confounded with the common hogfish, was also added to the collection.

Officials of the Aquarium also announced yesterday the birth of several hundred guppies. The fecund guppie is a minute specimen, popular with amateur aquarists, and is a live-bearing type.

DESIGNS NEW HELICOPTER.

Union (N. J.) Engineer Builds Craft He Says Has 150-Mile Speed.

Special to The New York Times.

UNION, N. J., Aug. 28.—A helicopter, for which the inventor claims vertical ascent and descent and a forward speed of one to 150 miles an hour, is being developed by George Lehberger of 25 Hillside Avenue. Lehberger has built a working scale model of the helicopter.

The fuselage is of the cabin airplane type, except that the upper and lower parts running back from the cabin roof and the floor to the tail section are left open.

Power in Lehberger's helicopter is generated by two three-cylinder air-cooled motors of about forty-five horsepower each.

The motors are mounted on the roof of the cabin, and are geared to twin propellers which revolve in opposite directions.

The propeller shafting may be swung in an arc from a vertical to horizontal, actuated by a lever in the cabin. Two wings alter their angle of incidence at the same time as the shafting is changed.

Lehberger is an engineer, educated in Germany.

PLANS LIBRARY IN ROME.

J. J. Freschi Announces Project for American Cultural Centre There.

Former Judge John J. Freschi announced at a private dinner yesterday at the Biltmore that the Permanent Italian Book Exhibition, Inc., of which he is a vice president, will found in Italy a nucleus of American culture, to be housed in a building to be called the Casa Americana, on the campus of the University of Rome.

The corporation last Spring opened an exhibition of more than 15,000 volumes of rare and fine Italian books at the Casa Italiana at Columbia University.

Mr. Freschi returned last week from Italy where he discussed the project with Premier Mussolini who agreed to do everything in his power to further it. The ground has already been set aside at the University of Rome and architects there are drawing plans for the building, which will cost about 1,000,000 lire.

A campaign to raise funds for purchasing American books and art objects for the building will be begun this Fall, Mr. Freschi said. Construction will begin in the Spring.

BRAZIL TO REAPPROACH ENGLISH RAIL COMPANY

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

SAO PAULO, Brazil, Aug. 28.—The Secretary of Communications has been instructed by President Washington Luis to resume discussions with representatives of the English-owned Sao Paulo Railway, with a view to renewing its franchise, which lapsed some time ago, according to dispatches today.

The Sao Paulo Railway is the only one at present connecting Soa Paulo and Santos, partly by means of trains hauled up and lowered by cables. The original contract provided for another railroad to be built and upon the lapse of the franchise a few years ago the State Government-owned Sorocabana Railroad began construction of a narrow-gauge line with a view to competing with the English-owned road and relieving the up-bound freight congestion at Santos.

Construction is being pushed and its completion is predicted by Sorocabana officials within two years. However, at best it is conceded that the new road will not be able to handle more than 10 per cent of the interior-bound traffic.

After the lapse of the English contract discussions were carried on and suddenly terminated in the middle of last year with no other explanation than that President Luis assumed all responsibility for breaking off the negotiations. If the contract is renewed the English owners plan to discard the present cable-way, using it only for reserve, and to construct a two-grade line between the two cities.

Resumption of negotiations is regarded favorably here, as congestion at Santos is serious and the railroad is not buying any new rolling stock pending negotiations.

GREENE COUNTY JURY INDICTS EX-SHERIFF

CATSKILL, N. Y., Aug. 28 (AP).—Charles H. Arbogast, former Sheriff of Greene County, was indicted today on a charge of grand larceny by the special grand jury impaneled here on the order of Governor Roosevelt to inquire into the alleged theft of county funds.

Arbogast, whose term as Sheriff expired Dec. 31, 1927, was released in $4,000 bail. Supreme Court Justice Staley set the trial date as Sept. 30.

The investigation of the fiscal situation in Greene County was ordered by Governor Roosevelt after Controller Morris S. Tremaine declared irregularities existed, including "misconducts, fraud and dishonesty" on the part of a former Sheriff and some supervisors. The Controller's report said illegal claims by coroners, constables and justices were audited and paid.

According to the Controller, "expense accounts were padded so that the cost of living of a supervisor rose as high as $30 a day. The county was compelled to pay expenses of supervisors who attended meetings in Albany which were in no way a county charge," and claims were paid for printing and publishing "useless notices."

PRISONER FIGHTS ALIMONY.

B. Sabin, Jailed for Arrears, Sues to Void Marriage as Bigamous.

In an effort to obtain his release from the County Jail for failure to continue alimony payments to his first wife, Virginia Poole, former Ziegfeld show girl, Benjamin Sabin, former clothing manufacturer, started suit for an annulment yesterday in the Supreme Court on the ground that their marriage was bigamous. Sabin was put in all on July 31 last when he was $5,684 in arrears. The court had ordered him to pay $120 a week.

Sabin, who is now married to the former Estelle Greenberg, who was his first wife's secretary, asserts that when his first marriage took place on Oct. 7, 1911, the defendant was the wife of Carl F. Curtis.

The plaintiff asserts that when the divorce was granted he was an officer and director of the Manchester Romper Company and had ample funds. Since that time, he declares, the company has been forced into bankruptcy and he is now penniless.

A hearing on a motion to vacate the order on which Sabin was arrested will be heard today by Justice Frankenthaler.

DRAFTS A NEW PEACE PACT.

Interparliamentary Union at Geneva Works for Arbitration.

GENEVA, Aug. 28 (AP).—Richard Bartholdt of St. Louis, president of the Interparliamentary Union for Promotion of International Arbitration, presented to the twelfth conference of that body today the draft of a model arbitration treaty designed for States which are not members of the League of Nations. Its purpose was described as to strengthen and magnify the Hague court of arbitration and to enlarge the general scope of peaceful settlement of international disputes.

The Interparliamentary Union, which is composed of members of all parties in the various national parliaments, regards itself as representing peoples while the League of Nations represents governments. The treaty proposed would take the place in this organization occupied by treaties elaborated by the League of Nations among its members.

INDIAN DROPS TRIP IN HUFF.

Mohamed Ali, Moslem Leader, Takes Offense at South African Terms.

BOMBAY, India, Aug. 28 (Canadian Press).—Because the Government of the Union of South Africa imposed certain conditions for his visit which he considered insulting, Maulana Mohamed Ali, prominent Moslem leader, who was to have sailed for South Africa today, canceled his passage at the last minute.

Just before leaving for the docks he received a communication from the Provincial Government of Bombay stating that the Union Government was willing to allow himself and his brother, Shaukat Ali, to enter the Union provided, among other things, that they confined their tour to certain parts and did not engage in any political activities whatever, public or private. Furthermore, they were not to stay in the Union more than three weeks.

MAN IS KILLED IN LEAP

Three persons were killed early this morning when fire swept a four-story tenement at 81 East Seventh Street. Others were badly burned and sent to Bellevue Hospital. The fire started just after 2 o'clock and by the time fire aparatus arrived the house was a mass of smoke and flames.

Women and children awoke from their sleep to find their homes filled with smoke and every means of escape cut off. They rushed to windows and cried for help. Charles Hollandell, 63 years old, jumped from a rear window into a rear court and was killed instantly.

As soon as fire apparatus arrived ladders were placed in position and firemen began carrying down occupants of the house. The firemen had great difficulty in restraining excited women from jumping, and several were badly burned before they could be carried to safety.

An unidentified woman and small boy rescued by firemen died soon after they reached the sidewalk. A score of others were unconscious and nine pulmotors were brought to the scene to aid in reviving those overcome by smoke. It was impossible to tell how many persons were missing, and families were separated during the excitement and children and parents sought each other in vain in the crowds which collected there.

The injured were placed on the sidewalk as fast as they were carried from the house. Several smoke victims were revived and taken to the homes of relatives. Others were bundled into ambulances and taken to the hospital.

Firemen William Jury and John Hoffman rescued two sisters, Charlotte and Sylvia Blunwasser, from their apartment on the third floor. Both girls were painfully burned before the firemen reached them. The firemen themselves were slightly burned in making the rescue, but remained at their post.

Firemen from Truck Company 21 carried down Mrs. Bessie Hollendell, 62 years old, wife of the dead man, and her four grown children from their apartment on the second floor. She was taken to Bellevue. Few of the occupants of the house had time to gather any clothing and were compelled to leave in what scanty apparel they had on.

Besides Mrs. Hollandell, those taken to Bellevue Hospital were her daughter Tillie, 25 years old, and her sons, Bernard, 30 years old, and Louis, 23 years old; Mortiz Blunwasser, 48 years old, and his daughter Sylvia, 25 years old, and Abraham Seedel, 38 years old. All were suffering from smoke and burns.

LINER SIBERIA SAILS ON FAREWELL VOYAGE

Special to The New York Times.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 28.—When the Siberia sailed from San Francisco this noon the famous steamer bade farewell to this port. Upon her arrival in Japan the Siberia will undergo alterations and repairs, after which she will go into the Orient-to-Seattle service.

The liner left port with 330 passengers and a capacity cargo. With the passing of the steamer from service to the port of San Francisco it is recalled that the steamer in January, 1927, set up a record in making the eastward passage from the Orient, her time from Yokohama to San Francisco on that voyage being twelve days and seven hours.

Replacing the Siberia Maru in the San Francisco service will be the new $6,000,000 motor liner Asama, which is scheduled to sail from Yokohama on Oct. 11 for San Francisco on its maiden voyage.

The Siberia Maru has covered in her service between the Orient and San Francisco more than 2,000,000 miles.

The Dollar liner, President Hayes, which is to go in the San Francisco-Honolulu-Manila direct service, will arrive here tomorrow afternoon from New York, but will have no passengers. The Hayes will take on passengers and cargo at Los Angeles Harbor and San Francisco for the outbound voyage and will inaugurate the new Honolulu service of the Dollar Line.

ENDURANCE SITTERS ROUTED

St. Louis Police Force About Fifty Children to Quit Their Perches.

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 28 (AP).—St. Louis and University City police today began routing about fifty juvenile endurance sitters from their perches, on orders from health authorities. Health Commissioners Starkloff and Fitzgerald characterized the sitting fad that served as juvenile emulation of the St. Louis Robin's sustained flight feat as a public nuisance and dangers to the present and future health of participants.

Roselle Taylor, 10, and Edwin Maruska Jr., 13, were called down, although Roselle's mother pleaded that the girl be allowed to remain up until 5 P. M. tomorrow to complete a week aloft. The policeman returned with an insistent sergeant. The child wept when her mother yielded.

Mrs. Maruska was "all in favor" of endurance sitting for children. "It teaches them patience," she said.

A pioneer sitter, William St. Clair, 15, who was forced down after twenty-one hours with a stomachache suffered from eating green apples, appeared in the rôle of impresario today, sponsoring a five-boy contest.

FLORENCE, Italy, Aug. 28 (AP).—Members of the American Legion who are touring Italy under the leadership of National Commander McNutt received guides today for a special tour, which included Medici Chapel, the Church of San Lorenzo and the Museum of San Marco. Later they motored to Fiesole to see the Convent of San Francisco and the Roman and Etruscan ruins. They leave for Venice tomorrow afternoon.

Revokes Driver's License Used to Get 50-Cent Loan

TRENTON, N. J., Aug. 28.—William L. Dill, State Motor Vehicle Commissioner, today revoked for one year the driver's license of Herbert T. Minkus of North Bergen for borrowing money on the strength of his license.

Complaint was made against Minkus by David Singer of Jersey City, manager of a smoke shop, who said that the motorist borrowed half a dollar by exhibiting his driving license to identify himself. Singer appealed to Commissioner Dill to get the money back.

DROPS BANDIT STORY; ACCUSES LANDLORD

Rochester Salesman, Nearing Death, Says Man Whose Wife He Met Assaulted Him.

Special to The New York Times.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Aug. 28.—Apparently unnerved by the fear of approaching death, Henry T. Daum, 28-year-old automobile salesman, who has lain wounded in Brockport Sanitarium since a mysterious midnight attack four days ago, today dropped his tale of being waylaid by a trio of bandits for one of a reputed love triangle, which landed William Peffer, aged 36, his business superior and landlord, in jail on a charge of first-degree assault.

The confession also brought Mrs. William Peffer, wife of the arrested man, and Myrtle Thaxter, a neighbor, who is said to have informed Peffer of a prospective tryst between his wife and Daum, to the county jail as material witnesses. Peffer's bail was set at $10,000.

Despite denials by the Peffers, Daum maintains that he and Mrs. Peffer were met near Holley by the woman's husband. Daum said he was knocked unconscious and that when he recovered he found he had been shot in the left hand. The hand was amputated the next day at the sanitarium.

Peffer had given the first hint that the wounded man's story of the bandit attack was false, authorities said. Questioned on the day after the shooting, he is said to have declared that Daum had "a few enemies."

Declaring that he wanted to "clear his conscience," he described meeting Mrs. Peffer and the encounter with her husband.

Daum told Chief Deputy Sheriff Woods that he did not know what became of the man or woman after the attack. Both had disappeared when he recovered consciousness, he said.

Peffer told the officers he and his wife had been at a picnic at the time of the attack.

Sanitarium authorities today held out little hope for Daum's recovery. Should the salesman die, the assault charge will be changed to murder, authorities said.

BOULDER DAM POWER CALLED TOO COSTLY

Special to The New York Times.

SALT LAKE CITY, Aug. 28.—California representatives at a session of Governors from three and Colorado River Commissioners from all seven States of the Colorado River basin today protested to those assembled that, far from the Boulder Dam providing a subsidy to Southern California, it appeared now as if California would have to subsidize the dam by paying more for power from that source than the real market worth of the power.

"I think it will be found," said John L. Bacon, chairman of the California commission, "when the prices presented at Denver to the Reclamation Bureau are made public, that the highest bid comes from the Los Angeles City Department of Water and Power."

Dr. Elwood Mead, Federal Commissioner of Reclamation, recently held a series of conferences in Denver with possible users of power from the Boulder Dam. Experts from the Southern California Edison Company, the Sierra Nevada Power Company, the State of Nevada and the city of Los Angeles presented data as to the probable value of the power. Dr. Mead told representatives of the Governors of the interested States that the figures were not at present available.

The conference here today, on motion of Governor Emerson of Wyoming, voted that the Secretary of the Interior be asked to consider, in addition to the actual cost of the power, various other factors, and especially those provisions of the Boulder Canyon project act, which require that any surplus from the sale of power, after the dam cost is repaid to the government, shall be devoted to the development of the entire river in accord with a comprehensive plan.

The four upper basin States, Utah, Colorado, Wyoming and New Mexico, voted to ask for the continuance of a Federal Power Commission embargo on applications for permits and licenses for power plants on the Colorado River and its tributaries.

TACNA RESTORED TO PERU.

TACNA, Peru, Aug. 28 (AP).—The Province of Tacna, lost to Peru since the war of 1879 with Chile, was returned today to Peruvian sovereignty thirty days after the exchange of ratifications of the treaty settling the dispute.

The transfer was made without ceremony. The Chilean Governor simply turned over affairs to Señor Rada y Gamio, the Peruvian Foreign Minister, who came here at the head of a large mission for that purpose. Some of the Chilean officials remained to consult with the new authority on details of the administration.

There was a small demonstration by Peruvians now returned to their old flag. A few Chilean Nationals asked to be repatriated.

'GEN.' COXEY INVADES M'FADDEN'S DISTRICT

Special to The New York Times.

TOWANDA, Pa., Aug. 28.—"General" Coxey is scheduled to start his campaign for "money at cost" in the home district of Representative L. T. McFadden, chairman of the House Banking and Currency Committee, tomorrow. He has arranged to pitch a large tent in the east side baseball park here and has advertised a free show in connection with his address.

Coxey, his wife, his daughter, Ruth Patricia Coxey, and his operating crew, are traveling in a squadron of automobiles. He plans to make a tour of the district, "showing" at Tunkhannock, Wyoming County, and Forest City, Susquehanna County, after leaving Towanda.

The man who led an army of 20,000 unemployed to Washington thirty-five years ago has challenged Representative McFadden to a debate on the merits of his bill, which went before the Banking and Currency Committee at the last session of Congress.

The "General" says he cannot see why any congressman can be opposed to his measure, and declares he is here "to smoke them out, to get them out, to get them in a ring" and show their constituents "where in they have failed or dodged their duty in Washington."

The Coxey proposal, which has for its purpose the employment of idle men on state, county, city and township public works, provides for the issuance of federal legal tender to all such local governments with their lands and realty assets as collateral. He declares it contemplates an annual saving of 20 per cent of all assessed taxes. Representative McFadden had branded the idea as "ridiculous."

'HONEYMOON SHIP' OF ARMY IS JUNKED

SAN FRANCISCO (AP).—The last of the original army transport service ships, the Thomas, is being scrapped on the Oakland mudflats after thirty-one years of active service on the Pacific Ocean.

With its destruction, army officers, many of them in high command, recall their days at sea while en route to the Pacific possessions of the United States. In its 105 round-trip voyages between San Francisco and the Philippines since the McKinley Administration, approximately 365,000 officers, women and enlisted men have been carried.

Men of the sword still recall the tradition of the Thomas as a honeymoon special of the Far East. Young lieutenants, with new shiny bars and new wives, made the trip to their assignments aboard the sturdy vessel.

Since its purchase from the Atlantic transport company the Thomas underwent many changes and rebuilding. Originally the Minnewaska, built in Belfast, Ireland, in 1894, it was first used after governmental purchase to transport troops to Cuba. Then followed the Philippine insurrection and Boxer rebellion. The Thomas, with seven other ships since decommissioned, was made a troop carrier under the direction of the War Department. The eight ships were bought for $600,000 each.

At one time or another, it is claimed, all officers of the army were aboard the Thomas bound for the Orient or home.

MacMILLAN ON WAY HOME.

Explorer, in Labrador Waters Since April, Heads for Wiscasset.

WISCASSET, Me., Aug. 28 (AP).—Lieut. Commander Donald B. MacMillan, who sailed from this port in the two-masted schooner Bowdoin June 22 for a few weeks' exploration and scientific work in Northern Labrador, is expected to return here Sept. 7, Charles S. Sewall, a member of his previous expedition, said today.

A radiogram received by R. H. Pierson, a Chicago banker whose young son, Kenneth, is on the Bowdoin, was forwarded to Mrs. William C. Kendall of Freeport, wife of one of the scientists with MacMillan. It said the schooner had cleared the dangerous ice packs after days of effort and was headed for home.

FINANCIAL MARKETS

The call-money rate remained at 9 per cent yesterday; secured time loans were unchanged at 8¾ to 9. Last year there was no great demonstration in the money market around Labor Day; the call-loan rate kept well below July's high point and the tightening of time-money rates, which was the really striking incident of September, did not get under way until the middle of the month. Requisitions on the money market are larger, however, than they were a year ago, and there is little prevalence of the notion in which the market then indulged, that Autumn would bring progressive easing off in money rates. The foreign exchanges hardly moved. The Bank of England gave up $1,700,000 more gold, but its loss since last Thursday's statement was compiled has been the smallest in many weeks.

Railway shares were bid up somewhat emphatically on yesterday's stock market; evidently enough a demonstration suggested by the highly favorable comparisons of July earnings. Elsewhere in the market the day's changes were not important, moderate declines about balancing moderate advances. Notwithstanding this lack of interest and the approach of a triple Stock Exchange holiday, total transactions were large.

Estimates in the midweek steel trade reviews place the present rate of output around 90 per cent of capacity. This is somewhat of a reduction from the intensive business of June, when average activities were at times close to the 100 per cent mark. But the true contrast is with the closing week of August in other years, and the present 90 per cent average compares with a little over 75 in 1928, with 70 in 1927 and with something like 85 even in 1926, when American production was greatly stimulated by the British steel trade's inability to fill orders, owing to the coal embargo. Summer is ending, therefore, with the exceptional activity of demand as plainly manifest as it has been throughout the season. The Iron Age lately estimated that the increase in steel output during the past twelve months had been something over 8 per cent, as against a yearly average increase of 2 per cent from 1920 to 1923 and of 3 per cent from 1923 to 1928. Generally, the steel trade itself has been skeptical over the unbroken continuance of business on such a scale; its persistence this Summer has puzzled the trade as greatly as the persistent rise in stocks has perplexed the financial markets.

Probably the two movements are connected; at all events, Wall Street has been inclined not only to ascribe the stock market's enthusiasm to the unusual midsummer activity in production and trade but to predict that reaction in stocks will come only when reaction in trade gives the signal. This was not the story of other recent years, however; the rise in stocks continued in face of the very considerable shrinkage of trade activity in 1927, and the stock market hesitated during the extremely prosperous business year 1928. But the question, whether this Summer's high pressure on production has represented the placing of ordinary Autumn orders in advance or whether it has been only part of a continuous expansion, is highly interesting of itself. There has certainly been no sign as yet of actual decline in trade activities. Among other indications, yesterday's car-loading report for the week ending Aug. 17 once more exceeded handsomely all previous results for the period.

The Commerce Department's report on grain exports in July indicates to how great an extent that month's rise of wheat's price resulted from European purchases. In June, immediately after the heavy break in wheat below the dollar-mark, exports were 4,564,000 bushels; they rose to 8,691,000 in July. This is double the same month's export last year, and nearly as much in excess of July, 1924, in the year of European shortage.

Consolidated Gas Is Expected to Take Stock of Subsidiary at Price of $50.

The New York Edison Company has filed notice with the Secretary of State in Albany of an increase of 900,000 shares in its authorized capital stock to 5,208,080 shares. There were about 4,300,000 shares outstanding on Dec. 31, 1928, all of which were owned by the Consolidated Gas Company of New York, and had been increased to that number from 2,500,000 shares as of March 24, 1927.

It is understood that all of the 900,000 additional shares authorized will be sold to the parent company for $50 a share. The shares have no par value. The proceeds of $45,000,000 received in this manner represent the capitalization of construction expenditures of the New York Edison Company and subsidiaries.

As the Consolidated Gas Company is selling $75,000,000 additional stock to its shareholders it is believed that a large part of the new capital will be devoted to the electrical companies of the system.

TOPICS IN WALL STREET.

News, Comment and Incident, On the Stock Exchange and In the Financial Markets.

Further selling went on in the industrial group on the Stock Exchange yesterday while railway shares were being bid up to higher levels. The market was pretty much colorless. Weakness among certain of the industrials was ascribed to the "tired" condition of that division of the market; the strength in the railways was regarded as a reflection of the general improvement in their earnings. There were, however, some strong spots in the industrial list and a few weak spots in the transportation shares, which added to the general confusion of ideas. The stocks which made the best progress included New York Central, Santa Fe, Canadian Pacific, Union Pacific, A. M. Byers, Ingersoll Rand, Goodyear Tire, General Cable, Eastman Kodak, National Biscuit, Pere Marquette, Pennsylvania Railroad, United Fruit and Timken Detroit. Maintenance of a 9 per cent rate for call money acted as a restraining influence so far as speculative interests were concerned.

Bankers and brokers with foreign connections expressed the opinion yesterday that the amount of first class railroad shares which had been purchased and taken out of the market for foreign account within the last few months was particularly large. A good part of these shares is held here in trust, but the bulk of them, the bankers said, had gone abroad by fast boats and the actual certificates were held abroad. The list of dividends remitted abroad is consequently increasing. In commenting on this situation, one experienced banker expressed the opinion that in the course of time foreign holdings of railroad shares would be as large as they used to be before the war, which led to the sweeping up of foreign holdings and their return to America. "Foreigners are skeptical of our industrial shares," he said, "because they feel that many of them have gone ahead too fast. They are not at all skeptical of our first-class railroad shares, however, because of long-standing knowledge concerning their investment qualities. The demand for American stocks, too, is stimulated by the lack of such opportunities in the foreign markets and the existing glamour about the possibilities of investment in such a fast-growing country as ours."

Big Openings.

Transactions of 5,000, 10,000 and even 25,000 shares of stock in a block are of such daily occurrence in Wall Street that they attract little attention these days. Usually such sales, recorded in blocks on the ticker, reflect the bunching of all orders at that price. One sale at the opening yesterday, however, attracted attention because of the amount of money which it involved. It was one of 10,000 shares of New York Central at 248½, at which price the shares showed an overnight gain of 3¾ points.

Exhausting the News.

With the announcement on Tuesday that the Steel Corporation was arranging for the retirement of $31,770,000 of bonds of subsidiary companies, Wall Street concluded yesterday that "bullish news," for the time being had been exhausted. Market letter writers showed yesterday by their labored efforts that they were straining for ideas upon which to base arguments in support of the market. The news of the Steel Corporation's latest bond retirement plan had, as a matter of fact, been discounted because it was known some weeks ago. As a result, little effective use was made of it yesterday. What is needed now, speculators for the rise contended, is some "stunning" development that will awaken another burst of enthusiasm, and nobody seemed able to forecast anything that would serve the purpose.

Loans and Reserve Statement.

In contrast to last week, when interest in the brokers' loans figures was widespread and opinion on the probable showing divergent, comparatively little discussion of this afternoon's statement of brokers' borrowings has been heard in the financial district. It seemed to be a foregone conclusion that the figures will show another substantial advance, which would mean another new high record. Brokers will be interested to note whether those heavy lenders, the group called "others," have continued to advance funds to the market or whether the local banks have been forced to take up part of the burden of supplying the needed money. At the Federal Reserve Bank, it is expected that an increase in bill holdings will again be seen, but definite opinion is lacking as to what the system as a whole will show.

In the Money Market.

At the renewal rate of 9 per cent yesterday, money was in strong demand and some apprehension was felt that the charge for call money might be moved still higher in the course of the day. All needs were met at the opening figure, however. In bill market circles demand was reported good, and the overcrowding in bills of four, five and six-month maturity has been remedied to a large extent by the recent upward shift in rates. With some recourse to Federal Reserve aid, principally in the form of repurchase agreements, bill dealers expect no difficulty in passing the first-of-the-month credit strain.

Settling With Minorities.

The announcement of proposed terms for a Hocking Valley minority in the Chesapeake & Ohio merger was accepted in Wall Street yesterday as another indication that the Van Sweringens were continuing to iron out wrinkles in the consummation of their plans. The Cleveland interests have settled with the Chesapeake & Ohio minority, which was persistent for several years in its opposition to terms offered. Settlement with the Hocking Valley minority would be, therefore, another step in straightening out details of the Chesapeake & Ohio merger. The merger is in effect and operative, and did not depend on settlement of the Hocking Valley minority problem, but this settlement would have had to be made sooner or later.

MONEY.

Wednesday, Aug. 28, 1929.

Stock Exchange call money was steady at 9 per cent. Turnover was only moderate, however, notwithstanding good supply, some part of which remained unloaded at the close. Time money continued dull, the maturity most sought after being four months, which was traded both ways—8¾ and 9 per cent. Acceptances and commercial paper were unchanged.

Measuring the Utilities

Public utility companies generally possess certain inherent elements of stability, such as the public necessity for the services rendered, their favorable competitive position, the ever-widening application of utility services for industrial and home uses, and the normal increase in consumption due to the rapid growth of population. These factors are responsible in a large measure for the high investment position of public utility securities, but far-sighted investors are giving increasing recognition to those factors which make for continuing prosperity, such as character of territory served and future possibilities of growth, competence of management, financial stability and similar important influences on future earning power.

UTILITIES POWER & LIGHT CORPORATION furnishes, through subsidiaries, electric power for the entire city of Indianapolis and also serves gas in the entire city of St. Louis, in which electric service is also rendered. Besides furnishing utility services in these leading cities of the United States, the system also provides electric service in Birmingham, England's great industrial centre, and has substantial stock interests in a company supplying electricity in a portion of the city of London. Other Public Utility Systems controlled by the Utilities Power & Light Corporation operate in more than eight hundred cities and towns in the United States, the American subsidiaries serving more than half a million gas and/or electric customers.

With the continued prosperity of the United States clearly outlined, and the unlimited prospects for the development of the electric power and light industry in Great Britain, the future operations of the Utilities Power & Light System should meet with increasing success.

CHASE BANK TELLS OF CAPITAL STATUS

SUBSIDIARY NOT INCLUDED

Securities Corporation Has Capital Funds of $100,000,000—Figures for Other Banks.

Upon completion of its merger with the National Park Bank, the Chase National Bank shows the largest capital funds of any bank in this country, according to a statement released last night. As of the close of business Aug. 28, the first business day following consummation of the merger, the Chase National had capital, surplus and undivided profits of $242,069,453, the statement shows, compared with $235,260,406 capital funds for the National City Bank as shown in the latest published statement of June 29 and $186,418,167 for the Guaranty Trust Company on the same date.

These figures do not include capital funds of the respective securities companies which amount in the case of the Chase Securities Company to $100,000,000 and in the case of the National City Company to $110,000,000. With the figures for the securities companies included the National City would have capital funds slightly in excess of those of the Chase organization. In addition the City Bank Farmers Trust Company, recently joined with the National City organization, has capital and surplus of $20,000,000. Inclusive of its securities company and the City Farmers, the National City organization has capital funds of $365,260,406. The Chase Bank, together with the Chase Securities Company, has capital funds of $342,069,453. In both cases undivided profits of the securities companies which are not made public, would further swell the totals.

The statement issued by the Chase is the first which the bank has ever given out, other than on the occasion of the periodic calls by the Controller of the Currency. It shows the effects of the sale of additional stock on July 1, the issuance of stock on that date in exchange for American Express Company stock, the merger with the National Park Bank, the equalizing stock dividend, just prior to the merger, and the recent stock split-up.

Although loss of deposits and other changes incident to a merger generally result in the combined institution making a poorer showing than is indicated by the sum of the statements of the separate banks prior to the merger, the latest statement of the Chase shows marked gains over the combined figures shown by the Chase and the National Park in their statements on June 29.

Resources of the Chase on Aug. 26 totaled $1,497,876,996, compared with combined resources for the Chase and National Park on June 29 of $1,382,058,052. This increase of $115,818,943 does not alter the bank's position as the third largest in the country in point of total resources, but brings the Chase within $58,133,964 of the total reported on June 29 by the Guaranty Trust Company, the second largest bank. Deposits of the Chase totaled $1,064,688,956 on Aug. 26, a gain of $56,527,196 over the combined totals two months ago.

John Irving Downey was elected a director of the New York Telephone Company at a meeting of the board yesterday. He is the second of four new directors authorized at the annual meeting of stockholders in March. He was nationally known in the building industry from 1897 to 1927, when he retired to accept a vice presidency of the Bankers Trust Company, of which he had been a director several years. He is also a director of the Fifth Avenue Bank and a trustee of the Franklin Savings Bank. During the war he was executive secretary of the facilities division of the war industries board.

Peter F. Reilly, now with the Continental Illinois Bank and Trust Company, will become assistant secretary of the Manufacturers Trust Company on Sept. 3.

In increasing its board of directors from seven to ten members, the Dayton Airplane Engine Company has elected as new members Paul Fitz Simons, chairman; Norval A. Hawkins and Harland Tibbetts.

John E. Larney has been appointed a member of the advisory board of the downtown Brooklyn office of the Irving Trust Company.

Edward Groth, vice president of the Commercial Trust Company of New Jersey, and Andrew J. Noe, secretary of the Rubel Coal and Ice Corporation, have been elected directors of the National Electric Service Corporation.

Byron P. Robbins, formerly assistant cashier, was elected yesterday a second vice president of the Chase National Bank. He will be succeeded as assistant cashier by Fred G. Kraft.

FOX SEEN IN DEALS IN THE RADIO FIELD

BROADCASTING IS ONE AIM

Confirmation was given yesterday at financial sources close to the Fox interests to reports that William Fox, head of the Fox Film Corporation and numerous other talking picture and theatre properties, had been conducting negotiations for the inclusion of radio broadcast, phonograph and radio receiving set interests in the companies controlled by him. This move would be in line with the course of development on which the Paramount-Famous-Lasky Corporation has embarked and would be a step toward a goal that has already been attained by the Radio Corporation of America.

Acquisition of radio broadcasting chains and single stations are understood to be the subject of numerous negotiations now being conducted. Mr. Fox is known to be enthusiastic over radio publicity for motion pictures and other theatre attractions and also as a means of popularizing personalities used in the pictures or in personal appearance at theatres. One of the companies with which negotiations are understood to be nearing completion owns and operates a chain of thirty stations on the West Coast. Interests in control of two stations in or near New York and another in Chicago are also expected by interests close to Mr. Fox shortly to conclude negotiations with him.

Negotiations in Phonograph Field.

In the phonograph field it is understood that tentative inquiries have been made of both the Columbia Phonograph Company and the Brunswick-Balke-Collender Company. It is said either of these companies would fit into the Fox organization, as each is in a position where it would be possible to obtain necessary licenses for developments anticipated in the phonograph field. It is understood that Columbia is already licensed by Western Electric for the use of its system of electrical recording and the Fox interests have been pioneers in the development of the Western Electric sound-on-film method of recording talking motion pictures.

The acquisition of a chain of radio broadcasting stations and a major phonograph company would put the Fox interests on a par with the Radio Corporation of America in the amusement field, it is pointed out. The Radio Corporation already controls the National Broadcasting Company, the RKO company, producers and distributors of talking pictures as well as owners of the Keith-Albee-Orpheum chain of vaudeville and picture theatres, and the Victor Talking Machine Company. The Radio Corporation is itself the largest distributer of radio receiving sets.

Radio Receiving Set Deal.

It was understood by financial interests yesterday that both the Fox interests and the Paramount interests had started negotiations with the same radio receiving set manufacturing company. This company is one that controls patents which will be a big factor in negotiations at the time of renewal of licenses under basic patents, and it is regarded as being in the strongest position of any of the licensed or independent companies.

It has been reported that a company would be announced in September for the merger of the numerous Fox interests. It was said to be probable that the actual formation of this company would not be attempted until the affiliations in the radio and phonograph fields, upon which the Fox interests are now working, had been accomplished.

Some of the major companies controlled by the Fox interests which are expected to be included in the merger are the Fox Film Corporation, producers and distributers of talking motion pictures; the Fox-Case Movietone Corporation, producers of talking shorts; Fox Theatres, controlling a large chain of vaudeville and picture houses; Loew's, Inc., another large chain of vaudeville and motion picture theatres, and Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, producers and distributers of silent and talking motion pictures, and owners of large motion picture theatres.

REVEALS MERGERS OF PUBLIC UTILITIES

ASSETS NOW $160,000,000

Plants Acquired in the Two Deals Serve 25 Communities in Various States.

The American Commonwealths Power Corporation, in a letter mailed to stockholders yesterday, announced the acquisition of nearly all the common capital stock of the National Gas and Power Corporation, which serves, through subsidiaries, twenty-five communities, principally located in Michigan and Ohio, and also in Wisconsin, North Carolina, Virginia, South Carolina, Colorado, Missouri and Alabama.

The letter also reveals that the American Commonwealths Power System, a Massachusetts affiliate, has completed the acquisition of practically all of the capital stock of the Lowell Gas Light Company of Lowell, Mass. As a result of these transactions, total assets of the American Commonwealths Power Corporation are now approximately $160,000,000, compared with $53,000,000 at the end of 1927.

The National Gas and Power Corporation, which was incorporated on April 4, 1929, in Delaware, with a capital of 100,000 shares, is a holding company headed by Fred W. Seymour, president. Mr. Seymour, together with Herbert A. Sebald, vice president and general manager, and David H. Frazer Jr., secretary, will continue in charge of the direction and operation of the property.

Recent Acquisition in Ohio.

The Michigan properties include the gas company serving Monroe, which is near Detroit, and influenced by the growth of that city. The National Company also recently acquired a gas producing and distributing property at Newark, Ohio. It is estimated by officers of the company that gross earnings for 1930 will exceed $1,800,000 and that net earnings, after interest and subsidiary preferred dividends, will be $250,000.

The Lowell Gas Light Company, incorporated on May 2, 1849, is one of the oldest gas companies in the country and has continuously served Lowell and its suburbs for eighty years. Gross earnings of this company, for the twelve months ended July 31, exceed $977,000, while net earnings exceed $370,000.

The acquisition of the Lowell Company by the Massachusetts affiliate and of the National Gas and Power Corporation by the American Commonwealths Power Corporation has been fully financed. As of Sept. 3, 1929, when purchase of the stock of the National Company has been completed, the outstanding common capitalization of the American Commonwealths Power Corporation will be approximately as follows: 1,012,344 shares of no-par Class A common stock and 426,647 shares of no-par Class B common stock. These are increases of 50,000 and 40,000 shares respectively over the amounts reported in the earnings statement for July.

Earnings of Parent Company.

Including the approximate surplus income of the two companies just acquired, the surplus income of the American Commonwealths Power Corporation for the twelve months ended July 31 would be about $2,719,000, or about $1.88 a share on the combined Class A and B common shares.

The recent acquisition by the company of gas properties serving Birmingham, Ala., and neighboring territory was a further step in the formation of a group of utility holding companies extending throughout the United States. The principal subsidiaries previously acquired are the American Community Power Company, the American Gas and Power Company and the Union Gas Utilities, Inc., all of which have numerous subsidiaries.

C. & O. LIKELY TO ACCEPT HOCKING VALLEY PLAN

Van Sweringens Are Expected to Approve Exchange of Stock Proposed by Minority.

The Chesapeake & Ohio Railway was expected in well-informed circles yesterday to confirm the exchange of stock with the Hocking Valley Railroad proposed by minority stockholders in the latter property. A committee representing the minority, in a letter to O. P. Van Sweringen, chairman of the Chesapeake & Ohio, proposed that the Chesapeake & Ohio issue two and one-fourth shares of its common for each share of Hocking Valley.

The Van Sweringens recently ended a controversy with a Chesapeake & Ohio minority, and confirmation of the Hocking Valley terms would be in keeping with their policy of smoothing out difficulties with minorities. Merger of the Chesapeake & Ohio with the Pere Marquette is already in effect.

The Hocking Valley plan will be submitted to the Interstate Commerce Commission for approval. It is expected to be accepted by the Chesapeake & Ohio.

SECURITY MARKETS VOTE 3-DAY CLOSING

Exchanges of Country to Be Shut After Tomorrow's Session Till Tuesday Morning.

CLERKS WELCOME RESPITE

Hide Exchange Declares Extra Holiday—Other Commodity Markets Expected to Do So.

Trading in the security markets of the country will be suspended from the close of business tomorrow until Tuesday morning. The governing authorities of the New York Stock Exchange and the New York Curb voted yesterday to close those institutions on Saturday. This means a three-day cessation for the stock market community this week-end, as Labor Day is an established holiday.

More than 700 members of the Stock Exchange had signed a petition asking that business be suspended on Saturday and the governing committee had this before it when action was taken yesterday. The decision to close the Exchange, in response to that petition, was promptly followed by similar action on the part of the Curb governors.

Later it was announced that the New York Hide Exchange also would suspend trading on the Saturday in advance of Labor Day. Other commodity exchanges will act later this week on the proposal to change. Since the Stock Exchange has voted in favor of closing, it was believed last night that most if not all of the commodity exchanges will act similarly.

The army of workers in Wall Street welcomed the news of the three-day suspension on the Stock Exchange and the Curb because it means a pause in one of the most strenuous Summer seasons ever experienced. Trading on the Stock Exchange has surpassed that of any previous Summer and there is no sign of a let-down in activity. Many brokerage houses have been operating on night schedules recently, keeping part of their clerical staffs working overtime to catch up with delayed bookkeeping.

The San Francisco Stock Exchange already has voted to close on Saturday and it is expected that other security markets outside of New York will follow suit.

Governors of the New York Hide Exchange in voting yesterday to suspend trading on Saturday passed a resolution directing that in all other respects business should go on as usual, particularly with respect to transferrable notices.

Banking institutions will be open as usual on Saturday, but will be closed on Labor Day.

FRENCH STOCKS RECOVER

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

LONDON, Aug. 28.—The investment markets were strengthened by the news that the reparation difficulties had been settled at The Hague. Victory for the British delegation was reflected in improved sterling-dollar exchange, which hardened to $4.84⅛. Gilt-edge issues were strong, with the 3½ per cent conversion loan at £73 and the 4½ per cent. loan at £94. European bonds also stiffened as a result of The Hague settlement.

Among the industrials, Columbia Graphophone advanced 7s to £13½. His Master's Voice Graphophone rose 1s to £7½. Lipton took another spectacular jump of 7½d. to 5s. 10½d., while International Tea rose 4½d. to 26s. 4½d. The tobaccos were firm, led by Carrera B, which rose 2s. 6d. to 37s. 6d. Coals generally were higher over Italy's agreement to buy 1,000,000 tons of British coal annually.

General Electric and Associated Electric both ran counter to the upward tendency. Each declined 1s. to 55s. and 45s., respectively. Oils were strong on international buying, with Royal Dutch spurting 1¾ to £35 and Mexican Eagles rising 10½d. to 16s. 7½d. Rhodesians were irregular, with Lesangwa declining to 10s. 4½d., while Ewans advanced 6d. to 54⅞s.

Money was still tight in Lombard Street, where overnight loans commanded 5¼ per cent until just before the close, when the rate sank to 4¾ per cent. Fine three-month bills brought 5⅛ per cent in the discount market. The Bank of England sold £351,160 of bar gold, of which £70,000 went to America and the remainder to France.

General Rise in Berlin.

BERLIN, Aug. 28.—That German financial circles regard the ultimate outcome of The Hague conference, after last night's meeting, with great optimism was evidenced by the extreme firmness of today's Boerse. Electrical and mining stocks were the main supporters of an upward movement of which all other groups, with one exception, profited.

The greatest gains of the day were made by Polyphon shares, which advanced 17 points, with Salzdetfurth of the potash group, which was sought from abroad, following with 15 points, again hitting the 400 mark. The electricals were in great demand, Siemens advancing 10 points, Schuckert 8 and Rhenish Westphalian Electricity and Bergmann 6 points each. Reichsbank shares, Schultheiss, Textiles and Dyes Trusts were also much firmer.

In the second hour the bullish tone became pronounced and the closing notations were the highest of the day.

RAIL BONDS ACTIVE ON STOCK EXCHANGE

Santa Fe Convertible 4½s at New High, but Average Price in Group Shows Little Change.

INDUSTRIALS IRREGULAR

Sugar Issues Firmer, Steels Dull, Government Securities and Foreign Loans Quiet.

Seaboard Air Line adjustment 5s reached a new peak for 1929 at 54¼, closing at 54, up 2¼. St. Paul adjustment 5s were extremely active, advancing ¾ of a point on buying which included several large blocks of bonds. New Haven convertible 6s were pushed up 1¾ points, despite the decline in the stock. One feature of the day's trading was the unusually large number of infrequently traded issues which appeared on the tape.

Industrial bonds continued irregular. Sugar issues were a bit firmer, steels were dull and little changed, and coal and rubber issues were comparatively quiet. White Sewing Machine 6s sold off 4 points to a new low at 65. Transcontinental Oil 6½s, with warrants, moved up a half-point following the advances in the stock in the past few days.

Utility issues were featured by the continued activity in American Telephone convertible 4½s, which eased off ⅛, and International Telephone convertible 4½s, which dropped 6 points. General Public Service 5½s moved up a point to 114½.

Trading in United States Government issues simmered down yesterday, and final prices stood 5-32 point higher to 5-32 lower. Most of the trading was done in the Fourth Liberty 4¼s, which sustained the principal loss.

Dealings in foreign loans was rather perfunctory. Most of the changes were fractional and of little consequence.

Thatcher Company Calls Stock.

The Thatcher Manufacturing Company has called for redemption on Sept. 1 all of its outstanding 7 per cent cumulative preferred stock. After the retirement of this issue there will remain outstanding 132,000 shares of no par convertible preference stock with an annual dividend rate of $3.60 a share and 131,836 shares of common stock without par value.

AMERICAN TOBACCO WILL ISSUE RIGHTS

Value to Stockholders Placed at $24,000,000—Price to Them $125 a Share.

$48,822,875 NEW CAPITAL

Money Expected to Be Used for Expansion of Operations in Cigarette Industry.

Subscription rights estimated to have a value of nearly $24,000,000 on the basis of current market prices will accrue to stockholders of the American Tobacco Company through a stock offering authorized by the directors of that company yesterday.

The subscription plan permits holders of the common and Class B common shares of the company to purchase 390,583 additional shares at $125 each in the ratio of one share of Class B common for each five shares of commor or Class B common stock owned by them on Sept. 10. The rights to subscribe will expire on Oct. 1.

The common and Class B stocks of the company closed on the New York Stock Exchange yesterday at 197½ and 197 respectively. This gives the subscription rights a valuation of about $12 apiece. The company will realize $48,822,875 from the offering.

In announcing the plan the directors did not disclose the object of the financing, but it is understood that it is for expansion of the company's operations in the cigarette field.

George W. Hill, president of the company, issued a letter with the one sent by the directors to stockholders announcing the offering. In it he said that in view of the offering of the additional stock the directors were considering for 1930 the desirability of raising the present dividend rate and effecting such changes in the charter as would permit the splitting of the stock on a basis beneficial to the stockholders. He ended his letter with this statement:

"Let us go back to 1918. Before any increase in our capital structure had been made, we find that a purchase of 100 shares of our common stock at the market, Jan. 2, 1918, would have cost the investor $14,250, and this investment would have yielded in cash dividends, if held until Dec. 31, 1928, $28,787, and on Dec. 28, 1928, the investor would have held, in lieu of the original 100 shares of $100 par value, 485 shares of $50 par value stock with a market value on that date of $36,206.75. The cash return on the original investment, plus the market appreciation for the eleven-year period, is equivalent to an average annual income, including appreciation, of more than 64 per cent on the original investment."

SEATTLE, Wash., Aug. 28 (AP).—A merger of the Carnation Milk Products Company of Seattle and the Albers Brothers Milling Company of San Francisco was announced here today by Phillip G. Kinzer, vice president of the Carnation Company.

The Albers Brothers Company is a $6,000,000 concern. Under the consolidation the $30,000,000 Carnation Company obtains the Carnation brand name of the Albers Brothers under which the latter had been marketing cereal products. The new company will be known as the Carnation Milk Products Company.

The merger is on the basis of two and one-half shares of Carnation common for one Albers preferred and two Carnation common for one Albers common.

CANADIAN PHONE OFFERING.

Bell Company of Canada to Increase Capital by $15,000,000.

Special to The New York Times.

MONTREAL, Que., Aug. 28.—The Bell Telephone Company of Canada, in a letter to shareholders signed by the president, C. F. Sise, is offering them additional shares of stock at $125 a share in the proportion of one new share for each five shares held on Sept. 6. The subscription privileges will expire on Nov. 1.

Payments are to be made in instalments of $40 on Nov. 1, 1929, and Feb. 1, 1930, and $45 on April 1, 1930. An allowance of interest at the rate of 5 per cent on the first two payments from their respective due dates to April 1, 1930, will make the net cash payment on the final instalment $43.85. The stock will be issued as of April 1, 1930, and will participate in dividends payable after April 15, 1930.

The terms of the issue have been approved by the Board of Railway Commissioners for Canada.

Mr. Sise explains that the issue of 120,000 shares will provide approximately $15,000,000 for new construction. The stock closed at 180½ on the Montreal Stock Exchange today.

MATHIESON ALKALI RIGHTS.

The directors of the Mathieson Alkali Works yesterday voted to offer to stockholders additional common shares at $40 each on a basis of one share for each ten shares held on Sept. 7. The offer will expire on Sept. 27. The proceeds are to be used over the next four years for plant expansion and provisions for the manufacture of new products.

Following a 300 per cent stock dividend last April, and an increase in the number of authorized shares from 200,000 to 1,000,000, the company had outstanding 576,228 common shares. This number was increased by a dividend declared in May which was optional in payment in cash or stock, so that the company estimates that it will be necessary to issue about 50,000 additional shares to meet the requirements of the present offer. This would bring into the treasury approximately $2,360,000.

BALDWIN'S BOARD PLANS STOCK SPLIT

Holders of Locomotive Works Shares Asked to Approve Four-for-One Division.

2,000,000 ISSUE PROPOSED

Value to Be Changed From $100 to No Par—Meeting to Be Held on Oct. 3.

Special to The New York Times.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Aug. 28.—A supplemental notice prescribing provisions under which additional stock may be issued has been sent by the Baldwin Locomotive Works to its stockholders in connection with the meeting called for Oct. 3, at which action will be taken on the proposed change in the company's capital structure.

The shareholders will vote on a plan to increase the common stock to 2,000,000 shares of no-par value from the present 200,000 shares of $100 par and to issue four shares of new no-par common stock for each share of $100 common outstanding. The preferred stock will not be called.

Conversion of the common stock will require $60,000 out of the 2,000,000 new common shares to be authorized, and supplemental action of the board will give the directors greater leeway, according to the notice to stockholders, in arranging future financing of the company, providing for issuance of other securities, with or without warrants, either of which, at the discretion of the board, may be convertible into common stock.

Although the stockholders will be asked to give full authority to the directors in the matter of issuing additional common stock, it is understood that no plan for issuing new stock is under consideration.

SPLIT-UP OF SHARES OF TRUST PROPOSED

ITS STOCK RISING RAPIDLY

Appraised Value of Its Holdings Grows With Advance in Price of Utility Issues.

Plans for a split-up of the common shares of the Securities Corporation General, one of the oldest investment trusts in the country, have been presented to the directors, it was learned yesterday, but no action has been taken on them, according to an officer of the company.

The Securities Corporation General was one of the features of trading on the Curb Exchange last week, its stock rising 390 points in one day to a new high price of 800. The rise was attended by reports of a forty-for-one split-up of its shares. The company, which was organized in 1912, has large holdings of American and Foreign Power, American Superpower, Public Service Corporation of New Jersey and other utility companies.

The appraised value of the company's holdings, which was $11,414,320, or $335 a share, on Dec. 31, 1928, has increased rapidly with the rise of utility stocks this year. The company has outstanding 27,224 shares of common stock and 19,676 shares of first preferred. During 1928 the appraised value of its holdings increased $4,176,939.

Among the directors of the company are P. M. Chandler of Chandler & Co., Sidney Z. Mitchell, chairman of the Electric Bond and Share Company; Sidney A. Mitchell, vice president of Bonbright & Co., and Parmely W. Herrick, son of the late Myron T. Herrick, who was Ambassador to France. The stock is said to be owned to a large extent by these directors.

The rise of the corporation's stock last week on the Curb represented an increase of more than $10,000,000 in the market value of its shares. Previously the stock had been advancing steadily in the over-the-counter market.

TRADING CONTINUES IRREGULAR ON CURB

Irregularity persisted on the Curb Exchange yesterday, with losses shown in a number of the active utilities, due to continued profit-taking in this group. There was a slightly firmer tendency in the last hour of trading.

In the utility section, declines appeared in Electric Bond and Share, American Gas and Electric, American Superpower, American Light and Traction, Arkansas Natural Gas, Electric Investors, Niagara Hudson Power, Northern States Power and United Gas Improvement. Advances were shown by Utilities Light and Power, Standard Power and Light, Associated Gas and Electric and Middle West Utilities, while Dixie Gas and Utility rose to a new high mark.

New high marks were set by Dubilier Condenser, Merchants Manufacturing, Midland Steel, National Casket, L'Air Liquide and Lane Bryant, while in the oil group Lone Star Gas and Cosden Oil reached new highs. Losses appeared in Allis Chalmers new, A. C. Gilbert and International Petroleum, while Newmont Mining, Anchor Post Fence and Apex Electric were firm.

In the investment trust group Capital Administration preferred set a new high, while declines were shown by Blue Ridge, Reliance Management, Shenandoah and Tri-Continental. Transamerica also reacted, while Commercial Investments, Electric Power Associates and Electric Shareholdings advanced.

STEEL OPERATIONS REDUCED SLIGHTLY

STRUCTURAL OUTPUT LARGE

The past week in iron and steel industries is characterized as a breathing space between the peak attained several weeks ago and the Autumn revival, with a continued large output of plates, structural material and sheets serving to offset to some extent the reduced mill operations in rails, tin plate, merchant and alloy steel bars and strip steel, according to the iron and steel trade reviews. Ingot output is being maintained at between 90 and 95 per cent by the larger producers, while some of the smaller producers are averaging about 85 per cent.

The Iron Age market summary says in part:

"New business and specifications for nearly all steel products except plates and sheets have been in smaller volume than shipments this month, resulting in a reduction in backlogs and shortening of deliveries.

Late Seasonal Lull.

"The lull in demand is regarded as merely the seasonal expectation that has come much later in the year than usual. The decline in the requirements of the automobile industry is partly responsible, although other factors are at work, such as a setback in farm implement manufacturing.

"Ingot production this month should show a slight loss from that of July. Last year the low point came in June, with each succeeding month bringing an increase up to the last two of the year. Indications point to the present volume of ingot output holding fairly well for another month, by which time the trend of Fall business will have become apparent.

"Prospects as to the extent of the possible recovery in automobile manufacturing and a revival of railroad car buying are still in doubt. A Fall buying movement in rails and tin plate is regarded as certain to revive declining shipments of those items."

Iron Trade Review's Opinion.

The Iron Trade Review says in part:

"Steel works operations in the Middle West average 95 to 98 per cent of capacity; in the Pittsburgh district 90 to 95 per cent, and in the Mahoning Valley 90 per cent. Steel Corporation units this week are operating at 98 per cent, three points higher than a week ago.

"August pig iron shipments equal those of July, and more interest is displayed in fourth quarter requirements, a number of melters having placed substantial orders for that period. The position of Southern furnaces has improved, one maker having sold all of its output for this year.

"Sheet mills have practically bridged the Summer season, usually a slack period, without cessation in the high rate of operations. The inflow of new orders has been unusually steady and heavy. Some automotive manufacturers are ordering sheets for new models. Demands from electrical, radio and electric refrigerator sources are the best for any August in their histories. Sheet mill production may establish a new August record in the Chicago district. Some Pittsburgh mills are unable to meet delivery requirements.

"Plate specifications are diminishing, though sales and specifications in the Middle West still lead the finished steel lines. It now appears a Federal loan will be finally authorized to facilitate construction of four private merchant vessels, which will require a total of fully 20,000 tons of plates. Bethlehem Shipbuilding Company will furnish 6,000 tons of steel, mainly plates, for a cruiser recently authorized."

The Iron Age pig iron composite price dropped to $18.25 a gross ton, the year's low, from $18.42 last week. Finished steel remains at 2.398 cents a pound for the third week.

Iron Trade Review composite of fourteen leading iron and steel products is unchanged for the second consecutive week at $36.52.

Screw Manufacturers to Merge.

Negotiations have been concluded by the Federal Screw Works of Detroit, Mich., for acquisition of the Superior Screw and Bolt Manufacturing Company of Cleveland, Ohio. Financing for the purchase has been arranged through Bauer, Pogue, Pond & Vivian, Samuel Ungerleider & Co. and Folds, Buck & Co. A public offering of securities will be made next week.

TRADING IS QUIETER OVER THE COUNTER

Demand for Stocks Weakened by 9 Per Cent Money—Prices Generally Lower.

The 9 per cent money rate served to slacken unlisted trading yesterday. The opening was strong, but there was later a downward tendency.

Among bank and trust issues, Liberty was strong. Issues declining were Chase, Public, Central Hanover, Chemical Brooklyn, Empire, Guaranty, Fifth Avenue and Lefcourt Normandie. Among insurance issues, Boston, Aetna Casualty, City, Stuyvesant, Northwestern National and Home went higher. Phoenix, Aetna Fire and Springfield Fire and Marine reacted.

Foster Wheeler sold higher. Industrial Acceptance, Smith Corona, Welch Grape Juice, Westland Oil and White Rock first preferred were off. Chain stores were quiet. National Shirt common and preferred sold lower. Communication stocks were moderately firm. Southern New England, Bell of Canada and New England Telephone selling higher.

Stock Split by Anchor Post Fence.

Directors of the Anchor Post Fence Company have called a meeting of stockholders for Sept. 10 to vote on a recommendation to split the stock of the company three shares for every one outstanding. If the change in capital structure is approved it is proposed to pay on the new stock either 10 per cent in stock or $2 in cash, at the option of the holder.

WHEAT PRICES EBB ON FOREIGN NEWS

CLOSE IS NEAR LOW MARK

Estimate of a Short Corn Crop Brings Buying of That Grain, but Prices Fail to Hold.

Special to The New York Times.

CHICAGO, Aug. 28.—The general run of news affecting the wheat market today was of a bearish character, and while there was evidence of a better basis for cash grain at some points, the continued decline in Liverpool more than offset the prospects of a scarcity of the actual wheat later in the season. Liverpool lost 1¼ to 1⅝ pence for the day, which led to free selling by locals and a net loss here of 2 to 2¾ cents for the day, with the finish well toward the low point. Good support appeared around $1.39 for December. Winnipeg lost 2⅜ to 2¾ cents for the day, with Buenos Aires off 1⅜ to 2⅜ cents.

There were reports during the day indicating threatening weather in parts of Argentina, and rains there within the next two weeks might result in considerable change in the crop outlook, although all reports suggest that the yield will not be better than an average.

Cables received during the day claimed that wheat from Argentine was offered at about 9 cents under American No. 2 hard via the gulf, and offers from here equal to 14 cents under December c. i. f. Buffalo failed to interest buyers. Many of the local element are bearish, but are afraid to press the selling side freely under $1.39, due to the rapidity with which the market has rallied the past few days.

Primary arrivals today, 2,452,000 bushels; week ago, 3,208,000 bushels; last year, 2,369,000 bushels. Shipments, 2,481,000 bushels; week ago, 2,192,000 bushels; last year, 2,053,000 bushels.

A corn crop of 2,500,000,000 bushels is estimated by Crop Observer Lecourt, based on prevailing conditions, with less than half of the grain safe from frost by Sept. 15. This estimate brought in buying orders which carried the December up 99⅝ cents, or within ¼ cent of the best figures on the present movement. Profit-taking and the weakness in wheat resulted in the setback, with the close ⅜ to 1 cent lower, September showing the most strength. Bulk of the trade was of a local character.

Primary receipts today, 1,090,000 bushels; week ago, 613,000 bushels; last year, 655,000 bushels. Shipments, 416,000 bushels; week ago, 476,000 bushels; last year, 749,000 bushels.

Work on Power Plant Begun.

The Beauharno's Light, Heat and Power Company has begun construction of its power plant on the St. Lawrence River. It expects to have the plant in operation with at least 200,000-horsepower capacity by the Fall of 1932. Financing plans are expected to be announced in late October.

COTTON ADVANCES ON POOR REPORTS

Futures Gain 9 to 19 Points Net as Yield of 15,150,000 Bales Is Indicated.

The first of the end-of-August private reports showing a loss for the month of several hundred thousand bales and an indicated yield of 15,150,000 bales for this year's cotton crop stimulated more active trading on the Cotton Exchange yesterday. With the weekly weather summary stating that conditions had been generally unfavorable for the plant, professional interests became active buyers and the purchase of blocks of contracts caused an advance of a quarter of a cent at one time, final quotations showing a gain of 9 to 19 points on the day. Although showers were reported from North and Central Texas, the drought situation remained virtually unchanged over the bulk of the Western cotton growing territory.

After selling above 19.20 cents last week, December broke $3 a bale to 18.87 cents at the middle of the week and recovered to around 19.10 cents yesterday. The increased buying power absorbed daily hedges against spot purchases in the South at the higher price level. Both commission and trade houses bought moderately, while hedge selling for Southern account increased on the advance above the 19-cent level.

According to Jay & Co., prospects of a month ago have been reduced by drought in the West and weevil east of the Mississippi River. Insects in Eastern and Central States have cut off top crop prospects except in some of the smaller producing States. The condition is placed at 58.5, a loss of 12 points for the month, with Texas at 51.5 and Oklahoma at 50.3. The highest condition was in Tennessee, with 68.8, and 64.2 in Mississippi.

COTTON PICKING ADVANCES.

The weekly weather report issued yesterday by the government was as follows:

Weather conditions were unfavorable for cotton over large parts of the belt, especially in the West, where it continued hot and dry. The crop made good progress in the extreme Western and parts of Northwestern Texas, but elsewhere in that State it mostly deteriorated, with considerable shedding, premature opening and complaints of small, imperfect bolls; the general condition is quoted, ranging from very poor to very good.

Deterioration continued also in Oklahoma, where the drought was unrelieved and intensified by high temperatures. Plants are wilting during the day, with much shedding and premature opening in drier areas.

In Arkansas progress was mostly good to excellent, except in some western, central and southern localities, where it is poor because of the long drought, while in Northern Louisiana unfavorable conditions persist.

In the Eastern belt progress varied considerably. In the South some local areas were too wet, with further complaints of shedding, while droughty conditions continued in some interior sections, more notably in Northern Georgia and parts of the Piedmont section of South Carolina, but in the Carolinas generally conditions continued favorable and progress of the crop was good.

Picking and ginning made excellent advance where this work has begun, except where rains were frequent in portions of the Southeast. Weevil activity was severe in these wetter sections, but in most places the dryness was favorable for holding them in check, especially in the Western belt, where it was both dry and hot.

There is still much need of a general rain over the entire corn belt, especially for the late crop on upland soils. In the Eastern Ohio Valley rains were beneficial in a good many places, especially in Ohio, West Virginia and Northern Kentucky, while local showers were helpful in some other valley sections, but there is a general need of rain over the area.

Late harvesting and threshing advanced rapidly in the Spring wheat area and the Northwest under generally favorable weather conditions. This work is well along except in some higher elevations of the West. There was also some scattered shocking of oats, while harvest was favored in the Northwest, where there were reports of some fields cut for feed.

STORES SHOW GAINS IN SALES FOR JULY

CHAIN CONCERNS BUSIER

Department Stores Register 4% Advance—Increases Laid Partly to Extra Day.

Increased sales in all lines of chain stores, department stores and wholesale firms in this district during July are reported in the Sept. 1 review of credit and business conditions by the Federal Reserve agent at New York.

"The average July sales of reporting wholesale firms in this district were 9 per cent larger than in July, 1928," says the review, "but a part of the increase was probably due to the fact that there was one more selling day in July this year than last. Increases were reported in sales of groceries, stationery, shoes, paper, cotton goods jobbers and silk goods, following gains in these lines in each of the preceding three months. Sales of diamonds and jewelry also showed increases over a year ago in July, which followed decreases in June, and drug sales showed the largest increase since January. Sales of machine tools continued well above the high level of last year.

"Stocks showed no consistent change from a year previous. Silk and drug firms reported increases, while cotton goods, shoes, hardware, diamonds and jewelry firms reported smaller stocks than last year. Collections were considerably better than in July, 1928, in most lines.

"The July sales of the reporting department stores in this district showed about a 4 per cent increase from a year ago, but as there was one more selling day in July of this year, the average daily rate of sales showed little change from that of July, 1928. At least small increases in the daily rate of sales were reported by stores in New York, Syracuse, the capital district and Central New York States, but there were considerable decreases in several other localities within the district.

"Stocks of merchandise on hand at the end of the month remained somewhat higher than a year ago, and the rate of stock turnover was about the same as in July, 1928. The percentage of outstanding charge accounts during July showed a slight increase over last year, following decreases in the three preceding months.

"Sales in all lines of chain-store business compared more favorably with those of last year in July than in June. Grocery organizations reported the largest increase in more than a year, and drug chains reported the largest increase since the Autumn of 1926. Following decreases in each of the previous three months, the sales of candy chains showed a 2 per cent increase over a year ago in July.

"The extra selling day in July this year no doubt was a factor in the large increases over July, 1928, but even after adjustment for this, sales showed substantial increases in most lines. After allowance for the increase in number of stores operated, sales per unit for all reporting chains averaged 7 per cent larger than a year ago."

A showing of Fall styles was held last night at the Home Making Centre of the New York State Federation of Women's Clubs in Grand Central Palace before an audience of several hundred.

The style presentation, which was conducted by Mme. Helene Volka, revealed the fashion decree for the Autumn of the high or natural waistline with the long skirt, the latter often with an uneven hem-line. "Curves" are again in style. Flares and flowing effects will also be modish, according to the dresses shown.

The tailored suit will play a most important part in the Fall mode, especially for the business woman. With it will be worn blouses in crêpe, satin, and knit and novelty jersey. Tweeds will be in high vogue in suits, coats and daytime dresses. The coats shown indicate a lavish use of fur.

OIL MEN ASK SHUTDOWN.

TULSA, Okla., Aug. 28.—Operators in the Oklahoma City oil pool decided this afternoon to recommend to the executives of their companies a 30-day, 100 per cent shutdown in that field.

The Oklahoma City pool produced 53,000 barrels Tuesday, the entire State's gauge is but 727,000 and the nation's 3,975,000, so the big production of this individual pool is causing serious concern in the oil business.

Various forms of proration were discussed before the decision was reached to shut down the entire field. An additional port agreed to was that all drilling was to stop at the casing point. It was understood that all companies represented at the meeting agreed to the terms with the exception of the Sinclair, which was awaiting orders from New York City.

Seat on Rubber Exchange $8,000.

An extra membership held by Edward J. Wade on the Rubber Exchange of New York was sold yesterday to William A. Overton, for another, for $8,000. Charles D. Culbertson of Swan, Culbertson & Fritz of Shanghai, China, has made application for a membership on the Exchange.

FINDS FREIGHT RATES ON PEACHES EXCESSIVE

I. C. C. Also Rules Charges on Potatoes From Southern States to New York Are Too High.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28 (AP).—Freight rates on carload lots of peaches from Georgia, North Carolina and South Carolina to Schenectady, N. Y., and a number of other points in New York State today were held to be unreasonable by the Interstate Commerce Commission.

The commission ruled that the rates on peaches from the three States to the points in New York State and also the Buffalo-Pittsburgh zone "were and for the future would be unreasonable to the extent that they exceed or might exceed 47 per cent" of the rates formulated by the commission in previous rulings.

The commission held, however, that the rates on past shipments had not been unreasonable, and declared that complaints filed by shippers in the case would be dismissed.

The commission in the same ruling also found carload rates on potatoes from points in Virginia and North Carolina to New York State points unreasonable for the future, "but not otherwise unlawful."

Joint rates on potatoes from points in Virginia to New York State were declared to be higher than the existing sixth class rates under which carload potato shipments are classified, but lower than the through rates prescribed for the same distances. On the other hand, the commission found the joint rates charged from points in North Carolina, with a few exceptions, were lower than the existing sixth class rates.

A long schedule for potatoes was outlined, adjusting the differences between these two rate schedules.

Held for Larceny in Stock Deal.

Mortimer J. Weisberg, 27 years old, of 1,146 Fifty-fourth Street, Brooklyn, a stock salesman, was held in $5,000 bail by Magistrate Simpson in Tombs Court yesterday for hearing Friday, charged with grand larceny. Walter Berman, 933 First Court, Brooklyn, charged that on Aug. 19, Weisberg, a salesman for Alfred White & Co., brokers, of 6 Church Street, obtained $4,431 from him for 21 shares of Erasmus State Bank stock, which he never received. The firm closed the next day, according to Berman, and he never received his money back.

Toy Volume Still Gaining.

With the placing of a larger volume of orders by department stores, the toy trade is going into its heavy delivery months with somewhat more than 75 per cent of its normal holiday business booked, it was said yesterday. Wheel goods and sheet steel toys, together with dolls, have had the bulk of the recent call. Business booked in electrical and constructional playthings is said to be ahead of last year at this time. The heavy orders placed since March by the chain store organizations indicate they will be much stronger retail factors this year in toys selling in the lower and medium price ranges.

Moire Shoes Well Regarded.

Strong interest has been shown in the offering of moire shoes for Fall daytime wear, and expectations are that they will meet with a growing consumer demand from the middle of September. These shoes are being featured in pump and plain oxford styles, with brown, black and blue the outstanding shades. It is not believed that the moire vogue will affect the popularity of lizard or suede shoes, which are headed for an active season. Initial business on these types has started well and heavy reorders are figured on by the end of September.

Novelties Needed in Furnishings.

Absence of outstanding novelties in the men's furnishings field, particularly in neckwear and shirts, continues to serve as a check to additional business, it was said here yesterday. Buyers are complaining that "pretty much the same old stuff" is being shown. Much business in holiday neckwear is yet to be placed and offerings of attractive novelties is expected to stimulate ordering. In shirts, the popularity of blues continues marked, with collar attached and collar to match models dominating.

Despite the controversy which has been raised about the position of chinchilla in juvenile Fall coats, buyers say that garments of this fabric are headed for a normal demand. It is pointed out that no evidence as yet has been presented that consumers are swinging away from this staple, although retailers may stress the novelty appeal of camel's hair and fleece types in which retail price competition is less. A factor of considerable importance, however, in school-size overcoats is the trend to leather coats and windbreakers. This has affected the call for cloth overcoats in these sizes, but not to any marked extent in the 15 to 20 year sizes in which fleece styles are doing well.

Boys' Novelty Suits in Demand.

In good demand in boys' clothing for Fall are reversible suits of corduroy. A plaid design features the reverse side of the material used in the suits which are designed for boys of 8 to 16 years. Brown, tan and gray are the leading colors. A nice business is also being done in novelty suits of the wash type. These are fashioned of all-jersey material or jersey in combination with broadcloth, rayon or silk tops. All-knitted suits of regular sweater construction are also being played up, the trousers of which are unlined and the sweater of the slip-over variety.

Floral Designs Lead in Draperies.

Having sampled earlier offerings of draperies by small orders on a large variety of patterns, stores are now sending repeat orders into New York for styles which have proved most acceptable to the public. These orders in most instances are being centred upon floral designs imposed upon modernistic backgrounds of a conservative nature. Colors sought are brighter in hue than those of last year and are chiefly in variations of rose, gold and blue, with some greens. Although reorders are somewhat smaller than dealers hoped for, the fact that the better range of merchandise is being sought is a satisfactory feature.

Theatres Order Floor Coverings.

The refurbishing of theatres throughout the country for their Fall openings has brought a number of large-sized goods orders into the New York floor coverings market during the week. The business, according to those in touch with the situation, has made its appearance a trifle later this year than last, but both the size and number of orders have been well up to expectations. In the other branches of the industry activity has been good and the absence of any distress merchandise in the market has been an encouraging factor to manufacturers.

Blanket Reorders Satisfactory.

Blanket buyers who are departing from the market to be home for Labor Day have left substantial reorder business in the hands of manufacturers, according to reports among Worth Street houses yesterday. The business booked, it was claimed, shows a decided increase in the orders for blankets of solid colors and those of the reversible type. In the latter group, the blankets with rose and blue combinations are the most popular. Part wool products with block patterns continue to hold the main position, however. Blankets which can be sold retail at $3.75 and $3.98 are getting the greater volume of consumer business.

Burlap Trade Awaits Figures.

Prices on spot burlaps dropped 25 points here during the last week and prices at Calcutta declined from 10 to 25 points. The quiet demand is attributed to the fact that most buyers are marking time until figures showing the volume of August shipments from Calcutta are available. These prices were quoted here yesterday by C. E. Rockstroh & Co., Inc., on standard 40-inch burlaps:

	8-Oz.	10½-Oz.
Spots	6.95c	9.00c
September shipment	6.85c	9.05c
Oct.-Dec. shipment	6.75c	8.85c
Jan.-March shipment	6.90c	8.90c

Gray Goods Prices Continue Firm.

Prices on the gray goods market remained firm again yesterday in spite of the limited activity which again characterized the day's business. An advance of ⅛ of a cent in the price of 39-inch 68-72s between the early morning trading and the afternoon business brought the price of such goods to 8½ cents for small lots. Quotations on 39½-inch 60-48s continued at 6½ cents, although no goods of this construction will be available for shipment before late September or early October. Orders for 39½-inch 64-90s were filled at 7⅞ cents, with mills asking 6¾ cents for small lots. Sales of 39-inch 72-76s were made at 9½ cents.

REVIEW OF THE DAY IN REALTY MARKET

APARTMENT RENTING ACTIVE

Real estate transactions in the Yorkville section of the east side, although few in number, continue to be the leading factor of interest in the market. While reporting only a few changes in ownership of property in that area, brokers doing business in the Yorkville section figure most consistently in the daily announcements of new sales.

Apartment leasing activity continues to centre on the east side and on and near Central Park West where rentals show a demand for apartments in the better type of building for occupancy in the early Fall. Leases of space for business purposes were reported from widely-scattered sections of Manhattan.

In one of the few business property deals to be announced in the Yorkville section recently, Joseph Prince resold the four-story business structure at 222 East Eighty-third Street. The building is on a lot 17 by 102 feet and has been purchased by Solomon Schoenbaum, president of the Flatiron Window Cleaning Company. The purchaser expects to alter the property for his business. Andresen & Bremer in conjunction with Julius Lemle & Sons acted as brokers in the deal.

The building is on a plot 50 by 100 feet and was built by the sellers. This was its first change of ownership since 1885. The property was held at $135,000 and wos sold through Porter & Co., brokers.

The Sedna Realty Corporation bought from Mary E. Harby the property at 47-49 West Fiftieth Street and from Mrs. Lydia Rivet the property at 55 West Forty-ninth Street. Horn & Burke were the brokers.

LEASEHOLD DEALS.

Manhattan Properties Reported Under New Control.

A conveyance just recorded shows that a lease of 345 and 345 Madison Avenue, which was originally made to Acker, Merrall & Condit on March 8, 1920, for a term expiring July 1, 1941, has been surrendered by 345 Madison Avenue, Inc., Charles C. Moore, president, the present holder, to the lessor, the Schmitt Realty Corporation, Louis Schmitt, president, with renewal rights.

The property, a parcel 50 by 100 feet, just north of the northeast corner of Forty-fourth Street, has been leased by the Schmitt Realty Corporation to the Lawyers Mortgage Company for the term from Aug. 1, 1929, to June 30, 1941, with a privilege of two renewals of twenty-one years each. The lease is subject to a present mortgage of $350,000, or to any future mortgages which shall not exceed $600,000.

The Raymond P. Quinn Company announced yesterday that it had leased, as broker, for T. & M. Sotesblad, Inc., to Elsie Nixon the five-story dwelling at 351 West Eighty-fourth Street. The lessee plans to occupy the house. The same broker leased the five-story dwelling at 163 West Seventy-ninth Street for the Delsam Corporation to Helene Zeller.

The yearly rent will range from $3,000 for the first five years to $3,500 for the final six years, in addition to all taxes and assessments.

The annual net rental is said to be about $55,000.

IF YOU ARE WILLING TO WORK IN YOUR SPARE TIME WE WILL PUT YOU IN THE WAY DURING THE NEXT FEW WEEKS OF MAKING MORE MONEY THAN SOME SALESMEN MAKE IN A WHOLE YEAR.

We require 200 clean-cut, intelligent men and women to handle the thousands of people who will attend the opening sale of our new property in Westchester. We will supply you customers, teach you how to handle them and provide trained sales managers to close the deals. You will be paid the commissions.

We are, our records show, the largest developers of land in the world. On Sunday, Sept. 8 (two weeks from now), we are going to sell the finest development we have offered the public in our 42 years' experience. We expect to pay out nearly $500,000 in commissions to our salesmen on this job.

YOU CAN HAVE YOUR SHARE.

THIS EVENING at 8 P. M. we will enroll the men and women to whom we will give every help at our command to clean up on this proposition. Be at our office at that time. It will mean BIG MONEY for you. REMEMBER—this evening at 8 o'clock.

BOARD APPROVES PACIFIC SHIP RATES

CANCELS ANOTHER PACT

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—Agreements involving more than a score of steamship lines were approved by the Shipping Board today. At the same time an agreement, previously approved and involving the Matson Steamship Line, the Royal Mail, Gulf Pacific and other lines with the Pacific Coast-Australasian Tariff Bureau, was canceled.

The agreements approved today were the following:

Gulf Pacific Line with American Mail Line, Blue Funnel Line, Java-Pacific Line, Kerr Steamship Company, Inc.; Nippon Yusen Kaisha, Oceanic and Oriental Navigation Company, Osaka Shosen, Kaisha, States Steamship Company and Tacoma Oriental Steamship Company. Arrangements for through movements of and apportionment of earnings on shipments from Gulf ports to Oriental ports, transshipped at Los Angeles Harbor, San Francisco, Portland or Seattle. Through rates are to be no lower than direct-line rates of the Far East Conference and are to be apportioned equally between the participating carriers after deduction of cost of transshipment.

Quaker Line with American Mail Line, Blue Funnel Line, Java-Pacific Line, Kerr Steamship Company, Inc., Nippon Yusen Kaisha, Oceanic and Oriental Navigation Company, Osaka S. Hosen Kaisha, States Steamship Company and Tacoma Oriental Steamship Company: Through billing arrangement covering shipments from Far East ports to New York, Philadelphia and Norfolk, with transshipment at Los Angeles harbor, San Francisco, Portland or Seattle. Through rates are to be those of the originating carriers and are to be apportioned equally between the lines, subject to minimum of $4.50 to Quaker Line. Transshipment charges are to be borne in equal proportion by the participating carriers.

Egyptian Onion Rates.

The New York & Porto Rico Steamship Company with Ellerman & Bucknall Steamship Company, Ltd.: Agreement covering through movement of shipments of onions from Alexandria, Egypt, to Porto Rico, via New York. Through rates under the agreement are to be $1.08 per bag of 112 pounds, in quantities of fifty tons or over and $1.14 per bag on less quantities, out of which the New York & Porto Rico Steamship Company is to receive its full local rate plus transfer charges, the remainder of the through rate accruing to the originating carrier.

Gulf Pacific Line with Blue Funnel Line: Agreement in respect to through shipments from ports in the Orient (including Manila) to Kingston, Jamaica, with transhipment at Seattle. Rates applicable are to be fixed by the Blue Funnel Line and apportioned equally between the carriers subject to minimum proportion of $9 per forty cubic feet to Gulf Pacific Line. Cost of transshipment is to be borne equally by the carriers. The agreement is subject to cancellation upon thirty days' notice by either party.

Gulf Pacific Line with Gulf Mail Steamship Company, Inc.: Arrangement covering through movement of shipments of canned fish, fruits, vegetables, dried fruits, wrapping and printing paper at agreed through rates from Pacific Coast ports to Progreso, Mexico, subject to minimum bill of lading charge of $8.75. Through rates are to be apportioned five-eighths to Gulf Pacific and three-eighths to Gulf Mail after deduction of cost of transshipment at New Orleans.

Shipments to Orient.

Redwood Line, Inc., with Pioneer Line: Through billing arrangement covering movement of shipments from Mobile and New Orleans to Maryland Navy Yard, with transshipment at San Francisco. Through rates are to be Redwood Line's local rates to San Francisco plus its arbitraries to Maryland, out of which it is to absorb proportional rates of the Pioneer Line. Transshipment expenses, including drayage and toll charges, are to be absorbed by Redwood Line, the Pioneer Line to call at Redwood's pier when cargo aggregates ten tons or more, thus eliminating drayage charges.

Redwood Line, Inc., with Cuyamel Fruit Company: Through billing arrangement covering movement of shipments from Pacific Coast ports to Mexican ports served by Cuyamel Fruit Company, with transshipment at New Orleans. In respect to commodities shown therein, through rates and divisions are to be as set forth in Pacific Coast-Gulf eastbound outport minimum rate, list No. 1, while in respect to commodities not specified therein, through rates and divisions are to be as agreed from time to time by the lines.

Dollar Steamship Company with Dimon Steamship Corporation: Arrangement covering through movement of shipments from Atlantic Coast ports to Oriental ports, with transshipment at San Francisco. Through rates are to be assessed in accordance with applicable conference rates to North Atlantic ports subject to minimum through rate from Dollar Line loading ports of $8 per ton. Through rates from Dollar Line loading ports and transshipment expense to be apportioned equally between the lines. On traffic originating at points beyond Dollar Line loading ports, Dollar Line to receive the full expense from ports of origin to ship side before division of through rates.

Redwood Line, Inc., with Oceanic & Oriental Navigation Company: Arrangement covering movement of shipments from gulf ports to Australian and New Zealand ports of call of the Oceanic & Oriental Navigation Company, with transshipment at San Francisco. Through rates are to be the same as rates of North Atlantic-Australia conference and are to be apportioned equally, between the lines, subject to minimum through rate of $14 and minimum proportion of $8 to Oceanic & Oriental and $6 to Redwood. Inward tolls at San Francisco are to be absorbed by Redwood and outward tolls by Oceanic & Oriental, while cost of drayage is to be assumed in equal proportion by the lines.

Southern Port Rates Arranged.

Nelson Steamship Company with Oceanic & Oriental Navigation Company: Through billing arrangement covering movement of shipments from Norfolk, Baltimore or Charleston, to Australasian ports of call of the transpacific carrier, with transshipment at San Francisco or Los Angeles Harbor. Through rates are to be no lower than direct line rates of the North Atlantic-Australasia conference and are to be divided equally between the lines after deduction of transshipment costs at Pacific Coast ports, subject to minimum proportion of $8 per ton weight or measurement to the Oceanic & Oriental.

The agreement which it is proposed to cancel is between the members of the Pacific Coast-Australasian Tariff Bureau (Canadian-Australasian Royal Mail Line, Matson Navigation Company, Transatlantic Steamship Company, Ltd., Union Steamship Company of New Zealand and the Oceanic & Oriental Navigation Company) and Gulf Pacific Line, Luckenbach Steamship Company, Inc., Redwood Line, Inc. (formerly Finkbin-Guild Transportation Company) and Transmarine Lines, and provides for through movement of shipments from Gulf ports to main ports of call in Australia and New Zealand and apportionment of the through rates equally between the participating carriers.

The sale of two ships of American registry were also approved. They were the Ceralvo and the Cedar Springs, both small cargo carriers, in both instances the sales being to Norwegian interests.

Morgan Turns Over Corsair For Use as Government Ship

The Corsair, J. P. Morgan's steam yacht, sailed from Glen Cove, L. I., yesterday, to Brooklyn to be turned over to the United States Government for use as a coast and geodetic survey ship.

Mr. Morgan is having a new yacht built at Bath, Me. The new Corsair, it is understood, will cost about $3,000,000.

The present Corsair was built at Newburgh, N. Y., in 1899, and was designed by Beavor Webb. She was built for the late J. P. Morgan Sr., and the present head of the house inherited her. He lent her to the government during the war, and when she was returned to him had her completely refitted and refurnished. She has been in all parts of the world. Her latest long voyage was in the Aegean Sea when one of Mr. Morgan's guests was the Archbishop of Canterbury.

SPEED INSPECTION OF BAGGAGE HERE

OLD RULES TO BE MODIFIED

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—Following a flood of complaints of delay in the inspection of baggage of incoming passengers at New York, a conference was called at the Treasury Department today by Assistant Secretary Lowman to discuss more effective service.

The Treasury is handicapped by the need of additional funds to expand the customs force, and while it is probable that a stiff fight will be made for more adequate funds next year, the Customs Bureau is faced by the immediate problem of providing more expeditious handling of baggage at New York between now and Oct. 1, when the rush of tourist traffic will subside. No funds can be obtained for this emergency work unless some way is found to transfer csah already provided, and it appears doubtful that this can be done.

The customs problem has become more acute because of the tremendous overseas traffic which has set new records this year, and Mr. Lowman said that efforts will probably be made to consolidate activities elsewhere, so that additional men can be lent for the inspection service in New York.

Complaints Are Periodic.

Conditions at the New York piers have been a source of complaint for years and during the Administration of President Harding the funds granted to the customs division were exhausted before the end of the fiscal year in an effort to give better service. For a time it appeared that the inspection work at New York would be suspended.

The conference with Assistant Secretary Lowman included F. X. A. Eble, Commissioner of Customs; Frank Dow, assistant commissioner; Bernard Wait, deputy commissioner and the following from New York:

G. W. O'Keefe, customs agent in charge; A. S. Thomas, chief deputy appraiser; William S. Conrow, chief inspector of the division of the surveyor's office; Alexander McKeen, chief of the baggage bureau of the custom house, and Harry Pfeiffer, examiner in charge of baggage on the pier.

Mr. Lowman said they decided that there were enough appraisers, but that there should be more inspectors for the speedy examination of baggage.

Instructions were issued to the Treasury officials at New York to examine the rules and regulations and ascertain if any of the rules could be eliminated to give greater speed in baggage examination.

An effort will be made, Mr. Lowman said, to effect consolidation of some of the work in the New York Custom House and also in other cities, so that additional agents can be released temporarily to assist the inspectors at New York.

Much of the criticism directed at the Customs Bureau, Mr. Lowman said, was unjustified, adding that he did not consider that conditions were worse at New York than they had been in other years.

That there have been numerous complaints about delay at the piers was not denied and the Customs Bureau is determined to do everything in its power, Mr. Lowman said, with the limited appropriation at hand, to end the delay in handling baggage which has been made more annoying this season by the record-breaking tourist travel.

Inspection Force Increased.

The present force of customs inspectors here, with sixteen just arrived from Baltimore, is 550 and about half of that number are available on week days during business hours for baggage examination on the piers. After 5 o'clock daily and on Sundays and holidays, when the steamship lines pay the customs officials overtime, the full 550 will be on duty and more are expected from other ports before the end of this week, which will probably bring the force up to 700.

At present there is a lull in the westbound rush, but on Labor Day fourteen steamships, bringing more than 10,000 passengers, will arrive, headed by the Leviathan with 2,697 in all classes. As it is a holiday there should not be any congestion, customs officials said yesterday, as there will be nearly 700 inspectors available, with 150 appraisers, 50 deputy surveyors and 75 customs guards.

The next three weeks will be the heaviest in the westbound passenger traffic, and after Sept. 20 it will begin to dwindle steadily until the normal Winter numbers are reached in November. Then the big liners will be taken off one after another for the long lay-up for overhauling.

By Oct. 1 the extra 150 customs inspectors who are being brought to New York from other ports will be sent home. It is expected that the regular New York force of 550 will be permanently increased by the addition of fifty inspectors.

DECLINES OFFER TO BUY DEWEY'S OLD FLAGSHIP

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—The Navy Department announced today that it could not accept the offer of Edward W. Harden of New York to purchase the "Olympia," Admiral Dewey's flagship at the battle of Manila Bay, and present it to the government as a permanent memorial.

In a letter to Mr. Harden, Secretary Adams explained that he had no power to accept the offer, though he hoped action would be taken in time to preserve the ship, the methods depending on the policy of the President and the disposition of Congress.

Mr. Harden was one of three civilians present who witnessed the battle of Manila Bay. In 1898 the New York financier, then a newspaper man, was making a tour of the world with John T. McCutcheon on the revenue cutter McCulloch, which, when the Spanish-American War was declared, was attached to Admiral Dewey's fleet. The Admiral gave to both men permission to remain with the fleet and they were on the Olympia during the bombardment of Manila.

"Through those stirring times I had the good fortune to establish a friendship with Admiral Dewey, which lasted to his death," wrote Mr. Harden in making his offer. "It is because of my affection and admiration for him, as well as the feeling which I share with every American in cherishing the renown of the Olympia, that I venture to suggest this method of preserving the ship as a memorial of American valor."

Following the war, Mr. Harden was connected with The Chicago Journal and The New York Commercial, becoming a stock and bond broker in 1905. He is now a member of the New York Stock Exchange. His wife is the former Miss Ruth Vanderlip of Chicago, a sister of Frank Vanderlip, former Assistant Secretary of the Treasury.

LUNCHEON ABOARD LINER.

Special to The New York Times.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Aug. 28.—Officials of the Panama Mail Steamship Company were hosts today to Department of Commerce and Latin-American consular agents at a luncheon aboard the company's liner Ecuador.

An address on trade relations between the United States and the Spanish American was delivered by M. Mace Jr., Western representative of the Department of Commerce. Señor Alvaro Robolledo, Consul General for Colombia in San Francisco and dean of the Latin-American consular corps, responded on behalf of his colleagues.

The Union Line steamer Maunganui from Australia and New Zealand, which was due to arrive Friday, will not make port until Saturday morning, according to wireless advices received Monday. Officials of the company gave it as their opinion that the Maunganui has been bucking heavy weather, which had set her back a full day.

The N. Y. K. liner Siberia Maru sailed from San Francisco today for the Orient with a full list of passengers and a capacity cargo.

ADDS 10 CENTS MORE ON GRAIN LOANS

WILL USE ONE COLLATERAL

Farmers' Marketing Corporation Approved as Planned—Will Submit All Papers.

Special to The New York Times.

CHICAGO, Aug. 28.—Immediate financial aid was promised to grain farmers, members of cooperative marketing organizations, whose loans are approved by the Federal Intermediate Credit Bank, by Alexander Legge, Federal Farm Board chairman, during the closing session of the grain marketing conference here tonight. Farm Board funds amounting to 10 cents a bushel on unhedged grain will be advanced in addition to those made by the credit bank, and on the same collateral.

This action came as farm leaders here agreed that although organization of the $20,000,000 National Farmers Grain Corporation would proceed rapidly, no assistance could be expected by wheat farmers in marketing their present crop until this new farmer-owned holding organization could be set up.

The type of cooperation has been agreed upon, and although the committee of sixteen grain leaders adjourned a subcommittee of three remained in Chicago to draft articles of incorporation and by-laws.

The final draft of organization papers is to be submitted to George Farrand, general counsel of the Federal Farm Board. He is expected to pass upon them from the viewpoint of their value under the agricultural marketing act, under which the Farm Board functions. Upon approval by the board, the corporation's articles will be immediately filed and a board of directors will meet to elect officers, adopt by-laws and employ a general manager to start marketing grain, Chairman William Settle said.

Applications Expected Immediately.

Applications for the additional aid offered by the Farm Board were expected within a few days, Mr. Legge stated at the close of the meeting. None has yet been received, "but they're in the offing," he said. He anticipates calls later from grain men desiring loans in all marketing facilities, although this has not been considered by the Farm Board as yet. His statement of the conditions upon which loans will be made was as follows:

"Whenever cooperative elevators, terminal associations and grain pool organizations have obtained loans from a Federal Intermediate Credit Bank, the Federal Farm Board will make an additional advance of 10 cents a bushel on unhedged grain. This advance will be made on the same storage receipts or documents which have been accepted by the Intermediate Credit Bank. These papers are to be deposited with the custodian of the Intermediate Credit Bank.

"The lien of the Federal Farm Board will be junior and subordinate to the lien of the Federal Intermediate Credit Bank received as security for its loan.

Will Advance on Future Deliveries.

"Further, if grain received by a given cooperative has been hedged through a sale for future delivery at a definite price, the Federal Farm Board will make an advance, bringing the total loan to 50 per cent of the sale price of the grain. The board will also make a similar advance in cases where grain has not been sold through an exchange but definitely contracted for to a reputable buyer."

Answering a telegram sent by Mr. Legge, the Federal Farm Loan Board in Washington gave assurance that all loan applications made by grain cooperatives had been approved up to Tuesday afternoon. The answer read:

"Your telegram addressed to Commissioner Bestor received. In his absence I am pleased to advise that the board has already approved advances to Oklahoma Wheat Growers Association, Southwest Cooperative Wheat Growers Association of Wichita, Kansas; North Dakota-Montana Wheat Growers Association of Fargo, N. D., South Dakota Wheat Growers Association application being approved today. No other wheat loans are pending here."

An Ancient Prejudice Has Been Removed

"Toasting did it"—

Gone is that ancient prejudice against cigarettes—Progress has been made. We removed the prejudice against cigarettes when we removed harmful corrosive acrids (pungent irritants) from the tobaccos.

YEARS ago, when cigarettes were made without the aid of modern science, there originated that ancient prejudice against all cigarettes.

That criticism is no longer justified. LUCKY STRIKE, the finest cigarette you ever smoked, made of the choicest tobacco, properly aged and skillfully blended—"IT'S TOASTED."

"TOASTING," the most modern step in cigarette manufacture, removes from LUCKY STRIKE harmful irritants which are present in cigarettes manufactured in the old-fashioned way.

Everyone knows that heat purifies and so "TOASTING"—LUCKY STRIKE'S extra secret process—removes harmful corrosive acrids (pungent irritants) from LUCKIES which in the old-fashioned manufacture of cigarettes cause throat irritation and coughing. Thus "TOASTING" has destroyed that ancient prejudice against cigarette smoking by men and by women.

"It's toasted"

"It's toasted"—the phrase that describes the extra "toasting" process applied in the manufacture of Lucky Strike Cigarettes. The finest tobaccos—the Cream of the Crop—are scientifically subjected to penetrating heat at minimum, 260°—maximum, 300°, Fahrenheit. The exact, expert regulation of such high temperatures removes [illegible]. More than a slogan, "It's Toasted" is recognized by millions as the most modern step in cigarette manufacture.
